Bellefonte, Pa., May 18, 1923.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes moved into her new flat in the Pruner block on Monday.

Mrs. Robert Morris entertained with an afternoon tea yesterday, at her home on Curtin street.

Ten maple trees furnished by John W. Baisor, of Philipsburg, were planted in Gray's cemetery, in Half-moon valley, one day last week.

Willard Abt has resigned his clerkship in Cohen & Co's department store and on Tuesday morning went back to his old love as a clerk in Mingle's shoe store.

The Bellefonte Lodge of Elks, as has been their custom for a number of years past, will entertain the old soldiers at dinner at their home on High street, following the Memorial services on May 30th.

The Horseshoe Trail association will hold a two day's session at State College on June 27th and 28th, at which time a number of men prominently interested in the good roads movement will be present.

The regular May session of court will be held next week, but no cases of unusual gravity appear on the criminal list. Quite a number of civil cases are down for trial but the probability is that the usual percentage will be either settled or continued.

The twenty-sixth annual convention of the Centre county Christian Endeavor Union will be held at Blanchard on Tuesday, June 5th. There will be three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening, and prominent Christian Endeavor workers will be in attendance.

The stock of the Spencer Economy store, which recently went out of business in Bellefonte, was packed up and shipped to Williamsport on Monday and the D. I. Willard & Son men's furnishing store has moved into the room in the Bush Arcade vacated by the Spencer people.

The following organ numbers will be played at the regular Sunday evening recital by George A. Johnston, in St. John's Lutheran church, from 7:30 to 7:45: "Barcarolle," by J. Offenbach; "Even Song," by Edward Johnston, and "Triumphal," by Verdi. Visitors always welcome.

The Hazel and Schaeffer family reunion will this year be held in Deitrick's grove at Madisonburg on Thursday, June 21st. It will be in the shape of a basket picnic and music will be furnished by a band not yet selected. The committee in charge extends an invitation to everybody to attend.

G. Fred Musser took a day off from his duties as president of the G. F. Musser Co., and went over onto Stone creek last Friday evening for a little trout fishing. There were four in the party and as evidence of the success they met with is the fact that Mr. Musser brought home fifty fine mountain trout, averaging in size from six to ten inches.

The Modern Woodmen of America will have a big time in the army this evening, when over one hundred candidates will present themselves for the Keystone class adoption. The camps represented in the list will be Bellefonte, State College, Port Matilda, Millheim and Milroy. The Woodmen band, of State College, will lead the parade which will occur at seven o'clock. The State College degree team will do the work.

The net proceeds of the two performances of "Springtime," given under the auspices of the Campfire girls in the opera house last week, were $404.57. This amount was divided equally between the Campfire girls and the John B. Rogers Producing company, or $202.29 for each. The expenses were unusually heavy, amounting to $331.70. The Campfire girls intend making a nice donation to the Y. M. C. A. from their share of the proceeds.

The long winter and late spring makes everybody appreciate the nice days to be out as much as possible, but the evenings still continue cool and there is no better place in Bellefonte in which to pass the time than at the Scenic. The room is always comfortable and the pictures interesting and amusing. Better entertainment than can be had anywhere else for the same money. If you are not a regular get the movie habit and see them at the Scenic.

Harry Tierney, a member of Troop B, is in the Bellefonte hospital suffering with serious injuries as the result of his horse falling on him. The accident happened on Sunday morning when the trooper was preparing to go out for a short ride. He was using a bridle with a curb bit and after mounting his horse reared up. Tierney pulled on the bridle rein and instead of going down the horse fell over backward. The young man was caught beneath the horse.

The Supreme court has affirmed the decision of the court of Centre county in the case of The Fidelity Title and Trust Co., of Pittsburgh, vs. The First National Bank of Spring Mills. The case was an action brought by the plaintiff company to recover the value of $5,000 worth of Liberty bonds, with interest, from the bank. It was tried before Judge Quigley last December and resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff. While the Supreme court decision affirms the lower court so far as the verdict is concerned it decreed that the plaintiff company pay its own costs.

WASHINGTON GIRL CREATES SENSATION IN BELLEFONTE.

Nineteen Year Old Julia Fuller Leaves Uncle's Home After Burning Letters, Etc.

