NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The annual meeting and the sixth shoot of the season of the Susquehanna trapshooter's league will be held at Lock Haven today.

The Ladies Aid of the United Evangelical church will hold a bake sale in Sourbeck's store the first Saturday in October. The public is asked to keep the date in mind.

The First National bank and the Farmer's Trust company, of State College, were consolidated into one institution last week and all the business will hereafter be done by the First National bank.

James Parks, of Snow Shoe, secured the Sellers kitchen cabinet on exhibition in the window of the Potter-Hoy hardware store last week and offered to the highest bidder. Mr. Parks topped all other bidders by offering sixty dollars. The cabinet retailed at $75.00.

In the list of old soldiers in attendance at the recent reunion of the Centre county veteran club, as published in the "Watchman" last week, two names were unintentionally omitted. They were William Flack, aged 79, Company A, 45th Pa. Inf., and Henry Pennington, aged 80, Company D, 49th Pa. Inf.

Rev. M. DeP. Maynard has been spending this week at Holy Cross Monastery, West Park, N. Y., in company with numerous other priests of the Episcopal church, at the annual retreat. A retreat is a series of religious exercises in retirement from the world in which a most earnest effort is made to renew one's vision and increase one's hold on spiritual realities. Mr. Maynard will return in time for Sunday's services.

Announcement has been made by ex-president and Mrs. Edwin E. Sparks, of State College, of the engagement of their daughter, Ethel, to Mr. Carvel E. Sparks, of Pedricktown, N. J. Both are graduates of the Pennsylvania State College, she in landscape gardening and he in horticulture. Miss Sparks is now an instructor in industrial art at State College, and Mr. Sparks is a fruit grower, located in New Jersey, near Philadelphia.

Lester T. Mills has resigned his position in the Potter-Hoy hardware store and is making arrangements to move to Altoona in about two weeks. Mr. Mills came here from Bedford about three years ago and until his marriage several months ago lived with his mother on Lamb street. When he and his wife go to Altoona his mother will accompany them. Mr. Mills has been secretary of the Bellefonte Camp P. O. S. A., and has also tendered his resignation of that office.

The women's bible class of the Methodist church, with several men as their guests, held their annual meeting at the Nittany Tea room, at Nittany, Tuesday evening, the meeting being followed by a dinner of thirty-four covers. Mrs. McKelvey, the pastor's wife, who is the teacher of the class, and Mrs. Sydney Keffer, the president, had charge of all arrangements, the after-dinner talks being the principal feature of the evening. The party was taken to Nittany in private automobiles.

The program will consist of single and double quartets, trios, duets, solos, etc. Admission, adults 50 cents; children under twelve years, if accompanied by parents or guardians, 25 cents.

During the past year or longer the Pennsylvania freight depot in Bellefonte has been overrun with rats, and nothing eatable escaped from the depredations of the rodents. In fact the rats were so plentiful that some of the men who work down there claim that they had to kick them out of their way to keep from falling over them. Naturally they were quite destructive on some food shipments and to protect the latter the railroad company built in the warehouse a rat proof cage fourteen feet long, eight feet wide and eight feet high in which all foodstuffs were stored until withdrawn from the depot. And now the peculiar fact in connection therewith is that not a rat has been seen since the depot since the cage was installed.

Judge Witmer, of the Federal district court, has handed down a ruling in the matter of the application to amend the petition of John M. Shugert to show cause why Florence F. Dale and Geo. R. Meek should not be adjudged bankrupt. It is the outcome of the argument before Judge Witmer, at Sunbury, last Friday. The original subpoenas against Mrs. Dale and Mr. Meek are ordered quashed and the petitioner is granted the right to cause a new one to issue which will be returnable October 10th, when answer to the Court must be made, on the part of Mrs. Dale and Mr. Meek, to the amendment granted the petitioner. After this answer is made on October 10th, a date will be set for the argument on it and the proceedings will begin anew again.

LONG SESSION OF COUNCIL.

Considerable Business Transacted at Monday Evening's Meeting.

Probably the first time in six months every member of borough council was present at the regular meeting of that body on Monday evening.

Mr. T. R. Hamilton was present and called attention to the bad condition of Decatur alley, and the matter was referred to the Street committee.

Secretary W. T. Kelly reported that the uncollected portion of the 1921 water tax duplicate amounting to $3589.08 had been turned over to the borough manager by the Keystone Power company.

The Street committee reported the collection of $298.00 by the borough solicitor on the Bishop street paving. The borough manager reported that in conference with officials of the Highway Department an agreement had been reached regarding the borough's share for the repairs and oiling of Allegheny, Bishop and Linn streets over a year ago. The amount is $1117.34 and a motion was passed accepting the report and authorizing payment of the bill.

