Robert McDowell Becomes an International Figure.

Cabled stories from Rome, last Friday, recalled an announcement made in the "Watchman" some months ago of the departure of Robert McDowell for the Near East. As we stated then he went back to the country which he had served so long as a mission worker for the purpose of securing concessions for development by American interests. Mr. McDowell was so convinced of the commercial and industrial possibilities of parts of Anatolia and Mersina that he undertook their exploitation with such success, apparently, that delicate questions of policy have arisen between the Turkish and Italian government and affected understandings our government is supposed to have had with Italy. However these matters may be they affect us only remotely. What we are interested in is the fact that this young Mr. McDowell whose stupendous plans drew front page space in all of the metropolitan papers last of State flying to their filing cabinets in Washington, is none other daughter of Charles F. Cook, of this burg. place.

The leaders in the two leagues are as follows: League No. 1, the American Legion team with six games won and none lost; and the Elks with three games won and none lost. League No. 2, the Potter-Hoy team with five victories and one defeat, followed by the Stone Quarries with two victories and one defeat. The highest score in a single game was made by the Elks with 588 pins. The highest individual score in any game was made by Hampton, of the American Legion, who ran 192. The highest individual average has been made by Steltz, of the American Legion, 159 for six

In the challenge it is stated that this team is known in that locality as the "Knock 'em Cold" team and that they have never been defeated, and the manager feels very skeptical of the ability of the town of Bellefonte raising a team that can make things interesting for these bowling phenoms. Though Bellefonte bowlers are not laboring under a past that would warrant such a demoralizing name as "Knock 'em Cold," they have very good hopes for the future and in the aforesaid future expect to journey to the lair of this "Knock 'em