In these days of frequent disappearances and kidnapping cases reported from various sections of the country considerable excitement was occasioned in Bellefonte on Monday by the announcement that Miss Julia Fuller, a nineteen year old girl, of Washington, D. C., had mysteriously disappeared from the home of her uncle, John Clark, in Buffalo Run valley, but any sensation that may have been created on Monday was turned to sympathy when it was learned on Tuesday that the girl is undoubtedly a victim of some form of aphasia and her whereabouts being located she was taken into custody and held until word could be received from her father in Washington.

The young woman in question is a daughter of E. J. Fuller, a plumber of Washington. Her mother, who died three years ago, was Miss Mary Parsons, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parsons, who prior to their death were residents of Bellefonte. Her uncle, John Clark, is an adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmer Clark, of Buffalo Run valley. Along about the first of April Mr. Clark received a letter from his niece stating that she was suffering with a nervous breakdown, and as her physician had recommended a sojourn in the country asked whether it would be convenient for her to come to his home.

Mr. Clark wrote to her to come, and she arrived at the Clark home on April 10th. Physically, her health seemed to be all right but most of the time she was quiet and uncommunicative, going about apparently in deep and concentrated thought. She claimed to be a budding authoress and much of her time was spent in writing. In fact she stated that she was at work on a novel which she had named "The Hermit," the scenes of which were located in Centre county.

On Sunday evening Mr. Clark was away from home but Miss Fuller accompanied other members of the family to special Mother's day exercises in the church at Paradise. During the services she claimed she was not feeling well and telling one of the family that she was going home left the church.

She evidently went direct to the Clark home, bundled together all her letters and the manuscript of her alleged story, and after burning all of it, discarded her woman's clothing and putting on a pair of khaki trousers which she had brought with her from Washington, and her uncle's coat and hat took her departure. Where she spent the night and Monday morning has not been revealed but along about noon on Monday she appeared at the Wesley Rider home near Valley View and asked if he didn't want a housekeeper. Being told that he did not she took her leave.

On Monday afternoon Rev. George E. Smith and Rev. Emenhizer drove to Valley View and returning home overtook the young woman. They took her to the Emenhizer home where Mrs. Emenhizer supplied her with some proper clothing and kept her over night. On leaving the Emenhizer home on Tuesday morning she went to the Harry Thompson home, down on the G. E. Haupt place. Mrs. Thompson was on the point of leaving home and the girl offered to do the morning work.

She did the work in an excellent manner then left, and along about noon-time appeared at the L. H. Gettig home on Thomas street, with her face blackened and carrying a big butcher knife. It was at the Gettig home that the authorities took her in charge.

Word of her condition was telegraphed her father on Tuesday afternoon and he came to Bellefonte on Wednesday. He confirmed the story of his daughter's breakdown in health and stated that her actions at the present time were similar to the way she had been on one or two occasions at home. That was the reason her physician advised her coming to the country. In a talk with her uncle, John Clark, and district attorney James C. Furst Miss Fuller claimed that she did not know what she was doing and was ignorant of her own actions. Under the circumstances it was deemed best to take her home and she and her father left for Washington yesterday morning.

Training Camp Applications Should be Made at Once.

Any young man in Centre county who wishes to spend a month at the citizens military training camp at Camp Meade should make application at once, as the camp will open on June 26th. The camp will be open to all men between the age of 17 and 25 years; who are of good character, intelligence and good physical condition. No educational qualifications are prescribed but each candidate must file certificate of good character together with a medical certificate of good physical condition. All expenses are paid by the government. Complete information can be secured from Arthur Dale Esq., or Capt. Russell George, of Bellefonte.

Broadcasting from Station W. P. A. B.

The powerful new radio station at State College was tested out Wednesday night of last week and proved very satisfactory. It was put in operation as a broadcaster on Wednesday night of this week with a program given under the direction of the music department of the College.

In Bellefonte there has been quite an increase in house rent. This will continue as long as the present shortage of houses continues. You can help get more houses by joining the Centre Building and Loan Assn., which loans you money for getting homes.

Just seventy-eight people from Bellefonte and vicinity went to Tyrone and Altoona on Sunday on the Williamsport to Altoona excursion train. The train was made up of eight coaches, six of which were well filled when the train pulled out of Bellefonte, with a number in the other two coaches.

