Be good to yourself and family by attending the Scouts' cafeteria on Tuesday evening next, at the Presbyterian chapel.

Ash Wednesday this year falls on the 14th of February with Easter on the first of April, which would indicate an early spring.

Are you going to the Scouts' cafeteria next Tuesday? Oh, boy! The best of home-made eats, low prices, and good orchestra music while you eat.

Splendid new dark green velvet cushions were last week placed in St. John's Lutheran church at a cost of $500. These cushions add greatly to the interior finish of the church, and were secured largely through the efforts of the Ladies' Aid society.

Thermometers in Bellefonte on Wednesday morning registered from four degrees above down to zero, while some places in the county reported four below. One thing is certain, it was the kind of weather that makes ice and that is what dealers in the natural commodity want just now.

On Sunday morning Mrs. S. Linda Shutt left her home on east Howard street to go to the Reformed church and had not gone two squares when she slipped and fell on the icy pavement, sustaining injuries which resulted in her removal to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment. At this writing she is getting along as well as can be expected.

Bellefonte has been in the throes of real winter weather this week but movie fans have found the Scenic a comfortable place in which to spend an hour or two every evening. It is not only a place of comfort but the only place in Bellefonte offering good entertainment every evening in the week. When in doubt as to where to go try the Scenic.

Announcements have been received in Bellefonte of the marriage of Paul Chase, of Erie, and Miss Ruth Cunningham, of Lancaster, both being well known here. Miss Cunningham has been for two seasons milliner for Miss M. C. Snyder, while Mr. Chase, a graduate of the Davy Tree surgery school, spent much of the past two summers here in the interest of his work, though he has located in Bellefonte and is now a member of the Potter-Hoy hardware force, in the freight department.

The Bellefonte Lodge of Elks will have the compliment of a fraternal visit on Sunday afternoon of the Grand Exalted Ruler of the State organization, J. Edgar Masters, of Charleroi; ex-Governor John K. Tener, a past Exalted Ruler, and Mr. Schrader, of Pittsburgh, who will come to Bellefonte on the Pennsylvania-Lehigh train and remain until evening when they will go by automobile to Williamsport to be present at the dedication on Monday of a new Elks home in that city.

Bellefonte Merchants Petition Council for Relief from Outside Hawkers.

Only six members were present at the regular meeting of borough council on Monday evening. Messrs. Walter C. Cohen and W. Frank Crawford, representing the Associated Business Men of Bellefonte, were present and requested council to take some action which would afford the merchants of the town protection against the itinerant hawkers of merchandise who periodically visit Bellefonte and sell their wares without giving any returns to the borough. They maintained that the merchants of the town, who pay taxes and always contribute to every public spirited movement, are entitled to protection; especially when they have for sale just as good, if not better, merchandise than the itinerant hawker, and at just as reasonable a figure. The committee was informed that there is an ordinance covering the matter which provides a license fee of not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00 for any person coming into the borough to sell anything in competition to the regular merchants of the town, which, if enforced, should afford ample protection. The matter, however, was referred to the Fire and Police committee and borough solicitor for proper investigation and report.

The Street committee reported the street force engaged in clearing the streets of snow.

The Water committee reported the collection of $25.50 on the 1921 water duplicate.

The Fire and Police committee recommended the election of the following men as official drivers for the pumps: For the Logans, J. R. Storch, Ellis Hines, G. Max Gamble and Homer P. Barnes. For the Undines, George Carpeneto, Charles Saxton, Ralph Moerschbacher and Basil Doll. The recommendation was accepted and approved by council. The committee also recommended the reelection of Robert E. Kline as chief fire marshal for the ensuing year, giving as the reason the very excellent report submitted to council at the last meeting of the work of the department during the year 1922. The committee's recommendation was accepted and Mr. Kline was re-elected without a dissenting vote.

Mr. Cunningham called attention to the fact that according to the fire marshal's report the borough now has an ample supply of fire hose in good condition and he introduced a motion, which was passed, requesting the secretary of council to notify the fire marshal to see that the hose is properly dried in the towers, after use, before being stored in the pumps, as it is the only proper way to preserve them against unnecessary deterioration.

The Finance committee requested the renewal of a note for $3,000, which was authorized.

President Walker reappointed Dr. David Dale as a member of the board of health for a term of five years. He also appointed A. Miles Barr as auditor for the Pruner orphanage fund.

Local High School Loses to Lock Haven.

