

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

So far no hard coal has reached Bellefonte but local dealers have hopes of getting some next week.

The first killing frost last year occurred on October 13th, so that the weather so far this year has not been unseasonable.

The Odd Fellows band motored to Beech Creek Saturday evening and played for the American Legion festival held at that place.

Hon. Harry B. Scott will give a dinner at the Nittany Country club, this evening, to the women workers in the Republican ranks.

While walking on the railroad in the vicinity of Milesburg, last Friday afternoon, Miss Emma Lose slipped and fell, fracturing her leg.

Having served his sentence of a year, imposed by the federal court at Scranton for instigating the theft of liquor from the cellar of the Bellefonte postoffice, Robert B. Montgomery was discharged from the Centre county jail this week.

The evenings are rapidly growing longer and the one place in Bellefonte where you are always sure of several hours of good entertainment is at the Scenic. If you are not a regular get the movie habit and forget your business cares and worries.

Mrs. Katherine Jackson Brew is a surgical patient in the Columbia hospital at Wilkingsburg, slowly recovering from an operation which she underwent last week. Since coming from Roncetto, Va., Mrs. Brew has been librarian at the Indiana State Normal school.

Centre county had two heavy frosts this week, on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. Fortunately, the farm and garden crops have passed that stage where they suffered from the frost, which did very little damage owing to the extreme dry weather. The late flowers probably suffered most.

Harold Zimmerman, a brakeman on the Bellefonte Central railroad, suffered a fracture of the collar bone and various cuts and bruises on Tuesday when caught between a moving car and a cement wall. He was taken to the Bellefonte hospital and is getting along as comfortably as possible.

Shortly after the noon hour on Monday Mrs. Mordecai Miller drove in south Water street in her Ford truck and at the High street bridge failed to make the turn west with the result that she ran into Frank M. Crawford's Buick car standing on the opposite side of the bridge, knocking off one side of the tire carrier and badly damaging the right rear fender. Nobody was injured.

The American Lime and Stone company on Saturday moved one of its big steam shovels from the Miller quarries, on the Jacksonville road, to No. 3 quarry north of the big hydrating plant. Another shovel was moved from the Stevens quarries to No. 3, where both of them will be used in handling stone.

"Watchman" subscribers of the western end of the county will miss our usual Pine Grove Mills letter this week but it is one of those things that must be overlooked. Our wise-awake correspondent, Capt. W. H. Fry, is out in Des Moines, Iowa, attending the annual national encampment of the G. A. R. and from a brief letter received at this office the other day we imagine that he is having an interesting trip. He spent Sunday in Chicago, where he met up with Hugh L. Swartz and George B. Turner, two former Centre countians who took him in tow and piloted him around the Windy city. From Chicago to Des Moines he journeyed with delegates from all over the east. Mr. Fry's main object in going to the convention this year is to boost in favor of Washington, D. C., as the place for next year's convention.

KILLED BY ENRAGED BULL.

Reed Allison, of Jacksonville, Gored and Trampled to Death on Sunday.

Reed Allison, twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allison, living near Jacksonville, was gored and trampled to death on Sunday morning by an enraged bull and his brother, Archie Allison, two years younger, was badly injured before being rescued from the infuriated animal. The bull belongs to the Allison herd and is a two year old Holstein, weighing 1300 pounds, and with a rather vicious disposition.

He was out in the field with a neighbor's cows and about 11:30 o'clock on Sunday morning Mr. Allison sent his two boys out on horseback to bring the animal in to the barn. He cautioned them not to get off of the horses as the bull might attack them. The boys got the animal separated from the cows but he put up a stubborn fight about leaving the field. Notwithstanding his father's caution Archie, the younger of the boys, got off of his horse to head off the animal. The bull promptly charged him, knocked him down and dropped on his knees on the prostrate body. The family dog had followed the boys to the field and he made for the bull which distracted his attention from the boy so that he turned on the dog. In the meantime Reed Allison, the older boy, jumped from his horse to go to his brother's assistance and seeing him the bull charged him head down, caught him on his horns and tossed him in the air, caught him as he fell and tossed him again then as he fell to the ground pawed the life out of him with his sharp hoofs. When the bull attacked Reed he called to his brother Archie, who had managed to get onto his feet, to go to the house for help. Suffering untold agony the little lad managed to make his way to the fence and crawl through.