The Water committee reported that all the ditch has been dug for the extension of the water out over Halfmoon hill and that the pipe is now being laid. The committee deemed it wise to extend the four inch pipe a distance of 1400 feet, instead of 1100, which will increase the cost of the job over the original estimate.

The committee also reported that the borough manager had collected $50.99 on the 1920 water duplicate and requested exoneration of $17.50 in order to clean up that duplicate and council authorized the same. The committee also reported that the borough manager has collected $1541.43 of the balance on the 1921 duplicate turned over to him. The 1922 duplicate amounting to $11,291.85 and one quarter's meter bills aggregating $1225.35 will be turned over to the Keystone Power company for collection by the first of October.

The Fire and Police committee reported the employment of George C. Glenn as traffic officer on Bishop street during the hours the children are going to or from school, or a total of four hours a day. The committee also reported that Elmer Yerger had resigned as borough policeman and William Bottorf had been selected by the committee as his successor. Council ratified the selection.

The Finance committee requested renewal of notes for $1000, $2000, $1000, $1000, $2000 and $3000, and orders for interest to cover same. The committee also presented the check of tax collector Herbert Auman for $3225.25 for taxes collected on the 1922 duplicate.

Mr. Waite entered complaint about the actions of one of the policemen entering his store on south Water street and notifying one of his customers to remove his car, which was parked on the side of the street. He claimed that such acts, if persisted in, would hurt his business and further declared that the car had not been there over five minutes. Mr. Flack stated that he and the policeman had both timed the car and it had been there over ten minutes. The Fire and Police committee were instructed to have the police exercise proper judgment as to the parking of cars on said street and the time allowed before warning the drivers to move on.

Regarding the complaint as to boys congregating in front of the Scenic the Fire and Police committee reported that the youngsters merely make fun of the police. The question was then raised as to whether it is the borough's duty to break up the practice or the manager of the Scenic to keep the pavement clear. The matter was finally referred to the Fire and Police committee for consultation with the borough solicitor.

Mr. Emerick stated that now that the public schools are in session boys attending the High school building are playing around the old steam heating plant and climbing onto the buildings, which are very dangerous, and he urged council to take some definite action toward getting rid of the nuisance. He was informed that the council had placed the matter in the hands of the Special committee and borough solicitor with power, and they have full authority to take any action deemed expedient.

Mr. Emerick called attention to the fact that street signs should be put up, not only signs with the names of the streets but signs showing strangers passing through town the way to surrounding towns. Considerable discussion followed as to just what kind of signs would be best and where they should be placed, and the matter was finally referred to the Street committee and borough manager.

Mr. Emerick also called attention to the bad condition of High street between Spring street and the Spring creek bridge. Borough manager Seibert stated that it is his intention to repair the street as soon as he can get to it, but he has been kept busy on other work. This led Mr. Emerick to suggest that he put a foreman on each job so that it will not be necessary for him to stay permanently on one job to see that the work is done. Mr. Seibert stated that he has been trying to find men suitable for such positions but has been unable to get the right persons.

The question of policemen firing boilers during the winter season was discussed and it was the unanimous opinion of council that they should not be allowed to fire any boilers except those at the two fire houses, where police headquarters have now been established, and the Fire and Police committee was notified to so instruct the police.

Mr. Emerick further called attention to the fact that many drivers of cars fail to observe the rights of other drivers at cross streets, as prescribed by the State highway laws, which give the man on the right the right of way at all times. As an illustration: If a car is going up High street towards the Diamond and another car going north on Spring street, the Spring street car has the right of way when the two cars reach the intersection of High and Spring streets. But if the Spring street car is going south between Howard and High then the High street car has the right of way.

Report was made that the boys persist in the habit of coasting down Spring street on bicycles, express wagons, etc., crossing Linn street at High speed and they are in constant danger of being run down by cars. The Fire and Police committee was instructed to caution the boys of their danger.

Residents of east Curtin street some time ago requested council to establish a curb line on each side of that thoroughfare and also give a grade for pavement, but so far nothing definite has been done and the president of council instructed the Street committee and borough manager to go on the ground and be prepared to make a recommendation at the next meeting of council.

Bills to the amount of $2501.10 were approved for payment after which council adjourned.

Methodists to Dedicate Building at Penn State.

Tax-supported colleges are necessarily limited in what they can do for the religious care of students, but denominational enterprise is trying to meet the full needs of the situation. The Methodist Episcopal church at Pennsylvania State College has completed the first unit of a building, to cost one hundred thousand dollars, and to be used in meeting the religious and social needs of Methodist students and others affiliated with St. Paul's church of which Rev. Robert C. Peters is the pastor and Rev. Harry F. Babcock the student pastor. The first unit now completed provides class rooms for religious instruction, an assembly room, a gymnasium, and auditorium. It is built of native limestone to correspond with the church building which it adjoins.