On Friday night the local High school basketball team suffered its second defeat of the season at the hands of the Lock Haven High school, on the latter's floor, by the score of 39 to 21. The score does not do justice to the team's playing, as they held their opponents at half time to 13 to 11, and the middle of the second half saw Lock Haven with only four points in the lead. At this point, however, Coffee, the six feet two Lock Haven centre, started, dropping them through the net after many ineffectual previous attempts to score. This handicap height, combined with a wretched example of officiating by the referee, proved too strong a combination for the good passing and fighting spirit of the local team to overcome. The boys are determined that they will make the return game here the occasion for administering to Lock Haven a sound defeat and at the same time, show them how to give a team a square deal.

This (Friday) night, at 8:15, Mt. Union, two years' League champions, will be in action on the Y. M. C. A. floor.

Country Club Elects Officers.

At the annual meeting of the Centre Hills Country club, at State College, held Tuesday, January 10th, Charles W. Stoddard was re-elected president. Other elections were: vice president, R. I. Webber; secretary, A. R. Warnock; treasurer, Claude Decker; directors, E. C. Woodruff and L. E. Kidder. Hold-over directors are G. C. Glenn, S. K. Hostetter, D. F. Kapp and G. Z. Stover.

The president reported that the nine-hole golf course was practically completed and will be open for play in the early spring. The club house will be ready in April. The club has ninety-four active members, who have taken over $9,400 worth of debenture bonds and $29,500 worth of mortgage bonds.

The by-laws were changed to raise the active membership limit from 100 to 150. The annual dues for active members are $50. New members will pay an initiation fee of $50. Non-resident members pay annual dues of $25 and an initiation fee of $25. Persons whose place of residence is outside of Centre and its adjoining communities are eligible for non-resident membership.

The Thimble Bee of the Reformed church will meet this (Friday) afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jacob F. Hoy, on south Thomas street. The election of officers will take place and a full attendance is desired.

Home made candies will also be on sale.

Sunday's deep snow put a stagnation on the aerial mail at the Bellefonte field. The plane from New York came in on time and landed in the snow but could not get up speed enough through the snow to take off. The result was the Emerick Motor Bus company snow plow was requisitioned and a runway opened the length of the field, so that it was noontime on Monday when the plane got away on its western trip.

A supposedly weather-wise man living in the north tier counties on Saturday predicted thirty-one more snows this winter, and on Sunday we got one of them about a foot deep. The State Highway Department and the Emerick Motor Bus company put their snowplows in commission and opened the main roads to State College and Lock Haven so that travel was delayed very little. Fortunately the snowfall was not accompanied with high windstorms and there was no drifting.

The members of Mrs. Reiter's Sunday school class of the Bellefonte Methodist church now have their name quilt and cushion ready for sale. The articles will be on exhibition in the vestibule of the church on Sunday and on Monday they will be taken to the Bellefonte Hardware company's store where they will be displayed in the window until Saturday night, January 27th. Bids for the articles will be taken during the week at the store and both the quilt and the cushion will go to the highest bidder at the closing of the store Saturday night, January 27th.

At the annual congregational meeting held in St. John's Reformed church, Friday evening, January 12th, Harry Keller Esq. and E. E. Robb, Harry Badger and H. E. Clevenstine were elected deacons, each to serve two years. For an unexpired term of one year, Jacob F. Hoy was elected deacon. The treasurer's reports showed all bills paid and a balance in the several treasurers' hands. This did not include an unpaid balance of $175.00 on the new electric lamps, etc., lately installed in the church. This balance was subscribed by the members, last Sunday.

In refusing a license to Earl Kline, for the Garman house last week, Judge Quigley will keep Bellefonte dry so far as public drinking places are concerned. He also refused three in Philipsburg and held under advisement one in Philipsburg and one in Rush township. Only six licenses were granted, one in Millheim, one retail and one brewer's license in Philipsburg, two in Snow Shoe township and one in Casanova. When Judge Quigley went on the bench in 1916 there were twenty-eight licensed liquor places in Centre county, four of them in Bellefonte. Of course the war time legislation had a lot to do with wiping out the drinking places and the result is that now there are only six legalized places in the whole county.

