Public Service Commission Holds Hearing in Bellefonte.

Garfield J. Phillips, an examiner for the Public Service Commission, conducted a hearing in the grand jury room in the court house on Friday of last week in which the Keystone Power corporation was the applicant and Clement G. Dale and Sinie H. Hoy the remonstrants against the granting of a certificate of public convenience evidencing the Commission's requisite approval for the erection, construction and maintenance of the 4400 K. V. electric power transmission line connecting the Keystone Power corporation service with the Penn Central company service in Huntingdon county, which proposed line extends from the Huntingdon county line through Ferguson, College, Benner and Spring townships, to connect in Bellefonte with the Keystone Power corporation's line at the big transmission plant in Bush's Addition. Said line to be constructed and operated for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of the light, heat and power service in Bellefonte and vicinity.

Arthur C. Dale Esq., of Bellefonte, and Samuel S. McCall, of Pittsburgh, represented the Keystone Power corporation while James C. Furst and Ivan Walker Esqs., appeared on behalf of the remonstrants. Over three hours were consumed in taking the testimony of the various witnesses heard. The chief witnesses for the applicant corporation were G. M. Gadsby, vice president and general manager of the Penn Central company, and Earl C. Musser, district manager of the Keystone Power corporation. The remonstrants called a number of witnesses who testified relative to the proposed power line.

Following the transcribing of the testimony and filing of same argument will be held before the entire commission in Harrisburg, which will then in due time render a decision.

A Splendid Road Improvement.

Those who have had occasion lately to motor to Philipsburg, via the Port Matilda route, must have experienced a lot of satisfaction over the condition of the road.

The valley, from the end of the concrete section at Snow Shoe Intersection, has been oiled clear through to Port Matilda and the shale road bed is, truly speaking, almost as smooth as a floor and free of that red dust that has made the use of it in summer and fall so intolerable. To our fancy there is no road-bed that gives quite the same velvety riding quality as that of red or black shale when it is in good condition.

From Port Matilda to Philipsburg 'Squire O. H. Nason, the section superintendent, seems to have been left alone to work out his own ideas of maintenance improvements, with the result that wonders have been worked. By changing the route for a short distance at Flat Rock he has succeeded in securing a fifty per cent. grade almost to the top of the mountain and he has plans now to change the road way just before the peak grade approaching the top is reached, turning it off to the right and coming back to the old right of way over about the head of "horse hollow." If he is permitted to do this the grade will probably not exceed fifty per cent. anywhere between Port and Philipsburg except for a short distance on the sharp curve at the head of Six Mile run.

All the road has been scraped, the stones picked off, and the sides brushed so that most of the way it looks as good if not better than a lot of the permanently improved highways.

The results of intelligent maintenance on this road reflect much credit on Mr. Nason and his crew.

American Legion Will Picnic at Hecla Park Next Monday.

The Brooks-Doll post of the American Legion will hold their annual picnic at Hecla park next Monday, Labor day. One of the afternoon features will be a league baseball game, while there will be dancing, boating and various other amusements. A good orchestra has been secured to furnish music for the dancing.

The big Grange encampment at Centre Hall will naturally draw its usual crowd of people, while automobile enthusiasts will likely attend the auto races near Altoona, but the ideal place for Bellefonters to spend the day is Hecla park. The Legion boys need your patronage and have arranged to show everybody a good time.

New Leader for Farm Women at State College.

The appointment of Miss Madge Bogart as head of home economics extension work in Pennsylvania to succeed Miss Pearl MacDonald, resigned, has been announced by the extension department of The Pennsylvania State College.

Miss Bogart's training for her work as leader of educational activities pertaining to the home is ideal, both from an educational and practical standpoint. She is a native of Minnesota and received her education at the University of Minnesota, Oskosh Normal school, and Teachers College of Columbia University. She has served as a high school teacher, as manager of tea rooms, and as head of the foods and cookery department at Syracuse University. Her training includes work in music, arts and crafts, food and cookery, and clothing work. During the war she was engaged in demonstrational work on cold pack canning and war time foods. She will assume her duties at the State College headquarters within the next week.

Pilot Jack Knight Made Record Flight.

Jack Knight, dean of U. S. airmail pilots and who is well known in Bellefonte, made a record flight last Friday night but it was not in the post-office service. He had made his last flight from Chicago to Cheyenne in the fast transcontinental air mail tests when he received word at Cheyenne that his father, Dr. M. M. Knight, was seriously ill at his home in Buchanan, Mich. Officials of the airmail service offered Knight an airplane to make the trip to the bedside of his father and he left Cheyenne at 6 o'clock Friday evening. Making stops at Omaha and Chicago he landed in Buchanan at 6:22 Saturday morning, completing a continuous flight of 975 miles in about twelve hours. He found his father's condition unchanged.

Typhoid Epidemic at Karthaus.

The typhoid fever epidemic at Karthaus shows little indications of abatement, notwithstanding the fact that the State health officials are in charge and two State nurses are constantly on duty. Up to the present time there have been twenty-nine cases, one of the latest victims being merchant William Potter, who was taken to the Clearfield hospital, and whose condition is reported as good.

