Horseshoe Trail Enthusiasts Meet in Bellefonte.

Just sixty-seven members of the Horseshoe Trail association from Altoona, Hollidaysburg, Tyrone, Williamsport, Lock Haven, State College and Bellefonte were guests of landlord Lewis Daggett, at the Bush house, for luncheon last Friday, and from the liberal menu served it looked as if the genial landlord was under the impression that the lunch was the big part of the meeting, but such did not prove to be the case, as the association was in session until four o'clock.

The business meeting was presided over by George D. Worthington, president of the association, while W. Paul Schenck, secretary, reported that the horseshoe trail markers are now being put up along the trail. The markers are not deemed sufficiently conspicuous, and it was decided to deepen the color and also omit the horseshoe nails, used as arrows. Owing to the fact that there are no telephone poles along the state highway between Pleasant Gap and Lemont it was decided to have posts erected every 110 feet on which to place the markers. Mr. Schenck estimated that the entire cost of the markers would approximate two thousand dollars.

Robert F. Hunter, chairman of the Bellefonte committee, suggested "The Good Luck Trail" as a slogan for the association and it was adopted. Lapel buttons bearing the horseshoe insignia were decided upon as a membership talisman. The choice of radiator emblems and a suitable booklet descriptive of the scenic beauties of the trail were held over until the next meeting. Report was made that the latest edition of 25,000 maps of the Atlantic States travel guide contains the Horseshoe Trail well defined from Williamsport to Cumberland.

The present aim of the association is to secure a membership of at least 1600, the quotas having been allotted as follows: Williamsport, 300; Lock Haven, 100; Bellefonte, 100; State College, 100; Tyrone, 100; Altoona, 500; Hollidaysburg, 100; Bedford, 100; and Cumberland, 200. So far none of the towns have filled their quota, though the various committees will make an effort to do so as rapidly as possible. The membership fee is five dollars.

Every member present was very enthusiastic over the advantages of the new trail. It is almost a direct route from Williamsport to Cumberland and inasmuch as the larger part of it is already either state or improved highways it offers special inducements for automobilists and the sight-seeing public. Steps will be taken as soon as possible to have every foot of the trail converted into a substantial state highway through the co-operation of the State and various good roads associations.

Some very interesting talks were made during the meeting by Daniel Slep, J. E. Brumbaugh, D. J. Howard and A. O. Vorse, of Altoona; E. K. Hibshman and J. P. Aikens, of State College; Assemblyman Thomas Beaver and James R. Hughes, of Bellefonte. Naturally members of the association from every town along the trail are endeavoring to put forth their home locality as the pivotal point of interest, but no place between Williamsport and Cumberland can boast of such a sight as the visitors witnessed last Friday when they looked at the big trout in Spring creek, right in the heart of Bellefonte.

A Costly Echo of a Drowning Tragedy

The Supreme court last week affirmed the findings of the common pleas court of Mifflin county in awarding damages totalling almost $9,000 to Mrs. Martha Corbin, widow of Cloyd Corbin, who lost his life when a flat boat capsized on the Juniata river on May 10th, 1919, and seven men lost their lives. The action was against the Haws Refractories company, a subsidiary of the General Refractories company. Among those who were drowned were Clair Miller, superintendent of the Silica Brick company, at Port Matilda.

The unfortunate men were guests of the Haws Refractories company on a tour of inspection of their plant at Hawstone, and to reach it had to ferry across the Juniata river on flat boats. The water was high and the boat capsized. Relatives of all the men who were drowned instituted proceedings to recover damages but only one case was tried and now that the Supreme court has affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the above case the company will likely endeavor to settle the other claims against it.

HOUSER.—Emanuel Houser, a lifelong resident of College township, died at his home at Houserville at 2:45 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon after two week's illness with pneumonia.

