NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Tuesday's rain, while not sufficient to wet the ground to any considerable depth, freshened up the gardens, revived withering vegetation and clarified the atmosphere.

Following the intense heat of Saturday and Sunday morning the mercury dropped on Sunday evening and night until it was almost cold enough for frost on Monday morning.

A call has been sent out for the millers in Centre, Clinton and Lycoming counties to meet at Lock Haven next Monday for the purpose of organizing a tri-county millers' association.

The cherry crop has run its course, raspberries were limited and of inferior quality, owing to the dry weather, but blackberries, which are beginning to ripen, give promise of a better crop.

At the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Clothiers' association, held in Williamsport last week, John M. Bullock, of Bellefonte, was re-elected second vice president. Next year's meeting will be held in Washington, Pa.

A crew of bill posters from Lewistown were in Bellefonte on Tuesday, in a big motor truck, advertising the Lewistown fair which will be held August 21st, 22nd and 23rd. The big Blair county fair will be held the week previous.

The county commissioners are advertising for sealed proposals for the removal of an iron bridge from over Spring creek, in Benner township, to a point in Boggs township, south of Snow Shoe intersection, to span Bald Eagle creek.

At Milesburg's gala day, on August 25th, when Wetzler's band will give away a Ford car, there is to be an afternoon of sports and an evening of cake walks and other enjoyable diversions. The ball game in the afternoon will be between Port Matilda and Milesburg teams.

Miss Gertrude A. Taylor has tendered her resignation as teacher of English in the Bellefonte high school. She has not been in the best of health of late and her decision to give up teaching for the present was made upon the advice of her physician. Her successor has not yet been chosen.

The Pennsylvania State College announces the resignation of Miss Pearl MacDonald, director, and Miss M. Jane Newcomb, an assistant professor of the home economics extension staff, effective August first. It is rumored that the two women will embark in a commercial enterprise at Ann Arbor, Mich., Miss MacDonald's old home.

The vacation season will soon run its course but the scenic will go along every night in the week, rain or shine, summer or winter. A splendid evening's entertainment always ready for all who may attend. Motion pictures of unusual interest make up each evening's program. Every one new and up-to-date, no old stuff palmed off on scenic patrons. If not a regular, get the habit.

About the usual number of automobile wrecks occurred on Saturday night and Sunday, though so far as could be learned they were not attended by any fatalities or serious injury. Three wrecked Ford cars were trailed in by the Beatty Motor company, two of which were put out of commission near Pleasant Gap. One of the cars belonged to Fred Herman and another to a foreigner of Coleville.

State College business men took a motor run last Thursday by way of Bellefonte, Lock Haven and Jersey Shore to Williamsport, where they stopped for dinner, thence by Muncy, Milton, Lewisburg, Mifflinburg and the Pennsylvania Narrows home. Quite a number stopped at Hairy John's park, near Woodward, for supper. About one hundred and forty men and women made the trip.

Workmen are now engaged in putting down a concrete crossing over the gutter and raising the pavement at the entrance to the Logan fire company building on Howard street. In order to make the much needed improvements it was necessary to remove the big tree standing outside the curb at the corner of the building, but as the tree was badly decayed there was danger of its falling down most any time, so its removal could not be avoided.

About 10:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning Fred Hodges and another man from Reading, traveling in a Ford coupe, were driving down Nittany valley and between Zion and Hecla park the one side of a big elm tree standing by the roadside fell down right across the top of their car. The entire top was smashed but aside from a few minor cuts and bruises neither of the men was seriously hurt. Mr. Hodges had his car towed to Bellefonte for repairs.

A really big festival with a live band—watermelons and cakes for prizes—ice cream, peanuts, soft drinks, "hot dogs," balloons for the kiddies, and other attractions, is scheduled for Saturday night, August 18th, on the island on South Water street above the falls. The festival will be under the auspices of the Otterbein Brotherhood and they say arrangements are being made to handle a large crowd if the weather is nice. Better plan to take your family in the automobile and have a good time—help along a worthy organization.

