Judge Had Another Think Coming if He Thought He Could Do Away With Chimney Sweeper.

A well-known judge in Ireland was very fond of relating the following story to his friends: It was at the time of a general election and one day when he was leaving the law courts, Dublin, a sweep accosted him and addressed him with familiarity. "Be off, ye dirty scoundrel," said the judge. "I don't know you." "Sure, that ye do, yer 'oner," replied the sweep. "I've never set eyes on you before," answered his lordship. "Yis, ye have, yer 'oner. OI swept yer 'oner's chimneys." "Oh, it was you, was it? I'll never employ you again," replied the judge. "You did the work badly and they've smoked ever since. I'll never have you again." "Oh, yes ye will, yer 'oner," replied the man. "And I tell you I won't," angrily answered his lordship. The sweep persisted that he would be employed again, so the judge asked why, saying there were plenty of other sweeps in Ireland. "Sure, yer 'oner, all the other sweeps have become members of parliament," was the reply—Chicago American.

VARIETY IN SPRING VEILS

Many Interesting Face Coverings Are Now Being Shown for the Season at Hand.

In the lineup of spring accessories and for the season at hand many interesting novelties are shown. The long, narrow scarf or panel veil is one of the chic bits of face covering, and it may be worn in ever so many ways.

This scarf veil is frequently draped across the hat and allowed to fall over the shoulders, giving a soft, becoming framing to the face. Or may be draped over the hat and drawn back to be tied under or across the hair. The ends are finished with novelty borders of one sort or another. Fringe is a not unusual trimming. The larger veils are frequently finished with cord or ribbon fringe.

Among the new veils may be mentioned the large square one with a fine mesh section woven into one side, this section forming a tight face veil, while the veil proper with its more heroic pattern drapes the hat and shoulders.

FASHIONS IN BRIEF

Kasha cloth makes charming costumes for country wear.

Black jet nail-heads are used a great deal as trimming.

Conservative silhouettes lead in blouse styles, with the peasant outline most modified.

In cottons, dimity keeps its place; voiles are steadily growing in popularity and cotton crepe appears as a novelty item.

Suede pockets and wigwag fringes on tweeds; velvet backs to peaked revers collars and topcoats; fur or duvetyne inlays have also been seen.

Felt hats with soft bell-shaped crowns have the brims slashed in one way or another and overlapped to simulate quills, the edges bound in ribbon.

Lace is playing a large part in the making and trimming of hats, and some dainty smart little models of hair braid are trimmed almost wholly in softly draped lace veils.

Chamois gloves are made with trimmings of kid. Sometimes the cuff of the chamois gauntlet is made with cut-work, beneath which shows a pattern in the darker kid.

CHIC FOR THE LITTLE GIRL

Striking even for the "littlest girl" is a frock of white organdie, worn with a large black milan hat with long streamers—a combination that is all ways good.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

Good Rich Red Blood

And plenty of it, is essential to health, willing effort, good appetite. Lack of it, or thin, watery blood, means illness, rheumatism, catarrh, humors, headache, wandering pains, cold hands and feet, decline of health-tone.

We recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for all these and other symptoms because it is made from the best ingredients physicians prescribe, combined by pharmacists who have made a life-long study of medicines; and best of all, because it has helped thousands to have good, rich, red blood and all the blessings that come from it.

The worth and great economy of Hood's Sarsaparilla appeals to every one. A bottle will last a month. War tax removed and price reduced. Get a bottle. For a mild cathartic, get Hood's Pills. 67-18

ELEPHANTINE HISTORY.

Watch for "Zulu" in the Circus Parade Today.

The Sparks circus arrived in Bellefonte this morning and will show on the fair grounds this afternoon. The above picture of the elephants recalls a story worth telling.

Several years ago, the circus elephant herd included an enormous brute known as "Big Mary," and advertised as being the "largest living land animal on earth," claiming to be three inches taller than the famous "Jumbo" and a half ton heavier.

While the circus was exhibiting at Kingsport, Tenn., "Big Mary" suddenly went insane, killed her keeper, and two days later at Erwin, Tenn., was herself found guilty of murder and executed by calling into use an immense railroad wrecking machine, by which she was hanged by the neck until dead. Charles Sparks, manager of the circus, made strenuous efforts to fill "Big Mary's" place with an elephant equally as large, but until recently had failed to find her match. Word came from one of his scouts last winter in India that the duplicate had been found, and was being shipped to the show.

Many difficulties were encountered before the immense animal arrived safely in this country, but when he arrived to take his place in the Sparks herd it was seen very quickly that he not only equalled "Big Mary's" record, but even surpassed it in some respects. His name is "Zulu," and being but fourteen years of age, he has several year's growth coming to him and should without question greatly pass the record of "Big Mary."

"Zulu" shows a very remarkable intelligence and is always ready to take his place in the big elephant acts during the circus performance. He is a member of the elephant football team, playing "fullback," and his mighty kicks of the ball not only affords himself great pleasure, but pleases the audience immensely. See him at the fair grounds this afternoon.

Sparks circus has been an occasional visitor to this section of the country for the past thirty years, and bears a reputation second to none for merit and clean, honorable business methods.

To the Purchasers of a 30 x 3 1/2 Usco for $10.90

WHEN the "Usco" Tire announced its new price of $10.90 it carried this understood contract with the buyer—

A price reduction made in good faith—using all the U. S. advanced art of tire making not only to get the price down, but to keep the quality up.

Today $10.90 is not the uncommon price it was last November.

But the "Usco" Tire is still the uncommon tire value it always has been.

Because in carrying out the "Usco" price reduction in good faith, we learned something about raising the quality, too.