St. John's Lutheran Brotherhood will entertain the Presbyterian Brotherhood this (Friday) evening starting with supper at 6:45 in the social room of the church. The Lutheran Sunday school orchestra will be on hand, while special vocal numbers have been arranged. The principal speaker of the evening will be Dr. A. B. Van Ormer, of Huntingdon, and his subject is "What is a Man Good For?" Dr. Van Ormer is one of the leading Lutheran ministers in Central Pennsylvania and for a number of years was pastor of the Second Lutheran church in Altoona, but at present is holding the chair of philosophy at Juniata College. He has been on the lecture and Chautauqua platform for many seasons and is a speaker of eloquence and great ability.

Roy Clements, who works at the Wion garage, had a miraculous escape on Monday evening and though he suffered slight injuries and his Ford touring car was badly wrecked he is alive and able to testify that the precautionary sign of "stop, look and listen" is not always a guarantee against danger at a railroad crossing. Mr. Clements had taken Herman Hazel to his home out on Willowbank street and coming back he stopped before he reached the crossing of the Lewisburg railroad, cleaned his windshield of snow, looked and listened, but did not see or hear anything. As it was about 9:30 o'clock in the evening he naturally concluded that no trains would be along at that time and he started his car. Just as he got on the railroad the belated Lewisburg freight came along and caught the rear of his car, threw it around off the track and literally stripped the right side of the machine. Clements was thrown out, but aside from slight injuries on his head and side escaped.

Real Estate Changes.

The housing situation in Bellefonte is just as acute today as it was several years ago and the only sure way of staying in one place any length of time is by owning your own home. Of course every man is not in a position to buy and these unfortunates are compelled for one reason or another to go house hunting year after year, and though it is yet over two months from moving time quite a number of

The only sure way of having a home these days in which one can live undisturbed is to own it, and among the number who have come to this conclusion is Charles C. Keichline, who has purchased the Jared Harper property, on the corner of High and Thomas, where he will move when he leaves the double house on Thomas street which has also been sold by Mr. Harper.

Charles Heisler has purchased the double house on Thomas street from Jared Harper and with his wife will move into the side now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Keichline.

Mr. Harper's single house has been purchased by Charles Larimer, the present occupant.

Homer P. Barnes has bought the Mrs. H. A. McKee property on east High street, now occupied by the Allen Waite and Mr. Cobb families, and with his mother and sister will move there when they vacate the property on Bishop street which has been their home for many years, but which was recently purchased by Harvey Miller.

The congregation of the Methodist church has finally closed the deal for the purchase of the G. R. Spigelmyer home, in the rear of the church on Howard street, for $8,750. Inasmuch as they will not get possession until the 15th of next October they have not yet decided whether to use it as a parsonage or a community house.

Allen Heverly has bought the Mingle property on Blanchard street, in the rear of the brick school house, which in the spring will be occupied by his son Richard and family.

1922 Report of Centre County Children's Aid Society.

In January, 1922, the Centre county Children's Aid society was caring for fifteen children, ranging in age from two to seventeen years. In the succeeding months thirteen more were added to the above number, making twenty-eight cared for during the year.

Five children have passed from the supervision of the society (one by adoption) making the present number twenty-three. Nine are in homes where their expenses are paid jointly by the county commissioners and the Aid society; four are in free homes, three in the Indiana industrial school, one in the Bellefonte hospital and six in other institutions especially fitted to their needs.

The annual dues, $1.00, for 1923 are now payable. The society needs new members, for the need is great and the cause worthy. The payment of $1.00 will secure you an active part in its beneficent work.

Academy Basketball Team Will Play in Philadelphia.

The Bellefonte Academy basketball ball five won their third straight victory by defeating the Nypen club of Lock Haven, in the armory last Saturday night by the score of 30 to 21. Mr. Hughes will take his team to Lewisburg this afternoon to play the Bucknell reserves there tonight. Tomorrow the party will journey on to Philadelphia to play the University of Pennsylvania Freshmen tomorrow night. This will give the many Bellefonters now living in Philadelphia an opportunity to go and see the school lads from their home town play.

The Hospital Drive Postponed.

Owing to difficulties unforeseen at the time that the drive for the Bellefonte hospital was set for February it has been deemed advisable to postpone the undertaking. While a new date has not been definitely fixed it will probably be made in May.

The second number of the entertainment course of the Y. M. C. A. given last Friday evening, provided a rare treat for the music lovers. Karl Stade, "cello soloist, made the hit of the evening. His well rendered selections brought repeated encores, to which he graciously responded. The trio selections with Harry C. Kase-man on the violin, and the pianist accompanying, were well rendered.
