Readers of the "Watchman" will be glad to know that Levi A. Miller, of Pleasant Gap, is now almost completely recovered from a very severe attack of influenza which kept him hoarse up about a month, and his physician contends that he must stay indoors all of this week. It's been rather a trial for Mr. Miller but we trust he will come through in fine shape and better physically than he has ever been.

In closing the big vault door at the close of business, last Friday, some one in the employ of the First National bank inadvertently made a mistake in setting the time clock and the result was the vault could not be opened at the usual time to begin business on Saturday morning. In fact it became necessary for the First National to borrow money from the Bellefonte Trust company with which to do business until the time clock ran its course, which happened to be 10:30 o'clock, when the big vault was opened and everything became normal again.

Flittings Now On, Both Hither and Yon.

April first, the legal flitting day, coming on Sunday this year, Monday will be the day when everybody changing homes must flit, unless other arrangements have been made beforehand. As is the case every year, many changes will take place in Bellefonte as well as throughout the county. But from the number of flittings seen on the streets this week quite a number of families are anxious to get located as soon as possible.

Sim Baum and family moved on Monday from Bishop street to their new home on the corner of Allegheny and Curtin streets, recently purchased from Mrs. W. F. Reeder. The house has been remodeled into two distinct houses, the Curtin street side to be occupied by Robert Morris and family, who expect to move in about the fifth of April. The house on Bishop street vacated by the Baums will be occupied by the Peter Smith family, who will move there just as soon as some minor repairs are made.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cairns will move from the Emerick house on Spring street into one of the apartments being arranged in the Hiller house, on High street, recently purchased by H. J. Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, who have been living with Mr. and Mrs. Cairns, have leased the Keichline house on Bishop street to be vacated by the Ziegler family. The Emerick property on Spring street to be vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Cairns will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charleston, who will move there from the Gerberich house on Thomas street, Mr. Charleston being an employee of the Emerick Motor Bus company.

Clement Dale Esq., and son, Arthur C. Dale Esq., have leased the two rooms on the first floor of the Hiller building and will move their offices there from their present location opposite the court house yard; the building they are in to be torn down to make room for the new one to be erected on that corner by J. O. Heverly.

J. Kennedy Johnston, who will also be compelled to move his offices, has leased the rooms over the Republican office formerly occupied by dental offices, and will locate there.

The lower floor rooms of the Hiller property next to the William Katz residence have been leased by Dr. Fox, a chiropractor of State College, who will open offices there just as soon as some minor repairs are made. The kitchen and laundry have been rented by Miss Helen Valentine, who is now getting them in shape for her "Last Resort" tea room, which she will move there from south Allegheny street. The apartment on the second floor of the building next the Elks has been taken by Mr. and Mrs. James Craig and family.

The Lief Olsen family moved on Wednesday from Petrikin hall to their new home on west Curtin street, recently purchased from Carl Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Weaver going to the Brockerhoff house for the present. The furniture of Miss Alice Tate will be moved today from the rooms she has occupied in the Strickland building into the first floor room of the Bailey house, on Bishop street, formerly occupied by George A. Sunday as a tailor shop. Miss Tate, who has been ill in the Bellefonte hospital for some weeks, is slowly improving and will go to her new home as soon as she has sufficiently recovered to leave the hospital.

On Tuesday Mrs. Howard Barnes, her son, Homer P., and daughter, Mrs. Daisy Henderson, moved from the home they have occupied for many years into their new home on east High street, recently purchased from Mrs. H. A. McKee. Henry Cobb and family, who formerly occupied the house, moved across the county park into the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Manning.

Among the Sick.

James O. Heverly has been housed up this week with a severe case of the grip.

Mrs. William Nighthart has been confined to bed the past ten days as the result of a bad attack of influenza.

John L. Nighthart suffered a severe attack of vertigo last Thursday and has been confined to bed ever since.

A. Clyde Smith, who has been under treatment which necessitated his being in bed for the past six weeks, is improving rapidly and anticipates being able to be about the house next week.

Earl H. Stock, principal of the Bellefonte High school, is in a very serious condition in the Bellefonte hospital. He was not feeling well all last week and unable to teach. On Monday he went out to the High school but felt so badly that he did no work. On Wednesday his condition became so serious that he was taken to the Bellefonte hospital where an operation was performed. His condition was found to be even more serious than apprehended and while he has a fighting chance he is a very sick man and his mother and sisters have been summoned to his bedside.