He was a son of Frederick and Sarah Fye Houser and was born at Houserville on December 9th, 1861, making his age 61 years, 4 months and 8 days. His boyhood and youth were spent on his father's farm but when he grew to manhood he opened a general mercantile store at Houserville which he conducted from 1887 to 1909, during most of which time he had charge of the postoffice at that place, which was in his store. After disposing of his mercantile business he worked as a carpenter and also held the office of road supervisor for College township. He was a member of the Reformed church and a man universally esteemed by all who knew him.

In 1886 he was united in marriage to Miss Lillie May Resides who survives with two children, Frederick K. Houser, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. R. A. Hoy, of Wilkesburg. Two children, Luther A. and Luella Elmira preceded him to the grave. He also leaves a foster daughter, Mrs. Hennigh, of Perkaspie, and one brother, Daniel F. Houser, of Bellefonte.

Funeral services were held in the church at Houserville yesterday morning by Rev. S. C. Stover, after which burial was made in the Houserville cemetery.

GILLILAND.—The death last Thursday of Miss Catherine Gilliland, eldest daughter of Joseph and Edna Gilliland, at their home near Rock Springs, is the cause of deep and sincere regret among her many friends. Ten days previous she contracted the measles and later pneumonia developed which was the direct cause of her death.

She was only eighteen years old and had just recently graduated with honors at the Mooresville high school. Possessed of a bright and sunny nature she had made many friends in the short time the family lived in the Glades and her untimely death is mourned by all. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and Sunday school and always a faithful attendant.

Funeral services were held at the Gilliland home at 12:30 o'clock on Monday by Rev. Shaffer, assisted by Rev. Fasick, after which the remains were taken to Mooresville where they were laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

WOLF.—Mrs. Sarah Wolf, widow of John Wolf, at one time a commissioner of Centre county, died last Friday morning at her home in Rebersburg as the result of general debility. She was a daughter of Daniel and Susanah Kreamer and was born in Miles township eighty-seven years ago. Her husband died some years ago but surviving her are four daughters, Mrs. Annie Zeigler, Mrs. Jerome Moyer and Mrs. Mary Frank, of Rebersburg, and Mrs. E. M. Brungart, of Selinsgrove. She was a sister of the late H. W. Kreamer, who died several weeks ago at Centre Hall, and three sisters survive, Mrs. David J. Meyer, of Centre Hall; Mrs. Amanda Lukensbach, of Tyrone, and Mrs. Jerome Gehart, of Rebersburg. Burial was made at Rebersburg on Monday.

She was a daughter of Samuel and Sarah Frank and was born in Miles township seventy-two years ago. Her father was at one time an associate judge of Centre county. Her husband died eleven years ago but surviving her are these children: Willis F., Charles C., Samuel A., and Curtis M. Bierly, all of Rebersburg. She also leaves two brothers, Dr. G. S. Frank, of Millheim, and James P., of Rebersburg. Burial was made at Rebersburg on Tuesday.

LUCAS.—Kathleen Lucas, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Lucas, of Grass Flat, died on Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McCann, in Nittany valley, of congestion of the lungs. The family were on a visit when the child was taken sick and died in a few days. The remains were taken to the home of the little girl's grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lucas, at Rote, where funeral services were held on Tuesday morning and burial made in the Sunnyside cemetery, at Lock Haven.

Those desiring to enroll for this summer military training course are requested to make their applications at once, as the allotment for Centre county is not large. Full information concerning the course can be obtained by calling at Mr. Dale's office in the Thompson building, on west High street, Bellefonte.

April Snow Last Saturday.

Centre county experienced real winter weather last Saturday when it snowed a good part of the day and also Saturday night. While most of the snow melted as it fell in cool, shady places it piled up to a depth of eight inches, and it is estimated the total fall was close to twelve inches. Fortunately the weather was not extremely cold and the general opinion is that the snow did no damage to the fruit trees, inasmuch as the buds are backward this year, owing to the continued cool weather. Last year at this time many fruit trees were in blossom and just a year ago today came the hard freeze that killed all the early fruit. The thermometer dropped to twenty degrees above zero and only the late fruit escaped. It is to be hoped that this year the danger mark has been passed and the fruit will escape a killing frost.