Bishop William F. McDowell, of Washington, D. C.; Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of Pittsburgh; secretaries W. F. Sheldon and E. M. Conover, and President J. M. Thomas, of State College, will be the principal speakers at the dedicatory services which will be held Tuesday, October 3rd, when Methodist preachers and laymen from all over the State will gather at State College for the formal opening.

Knights Templar Had Big Time at State College.

Upwards of two hundred Knights Templar, with their wives and lady friends created a spectacular event at State College yesterday, the occasion being the first annual field day since the world war of the Tenth division of Pennsylvania, which includes the commanderies at Lewistown, Huntingdon, Philipsburg and Bellefonte. The Knights journeyed to State College by automobile and created no little interest among the people of the town as well as the student body.

Most of the Knights were resplendent in glittering uniforms and full regalia and the parade at two o'clock was a very imposing spectacle, especially as it was led by Wetzler's band of Milesburg in their new uniforms. The Knights marched to old Beaver field where they were inspected by the division commander, Charles T. Derick, of Huntingdon; the grand generalissimo, Arthur D. Bacon, of Harrisburg, representing the grand commander, and the grand junior warden, Boyd A. Musser, of Scranton, who is a member of the Bellefonte Commandery.

Following the parade and review the visiting Knights were turned over to the College authorities and escorted to various points of interest at the big institution of learning. At six o'clock the entire delegation was served with a delicious supper by the women of the Presbyterian church. At 8:30 o'clock a reception and dance was held in the College armory, and it was quite late when the affair broke up and all departed for their homes feeling that the field day had been a success and pleased with their reception and entertainment at the College.

The Bellefonte Commandery were hosts of the gathering and as many residents of the College and members of the faculty are members of this Commandery they did everything possible to make the day one of good fellowship for all. The present officers of the local Commandery are as follows: Commander, James R. Barlett; generalissimo, Charles E. Garbrick; captain general, Thomas W. Mason; recorder, George T. Bush; treasurer, William B. Rankin; trustees, Wilson S. Sholl, George T. Bush and A. C. Mingle.

Rev. T. W. Young Relieved as Chaplain of Western Penitentiary.

On Sunday afternoon when Rev. T. W. Young journeyed to the western penitentiary to perform his regular duties and conduct his customary preaching services he was met by Rev. C. M. Miller, chaplain of the penitentiary at Pittsburgh, who told him that it was his unpleasant duty to inform him that his services were at an end, and that he (Rev. Miller) would conduct the afternoon services. Pressed for a reason for such a summary dismissal Rev. Miller stated that he was given to understand it was because of the fact that Rev. Young was not in harmony with some of the policies being carried out at the institution.

Rev. Young was appointed chaplain of the western penitentiary at Rockview six and a half years ago by warden John Francies and during practically all of that time has lived in Bellefonte. He has formed many warm friendships among the people of the town because of his geniality, kind disposition and high christian character. To these friends and the public at large his abrupt dismissal as chaplain of the penitentiary seems inexplicable. He has always been faithful and sincere in the discharge of his duties, and we have every reason to believe was revered by the hundreds of inmates of the institution.

Opening of the Opera House.

Wednesday night, October 4th, is the date set for the opening of the legitimate show season at the opera house, when a New York cast and chorus of the "Shuffle Along" company will be seen. This great musical comedy extravaganza carries fifty-one of the country's greatest colored talent and has just finished its two year's run at the 63rd Street theatre, New York.

"Shuffle Along" carries its own ten piece orchestra, which is a knockout and is without doubt one of the best attractions of the season. The singing and dancing is far above the average and soft shoe, buck and wing and eccentric dances are the best seen in many a day. Their quartet is mighty hard to beat. Some of the best musical numbers are "Love Will Find a Way," which is put over by Miss Blanche Thompson, soprano, and Theodore MacDonald, tenor. "Banna Days," "I'm Wild About Harry," and "Mary Ann From Maryland," are also very clever. "The Patriot," a dramatization of a midnight charge over the top, written by the late Lieut. James Europe and presented by Al. Baldwin, is a specialty of high merit.

The prices for this attraction will be 50 cents, $1.00, $1.50 and a few choice seats at $2.00. Watch next week's paper for details.

The first meeting of the Women's club of Bellefonte, for the season of 1922-23, will be held in the High school building, Monday evening, September 25th, at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Mary Linn will give a talk on her trip through the Great Northwest. The Banjo club of the Academy, will furnish music, and following the meeting there will be a social hour, during which refreshments will be served. Please attend and take your annual dues.