On Monday evening Patsy Bathurst decided he would have a mess of trout for breakfast on Tuesday morning. Consequently he walked down to the old fair grounds and landed four nice ones, ten and twelve inches in length. He cleaned the trout and put them on ice but when they were cooked on Tuesday morning they tasted so strongly of machine oil that he could not eat them, which is pretty good evidence that Spring creek is being polluted with oil in some way.

Miss Ruth Garman has resigned her position in Hazel & Co's store and with Mrs. Iddings will open a tea house at the latter's home near Runville. Inasmuch as there will be considerable fixing up to do it will probably be ten days or two weeks before the new refreshment stand will be duly launched, but the ladies are planning to make it a most attractive and delightful place. The property is located right at the end of the concrete state highway, hence will be an easy drive from Bellefonte to the tea house. They have already named their place the Dim Lantern tea room.

Rev. Wilson Potter Ard, pastor of the Bellefonte Lutheran church, will be a busy man during the next few weeks. He has accepted invitations to deliver the Memorial day address at Salona and Howard. Will deliver the commencement address at the graduating exercises of the Pleasant Gap and Millheim High schools; will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Bellefonte High school and on Tuesday, June 12th, will make the address at the alumni day exercises during commencement week at his alma mater, Susquehanna University, at Selinsgrove.

An informal piano recital for the benefit of the unfortunate Armenian children will be given at the residence of Miss Mary Linn, on Allegheny street, on Saturday, May 19th, at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Those taking part in the program will be the Misses Warner, Kurtz, Hughes, Harvey, Barnhart, Blanchard, Hunter, Brown and Smith. As this is music week the young people felt it would be an appropriate time, with the aid of their beautiful art, to do something for the Armenians. A silver offering will be greatly appreciated. The public is cordially invited and a large attendance is very much desired.

On Monday a number of children on their way home from school ran up on various porches along Allegheny street, rang door-bells, knocked on the windows, etc. While their actions were not with malicious intent, unfortunately at the Linn home they knocked one of the iron chairs from the porch with the result that it was broken in four pieces. Of course the children were probably having good fun out of their performances, without giving a thought to the annoyance they were causing the people in the houses, let alone the damage resulting from their actions, and they should be more careful in the future.

Last week the "Watchman" told of the release of two bear in the Big Kettle in the Seven mountains by game warden Jesse Hassinger, who planned to make it an event of some importance. The bear were hauled to the Big Kettle in two large crates and a dozen or more men, including several photographers, were in the party. The she bear was the first to be released and when her cage was opened she sniffed the atmosphere and very unconcernedly walked down the gang plank and trotted off in the underbrush, allowing the photographers to get several good snaps at her. But when his cage was opened he stuck out his head, took a sniff or two, then rushed down the gang plank, knocked over two of the cameras, badly frightened the whole crowd and then took to the woods after his mate.

The Bellefonte Academy has been the leading spotlight in Bellefonte this week. Preliminary to the opening performance of the big minstrels, last night, was the Academy-Pittsburgh Collegians baseball game yesterday afternoon. But, of course, the minstrels last night was the big feature and proved a drawing card for a crowded opera house. This afternoon the Academy ball team will cross bats with the Pitt Freshmen, on Hughes field, and the second and last performance of the minstrels will be given tonight. If you failed to see them last night don't miss tonight's performance. The annual minstrel dance will be held in the armory immediately following tonight's performance. It will be the social wind-up of the two day's digression from school work. Many young people from various parts of the State, friends of the Academy students, will be in attendance.

Veterans of Civil War Too Few to Conduct Memorial Services.

With the echoes of the world war still reverberating in the ears of American citizens many of us have almost lost sight of the fact that it is fifty eight years since the close of our great Civil war, and the further fact that the men who fought in that struggle are reduced to a mere corporal's guard in every community. For a half century the surviving veterans have been faithfully holding memorial services over the graves of their departed comrades every year, but their number has become so small that there are not enough left in many places to answer the roll call on May 30th, and if the loving custom is to continue the work must be taken up by younger soldier's organizations. This fact is emphasized by the following letter sent to this office:

The George L. Potter Post, No. 26, G. A. R., of Milesburg, wishes to inform the public that whereas they have been conducting memorial services for the past forty years or more, they will be compelled to discontinue the same, with the exception of putting flags on the veterans' graves in the six cemeteries heretofore in their charge, owing to the fact that their membership is very small and the few survivors feel that they are not physically able for the hard day's work, which has become more tiresome each year. Their program in past years included services at the Advent cemetery at 9 a. m.; the Trezuly cemetery at 10:30; the Curtin cemetery at 1 p. m., and the Milesburg cemetery at 3 p. m.