A Big Feature Show.

Next Tuesday evening, April 24th, the people of Bellefonte and vicinity will have an opportunity of witnessing what the advance notices claim as a colossal musical and beauty show in the production of "Eve" at the opera house. The leading role will be taken by the famous beauty and New York musical star, Nyra Brown, who will be supported by Johnny Getz, the monkey man. Other features will be the harmony quartette, LaZaskia, the premier dancer, a flirtation walk, the electric mirror ball and the bubble effect. The scenic effects are characterized as magnificent.

A new electric sign has been put up by the Montgomery & Co. clothing store which is very attractive.

The "Watchman" gives all the news while it is news.

Some Fair Catches Mark Opening of Trout Fishing Season.

Notwithstanding the fact that it snowed on Saturday and the ground was wet and soggy for tramping along the streams it could not dampen the ardor of the enthusiastic fishermen and they were out in full force on Monday morning, the opening of the trout fishing season. Since the closing of a portion of Spring creek within the Bellefonte borough limits residents of the town miss the excitement of the dozens of men and boys who, on the opening day years ago, lined up along the stream in an effort to catch some of the big trout which afford so great an attraction to visitors, and only a few men had the hardihood to wade the water below the High street bridge. Among the few, however, were several strangers reported to be from Altoona, who are being blamed for the very unsportsman-like conduct of coaxing the big trout down stream from above the bridge by feeding them chopped meat, then catching them with chopped meat bait. Some aver that they caught upwards of a hundred trout in this way but others who saw the baskets of two of them give the number of trout in their possession as nine and thirteen, respectively, but they were all big ones, ranging in size from 18 to 24 inches.

The usual number of fishermen were out along Logan's branch. One man counted forty-six between Pleasant Gap and the Titan Metal company, and he admits that he didn't see them all. Some of them, of course, got some trout, but the number was not as great, probably, as would have been the result had the weather been a little more favorable.

Of course quite a number of Bellefonters tried their luck up Spring creek while others went to Fishing creek. Very few, however, journeyed to the mountain streams, as four to five inches of Saturday's snow still lay in the mountains with thin ice along the banks of the stream.

Among those who made nice catches were the following:

Toner Aikay was the only man in this section to get the limit of 25 trout, all of which were taken from Spring creek in the neighborhood of the McCalmont & Co. office.

Ray Strunk, of Tyrone, caught several large ones in the Bush house dam.

J. O. Heverly, also fishing Spring creek along the old Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, got 6.

Patsy Bathurst had the best luck fishing the upper portion of Spring creek and Logan's branch. He got 20, one of which measured 18 inches, four of them 14 inches and the balance from 9 to 11 inches.

J. M. Cunningham got 10 and George McNichol 9, both of whom were up Spring creek.

Willis Shuey, that prince of fishermen, did not make a record this year, as his number was 7. Frank Gross got 6 on Logan's branch before breakfast. John Anderson and David Washburn each got 5 fishing on Buffalo Run.

Henry Miller has so far made the prize catch of the season, a 28 inch brown trout which he landed from the Bush house dam on Tuesday morning.

Russell Kerstetter, of Pleasant Gap, 8.

Landing trout with a bushel basket is a unique way of getting them but that is what happened in Bellefonte on Wednesday morning. A traveling man cast a line out of a second story window at the Bush house and great to his surprise hooked an eighteen inch trout. But it was impossible to land it through the window of the hotel. Jimmy Mathews, however, came to his rescue and with a bushel basket as a landing net jumped into the creek and safely brought the trout to land.

Another Portion of Spring Creek Closed to Fishing.

