State Police Withdrawn from Rockview Penitentiary.

The last four members of the detail of state police who were sent to the Rockview penitentiary about the middle of June after the escape of eight prisoners were withdrawn on July 2nd and returned to the troop station at Butler. Thirty-seven prisoners known to be ringleaders in fomenting trouble at the Rockview institution have been sent back to Pittsburgh under heavy guard and since their transfer everything has been quiet and orderly at Rockview.

In the last issue of the "Watchman" mention was made of the fact that two of the eight prisoners who escaped on June 17th and 19th had been recaptured, Edward Fiddell in Chicago and Robert Hill at Punxsutawney. On June 29th Clair Jamison and Arthur Price were captured at New Castle, Pa.

The four prisoners were given an opportunity to plead guilty to the charge of escaping and appear before the Centre county court on Monday, July 2nd, for sentence but only one, Robert Hill, was willing to do so. Hill had been sent up from Jefferson county for from three to four years and his term would have expired next January. He told the court that he had been coerced into escaping by other prisoners and Judge Quigley remanded him to the western penitentiary to serve out his original sentence and from two to four years additional.

Fiddell, Jamison and Price refused to plead guilty and declared they would go to trial in the Centre county court on the charge. Fiddell, who is reported to have been a gunman in Chicago before his arrest and conviction of burglary in Cambria county, became unusually abusive and threatened to get even with everybody when he gets out of the penitentiary.

Greatest Methodist Outing in Pennsylvania.

For the twenty-ninth time the Methodists and their friends of Central Pennsylvania will meet at beautiful Lakemont Park, Altoona on July 26th. This annual picnic has been held for a quarter of a century and is without question the largest summer assemblage held under Methodist auspices in the State of Pennsylvania. Its continued popularity and success is due to several causes. First it is central. Lakemont Park is easily accessible. It is conveniently reached from north, east, south and west by good highways and by the various branches of the Pennsylvania railroad. Second, Lakemont Park is the most beautiful and best equipped park in central Pennsylvania. Third, a uniformly high order of program has been presented each year. Some of the greatest leaders of the denomination have provided information and inspiration. This year will be no exception.

The following program for this year's gathering has already been announced: Morning worship, sermon by Rev. John H. Daugherty, D. D., of Williamsport; afternoon rally, address by Rev. Daniel L. Marsh, D. D., of Pittsburgh; evening lecture by Rev. L. C. Murdock, D. D., of Philadelphia. Music of a high order is promised by the Fifth Avenue quartette and by the chorus of the Women's League of Voters, of Altoona. Lakemont Park, with its ample accommodations and a program of such merit, will again attract thousands of Methodists and their friends to Altoona on July 26th.

Important Meeting Friday Evening.

All persons in this community who may be in any way interested in the Blanchard-Moshannon Mining Co., are invited to attend a final meeting in the dining room of the Brockenhoff house, on this (Friday) evening, at eight o'clock. This will be a public meeting and will be attended by the mining engineer of the company who will be prepared to give any information desired. It is the first and last opportunity for persons to engage allotments of the preferred stock, as the plant will be in operation on a 100 per cent. production before September 1st. It is quite probable the bulk of this stock will be allotted to Bellefonte. If you are interested, come—this includes the ladies.

MEEHAN.—The sudden death of Mrs. Laura Strohm Meehan, wife of Martin F. Meehan, of New York city, will come as a shock to her many friends in Centre county. Mrs. Meehan had been out on a shopping expedition on the afternoon of July 6th and on returning to her apartment was seized with a heart attack that proved fatal her husband discovering her lifeless body when he returned home early in the evening.

Mrs. Meehan was born at Centre Hill on September 8th, 1865, and was the youngest child in the family of Michael and Catherine Strohm. She was married to Mr. Meehan on May 4th, 1908, and the greater part of her life was spent in Philadelphia and New York.

During the war she spent a year in the employ of the government, in the chemical warfare service, and after the armistice was given an honorable discharge from the United States army. She was one of a very few women in the country who could boast of this distinction.

A woman thoroughly unselfish and of kindly impulses she never allowed an opportunity to do good pass her by, always ready to respond to a call for aid to the limit of her possibilities. It was this lovable trait of character which won the esteem of many endearing friends.

The funeral, which was private, was held from the home of Mrs. M. E. Strohm, of Centre Hall, on the afternoon of July 9th, interment being made in the Centre Hall cemetery. Mrs. Meehan is survived by her husband, and by one sister, Mrs. Myra J. Kerr, of Ogden, Utah, as well as by several nephews and nieces.

Among those present for the funeral were her husband, M. F. Meehan, of New York city; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Person, of Trenton, N. J.; Mrs. Ammon Burkholder and daughter Margaret, of Phillipsburg, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Strohm, of Scranton, and Mrs. Elmer Williams and daughter, Laura Linn, of Chicago, Ill.

