removing the intestines and as much of the backbone as possible, by stretching them with a small stick and then hanging them on the frames to dry in the sun. It is a curious sight but a most smelly atmosphere in which these people live during the process and I am glad that they do not have these camps very near this village. The smelt, just now hanging about in long strings similar to the strings of suckers at home, are as much as I want to smell now when the warm weather is coming. The mosquitoes are here and I will have the wire netting put on tomorrow. The village is one beautiful (?) smudge tonight and I am assured it will be smoky the remainder of the summer. The great frames that have stood empty so long are, tonight, hung full of red fish. So many pieces were to be seen and all so bright a color that I almost thought

The order to take out two orphan children, who have been under my care, has come and they are ready to sail for the outside tomorrow. Poor waifs! half white, half Esquimo; both parents gone. I wonder what will become of them? They are the wards of the government as the father left enough money to educate them and then-what?

The candy came this morning and was mighty good—just as fine as if I had received it for Christmas as you intended. I also received the "Watchman" of May fifth.

When I start again I will go up this river to a place near Hoskagamute, thence across the portage to a Russian Mission on the Yukon where I was for a week last autumn on the way in. I will then get a Yukon river boat and go first to Nenana (Fort Gibbon), then up the Nenana to Fairbanks and down to Anchorage where Ruth is now living.

It is ten-thirty p. m. and the glow of the setting sun makes light enough for me to write. Good-night and I hope you are all as well and fine as I am feeling tonight. ELOISE.

"Community Sale" Planned for A Bellefonte.

A "community sale" is to be held in Bellefonte under the auspices of the Associated Business Men of Bellefonte on Wednesday, September 27th. While this will be an innovation for Centre county such sales are not new in other sections of the State. The

GEORGE M. HARTER.

HARTER .- It is with profound regret that the "Watchman" this week announces the death of County Commissioner George M. Harter, at his Friday evening. He had been a sufferer with diabetes for some time but not only attended to his work as a was in Bellefonte on Wednesday apparently in his usual health.

Shortly after four o'clock on Thursday morning he woke up and complained of not feeling well. In less than a half hour he became unconscious and lingered in that condition until passing away at the time above stated. The direct cause of his death was uraemic poisoning.

He was a son of Daniel and Sarah Harter and was born in Marion township on April 8th, 1864, hence was 58 years, 4 months and 3 days old. His boyhood years were spent on the farm and in attending the public school at Jacksonville. When fifteen years of age his mother passed away and though her going was a great shock to him he stuck to the farm and grew to manhood endowed with high principles of honesty and unrightness which have characterized his life. On the 28th of October, 1886, he married Miss Fietta Hoy and embarked in farming for himself. He proved so successful that eventually he purchased the Garbrick farm and made that his home until a little over two years ago when he moved to Howard.

As an evidence of the regard in which he was held by the people of Marion township he was elected a justice of the peace when twenty-five years old and re-elected time after time until his continuous service in that office totalled thirty years. He was an active member of Marion Waynesboro and the first one proved Grange No. 223 for going on thirty- at Milesburg on account of failing Rev. Thomas Phillips, pastor of the Mr. and Mrs. Roush and son Charles seven years. He also served as tax er and won the nomination in a field of four on the Democratic ticket. His running mate was Capt. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, and at the polls in November Mr. Harter was elected over Capt. Fry by 166 votes. In the two years and a half he served in the commissioner's office he was always gentlemanly and courteous to the pubic and careful and conscientious in all business relating to county affairs. Mr. Harter was one of the organizers of the First National Bank, at Howard, and had been a member of the board of directors ever since its organization. He was a life-long member of the Reformed church at Jacksonville and for more than twenty years superintendent of the Sunday school. Surviving him are his wife and the following children: John Raymond Harter, at home; Willard C., of Jacksonville; Mrs. Earl Armstrong, of Zion; Mrs. Harry Smeltzer, Bellefonte R. F. D. No. 2; Allen Harter, Bellefonte R. F. D. No 1; Mrs. Glenn Walizer and Victor LeRoy Harter, Lock Haven; George H., a member of the 52nd U. S. artillery at Camp Eustis, Va., and Lucretia May, at home. He also leaves two brothers and one sister, Harry D. Harter, of Charlesville, Clearfield county; Walter L. and Mrs. M. S. Betz, of Jacksonville. Brief services were held at his home a Howard at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning after which the remains were taken to Jacksonville where funeral services were held in the Reformed church by Rev. Goss, after which burial was made in the Jacksonville cemetery. At a meeting of county officers and court house officials held at 1:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon the following resolutions were passed:

vor, and with unwavering devotion to what he believed was right and proper. noon. Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved wife and family and commend them to His love and mercy. Resolved, .That a copy of this Memorial be spread upon the minutes of the County Commissioners' office of Centre county, and he sent to the family of our late brother. and also published in the newspapers of the county.

Centennial Celebration.

The congregation of the Milesburg Baptist church are this week celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the church in that town, and quite naturally interesting services are being held every evening.

The opening sermon was preached on Wednesday evening by a former pastor, Rev. S. S. Clark, of Punxsutawney, who talked on the theme, "The Sustaining Vision." At six o'clock last evening the Sunday schools of Milesburg joined in a parade to the Milesburg cemetery and decorated the graves of Joseph Miles, Susan Miles, Mrs. Hannah Green and Abigail Miles. At 7:30 o'clock Rev. Rittenhouse Neisser, of Philadelphia, was the principal speaker at a community young people's service.

This (Friday) evening Dr. S. F. Forgeus, chaplain of the Huntingdon reformatory, will preach the centenary sermon and Miss Ella Levy will read a well prepared historical sketch Bellefonte. The streets and houses of the church.
