

Church Services Next Sunday.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
"We aim to serve."

Junior message, "Lessons from the Life of Washington." 6:30 Christian Endeavor society meeting. Leader, Jack Yeager; topic, "$50,000 for the improvement of the community. How should we spend it?" This is a thought-provoker offering room for originality of answer. Evening worship at 7:30, sermon theme, "A Test and a Decision."

This (Friday) afternoon the Women's Missionary society will meet in the chapel at 3 o'clock. The mite-boxes will be opened at this time and a fine program rendered. Come!

Income Tax Man Dates.
The income tax man will be at the places in Centre county as listed for the convenience of those who desire or need help in making out their income tax returns for the year 1922: Philipsburg, in council chamber, Moshannon National Bank building, third floor, on February 15th, 16th, 17th; Bellefonte, in court house, February 26th, 27th, 28th; Milesburg, postoffice, March 1st; State College, postoffice, March 2nd.

Both the Masons and the Elks celebrated Valentine day this week, the former Monday evening and the latter Tuesday, by elaborate entertainments at their club homes. As always, open house with either of these organizations means a delightful evening for those who are fortunate enough to be their guests. Mrs. G. Oscar Gray was also among the Valentine hostesses, her guests of two tables of five hundred being entertained Monday night, at her home on West High street.

Mrs. Henry Hoy and Joseph Beezer were taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Wednesday. The latter, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beezer, and a guard at the penitentiary, is a pneumonia patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Krebs, of State College, spent the Sabbath with their uncle, W. E. Reed and wife.
Mrs. Mary R. Dale, of State College R. F. D., was a welcome visitor in town on Thursday of last week.
Keep in mind the big festival to be held by the Citizen's band in the I. O. O. F. hall this (Friday) evening.
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Neidigh came over from Struble on Tuesday and spent a portion of the day in town.
W. E. McWilliams, the veteran mail carrier, is suffering with injuries to his good arm sustained in a fall on the ice.

At a regular meeting of Pennsylvania Lodge No. 276, I. O. O. F., the sum of $25.00 was voted to the Near East relief sufferers.
Squire Zechman, the hustling furniture man of Boalsburg, has been doing a good business lately among residents in this section.
G. W. Rossman and Mrs. Cyrus Fowley are quite ill while A. J. and C. H. Struble, J. W. Sunday and Mrs. J. E. McWilliams are all recovering.

The fourth of the series of farmers' meetings will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall here on Tuesday evening, February 27th, at 7:30 o'clock.

The ladies bible class of the Lutheran church at Boalsburg will hold a chicken and waffle supper in Boal hall on Saturday evening, February 24th. Price, 35 cents.
The thunder storm on Monday night, with snow and sleet, was accompanied with a high wind in this section, blocking the roads and discommodating travel.

At the I. O. Campbell sale on March 23rd forty brood sows and forty shoats will be offered for sale. In addition to the above Mr. Campbell has eighty head of porkers ready for the butchers.
The Holy Sacrament will be administered in the Presbyterian church at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, February 25th. Preparatory services will be held the Friday evening previous.

That popular milliner, Miss Myra Kimpport, of State College, is in New York city laying in her stock of new styles for her Easter trade. She was accompanied on the trip by Miss Helen Brumbaugh, of Altoona.
Ernest Page returned home last week from Philadelphia, where he had been since last summer undergoing treatment for his health. While somewhat improved he has been advised to discontinue his studies at State College for an indefinite time.

A rather belated wedding announcement is that of M. C. Glyn and Miss Iva Roush, who were married in Altoona last November. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Roush, of this place, but has been located in Altoona for some time, and it is in that city the young people are making their home.
James Alexander Gummo, our well known sportsman and trapper, last week made a shipment of pelts to a New York firm on which he realized $40.00. Foxes are quite plentiful in this section, John E. Bressler coming in with two greys after the last snow fall, the Dreiblebis boys three greys; Allen Rossman a red one and Guy Rossman three reds and three greys.