If there are any veterans of the late wars, or any organizations that will take up this work, the few remaining members of Post 261 will very gladly assist in any way they are able to do. Memorial services will be held this year in the Presbyterian church at Milesburg on Sunday, May 27th, at 10:45 o'clock, the regular morning preaching hour.

A. T. BOGGS, Commander.

Many Changes Will be Made in the Bellefonte Public Schools.

With the closing of the Bellefonte schools next month six teachers will end their service as educators here.

The announcement will bring regret to all those who have been interested in our schools, for it will be recognized by every one that among them are some who have held a most enviable place in the field of public instruction and whose peculiar gifts and devoted work for the young are such as to make the possibility of fully replacing them almost hopeless.

"Miss Bessie" Dorworth will retire as teacher of the primary grade in the North ward building.

Miss Alice Dorworth will give up teaching and her place in the South ward building will be vacant.

Miss Mary Woods will also retire and leave another vacancy in the South ward building corps.

Miss Isabella Barnhart will sever her connection with the schools with the closing of the term in June.

Miss Bertha M. Wagner, who has been head of the domestic science work for some years, will go to a similar position in the schools of Milton, where she has been offered a substantial advance in salary and, besides, will be able to live with her mother at their former home in Watsonstown, nearby her new work.

Mr. Ishler will give up teaching for commercial work. He is a graduate chemist of State and has a business position in line with his specialized training.

The Electric Supply company is passing out electric cookies this week. If they are samples of electrically cooked food, we are for electricity. "See the Electric Range demonstration." 20-1t

Bellefonte Cops Break Up a Crap Game.

Between two and three o'clock on Sunday afternoon policemen Thomas Howley got word of a big crap game in progress in a box car standing on the siding out near the old pump house. Calling to his assistance policeman Smith and extra policeman George Glenn the three men made a hurried trip out to the scene of the crap shooters, but the lookout saw the officers first and all the latter saw was six or seven flying coat tails as the crap shooters jumped from the car and took to their heels. They all escaped and though the officers searched the car they found no incriminating evidence, notwithstanding the fact that rumor said the game was in the three hundred dollar class.

The Centre Building and Loan Assn., offers you a wonderful opportunity for house owning or money saving. Take shares in the new series. 20-1t

Blind Organist Coming May 29th.

Prof. Harry J. Ditzler, blind concert organist, will give a recital of varied organ numbers in St. John's Lutheran church Tuesday evening, May 29th, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Ditzler has been blind since he was two years of age. He is a graduate of the Overbrook school for the blind, and also of the organ department of Combs Conservatory of Music. He is a member of the American guild of organists and will come highly recommended as a finished and skillful organist.

The Harry Copping shows will hold forth on the fair grounds the week beginning May 28th, for the benefit of the Brooks-Doll Post of the American Legion. See advertisement in another column of this issue of the "Watchman."

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Dr. David Dale went east Monday night, to look after some professional business in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Thomas Hodges, of Syracuse, N. Y., is back home for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Harry Curtin, at Curtin.

Rev. Dr. Schmidt and Harry Keller Esq., were the delegates to West Susquehanna Classis which met in the Boalsburg Reformed church this week.

Mrs. Joseph Mullen returned to Pittscairn Tuesday, after an over Sunday visit in Bellefonte with her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gunsallus.

Mrs. Clayton Royer was discharged Tuesday from the Bellefonte hospital, where she had been a patient for three weeks, following an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. C. A. Renner, of Altoona, spent Wednesday in Bellefonte, the visit having been made to see her physician and for a little time with her sister, Mrs. Edward Houser, of Pine street. Mrs. Renner is better known here as Mrs. Flo Bartley.

