

Six-Buttoned Front

GLAPLESS from top to bottom— kept so by 6 closely spaced buttons (not the usual 5)—finished with a center plait that doesn't stop below the belt but runs to the bottom—these are some of the things men admire most about Eagle Shirts. All shirts of this make, even the lowest priced, have these exclusive features.

MONTGOMERY & CO., Bellefonte and State College.

PINE GROVE MENTION.

J. A. Fortney spent Friday with relatives at Bellefonte. Supervisor C. H. Meyer is busy repairing the Branch road. A wet, cool May brings wheat and hay, and we are having both. Emery Johnson is manipulating the wheel of a new Columbia car. Harry Rocky, Elmer Barr and John Stover are among the sick. Samuel A. Homan made a business trip to Bellefonte on Wednesday. Russell Port is repairing and re-roofing his new home at Rock Springs. Prof. I. E. Wieland, of State College, transacted business in our town on Tuesday. Prof. A. L. Bowersox is enclosing his yard with a new iron fence, of the Ward pattern. Dr. Fred Robinson and wife, of State College, greeted friends along the line on Sunday. J. Sumner Miller, of State College, spent Saturday afternoon among his lodge associates here. James I. Reed and wife were callers at the R. D. Port home at Rock Springs on Sunday afternoon. Our popular lumberman, Elmer Long, started his saw mill on Monday after an all winter shut down. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Rossman, of Millheim, spent the early part of the week among relatives at State College. Walter Krumrine, son of Frank Krumrine, was painfully injured in the face several days ago by being kicked by a horse. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rossman and Mr. and Mrs. Mac Fry were entertained at the Robert Harpster home on Saturday and Sunday. The many friends of S. A. Homan will be pleased to learn that his injured eye is improving and he has hopes of a permanent cure. The lecture room of the Presbyterian church is being beautified with new paper and paint. Louck and Everts are doing the work. Mrs. Emeline Hess came up from Bellefonte recently and is visiting her son Ernest, who is running the old home farm in Shingletown. In our notice of the death of D. H. Krebs we unintentionally omitted the name of one surviving sister, Mrs. David Sasserman, of Downs, Kan. Bear in mind the play "Safety First" which will be given in the town hall Friday and Saturday evenings for the benefit of the Lutheran parsonage. The Goheen sisters, who spent the winter in Tyron, have opened their summer home at Rock Springs, and their many friends are all glad to see them. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gearhart, of State College, spent the first day of the week with relatives in our town. Rumor says they are thinking of moving here soon. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fleming and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fleming attended the funeral of their uncle, John Martin Fleming, an octogenarian, at Bellefonte, on Wednesday. The new arrival at the Al C. Henninger home at Oak Grove, last Monday, is a little daughter. It lived but three days, dying on Thursday. Burial was made at Pine Hall Friday. That prince of good fellows, Will Irvin, of McAlevy's Fort, spent Friday in our town looking up old acquaintances. He is one of those genial kind of fellows whom a man would walk across the street to shake hands with. Race suicide never got a look in at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gearhart and last Thursday the Stork made its sixteenth visit to their home on Chestnut street, leaving a nine pound girl. Both mother and babe are doing fine. J. Laird Holmes, with his wife and son will be away on a motor sight-seeing trip, their itinerary including stops at Harrisburg, Gettysburg, Washington, D. C., Arlington, Va., Baltimore, Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Lancaster and Williamsport. Dogs are still running deer in this section. On Wednesday of last week a two year old doe was chased off of Tussey mountain and in its efforts to escape the dogs it undertook to jump a wire fence enclosing the hog lot on the J. T. Fleming farm, but caught on the wire, fell and broke its neck. A large crowd of young folks gathered at the Wagner home at Bloomsport, last Tuesday evening, as a surprise birthday party for Miss Effie Wagner. Choice refreshments were served and later the young people danced to music furnished by D. G.

Reed. Miss Wagner received many beautiful presents. The venerable Jacob Reish, of Baileyville, who has been in feeble health the past year, suffered a stroke of paralysis last Friday which has affected his entire right side, so that his condition is regarded as serious. His son, Rev. John E. Reish, of Loganton, has been with him most of the week. Mrs. J. B. Heberling, of State College, accompanied the remains of her step-father, William Comfort to his former home in Iowa, where burial was made. While in the west Mrs. Heberling will spend several weeks at the home of her brother, John Bloom, in Des Moines, and will also visit other relatives in that section. Mrs. J. H. Keller is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ida Williams, preliminary to a trip to California. She expects to leave on Sunday and will spend at least three months on the coast. Her son, Ned Keller, who is now in Armenia, expects to come to the States on business this summer and Mrs. Keller is considering accompanying him when he returns to his Near East post in the fall. Rev. S. C. Stover notified his congregations on Sunday that he had been chosen as a representative to the General Synod of the Reformed church which will convene at Hickory, N. C., on May 22nd, and continue in session several weeks. Consequently there will be no preaching services for four weeks. Rev. Stover, accompanied by his wife, will leave today so as to join the special train carrying delegates at Washington, D. C. Memorial services will be held at Meek's church at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, May 20th. Rev. J. W. McAlarney, chaplain of Capt. Campbell Post, No. 272, will preach the sermon. Similar services will be held in the Methodist church in Pine Grove Mills the same evening at 7:30 o'clock. As the ranks of the Civil war veterans have rapidly dwindled away soldiers of the Spanish-American and world wars are invited to join in the memorial services. On Monday afternoon little Bobbie Brennen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brennen, was watching his elder brother operate a lawn mower at the parental home at Rock Springs and when the older boy stopped to take a rest Bobbie proceeded to inspect the machine. Without thinking the brother gave the mower a shove with the result that Bobbie's hands were caught in the machine, and the sharp knives severed two fingers on one hand and three on the other. It was some time before a doctor could be secured and the lad was quite faint from the loss of blood, but he is now getting along as well as can be expected.