D. Wagner Geiss, who has the contract for carrying the mail between the postoffice and the railroad station, put in service this week a truck to take the place of his horses and wagon. The truck was built out of his old Buick runabout, and is large enough to haul the mail under ordinary circumstances.

Place your order now for a beautiful blooming plant, or fresh cut flowers, at Weaver's Pure Food store. 13-11

Flower girls will assist in the sale of flowers at the Y. M. C. A. On Saturday a number of girls will be on the street with baskets of carnations for sale to the public.

The airmail will inaugurate its summer schedule on April 15th, when mail planes will leave New York and Cleveland a half hour earlier than they have been doing during the winter. This will necessitate all the employees at the Bellefonte field going to work at seven o'clock in the morning instead of 7:30. But it will also enable them to quit at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The public sale season will end this week with the possible exception of a few minor sales here and there over the county. Selling out this spring has not proved the profitable experience of a few years ago. At that time most any ordinary sale ran from $2500 to $3000, with big sales bringing in from $7000 to $8000. This year the average was very much less, very few sales reaching the five thousand dollar mark.

The Phillipsburg High school basketball team failed to "take home the bacon" when they played Bellefonte High two weeks ago but that little incident did not keep them from eating turkey last Saturday night, when Hon. Harry B. Scott gave them a banquet at the Hotel Phillips. Mingling among the two hundred guests present were Cullen Cain, sports editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, Hugo Bezdek, B. M. Herrman, Glenn Killinger and Mike Palm, of State College, as well as a number of athletic heroes from surrounding towns.

Street laborers this week have dug up and hauled away the last of the heavy layer of ice on the streets in the business section of Bellefonte. While it naturally improves the appearance of the streets it is only an incident in the lives of the street cleaners. But the point at issue is the fact that the first snow of the winter fell on December 14th, and for more than one hundred days, or almost three and one-half months, the streets of Bellefonte were never entirely clear of snow and ice until this week, and there will probably be more snow before the weather settles.

Patriotic citizens of Bellefonte will be glad to know that the American Legion, as a national organization, has started a fund for the purpose of providing a yearly income to be used in decorating each Memorial day the graves of the American service men who are buried on European soil. This is an appeal that has a mighty big heart-throb woven into it, and if any of the towns people care to contribute their dimes or dollars they will find boxes ready to receive their amount at the following business places: Mott Drug company, Hazel & Co. dry goods store, Colonial restaurant and Runkle's drug store.

Members of the Centre county Automobile Dealers' association held a meeting at the Bush house on Tuesday evening to settle up the affairs of their recent auto show. General satisfaction was expressed with the way the show was conducted. While a number of sales were made by some of the dealers during the four days of the show every member is satisfied that the cost of the show was money well spent in the advertising they got. It was voted to hold another show next year and so well pleased was everybody with the managerial ability of W. C. Rowe that they took an option on his services for the 1924 show.

Once again a movement has been started by citizens throughout Bald Eagle valley in the interest of the improvement of the main public road by the State Highway Department. The Bald Eagle road is the short course between Bellefonte and Tyrone, as well as points further west and residents of this place are just as anxious as anybody to have the road improved, but so far as can be learned no decided action will be taken this year toward rebuilding it into a state highway. In fact some time ago it was announced that no new work will be undertaken in Centre county this year. The present state highways will be maintained, however, and the Bald Eagle road may be temporarily improved, but there is little hope of it being concreted or macadamized.

Wesley Howe Schwartz, the veteran editor of the Altoona Tribune, will retire from that paper tomorrow and will be succeeded by Albert O. Vorse, who the past year or so has been chief of the publicity bureau of the State Department of Forestry. Editor Schwartz has been connected with the Tribune since 1881, or for forty-two years. He is a facile writer, a staunch advocate of prohibition and a dyed-in-the-wool Republican. Any man nominated by the Republican party was sure of Editor Schwartz's support because of his sublime faith in the party and its principles. But his active work has come to an end and the "Watchman" hopes he will enjoy the well deserved rest from his arduous labors. Mr. Vorse, his successor, got his newspaper training in Philadelphia and for several years was in charge of the publicity news bureau at State College.

A Bed of Lime-Marl Discovered in Pennsylv.

A bed of lime-marl, the first ever discovered in this section of the State, has been uncovered by county farm agent J. N. Robinson on the farm of Mrs. John Mohr Otto, of Aaronsburg, on what is known as the Coburn farm located two miles east of Spring Mills, a farm inherited by Mrs. Otto from her grandfather, Dr. Charles Coburn, and which has been in the family for more than one hundred years.