He was a member of the Methodist church, a good citizen and a loving husband and father. On February 23rd, 1877, he married Miss Mary Catherine Kelly, who survives with the following children: Clifford, of State College; Gray and Mrs. Alda B. Stuart, of Altoona; Mrs. Harry J. Markle, of State College; Mrs. William H. Galer, of Bellefonte; Robert and Adolph F., at home. He also leaves two brothers, John T. Reed, of Rock Springs, and David, of Culver, Kan.

She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Mary Konkle, of Hublersburg; Mrs. Alice Porter, of Flemington; two daughters, Margaret, in Philadelphia, and Lavina, in Atlantic City; Charles, of Hublersburg, and one grand-son, James Stover, whose mother died when he was quite young and his grand-mother raised him with most devoted care.

GALLAGHER.—Mrs. Sue Collins Gallagher died at her home in Narberth, near Philadelphia, on June 29th, following a prolonged illness with blood poisoning. She was a daughter of Peter and Sue Schoales Collins and was quite well known in Bellefonte through the residence here and at State College of her father's family during the time that Mr. Collins was engaged in building the Bellefonte furnace and the Bellefonte Central railroad. She married Mr. Gallagher eighteen years ago and he survives with one daughter, Josephine. Mrs. Gallagher was a consistent member of the Catholic church all her life. Burial was made in Philadelphia on July 2nd.

He was fifty-six years old and is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Catherine Hartsock, and one son, John, at home. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Devore, of Warriorsmark, and Mrs. Rebecca Barr, of Gatesburg. Burial was made at Mooresville yesterday morning.

Strohm, of Centre Hall. Burial was made at Centre Hall last Wednesday morning.

Pine Grove Mills Swept by Terrible Storm.

Almost the worst storm that that community has ever experienced swept over the south-western section of the county on Tuesday afternoon, expending the worst of its fury in and about Pine Grove Mills.

The storm came in from the north and broke about three o'clock in the afternoon. It grew dark as night and a regular tornado of wind preceded a veritable water-spout. Small buildings were unroofed, trees and fences laid flat, gardens ruined and on the Major Fry farm three large apple trees were blown down, one of them falling on and completely demolishing a hay rake that was being hauled into the shed.

Sim the Clothier announces a mid-season selling event in which every section of the store offers extraordinary values. Sale starts Friday, July 13th.

Wednesday's rain, though a little hard on harvesting and hay making, was sufficient to soak the ground to garden depth, and will probably do more good than harm.

The Hughes swimming pool is proving a popular resort during the hot weather. Fresh water is running into the pool at all times which keeps it pure and makes it a delightful place for a refreshing plunge. The water at the deepest point is over six feet and its unusual size affords ample room for a good swim.

When I say, REAL, HONEST TO GOODNESS CLEARANCE SALE that's just what I mean. I've marked prices on this Spring and Summer merchandise that will make it very much to your advantage to buy all the items of clothing and furnishings you will need for many months to come.—Sim the Clothier.

The Fourth of July in Bellefonte was an extremely quiet day. A large number of people journeyed to Hecla park and attended the Logan Fire company picnic while many others motored with their families to mountain resorts and spent the day. On the evening of the Fourth residents of Linn and Curtin streets had their customary display of fireworks with various games and sports for the children.

Mary crossed the mountain on Monday, July 2nd, and because it rained that day the wise ones declared that rain would fall every day for six weeks. Be that as it may the long dry spell in Centre county was most effectively broken on the night of July third with a succession of hard thunder storms. Enough rain fell to thoroughly soak the ground, and as a result gardens and farm crops took on a new lease of life.

Marcus A. Newman, colored, was electrocuted at the Rockview penitentiary on Monday morning, July 2nd, for the murder of James L. McCullough, a railway mail clerk during a holdup and robbery of a mail car in the Pittsburgh yards in February, 1921. Newman was attended to the chair by Rev. Father William J. King, of Pittsburgh. The remains were claimed by relatives and taken back to Allegheny county for burial.

Elizabeth A. Hugg, eighteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toner A. Hugg, of Milesburg, scored a big beat over all her young friends on Friday, June 29th, by taking a trip in an airplane from Bellefonte to DuBois, with a stop in Clearfield enroute. The trip was made with pilot "Windy" Smith, who was on his way from the eastern part of the State to DuBois to give exhibitions as a part of the big Fourth of July demonstration in that place. He was flying a T Standard machine which has cockpit room for two passengers in addition to the pilot. Smith was accompanied by his mechanic and spent the previous night in Bellefonte. He offered to take along to DuBois free anybody who would care to make the trip but every man who has always been anxious for a flight was "too busy" that day to go to DuBois. Finally Miss Hugg volunteered and when pilot Smith consented to take her lost no time in getting to the aviation field and mounting to the cockpit of the machine. She returned home by train the next day and avers that she enjoyed the flight very much.
