

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Ash Wednesday this week marked the beginning of the Lenten season.

The public sale season is now in full swing and county treasurer L. Frank Mayes has an engagement at his occupation as auctioneer every day this month and running into the first week of April.

Those people who thought last week that spring was here have had good reason to change their mind this week. On Wednesday morning the thermometer was down to within eight degrees of zero.

The Bellefonte Lodge of Odd Fellows enjoyed their annual banquet in their hall in Crider's stone building on Tuesday evening. The crowd in attendance was quite large and included a number of invited guests.

When clearing the house of papers and magazines put them all together and telephone for James Krape; it is a cheap way for you to get rid of these and at the same time you are helping him in his commendable work.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company made another cut in its operating expenses this week by taking five trains off of the main line. So far no reduction of trains has been made on any of the branch lines in this vicinity.

John W. Smith, of Bellefonte, has become the local representative of the Shaffer & Kreamer music shop, of Lock Haven, dealers in all kinds of musical instruments, sheet music and supplies. See their advertisement on the sixth page of today's paper.

Evans, the new pastor of the Presbyterian church, with his family, are expected to arrive in Bellefonte from Wellsboro next Wednesday and a reception committee was appointed last Sunday to receive them. Rev. Evans will preach his first sermons as the regular pastor on Friday, March 12th.

W. Henry Taylor celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary at his home on Spring street on Monday. Mr. Taylor for years carried the mail from the railroad to the postoffice but gave it up a few years ago. Notwithstanding the fact that he has reached four-score years he is still quite active and apparently good for a number more anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. John Porter Lyon on Wednesday announced the marriage of their daughter, Deborah Downing Lyon, to Ralph Riddal Dohelbower, of Philadelphia, the wedding having taken place in Hagersstown, Md., on June 10th, 1921. The bridegroom is a Senior at State College and until his graduation next June no definite arrangements for their future residence will be made.

Friday, March 3rd, will be observed as a day of praise and prayer for all mission work throughout the world. The various societies of the town will unite in special service this (Friday) evening at 7:30, in the Presbyterian chapel. An interesting program has been prepared. Mrs. H. L. Leitzel, of State College, will bring an inspiring message. Every woman interested in this splendid work is urged to be present.

The second annual minstrel performance of St. John's boys' club, which were held in the parish house on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week made a great hit. The net proceeds amounted to about $75.00, one-third of which will be given to the Near East relief and the balance will be devoted to buying equipment for the boys' base ball team. Rev. Maynard expresses thanks to all who attended and thus contributed to the success of the performances.

Charles Baney, the young man who got change for a twenty dollar bill at the Bellefonte Trust company for E. P. Blair & Son, several weeks ago, then forgot to take back the change, is now languishing in the Centre county jail ruminating upon his shortcomings. As stated in this paper at the time Baney left Bellefonte and went to Buffalo, N. Y., and while a warrant was sworn out for his arrest officers of the law decided that it was not worthwhile going to the expense of a trip to Buffalo for Baney, as they felt sure he would come back shortly. And he did. He returned to Bellefonte last Thursday night and Friday morning he was taken into custody and landed in jail. So far the only money recovered by F. P. Blair & Son are the five dollars gotten from Isaac Baney which Charles had paid him for a horse. Baney plead guilty in open court on Tuesday to appropriating the money to his own use and was sentenced to the Huntingdon reformatory by Judge Quigley.

ASSOCIATED BUSINESS MEN'S BANQUET.

Members Eat Turkey and Hear Good Speeches at Bush House Last Thursday Night.