THE BIG GRANGE PICNIC.

Fiftieth Anniversary to be Celebrated at Grange Park This Year.

In celebration of the 50th annual encampment and fair of the Centre county Pomona Grange, the purchase of a fine addition to Grange park and the establishment of the first Grange in Centre county, the committee is planning for the week of September 1-7 an interesting program.

First in importance, a Grange pageant will be given in the open air on Grange park, September 4th and 5th. Several hundred people, men and women, boys and girls, coming from various Granges, committees and schools of Centre county, will take part.

This pageant will be historical and educational, combining both national and Grange history with achievements of agriculture in the past, and, in symbolic scenes and tableaux, the solution of many of the farmer's present-day problems.

The pageant will be under the direction of W. R. Gordon, of the "Rural Life Organization," and beginning the first of August, he will give his entire time to its work. No effort will be spared to make it the greatest success in every way.

Many Grange officials have signified their intention to be present during the week. The Secretary of Agriculture has accepted an invitation, and a number of men and women of great prominence in the early history of the Grange in Pennsylvania probably will be there.

Amusements and entertainments of a high grade will be furnished for young and old. There will be several baseball games between teams of the Centre county league, and plenty of music. A State College church will present in the auditorium, Thursday evening, a play of real worth.

The small children will have a playground arranged for them.

The camp will be enlarged and some changes made necessary by its growth, made in the arrangement. The campers whose location may be changed will be notified in advance and given an opportunity to choose another.

The exhibits promise to be superior to those in past years, and a county so large and fertile as Centre should avail itself of the opportunity to show to visitors from surrounding counties the quality and variety of crops it produces. Liberal premiums will be paid.

The Centre Oil and Gas Company Is Doing Business.

The storage yards having been completed, office equipped and supplies received the Centre Oil and Gas Co. began doing business at its plant on the old car works property last week.

Up to this time business has been so satisfactory as to greatly encourage the young managers of the new enterprise. They are handling the extensively exploited Texaco products, both motor and industrial oils, as well as gasoline and as their initial installation of storage tanks has a capacity of 40,000 gallons they will be prepared, always, to supply the public need of these high grade oils.

Their business will be entirely wholesale and deliveries will be made to all parts of the county, a powerful, large capacity tank motor being part of the equipment to insure prompt service.

The members of the new firm are Frank M. Crawford, his son-in-law, Horace J. Hartranft, and his son, Francis H. Crawford. The latter two are the active members and as both the young men are well known here and enjoy enviable reputations for integrity and business energy they are likely to make quite a success of the enterprise. Mr. Hartranft, since his graduation from State College, some years ago has spent his time in the Texas and Oklahoma oil fields, and is regarded as an expert in petroleum and its by-products.

P. O. S. of A. Frolic in Gentzle's Woods.

The first annual frolic of Washington camp, P. O. S. of A., will be held in Gentzle's woods, two and one half miles east of Pleasant Gap, on the back road to Zion, on Saturday evening, August 4th.

The Camp is planning for a big time and invites the public to participate. A ten acre field adjoining the woods has been secured as a parking place for motors, a dancing platform is being erected and the grounds will be lighted by electricity from a portable plant. The Odd Fellows band and an orchestra will furnish the music.

Milesburg Baptists to Call a Minister.

Since the departure of Rev. Thomas the Baptist congregations at Milesburg and Eagleville have been without a pastor. With a view to filling the vacant pulpits invitations to ministers have been sent out and a series of trial sermons arranged for. Next Sunday Rev. M. E. Hare, who comes from the vicinity of Scranton, will preach in the church at Milesburg at 11 o'clock in the morning and conduct an evening service in the church at Eagleville.

All are invited to join with these congregations at worship.

A freight wreck at Paddy Mountain, on the Lewisburg branch of the Pennsylvania railroad last Saturday, blocked traffic to that extent that the afternoon passenger train west did not reach Bellefonte until about ten o'clock at night. Work train gangs cleared up the wreck on Sunday so that the road was open for traffic as usual on Monday morning.