In the meantime the father, becoming alarmed at the long absence of his sons, started for the field and met Archie. He asked for Reed and Archie told him the bull had killed him and he was lying in the field. A neighbor happened along and he accompanied Mr. Allison into the field and helped to recover Reed's body. All his clothing had been torn off and the boy was badly crushed and mangled. While driving the bull to the barn the animal charged one of the men but was driven off without doing further injury. Mr. Allison sold the beast on Monday and it was taken away the same day.

Archie, the injured boy, is in a very precarious condition at this writing. His chest is crushed and almost every rib broken.

The Allison family have lived in the vicinity of Jacksonville for many years and the shocking tragedy has cast a gloom over that locality. Reed, the unfortunate victim, was an unusually bright boy and had many young friends. In addition to his parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Austin, Madge, Jeannette, Mabel Jane, Lois, Archie and Joe.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at the Allison home and burial made at Howard.

Jail Population Increased.

The population of the Centre county jail was increased by the addition of two on Monday, both men being brought here from Phillipsburg. One man was John Thomas, who claims Scranton as his home town, and who was arrested on the charge of breaking into and robbing the store of S. E. Twigg, at Sandy Ridge, on the night of September 20th. Various articles of the stolen merchandise were found in the possession of Thomas and in default of five hundred dollars bail he was committed to jail to await trial at the next term of court.

The other man committed was C. A. Beckwith, of Bald Eagle, charged with assault and battery upon the person of E. B. Shirk. It appears that some time ago Mr. Shirk was a witness against Mr. Beckwith in a trial in court and his testimony proved detrimental to the latter's case. Beckwith weighs about two hundred pounds while Shirk is a small man and when the two men met on a lonely road in Rush township, one day last week, Beckwith took advantage of the meeting to give Shirk a thorough beating. Beckwith was later arrested and in default of one thousand dollar's bail was committed to jail for trial.

Mail Receipts Required.

Brief announcement has already been made in this paper of a ruling by the Postoffice Department requiring all patrons of first and second class postoffices to place a receipt at their home for the receipt of mail delivered by the carrier, thus insuring safe and prompt delivery.

If patrons will consider that a delay of half a minute at a number of places might be the cause of the patrons on the end of the route being deprived of their mail, possibly causing inconvenience, it can readily be seen that such a ruling is only in line with the department's desire to give efficient service to all. As the carriers work on a schedule it is imperative that they lose as little time as possible. A slot in the door is preferable to any kind of receptacle for the reason that it is much more convenient for the carrier, protects your mail from the elements and is always secure from intrusion when all members of the family are away from home.

U. B. Church Appointments.

The annual Allegheny conference of the United Brethren church closed its sessions at Portage on Sunday with the announcement of the appointments. Rev. George E. Smith was returned to the Bellefonte church and other appointments in Centre county are as follows:

Shuffle Along.

The official opening of the legitimate theatrical season in Bellefonte will take place next Wednesday evening, October 4th, with the appearance of "Shuffle Along" at the opera house. This musical extravaganza will be presented by a colored troupe of almost fifty people. The original company played two years at a music hall in New York and they opened this season at Asbury Park in August. They played a week's stand and were recalled for another week. The company carries its own orchestra and the play is replete with tuneful melodies. Judging from press notices "Shuffle Along" should prove a very interesting entertainment and one well worth going to see.

Alpiners to Meet Tomorrow.

Tomorrow is the day when the Pennsylvania Alpine club will meet at Milesburg and make their pilgrimage over the Allegheny mountains to Snow Shoe where they will camp for the night. A big campfire will be held in the evening at which the main speaker will be Major Robert Y. Stuart, commissioner of forestry for Pennsylvania. Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, president of the club, will also be in attendance. Alpiners from all over the central part of the State have signified their intention of joining in the pilgrimage. They will meet at Milesburg and the start on the trip over the mountain will be made at 10:30 o'clock. Any one interested in joining the Alpiners on their trip can do so.

The League of Women Voters Convention.