A brief item in the "Watchman" last week predicted that the Associated Business Men of Bellefonte would have a good time at their second annual banquet held at the Bush house last Thursday night, and in this case, at least, we proved a good prophet. But a large part of the credit is due Mine Host Lewis Daggett for the comfortable arrangements made, the beautiful and patriotic decorations and the elaborate menu. As the latter is always the main feature at any banquet it is entitled to just recognition so we herewith give it in full:

- Chicken Consomme a la Royal
Chilled Celery Hearts Queen Olives
Baked Lake Erie Pike, Parsley Sauce
Potato Boulettes
Business Men's Punch
Roast Young Turkey, with Filling
Cranberry Sauce
Whipped Potatoes Creamed Onions
Cabbage Salad, French Dressing
Maple Walnut Ice Cream
Fancy Assorted Cakes After Dinner Mints
Coffee
Cigars and Cigarettes

About two hundred invitations had been sent out and in the neighborhood of one hundred and forty men responded. Wion's orchestra furnished the music and the dining room presented an inspiring sight as the guests marched in at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Schmidt was present and invoked the divine blessing and then everybody fell to and discussed the menu given above. When the tables were finally cleared and cigars and cigarettes lighted H. C. Yeager, president of the association, made a brief talk, directed more to outsiders than to members, in which he told what had been accomplished for Bellefonte in a business way since the organization of the association and that the members hoped to continue the good work. He then introduced as the main speaker of the evening Mr. George E. Foss, secretary of the State Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Foss gave a very interesting talk on the upbuilding of community work being done by the various Chambers of Commerce throughout the State, and outlined the many possibilities open to a good, live organization of business men in any community. He urged hearty co-operation upon the part of all the citizens of the town.

Mr. Foss was followed by W. C. Byers, chief of the State Bureau of Agriculture, who captured the attention of his audience by repeating several clever little stories then told of how Chambers of Commerce in various towns had succeeded in interesting the farmers and getting them into the association with the result that a better and more reciprocal feeling was engendered which proved of benefit to all. Mr. Byers offered to come to Bellefonte some time in April to explain the matter more in detail, and his offer was promptly accepted. Advance notice of the date of his visit will be given in due time.

Rev. M. DePui Maynard was called upon and spoke briefly of the good work the business men have done and urged a more hearty co-operation in the future on the part of every business man.

George T. Bush, chairman of the publicity committee, cited the fact that "in union there is strength" and urged those who are not now members of the association to join and lend their aid to the upbuilding of Bellefonte and community. He expressed the hope that the banquet would be followed by monthly noon luncheons of an informal character, where plans and purposes can be discussed. Mr. Bush brought up the fact that Bellefonte is sadly in need of a recreational center and suggested the island in Spring creek as a most suitable place if it could be secured and fixed up for that purpose.

Judge Quigley stated that his opinion of the Associated Business Men had been entirely revised. That he at first was under the impression that they had organized primarily for price control but having seen the material good they have done for the town and their aims for the future he thought that every man in Bellefonte, business or professional, should belong, and he promptly filed his application for membership. Other brief talks were made by Father Downes, James R. Hughes, Col. W. Fred Reynolds and G. Oscar Gray. Everybody present voted the banquet a great success and at midnight the gathering broke up with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Appropos of the banquet it might be stated that one of the results of the gathering was the filing of about twenty-five applications for membership, which will give the Associated Business Men a membership of eighty or more. While this number is fairly representative of the business interests of Bellefonte the association is anxious to enlist the co-operation of every man who has the interests of the town at heart. Hence, if you are not now a member, there will never be a better time than right now to become one.

Any one who can make a good home for one or more destitute boys, ages from 9 to 13 years, will please communicate with Rev. M. DeP. Maynard, officer of the juvenile court, or Mrs. R. S. Brouse, president of the Children's Aid society.

Michael Morano, an Italian of Philadelphia, was electrocuted at the Rockview penitentiary on Monday morning for the murder of his wife, Theresa Maria Morano, on April 24th, 1920. Believing her to be guilty of infidelity Morano stabbed his wife seventeen times. The body was unclaimed and was buried in the penitentiary cemetery.

Altoona Man Held for Shooting Another Hunter.

At a hearing before justice of the peace S. Kline Woodring, last Thursday afternoon, Walter B. Gray, of Altoona, was held in six hundred dollars bail for trial at the May term of Centre county court on the charge of shooting Willis D. Woodring, of Port Matilda, while the two men were hunting small game in Halfmoon township on November 3rd. Woodring was the victim of a load of fine shot fired by Gray and while his injuries were not serious they were painful. Thomas Mosier, game protector, made the information on which Gray was arrested, in accordance with an Act of Assembly approved May 22nd, 1921. Under the act, if found guilty, Gray could lose his hunting privileges for a period of five years and would also be subject to a fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. This will be the first case of the kind brought in Centre county and the outcome will be of interest to hunters generally.