A burning flue on a house on east Curtin street called out the fire department just before noon on Monday, but no especial damage resulted.

The handsome new house of the Farmers and Merchants National bank of Tyrone will be opened with a public reception tomorrow, between the hours of 2:30 and 9 p. m.

Residents of Milesburg have been patronizing their own Chautauqua this week, the Redpath organization holding forth there on Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday.

On Wednesday morning a small boy on Curtin street threw a chunk of ice at Catherine Kilpatrick, hitting her on the cheek and cutting a gash half an inch deep. Several stitches were required to close the wound.

A three and a half foot black rattlesnake, sporting ten rattles, has been an attraction this week in the show window of the Bush house cigar store. The reptile was caught out back of Snow Shoe by Arthur Wilson, who brought it to Bellefonte.

A number of business men of Centre Hall will give their baseball team a real treat next week by taking them on an auto tour to Pittsburgh on Monday, where they will do the theatres at night and on Tuesday go to a big league ball game, returning home that night.

The boys of Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of America, in charge of the scoutmaster, the Rev. Malcolm Maynard, left on Monday for a two week's stay at Camp Kline, on Pine creek. Mail should be sent to Camp Kline, Jersey Shore, Pa. Visitors' days will be Wednesday and Sundays, and the Scouts hope that many of their friends will go to see them. The camp location is one of the finest in the State. Many boys from Williamsport are also in camp for the two week's period.

Legal investigations into the affairs of the R. L. Dollings company have not revealed anything very encouraging for the stockholders, and as it looks now many people are doomed to lose considerable money through the financial manipulations of the firm. During the greater part of last year the Altoona branch of the company had agents in Centre county selling their various stocks but how much they succeeded in placing in this section has not been disclosed, although it is believed to be considerable.

A short circuit in the big Hudson Six automobile of Grant Hoover, of Williamsport, caused a fire, on Saturday, which not only destroyed the car but burned the large barn on his farm back of Unionville, together with his year's hay crop and some farm implements. Mr. Hoover had driven to his farm from Williamsport and parked the car in the barn. A little later he took a walk in the nearby woods and when he returned the barn was in flames. With the help of neighbors he managed to get some of his farm machinery out of the barn and save the house, though the flames communicated to the nearby woods and it took some hard work to extinguish the forest fire.

The Penn-Centre chapter of the Order of DeMolay has secured a temporary meeting place in the hall in the Bush Arcade, where they gather regularly every two weeks. Twenty new applications for membership are now on file and it is quite possible that a full ceremonial will be put on about the middle of August. Twenty-four members have already been enrolled for the DeMolay band, and as every one of the boys has his own instrument they practice regularly every Friday night under the leadership of Frank Wetzler, of Milesburg. They already have scheduled their first engagement and will furnish the music at a Masonic picnic at Curwensville on Thursday, August 23rd. Their temporary uniforms will consist of white trousers, dark sack coats and DeMolay caps, though it is ultimately hoped to have a complete Turkish patrol uniform.

Monthly Report of Red Cross Nurse.

The report of the Red Cross nurse, Mrs. Merrill Hagan, for the month of June is:

During this month the Red Cross conducted Child Health week with an afternoon devoted to weighing, measuring and having a physical examination made of children under school age from the various church congregations. Dr. LeRoy Locke gave his services Wednesday, Dr. Seibert, Thursday, Dr. Coburn Rogers, Friday. Altogether there were examined:

The Red Cross nurse, Mrs. Merrill Hagan, will take her annual vacation during the month of August. Her regular patients will be looked after by a nurse from the Bellefonte hospital. The regular office nurse will be omitted but emergency calls will be taken by the supply nurse at the hospital.

Highway Employees' Salaries Increased.

