Conclusion of May Court.

Most of last Thursday's sessions of court were taken up in the trial of the case of the Commonwealth against Wm. Austin and wife, colored, of Rush township, charged with violating the prohibition law. According to testimony submitted Austin has been a persistent trouble maker over in that section of the county for several years but has always managed to evade the law. Some time during April, however, the officers managed to obtain indisputable evidence and a raid was made on his home but Austin got away. Several days later he was arrested, and both he and his wife were returned against both of them and Austin was sentenced to pay a fine of $500, costs of prosecution, and imprisonment in the county jail for a period of two years. Mrs. Austin was given a similar jail sentence but paroled on condition she leave the county within thirty days and stay away.

Timco Kakechuk and wife were also found guilty of violating the prohibition law, the husband being sent to jail for three months and the wife paroled on condition she pay the costs in the case.

Herman Wyles, convicted of larceny and attempted rape, was paroled for a period of two years, on condition he pay the costs in the case.

It's Fine.

The Bon Mot ice cream machine is now working daily in the window of the popular confection resort next door to this office. Some time ago we noted the contemplated installation of this expensive and perfectly sanitary device for manufacturing cream and ices. All who look may know that the product served at the Bon Mot is as clean and wholesome as the most modern machinery operated in full view of every customer can make it.

We sampled the first output of the freezer and better ice cream we have never eaten. Rich, creamy and delicately flavored it certainly was a refreshing and delectable dish.

If you are not a regular at the Scenic you undoubtedly miss some good pictures that you would enjoy seeing.

—Mrs. Mary Page celebrated her nineteenth birthday anniversary on Wednesday at the home of her son-in-law, W. T. Noll, at Linden Hall. Her maiden name was Mary Kuhn and she was born and raised in Harris township. Her husband, Reuben Page, has been dead for many years. Several years ago Mrs. Page fell and broke her hip but she recovered to that extent that she now gets around quite easily with the use of a cane. She is still in good health though of late has experienced some trouble with her eyes.

—A distressing accident occurred on Wednesday afternoon at the ball game between Bellefonte and State College, on Hughes field. In the seventh inning Samuel F. Weaver, of the Bellefonte team, who had been occupying the bench, was sent in to complete the run from third base to the home plate for another player. He attempted to slide to the plate and in some way made a miscalculation, slipped and broke his left leg. Weaver is the mechanic at the aviation field and his unfortunate accident will keep him housed up for six weeks or two months.

—James H. Potter, of the Potter-Hoy Hardware company, of Bellefonte, motored over to Lewistown in his Ford coupe, last Saturday afternoon, on business and had a narrow escape from serious injury in an auto collision at intersecting streets. Both cars, however, were pretty badly damaged. Mr. Potter spent the night with friends in Lewistown and was brought home on Sunday.

Miss Hazel Johnson being in charge of the work. She had raised over two-thirds of the amount of money needed when last week she received a letter from Hugh N. Crider stating that he had learned of her efforts toward raising money sufficient to purchase a piano and suggested that she divert the money already secured to some other purpose and he would present the primary department with a piano as a memorial to his mother. The offer was most gratefully accepted and members of the Sunday school are very appreciative of Mr. Crider's generosity.

—Under a new plan just announced by president Rea, of the Pennsylvania railroad, any one of the quarter million employees of that corporation, will be offered the opportunity to buy the securities of the company on the installment plan, by paying a small amount down and the balance monthly, either by direct payment or having the installment deducted from his or her pay check. In addition to the regular pension granted by the company its employees may now take out more insurance against old age or accident by the same plan of payment and enter a building and loan association organized by employees to secure their own homes. The matter of monthly payments in any of these opportunities to save will cause the employee no annoyance, as it has been arranged that they can either be deducted from the monthly pay or paid in cash to any station agent of the company.

MANY BOYS MADE DeMOLAYS.

Penn-Centre Chapter Instituted in Bellefonte on Monday Night.

Arrayed in full dress uniform, with their gold epaulettes glittering in the fading sunlight and plumes waving in the evening breeze two score or more Knights Templar of Bellefonte and surrounding towns, and led by Wetzler's band of Milesburg, also resplendent in their new uniforms, paraded the streets of Bellefonte on Monday evening as escort to the right eminent sir past grand commander Ralph C. Minehart, of Pittsburgh, who is the deputy grand councillor for Pennsylvania of the Order of DeMolay, and division commander Charles T. Derick, of Bellwood, from the Bush house to the opera house to officiate at the institution of the new Penn-Centre Chapter, Order of DeMolay, the third such organization in Pennsylvania. Just eighty-two novitiates were in the line of parade though the entire number of charter members of the new organization is eighty-eight.

Upwards of five hundred members of the Masonic fraternity from Bellefonte, Lock Haven, Philipsburg, Huntingdon and Lewistown were present at the institution ceremonies in the opera house, while the eighty-eight candidates came from all parts of Centre county. John Shiller Dubbs was chosen master councillor of the new Chapter and the team work of the twenty-one boy officers in exemplifying the work of the two degrees was not only exceedingly praiseworthy but highly commended by the officers and members of their elder brethren, the Knights Templar.

During a brief intermission in the proceedings enthusiastic talks were made by past grand commander W. I. Fleming and Col. J. L. Spangler entreating liberal support of the new order which brought forth a very liberal response. It took three hours or longer to conclude the degree work and at its conclusion an appetizing lunch was served to all present.

The Penn-Centre chapter starts out with a good membership of bright, intelligent young men, and will no doubt prove a decided success. It is sponsored by Constans Commandery Knights Templar and the following Sir Knights constitute the board of advisors: Wilson I. Fleming, chairman; George T. Bush, secretary; Myron W. Cobb, treasurer; Nelson E. Robb, Harry C. Menold and S. M. Nissley, of Bellefonte; L. Frank Wetzler, of Milesburg; Eugene Weik and Don M. Cochran, of State College. A provision of membership in the new order is that boys must be sixteen years old and their membership automatically ceases at the age of twenty-one.

Start Broadcasting at College Station.

On Monday evening, May 21st, regular radio broadcasting program was sent from the college station and will be continued on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights of each week, for the balance of the college year. Two satisfactory tests have been made with the use of the men's and girls' glee clubs and the quartette.

The program of May 21st was featured by a talk by president John M. Thomas, and selections by the girls' quartette. On Wednesday, Auchbach's Serenaders, student dance orchestra, furnished the music and on Friday the Mandolin Quartette was featured.

All programs will start at 8 o'clock, eastern standard time, and will last an hour or more. Alumni are urged to listen in on these programs where possible, and it will help in the ultimate success of broadcasting from the college, if they will report on what they hear to C. L. Kinsloe, electrical engineering department, or D. M. Cresswell, department of public information, State College, Pa. Criticism of clearness and modulation of different speakers of the programs are especially desired.