Prize Winners in P. O. S. of A. Essay Contest.

As a means of creating a little historical rivalry among the school children of Bellefonte and vicinity Washington Camp No. 887, P. O. S. of A., of Bellefonte, recently offered prizes for the three best essays on George Washington submitted by pupils fifteen years of age or under. All told forty-six essays were turned in and the judges, Miss Helen E. C. Overton, Rev. Wilson P. Ard and Rev. E. O. Steely, had considerable of a job on their hands going over the list and selecting the most meritorious.

They finally reached a decision and awarded the first prize of $5.00 to Miss Grace Cohen, of Bellefonte; second prize of $3.00 to Miss Louise Knisely, of Bellefonte, and third prize of $2.00 to Miss Vera Hile, of Pleasant Gap. Honorable mention was made of the essay submitted by Miss Estelle Roberts, of Bellefonte.

The committee in charge hereby wishes to thank all those who took part in the contest, thus contributing to its success.

Near East Relief Contributions.

The committee for Near East Relief is unable this week to give a definite statement of the amount contributed. Philipsburg and State College, beginning with their field days, February 12th and February 19th, respectively, are well on the way to the completion of their quotas. Reports from other communities, including Bellefonte, are coming in more slowly. At least it can be said that more than one-half of the 146 children "looking to Centre county" are by this time assured shelter in an orphanage for another year.

Every one is urged to contribute as generously as possible, either through an organization or individually, to the support of these children. Lieut. Connes, official interpreter of the New York Supreme court, formerly a member of the Russian commission of the American Red Cross, said in the court house February 18th, "It would be more cruel for America to cease her aid to Armenia, and other stricken regions of the Near East now, than it would have been to refuse to begin these activities."

Former Centre Countian Killed on the Railroad.

A telephone message from Bloomsburg on Wednesday morning announced the sad fact that Luther Lansberry, a former resident of Spring township, this county, had been instantly killed that morning when a truck loaded with lumber, which he was driving was struck by a train on a railroad crossing.

Mr. Lansberry was a native of Clearfield county and was not quite fifty years old. About twenty years ago he came to Centre county and engaged in farming in Spring township, later starting a milk route in Bellefonte which he conducted a number of years. Three years ago last fall he sold out and going to Columbia county purchased a farm near the once famous ostrich farm close to Bloomsburg. Mr. Lansberry was in Bellefonte early in the winter and was enthusiastic over his new home and his success in that place.

He was married to Miss Emma Gross who survives with the following children: Dayton, who is married and lives near Bloomsburg; Mrs. Snell, of Clearfield; Mrs. Rishel, of Wilkes-Barre; William, Lawrence, Thomas and Mary, at home. He also leaves his parents and several sisters. Arrangements for the funeral are not known at this writing.

CENTRE COUNTY AUTO DEALERS ORGANIZE.

Will Hold Big Automobile Show in Bellefonte Armory March 14-18.

Seventeen automobile dealers in Centre county enjoyed a special dinner at the Bush house on Tuesday evening and organized the Centre County Automobile Dealer's Association and decided to hold an automobile show in the Bellefonte armory March 14th to 18th. The officers chosen for the new association are George A. Beezer, of Bellefonte, president; C. E. Snyder, of State College, vice president, and Charles R. Beatty, Bellefonte, secretary and treasurer. The association will take the place of the old Bellefonte Motor club, and its object is the legitimate protection of trade, as regards both the dealers and owners of cars. All legitimate dealers in Centre county are urged to join the association, which will be affiliated with both State and national organizations.

The decision to hold a big auto show in the armory the second week in March is evidence that the new association is to become active right at the start of its existence. The show held in Bellefonte a year ago drew a large crowd and resulted in quite a number of sales, and there is every reason to believe that a show this year will also prove beneficial. Manufacturers, agencies and dealers all over the country will be invited to place exhibits and this will enable all those contemplating the purchase of cars to examine the different makes and form their own judgment of the car they prefer. Remember the date of the show, March 14th to 18th, and make it a point to be there.
