SCIENTIFIC ROAD BUILDING IN WEST.

Frederick A. Reimer, of Newark, N. J., in commenting on modern road building says, "Highway construction development in the east has lagged far behind the west in one important feature. Old methods, which have given generally good results, seem to have created a conservatism in the east which has resulted in letting 'good enough' be the determining factor in road building, so that the use of standard specifications and plans has been followed from year to year with no radical changes.
"A study of western methods reveals the fact that during the past ten years, great strides have been made in road construction work, which, although considered a radical departure in its inception, has proved eminently successful. The west has extensively used in only a few widely separated places. Today, however, eastern conservatism and skepticism have been largely overcome and there is a constantly growing demand for information concerning the many advantages of 'Black Base,' many places having already specified this type of construction in the work for 1923.
"The non-rigidity of 'Black Base' renders it practically immune to disintegration and a destruction from shock-impact of vehicular units."

Student Campers Turn Down Fried Rattle Snake.

Fried rattle snake is usually a tempting dish at the summer camp for students in the forestry department of The Pennsylvania State College. But the Freshmen campers have turned it down.
Professor J. A. Ferguson, head of the department, is especially fond of fried rattler and served a big one a few days ago at the camp in Stone Valley, Huntingdon county, not far from the college. The boys said no, and Ferguson and the camp cook disposed of the, to them, tempting morsel. They claim that its flavor is similar to that of eel meat.
The seventeen Freshmen still have another week or so in camp, and on a visit to the College Professor Ferguson said that he would give them another trial. It is said that the Sophomore campers in Warren county have tried the experience with no bad effects, having been initiated to the department tradition last year. These Penn State student campers usually have a collection of rattlers, copperheads and other specimens of wild life as a collection of pets to show the many camp visitors.

Victory medals apparently have no claimants among America's soldier boys, for the War Department finds it has a surplus of 2,119,000. Congress authorized that the medals be issued to every American soldier of the world war. It has taken five years to distribute 1,223,000 of the decorations.

COMPLETE LIST OF WORLD WAR DEAD.

Names of 84,324 heroes who died in the world war today repose in a vault in the Allied Memorial Center in Oakland, California. The memorial, a majestic monument of steel and stone, was erected on the banks of Lake Merritt, in the heart of Oakland for the purpose of holding the names of every Allied soldier, sailor or nurse killed in the world war.
Dr. LeRoy F. Herrick, of Oakland, who erected and maintains the memorial at his own expense, states that in time he hopes to have the names of every participant of the world war in the huge vault of the Allied Memorial Center.
Dr. Herrick stated that the Canadian authorities had a complete list of the soldier and sailor dead in his hands on July 1, and the names were deposited on July 4, with proper patriotic services. This, the memorial founder stated, was a departure from the usual method of depositing the names.
"I planned and since 1919 have carried out my plan of holding patriotic services for the depositing of names on each Memorial day and each Armistice day," said Dr. Herrick, "however, I did not want to keep the entire Canadian list out of the vault until next November 11, and I broke the rule of procedure this once.
"I do not know how long it is going to take me to get the names of the 1,500,000 soldier dead of France. The French war authorities have not finished compiling its list. I expect to have the Australian and New Zealand lists in time for next Armistice day, but I do not know how long it will take to get complete lists from England, Belgium, Italy and other Allies.
"The names in the vault today are all American, with the exception of 145 of Brazil's war dead."
The monument has the portraits of Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt, and Wilson carved on the four sides, and is topped by an eagle. Dr. Herrick, a local physician for the last 30 years, was born in Wellington, Maine, in 1861.

Rural Applicants First to be Admitted at Penn State.

The first girl and first boy to be granted admission to next year's Freshman class at State College both hail from rural counties. Registrar W. S. Hoffman has announced that Miss Marie Hood, of Saltsburg, Indiana county, is the first girl, and G. J. Bair, of Emporium, Cameron county, the first boy.
"John," said the teacher, "if coal is selling at $6 a ton and you pay your dealer $24, how many tons will he bring you?"
"A little over three tons, ma'am," returned Johnny, promptly.
"Why Johnny that isn't right," corrected the teacher.
"Na, ma'am, I know it ain't," said Johnny, "but they all do it."

MEDICAL.

That Morning Lameness

If you are lame every morning, and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weakened kidneys and avert more serious troubles, use Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on Bellefonte testimony.
Mrs. H. W. Johnson, Valentine St., Bellefonte, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills whenever my kidneys troubled me. I had attacks with my kidneys and felt so miserable with backache I could hardly get up on my feet. Mornings when I came down stairs I was so lame I couldn't raise my feet to go up the steps again. My kidneys were disordered and annoyed me a great deal. Doan's Kidney Pills from Runkle's drug store soon put an end to my suffering and rid me of the aches and pains. I depend on Doan's now when my kidneys get out of order."
Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Johnson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 68-29
