Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Noll motored to Williamsport last Sunday to take in the sights. While there they called on Dick Knoffsinger, who is a patient in the hospital, and report his condition as improving gradually. Nothing remains in our gardens except cabbage, and the crop is by no means prolific. The intense heat and dry weather has stopped the growth, and the outside leaves are drying up, while many heads are bursting, hence many gardeners are already putting away the crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Kerstetter and Mrs. Harold Kerstetter, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Orey Barner, of State College, spent Saturday and Sunday at their hunting camp in the Seven mountains. Half of their population are eagerly awaiting the time when the hunting season opens.

Some unscrupulous flim-flammer either intentionally or purposely passed an Italian 20 cent piece for a nickle on your correspondent a few days ago. The two coins have a distinct resemblance. I may take a run over to Italy between now and the Holidays to find a market for the Mr. and

Did you ever notice how many physically imperfect persons there are? If not, you will be surprised when you come to investigate the matter. The first thing you will probably notice will be the great number of lopshoulders. It may be safely asserted that fully one-half the men you meet on the street either lean to one side or have one shoulder lower than the other. Various causes have been assigned for this, but the most generally accepted theory is that it is due to the character of the labor performed. Either lifting heavy weights with the right hand, handling heavy tools or carrying loads will have a tendency to incline the body to that side.

On Wednesday evening Ralph Noll was greatly surprised by a number of friends, who arranged a party on the occasion of his birthday. His real birthday was last Saturday, but un-fortunately Ralph and wife left that day for Philadelphia. Some even go day for Philadelphia. Some even go so far as to say that the trip east was a put up job. However, not to be sidetracked, the date was changed and proved a very enjoyable occasion. The participants were, Mr. and Mrs Fred Witmer, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kerstetter, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Noll and Son Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Crif. Noll and son, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Griffith and daughter Betty, and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Crumlish, and Billy. The evening will long be remembered by all those present. Ralph was in the height of his glory. After a magnifi-cent lunch was annihilated all repaired to their homes delighted and happy. As a rule a woman is just as proud of her feet as her face. I know some ladies whose only sorrow is their feet. I could tell you a whole lot about women and their peculiarities, but it would be a violation of professional etiquette. Ladies are more sensitive about their feet than men, but they used to have the advantage in being able to hide them more effectually. If a man has an ugly foot he is com-pelled to show it, and if he is pigeon-toed he can't hide it. If, perchance, his foot is neat and small he is particular to give it prominence, even if he has to stick it up on the bus seat, dangle it over the side of the chair or make some remark to call attention to it when in company. A predisposition of the same defect of body and temper is likely to be transmitted to posterity. There is no telling what it may lead to, or where it may end. On the score of vanity men have but little advantage of the women, although they pretend to be indifferent as to their forms, features or personal appearance. It is only pretense when a man says he doesn't care what people think of him, nor how he dresses. He may lack taste in dress, but he is never thoroughly indifferent to it.

Forestry Department Can Use Telephone Money.

Harrisburg, Pa.—The State Forestry Department can use money re-ceived from individual subscribers on telephone lines constructed by the chief forest fire warden to pay annual attachment charges, according to an opinion of the attorney general's department. The surplus accruing from these rentals can be used in keeping lines in repair. Department officials say they believe it would add to efficiency of the lines to have subscribers attached to them.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced by evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Bellefonte, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

Charles Nighthart, 331 E. Bishop St., Bellefonte, says: "I became run down with kidney trouble and felt tired and worn out in the morning. I tired and worn out in the morning. I could hardly get to work. There was a steady, dull ache across my back and when I stooped or lifted, sharp catch-