When Mr. Robinson discovered the lime-marl deposit he communicated the find to Prof. Dickey, of State College, who investigated it and analyzed the sample, notifying Mrs. Otto that it is a very desirable asset and can be used by farmers to great advantage and profit.

The deposit is fresh water lime-marl, is four feet three inches in depth and covers about an acre of ground. Lime-marl is the purest form of calcium carbonate in the natural form, and gives excellent results the first year of application. It consumes moisture, thus proving a good agent in dry seasons; and will eradicate weeds and sour grass which always thrive on acid soils.

It is a great natural soil builder and crop provider. It will not burn out the humus in the soil and destroy the ammonia content like the kiln-burned lime, but will give quick results, larger crops and permanent benefit. Lime-marl is best applied with a lime spreader, though most any kind of a seed drill can be used, as it is of a loose, grainy nature and easily handled.

The bed on the Otto farm will be developed this spring and Centre county lime-marl will be put on the market. Farmers are advised to keep in touch with the developments and give this new kind of fertilizer a thorough try out.

A Striking Object Lesson.

The First National bank of Bellefonte has just issued a striking object lesson in the value of money.

The institution has been sending out Russian Rubles with the following pointed comment.

"This is a note of the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic. Please observe the inscription 'Guaranteed by the entire resources of the Republic.'"

Before the war this note represented $50,000 actual value. It is now worth two cents.

As Thomas Jefferson has said, "paper money is only the ghost of money and not money itself."

It is only good when it represents real wealth; something which man has worked for and has saved. Every dollar printed should be protected by its equivalent in real wealth.

The paper currency of the United States is thus protected. Back of it is value, dollar for dollar.

Printing presses cannot create value; that is something beyond the power of governments.

"Entire resources of the Republic" sounds big, but means nothing."

The Soviet has destroyed all value in Russia, just as Anarchism and radicalism would do in this country if they could get their destructive hands on the government.

Labor and industry are all that create wealth and money is only valuable in so far as its issue expresses the wealth created by them.

Will Organize Chapter of DeMolay.

At the last meeting of Constans Commander Knights Templar, of Bellefonte, a resolution was passed assuming the duty of organizing a Chapter of DeMolay in Bellefonte. A board of advisors was appointed with past grand commander Wilson I. Fleming as chairman. Considerable money has been pledged, application has been made for a charter and it is quite possible that the Chapter will be constituted some time during the month of April. The name of the new organization will be the Penn-Centre Chapter Order of DeMolay.

The organization is sponsored by the Masonic order and is designed for boys and young men between the ages of 16 and 21 years. Although the order is only a little over two years old almost one thousand Chapters have already been organized in the United States with a membership running close to half a million. So far only two Chapters have been instituted in Pennsylvania, but each one has a membership exceeding one thousand. Boys and young men within the age limit prescribed above, from all parts of Centre county, if acceptable, will be taken into the Chapter now being organized in Bellefonte.

One Hundred Per Cent. Compliance.

It gives me pleasure to announce to the public that through the splendid co-operation of the patrons of the Bellefonte postoffice in the placing of a slot in the door or providing some other receptacle for the receipt of mail, that I can report one hundred per cent. compliance with the recent ruling of the Postoffice Department. This co-operation on your part will result in greater efficiency and more prompt handling of the mail.

I wish to call your attention to the fact that your mail slot or receptacle is not to be used for outgoing mail, as street letter boxes have been provided for that purpose; nor should they be used by concerns for the disposition of advertising matter, as they are for United States mail only.

JOHN L. KNISELY, P. M.

Squire James W. Swabb, of Linden Hall, was a Bellefonte visitor on Saturday, coming over ostensibly on a business trip but at the same time feeling the political pulse in regard to being a candidate for County Commissioner. Mr. Swabb is a Democrat from his feet up and his experience in the court house years ago as a deputy register would doubtless inure to his benefit should he enter the contest with a determination to win.

Two very interesting callers at the "Watchman" office last Friday were T. C. Harbeson and William F. McKinney. Both of the gentlemen are connected with the State forestry service. Mr. Harbeson is a district forester and has just been transferred from White Deer to the Potters Mills district. Mr. McKinney is located at Potters Mills, where he has been a ranger for thirteen years. They presented us with one of the new forest maps of the State and in discussing their work a bit we were not long in discovering that both men took it very seriously and are well informed as to its economic value. They talked so much and so long in a way that revealed to us the fact that these men who are isolating themselves in the mountains of the State, so that lumber, game and water supplies may be assured coming generations, are keeping abreast of current affairs and have very sound ideas.