Dr. Edith Schad arrived in Bellefonte Monday, from Pittsburgh, for one of her occasional visits here with her father, John P. Harker. It is Dr. Schad's first visit back home since her accident some time ago, when she slipped on an icy pavement, breaking her leg.

Miss Emma Montgomery returned to Bellefonte two weeks ago from Pittsburgh, intending to occupy her two rooms in her own house, indefinitely. Since leaving here Miss Montgomery has spent the greater part of the time with her sister, Mrs. J. C. McHugh, in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Goodling, of State College, was in Bellefonte Monday, having come down to meet Miss Illingworth, who was her guest while here to speak before the missionary society of the Methodist church. Miss Illingworth was born and lived all her childhood life in India, where her parents were both missionaries.

Ree Florey, of Pleasant Gap, was in town Wednesday evening and dropped in for a little call. We were pleased to hear that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Florey, neither of whom had been in the best of health during the winter, are both getting back to better health. Ree is working at Whitlock now, where he is employed in the machine shop.

Frank Shaughnessy, of Pittsburgh, and his brother Thomas Jr., of Philadelphia, were both week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaughnessy, on Howard street. Miss Helen Shaughnessy, instructor of nurses at the Wilkes-Barre hospital, is expected in Bellefonte this week, to be an over Sunday visitor at the Shaughnessy home.

Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Cochrane and little daughter, and Roland Curtin, motored to Bellefonte from Annapolis, Md., last Friday, and during their stay were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Curtin. Mrs. Cochrane and Mr. Curtin are children of the late Lieut. Commander Roland Curtin, and grand-children of the late General John I. Curtin, of Bellefonte.

Gilbert S. Burrows, the efficient court reporter who officiates at the regular sessions of Centre county court, got a week ahead of time when he came to Bellefonte last Sunday under the impression that this was court week in Centre county. Of course he went back to Williamsport on the night train and will return for the regular session next week.

Mrs. Edward Kane, matron of the borough home, went to Harrisburg yesterday on business pertaining to some of the inmates of the institution. Mrs. Kane had with her Bertha Louise Parks, whom she expected to leave at Darlington, from where Mrs. Kane would go on to Philadelphia, to attend the Great Council of the Degree of Pochontas, in session there on May 22nd.

Harry T. McDowell, of Howard, was a brief caller at the "Watchman" office on Tuesday while in Bellefonte looking after some business matters. He is authority for the statement that comparatively little corn had been put in the ground up to that time by the farmers of lower Bald Eagle valley, but none of them seemed to be worrying over that fact because of the continued cool weather.

Mrs. George Benner, of Centre Hall, with Mr. Benner's daughter, Mrs. Reed Morrison, and her daughter, Victoria Benner Morrison, of Brookline, Mass., and Mrs. Cleveland Brungart, of Centre Hall, as guests, drove here Tuesday in the Benner car, to spend the afternoon in Bellefonte. Mrs. Morrison and the child arrived in Centre Hall a week ago, for a month's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Benner.

Mrs. H. K. Hoy, who had spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Royer, went to Boalsburg Tuesday for a month's visit with her daughter, Mrs. William J. Wagner. Some time in June, according to the present plans, Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, with Mrs. Hoy as their motor guest, will drive to Turbotville, where Mrs. Hoy will spend the remainder of the summer with a third daughter, Mrs. Ely.

W. Harrison Walker Esq., and George T. Bush attended the founder's day banquet of the Acacia fraternity held at the University club, State College, on Monday evening in honor of the grand president of the national fraternity, William S. Dye, of State College. Forty men sat down at the banquet. Mr. Walker responded to the toast, "Our Masonic Relations," and Mr. Bush discussed the Order of the DeMolay.

Miss Helen Ewing Bowersox is spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Bowersox, at State College. Miss Bowersox has just completed a course in domestic science and art in the Mission school at Pleasant Hill, Tenn., and expects to leave next Monday for Drew Theological Seminary, N. J., where she will take special work. On her way to Drew she will stop for a short visit with her aunt, Mrs. Frank Ewing Cole, of Fort Lee, N. J.