Jewish Student Welfare.
The Jewish students at The Pennsylvania State College have organized a group known as the "Menorah Society of Penn State." Weekly meetings are held and an effort is made to have each addressed by prominent educators from various colleges and universities. The principal aim of the national society is to prepare college men and women for intelligent service to the community. There are almost 100 members in the State College branch.

The income tax collection is going along fairly well but a deficit of several million dollars is already predicted by statisticians.

Thirty Girls Work Way Through State College.

There are at least thirty girls now attending The Pennsylvania State College who have thrown aside the old-fashioned idea that it takes a great deal of money for girls to get a college education which none but those from very wealthy families can afford. There are several hundred young men students who earn most of their way there during the entire four years, and more girl students are looking to odd jobs every year for the payment of the bulk of educational costs.
Some of the girls earn their room and board living with the families of faculty members; others do cooking, plain and fancy sewing, some take care of children after class hours. Many spare dollars are earned in college and town offices by girls who are competent stenographers. Girls earning their way at Penn State are every bit as eager to follow every opportunity as are the men students. The fact that there is no tuition charged at Penn State is a big help to students who must pay for their own education. One out of every ten girls at State College earn most of their expenses, and the percentage for men is even greater.

CENTRE HALL.
Thunder and lightning visited us on Tuesday evening.
Chester Homan, wife and two children spent Sunday with Grandma Homan, in this place.

E. M. Huyet returned to his home on Friday, greatly improved in health after a few week's stay in Michigan.

Maybelle Sharer slipped and fell on the icy pavement near the postoffice on Tuesday evening, tearing a ligament in her leg.
Both of our local banks were represented at the meeting of the Bankers' Association in Altoona, on Lincoln's birthday.
Mrs. John Breon fainted during the service in the Evangelical church on Sunday evening. She was taken to her home on Church street and quickly regained her normal condition; being up and around the house on Monday.

Professor Langley Justified.
The fact that the Peyret glider, which has just won the Daily Mail competition in England and established the world's duration record for this type of flying, is constructed almost exactly along the lines of the original Langley steam-driven "aerodrome," which was making the first flights of a heavier-than-air machine a little more than a quarter of a century ago, constitutes a remarkable vindication of the correctness of Professor Langley's design. It was concerning these early flights that Professor Langley made the following comment: "And now it may be asked, What has been done? This has been done: A 'flying machine,' so long a type for ridicule, has really flown; it has demonstrated its practicability in the only satisfactory way—by actually flying." Does the world in the least appreciate the difficulties overcome by its pioneers?—Christian Science Monitor.

Lessens Coal-Mine Danger.
A car has been designed for distributing stone dust in coal mines to prevent explosions, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Much coal dust lodges on the "rims" of coal-mine tunnels and crannies of the rough-hewn walls. Currents of air created by trains of coal cars passing through, or by other means, constantly blow it about. When the coal dust is mixed with air it becomes a dangerous explosive. Accordingly, resort is had to the expedient of blowing stone dust over the walls and ribs of the tunnels. The same air currents that scatter the coal dust distribute with it the stone dust, which, mixed with the coal dust, renders the latter non-inflammable. A conical receptacle is filled with stone dust, which is discharged through a hose, a gasoline engine actuating an air-blast that drives it out in a dense and powerful stream.

The Great Game.
The Woman stopped in the other day at the birthday party of the child of a multimillionaire. She has often wondered how rich people can be so rich, how they can keep accumulating it.
But now she partially thinks she knows.
The birthday child had been given a game by his parents—the National Thrift game, it was called. And all the children were busily engaged in playing the new game. Even in their amusements it would seem as though they were being trained to remember that money must be kept in the hands of a select few.—Chicago Journal.

Docking Stations Marked.
Subway passengers are familiar with the signs "Three-car stop" or "Four-car stop," displayed at stations for the guidance of motormen, but few know similar signs are used at some of the big North river piers for the aid of pilots docking liners. At Pier 59, a White Star pier, signs bearing the names of vessels that dock there have been placed along the superstructure. The pilots bring their vessels into the pier with the bridge flush with the sign bearing the name of the ship.—New York Sun.