No special invitations are needed to become a regular attendant at the Scenic. If you are a lover of motion picture shows the Scenic is the place to see the good ones. Every evening's program is worth watching and if you miss an evening you are likely to miss the very picture you would like to see most. Therefore, get the movie habit and be a regular.

Grange Encampment Will Open Officially Tomorrow.

The Grangers of Centre county will have their innings next week at the big fair and encampment to be held at Grange Park, Centre Hall. In fact the grounds were closed yesterday and all admissions hereafter will be by ticket only, the price of which is 50 cents, good for the week. As stated in previous articles, the grounds have been very much improved in anticipation of the big crowd expected next week, and all tents for campers have been taken. Every indication points to a large line of exhibits of stock, machinery and farm products.

The big pageant in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the Grange, which will be given Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, should prove a remarkable attraction. Hundreds of young people from various sections of the county will take part.

A playground with competent supervisors in charge, has been established for the care and entertainment of children of immature age. A professional nurse will be on the ground during the week and subject to call at any time.

Killinger-Holtzworth.—The marriage of W. Glenn Killinger, of Harrisburg, and Miss Wilda Holtzworth, of Gettysburg, took place in the St. James Lutheran church at Gettysburg, at ten o'clock last Saturday morning, the ceremony being performed by Rev. D. M. Moser. The wedding is of interest in Centre county because of the fact that at the expiration of their honeymoon the young couple will take up their residence at State College where the bridegroom will assist coach Hugo Bezek in developing the 1923 State College football team.

Killinger is a graduate of State College and the star of the 1921 football team. Last year he coached the Dickinson College team and turned out one of the best eleven in the history of that institution. He also had a contract with the New York American baseball team, having been farmed out for the summer with the Atlanta nine in the Southern association.

Mrs. Killinger is a graduate of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, and during the past year has been dietitian at the Carlisle general hospital.

Kline-Booser.—Word was received at Centre Hall on Tuesday of the marriage that morning of Harry L. Kline, of Youngstown, Ohio, and Miss Elizabeth Booser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Booser, of Centre Hall, but who has of late years been a professional nurse in Pittsburgh. The ceremony took place in Youngstown where the young couple will make their home.

The bride is a graduate of the Allegheny General hospital, Pittsburgh, where she has been employed as a nurse since her graduation three years ago. The bridegroom is a native of College township and a graduate pharmacist. A number of years ago he was employed in the drug store at Centre Hall and it was while working there that he first met the young lady who is now his wife. About a year ago he purchased a drug store in Youngstown, and has already made a good start along the road to success.

Beck-Yearick.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Yearick, at Jacksonville, was the scene of a pretty wedding, on Wednesday of last week, when their daughter, Miss Rosetta M. Yearick, became the bride of John D. Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Beck, of Snydertown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. F. Gass, of Howard, while the attendants were Miss Mildred Beck and Floyd A. Yearick.

The bride is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school, class of 1922, and since that time has been employed as a stenographer in the office of W. G. Runkle Esq., in Bellefonte. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College, class of 1919, and after spending two years in Florida returned to Centre county and last year was principal of the Worth township High school at Port Matilda.

Sloop-Dorworth.—Arthur H. Sloop, supervising principal of the Bellefonte schools, and Miss Elizabeth L. Dorworth were married last evening at seven o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. S. Dorworth, on east High street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. W. Young in the presence of only members of the immediate families and a few friends.

Owing to the opening of the schools next week Mr. and Mrs. Sloop did not take a wedding trip, going directly after the felicitations of their friends to their own home on Curtin street. The couple are so well and so pleasantly known in Bellefonte that the wish will be general that their's may be a very, very happy life together.

Richards-Avery.—A wedding of considerable social prominence in Philipsburg took place at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, in the Baptist church, when Max Edgar Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richards, was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Louise Avery, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Avery. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles F. Kulp, pastor of the church. The attendants were Miss Della Avery and Hobart Richards. Mrs. Rembrandt P. Dunsmore, accompanied by Miss Frances Runk, on the violin, played the wedding march. The young couple will locate in Barnesboro, where Mr. Richards is manager of the Cambria Baking company.

The Lemont postoffice was threatened with destruction by fire, on Wednesday evening, when the rear portion of the home of A. H. Evey, assistant postmaster, was burned. The fire started in the summer kitchen and burned to the roof damaging all the rear rooms. When it looked as if the postoffice, which was built onto the side of the Evey house, might go, all the mail matter was removed. Mr. Evey's furniture was all removed from the house, though some of it got pretty wet before it was taken to a place of safety. The State College fire ladders responded to an appeal for help and it was mainly through their efforts that the fire was confined to the rear portion of Mr. Evey's home. While the damage is considerable it is covered by insurance.

Charles E. Dorwarth Jr., will be host at a formal dance at the Nittany Country club tonight, for which sixty invitations have been issued.

The big Lewisburg fair will be a counter attraction to the Grange encampment next week.