The convention will close in time to allow all those who wish to do so to go to State College to hear Mr. Pinchot speak on the campus.

All women interested in public affairs are invited to be present. Those wishing to go by automobile will kindly communicate with Mrs. Robert Mills Beach. Automobiles will run from Bellefonte to Boalsburg.

Football Season Will Open in Bellefonte Tomorrow.

The football season in Bellefonte will open in earnest when the Potomac State school eleven, of Keyser, W. Va., and the Academy team clash on Hughes field at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, September 30th. These eleven, which played a 0-0 game at Clarksburg, W. Va., on Armistice day last year, are evenly matched and will give an exhibition of real college football. "Stars" from leading "prep" school teams of last year will face each other in this contest. Players from New England, New Jersey, New York, West Virginia and Pennsylvania will fight for the Academy's honor. The Potomac school will have players from the leading southern schools. In fact it will be a test of the northern and southern "prep" schools as to football spirit and strength. Don't miss the game. Competent officials will be in charge.

Potato Raising Demonstration.

Are you interested in more economical potato production? If so, be sure to attend the potato raising at the farm of A. C. Kepler, two miles west of Pine Grove Mills on Saturday, September 30th, at 9:30 a. m. One of the most important single factors in economical potato production is good seed. Mr. Kepler has co-operated with the Farm Bureau in conducting seed source tests on both early and late potatoes. Irish cobbler from four different sources gave as much as 117 bushels per acre difference between the poorest and the best. The four sources of Russets will be raised and yields per acre estimated on Saturday.

A check on the efficiency of spraying has also been kept and the comparison of sprayed and unsprayed potatoes will be of interest to many who have not yet practiced spraying as one of the essentials in most economical potato production.

Mr. Kepler's field is one of the best potato fields in Centre county and has attracted much favorable comment throughout the summer. Growers should be interested in seeing how they roll out and in getting the yields per acre.

On this same trip there will be an opportunity to see one of the best small orchards in the county, and see there first hand what spraying has done to eliminate disease and produce more and better fruit.

Nixon will be the speaker for the occasion. Better go!

Community Sale in Bellefonte Deemed a Success by Promoters.

The first community sale ever held in Centre county was pulled off in Bellefonte on Wednesday and while the crowd was not up to expectations those who had the sale in charge pronounced it a success and feel encouraged to hold another one at some future date. Various causes might be assigned for the nominal attendance, chief among which was the lack of stimulating advertising, but this will not happen at any future sales.

The stuff offered for sale ranged all the way from second hand automobiles to small pieces of furniture. Six autos were offered but only two were sold, as the others were put up with a reservation price. The stock included eight horses, two young bulls, a half dozen calves, five hogs, several dozen pigs, and a fair assortment of household furniture. The sale was advertised to start at 9:30 o'clock in the morning but it was eleven when auctioneer L. Frank Mayes mounted the block and announced the sale open. The household furniture was sold first and brought fair prices. A roll top desk and chair was bid up to $31.00. Parlor suits, bedroom suits, tables, chairs, etc., were among the articles sold.

Livestock for the sale was furnished by W. F. Rishel and W. A. Heckman, of Centre Hall; Joseph Fleming, of Pennsylvania Furnace; A. J. Hartle, of Bellefonte, R. F. D.; D. C. Heaton, of Snow Shoe, and others. Hogs sold as high as $26 and pigs went for $5.00. An eighteen month old bull sold for $125, while calves sold from $10 to $40. The best horse offered went at $126 while the cheapest was knocked down at $25. The sale totalled close to $2,000.

The sale was backed by the Associated Business Men of Bellefonte but was almost entirely in charge of John B. Payne, vocational director of Centre county. Assisting him were J. T. Wilson and S. Howard Cummings, of Belleville, where a similar sale was pulled off only a few weeks ago. Local men who also assisted were Dr. S. M. Nissley, G. Oscar Gray, J. L. Robinson, county farm agent, and others. Auctioneer Mayes performed his work for a nominal fee and is therefore entitled to credit for aiding in the success of the sale, as he worked hard to get the best prices possible.

Bellefonte merchants did not profit as much by the sale as they hoped for, because the crowd was not up to expectations. However, they did a fair business and believe that a second sale might result differently.