Governor Pinchot pleaded lack of revenue for cutting down legislative appropriations to hospitals and deservings State institutions and within a week after his pronouncement Paul D. Wright, secretary of highways, announced substantial increases in salaries throughout his department. In doing so he established three classes of maintenance superintendents, as follows:

Class A positions carry a salary of $225 a month and head those districts which spend $200,000 to $500,000 a year; class B superintendents are those whose districts spend from $100,000 to $200,000 a year, and the salary is $200 a month, and class C positions are in those districts which spend less than $100,000 a year and have a monthly salary of $175.

Inspectors, assistant inspectors, etc., were given increases, those for the Bellefonte district being as follows: V. H. Wintle, chief inspector, increased from $150 a month to $165; F. X. McGovern and D. J. Sugrue, assistant inspectors, $70 to $115; C. P. Lyon, assistant inspector, $65 to $115; W. W. Seltzer, inspector, $140 to $150; C. M. Hitchcock, inspector, $115 to $135.

A Pleasant Party on Fishing Creek.

Mrs. John Holt, whose finesse in the art culinary and graciousness as a hostess has made the Union hotel, at Unionville, one of the best places in the world for the traveler to stop for refreshment and rest, entertained quite a large party of her guests and friends at the Meek fishing camp on Fishing creek last Wednesday. It was really her second annual outing and proved equally as delightful as the first though lacking the thrill occasioned a year ago by one of the women members of the party falling into the creek and having to borrow from the others enough clothes to wear until her own were dried in the sun.

Mrs. Holt's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph, with their son and daughter, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Blackwood, and their son and Mr. Frank Sampson, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. McClelland, of Unionville, and Miss Sara Holt.

Mr. Holt, of course, was at the camp to receive them and show his hospitality by serving a dinner to his wife and her guests, a bountiful and palatable that almost it might be said that when it comes down to the preparation of good food there is no competition in the Holt family.

Delightful Wedding Reception.

One of the most delightful country homes in the western end of Centre county is that of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Goheen, of Pennsylvania Furnace, and it never presented a more fascinating picture than it did yesterday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. Goheen were hosts at a reception given in honor of their son, Jonathan McWilliams Goheen and wife, who are just on the last lap of their honeymoon.

The reception was held on the spacious lawn, which was crowded with handsomely gowned women and many gentlemen friends of the bride and bridegroom. Guests were present from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Tyrone, Altoona and various other towns, and also included most of the neighbors and friends of the Goheen family in and about Pennsylvania Furnace. One hundred and fifty invitations had been issued and the number present considerably exceeded one hundred. Among the guests were the bridegroom's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Goheen, of Florida, who reached home yesterday morning.

The refreshments, also served on the lawn, were delicious and abundant, and Mr. and Mrs. Goheen received many remembrances of the occasion. Mrs. Goheen, before her marriage two weeks ago, was Miss Margaretta Seeger, one of Tyrone's most prepossessing young ladies. Mr. Goheen is employed by the William F. Gable Co., of Altoona, but he and his wife will make their home in Tyrone.

Big Barn Burned.

The big barn on the William Wertz farm in Spruce Creek valley, on which the Spruce Creek club house is located, was burned to the ground last Friday, together with all its contents, which included most of this year's crops of grain and hay, many farm implements, harness, and all adjoining buildings. The men were hauling wheat at the time and were in the barn floor unloading a wagon load of grain. The first knowledge they had of the fire was when the flames seethed above the wagon load of wheat.

The man on the wagon jumped through the sheet of fire to the barn floor and those in the mow made a quick escape. The harness were cut from the horses hitched in the wagon and they were gotten out in safety.

The men were using a sheaf elevator in unloading the grain and the fire is believed to have originated from an overheated part of the machinery. The barn was one of the largest in Spruce Creek valley, containing four mows and two barnfloors. Mr. Wertz carried insurance in several companies but not enough to cover his loss. He will rebuild at once.

Now that a new board of prison inspectors has been appointed for the western penitentiary the regular officials and guards at the Rockview institution have hopes of soon getting the two month's pay due them. The amount approved by the Governor for the support of the western penitentiary for two years was $550,000, which is less than the amount granted two years ago.