Considerable excitement was occasioned in Bellefonte on Wednesday morning when the same men from somewhere in Blair county who went after the big trout in Spring creek on Monday morning reappeared with a rope ladder, scaled the high wall below the High street bridge and resumed their unsportsmanlike tactics of coaxing the big trout down to their fishing grounds by feeding them hamburger steak. Quite a number of Bellefonters who have religiously protected the big trout in the past became very indignant over the actions of the three men, and promptly communicated with fish commissioner Nathan R. Buller who at once closed to all fishing that additional portion of Spring creek between the High street bridge and the foot bridge over the creek to the silk mill. Notices to this effect were posted yesterday.

While the exact identity of the strange fishermen has not been determined, one of them, at least, is believed to have been Joe Umholtz, of Tyrone, as that is the name that was on the license he exhibited to game warden Moshier. It is highly probable that the other two men are his brothers, Ray and Walter, as according to word from Tyrone the three men were awarded prizes in that town for catching the largest trout on the opening day.

On Monday Dr. John M. Thomas entered upon his third year as president of The Pennsylvania State College. During the two years that he has been at Penn State Dr. Thomas has not only kept the College on the map of the State but has given it a greater position of prominence than it ever had before.

Women Members of Legislature Entertained.

Simultaneously with the opening of the annual convention of the D. A. R. the Pennsylvania State society of Washington held its April meeting on Monday evening, the 16th, in the large ball room of the New Willard Hotel. The guests of honor at this meeting were the women members of the Pennsylvania State Legislature, of whom there are eight. Those present were Miss Helen Grimes, of Allegheny county; Miss Martha Thomas, of Chester county; Miss Sarah Galleher, of Cambria county; Miss Gertrude McKinney, of Butler county; Miss Alice Bentley, of Crawford county, and Mrs. Marcus Speiser and Mrs. Rosa De Young, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Lillian Pitts, of Philadelphia, being the only absentee.

Representative M. Clyde Kelly, president of the society, presided over the ceremonies of the occasion which was a brilliant one, the Pennsylvania society being the largest of any State society in Washington. The large ball room was crowded to the utmost with Pennsylvanians and their friends among them were many of the daughters of the American Revolution.

Noticeable among the guests in the boxes were Mrs. Heber Votaw, sister of crandier; Miss Harding; Secretary Labor James J. Davis and Mrs. Davis; a number of Pennsylvania Congressmen and their wives; Mrs. Edwin Erle Sparks, of State College, and her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Sparks.

Addresses were made by all of the honor guests of the occasion, and there was every evidence that the residents of the Keystone State who were present believed they had reason to be proud of the women members of the Pennsylvania Legislature. Mrs. Votaw made the closing speech of the evening, taking for her theme "The Soul of Washington," her discourse being a comparison of Washington with the many other cities of the world she had visited.

Mrs. Elythe Marmion Brosius, well known harpist of Washington, rendered a number of selections during the evening in a charming manner, and so many young couples were present to engage in the dancing to the music furnished by the Meyer Davis orchestra that the floor was almost too crowded for comfort.

Among those present who were formerly connected with The Pennsylvania State College were Professor Deane Meade, now head of the Animal husbandry department, University of Maryland, and Mrs. Meade; Mr. Arthur Deering, now with the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., and Miss Julia C. Gray, now engaged in editorial work in Washington.

Had Nothing Like That.

One of those affluent persons who can afford to go to Scotland for a little look around brings back the following story:

"I was being shown the sights of Edinburgh. At each, apparently wonderful to the Scotchman who was acting as my guide, I guess I scoffed. Finally, as the sun was going down, he took me to the brow of a hill and pointed to three smokestacks, belching forth smoke.

"That's nothing compared to what we have in Pittsburgh, or Gary, in my down state, or any number of cities in the United States, Douglas," I said.

"Ah, my friend," he said, "those are the smokestacks of three breweries."

Cardboard Lighthouse.

On the beach of southern California, says Ship News (San Francisco), is a lighthouse made of cardboard. There is not a stone or a girder of steel in it.

"To look at it from a distance, or even close up, one would never suspect that it was made of paper-box material. It is the only structure of its kind known. It also performs a most important service—in making movies. The torn rock shore on which it stands has been made picturesque by it."