We had a very pleasant and profitable chat with Mr. W. H. Stover, of Boalsburg, on Thursday afternoon. He drove down to do some buying and as the stores were taking a half holiday and we had quit pushing a pencil for the week both of us had time to talk about everything—not quite everything, for we didn't touch on religion or politics. Mr. Stover is a carpenter and builder, one of the kind they stopped making years ago. We know he knows his trade for we have seen his work, but be that as it may, he thinks all mechanics are being paid more than they can actually return in value. Strange isn't it, that a worker should entertain such an idea in these days when the principle seems to be to get it while the getting's good. But, as we said before, Mr. Stover is one of the kind of workers they don't make any more and that's why we enjoyed chatting with him so much.

Mrs. Adolph Fauble is in Philadelphia under the care of Dr. John Clark. Mr. Fauble has been in the city with her since she went down.

Irving Warner and Judge Henry C. Quigley will motor to Ithaca, N. Y., today in Mr. Warner's car, to attend a special function at Cornell University.

Mrs. John Ardell is here from Binghams, N. Y., for her annual visit with her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Curtin, at Curtin, and with friends in Bellefonte.

Mrs. James B. Lane went to McKeesport a week ago to spend Mother's day with her son Richard and his family, continuing her visit through the week.

Wade Cruse and his family returned to their home in Harrisburg Sunday. Mrs. Cruse and the children had been here for a visit. Mr. Cruse joining them Saturday for an overnight stay and to accompany them home.

Mrs. William G. Runkle is a surgical patient in the Geisinger hospital, having gone to Danville this week, accompanied by Mr. Runkle. Until her return, Mr. Runkle's sister, Mrs. Sullivan, of Chicago, will have charge of the Runkle home in this place.

John Brachbill, in the postal service of Williamsport, with his son, John Jr., Mr. Hellman and Mr. Ward, drove to Bellefonte Sunday in Mr. Ward's car and spent the day here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Twimire. Mr. Hellman was a former resident of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Thomas Benner, who came here from Atlantic City a week ago, will be a guest of Mr. Benner's aunts, the Misses Benner, of High street, until some time in June. The early part of the month Mrs. H. S. Cooper, of Galveston, is expected in Bellefonte, coming north to be with her aunts for the summer.

Mrs. Robert H. Fay and her daughter, Patty Lane Fay II, have been in Bellefonte since early in the month, having come east from Santa Monica, Cal., with Mrs. Fay's mother, Mrs. John N. Lane, upon her return home from a three month's visit on the coast. Mrs. Fay's visit back home at this time is due to her father's illness.

Quick Work by Our Firemen.

About two o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was sent in from the yards of the Bellefonte Fuel and Supply Co., on Race street. It is only a square from this office yet both the Logan and Undine pumbers passed us at the express office corner and by the time we got to the scene of the conflagration they had hose lines laid and two streams of water on. If that wasn't a performance creditable to volunteer fire organizations we would like to hear tell of something swifter.

The fire was caused by a short circuit or spontaneous combustion in Gordon Montgomery's Buick coupe. It was standing in the garage of the handsome new combination building of the company and no one in their yards or offices knew there was a fire until they were called by the P. R. R. freight office, across the race, and told that the roof of the building was smoking. An investigation revealed the cause. The car was all in flames but it was pushed out into the yard before more damage than a charred ceiling had been done to the building. The body of the car was ruined.

Next Friday evening the State College Thespians will present their new musical comedy "His Little Widows" at Garman's opera house. The large cast and chorus of this rollicking musical fantasia will be supported by an eighteen piece orchestra under the direction of band-master Thompson, of the College.

Rev. M. DePui Maynard, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, has decided not to accept the call extended him by the official board of the West Chester Episcopal church, preferring to continue his work in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Frank Clemson is again occupying her home in Halfmoon valley, which had been closed for the greater part of the winter; arriving here from Davenport, Ia., last week.

The Catholic Daughters of America held a regular house warming on Wednesday evening in celebration of the opening of their new club rooms over Lyon & Co's store.

Nevin Noll, clerk in the F. P. Blair & Son jewelry store, is in the Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, undergoing treatment for stomach trouble.

The condition of John N. Lane, who has been confined to his home on Allegheny street the past week or ten days, is considerably improved.

Master Irving Warner Jr., celebrated his birthday anniversary by giving a party to a few of his boy friends yesterday afternoon.

Rubin and Rubin Coming.
