New Chaplain and Dean of Women at Penn State.

With the opening of the sixty-ninth year at The Pennsylvania State College on Wednesday, the student body of approximately 3000 learned of the appointment of two new college officials with whom they will come in daily contact.

The chaplain's office at Penn State has been vacant since the departure of the Rev. R. R. Reed eight years ago. Dr. Frazer Metzger, a Congregational minister from Randolph, Vt., has been selected for this work which calls for a very close and intimate relationship with the men students.

Miss Charlotte E. Ray has been appointed dean of women to succeed Miss Margaret A. Knight who resigned a few weeks ago after four years of service. Dean Ray was the acting dean of women during the latter part of last year at Penn State, when she became well known and liked by the 300 girl students at the college.

Plan Auto Tour to Auto Show.

Plans for an auto tour of dairy farmers and others connected with the big dairy industry in this county to the National dairy exposition on the State fair grounds at Syracuse, N. Y., October 5-13, are being worked out by county agent J. N. Robinson.

If everybody who intends to visit the exposition will send their names to the office Mr. Robinson said he would be able to complete arrangements and announce details of the tour in plenty of time before it opens.

"Every dairy farmer in the county, and every man connected in any way with the dairy industry, ought to visit the exposition," said Mr. Robinson. "It is sure to furnish many ideas for the progressive farmer who wants to build up his dairy business, because it assembles all the latest and best ideas on dairy methods from all parts of the country."

"In addition, the exposition brings together the finest cattle in the country and has many other features of real value. This is the first time it has been held in this part of the country and may be the last. At any rate, it doesn't come every year, and for this reason every dairyman should make an extra effort to see it. It is well worth the cost of a few days' trip."

P. H. Gherry Injured by Auto.

Former postmaster P. H. Gherry had a narrow escape, last Friday evening, when he was hit by an automobile driven by Louis Hill, knocked down and rolled along the ground for some distance. As it was he was badly bruised and sustained a number of minor cuts, keeping him housed up most of the week. Mr. Gherry accompanied other members of the Undine fire company down to north Water street where they tested out their pumper. On the return he rode on the pumper to the Undine house on Bishop street, stepped off as Mr. Hill came along in his car. The latter was running slowly, otherwise Mr. Gherry might have been more seriously injured. As it is he expects to be out in a day or two.

One Killed, the Other Escaped.

On Saturday, September 1st, two graduates of the Pennsylvania State College, Donald D. Herr, '02, and Joseph S. Ruble, '01, both of Cleveland, Ohio, were traveling along a mountain road in Japan when they came to the village of Miyanoskita and stopped before a curio shop. Herr went inside to make some purchases and Ruble remained outside. Then came the disastrous earthquake. The curio shop and all it contained slid into a deep gorge and Herr was killed. Ruble was pinned to the ground by a falling telephone pole, which probably saved him from sliding into the gorge. He was only slightly injured. Both men were in Japan on business connected with the firms which they represented.

Mrs. Harry C. Valentine last week presented a valuable picture to St. John's Lutheran church in memory of her husband. It is an engraving by John Sartain, and shows the first reformers at the Diet of Spire in 1529.

JUDGE.—Dominic Francis Judge, for many years a well known figure in Bellefonte, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. Oscar Gray, on west High street, at one o'clock on Tuesday morning. He had been ailing for two years or longer with arterio-sclerosis and about two months ago developed pernicious anemia which resulted in a rapid decline, although he had been confined to bed only two weeks. His death occurred just thirteen years and one day from the death of his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Mary Smith, of Philipsburg.

Mr. Judge was a son of James and Mary Finegan Judge and was born at Bald Eagle on June 11th, 1863, making his age 70 years and 3 months. From Bald Eagle his parents moved to Birmingham but when Dominic was six years old they located in Tyrone and it was there his boyhood life was spent. He attended the public schools until fifteen years of age when he went to work for the Pennsylvania Railroad company. He saved his money and in the course of several years matriculated as a student at St. Francis College. He did not complete the course at that institution but quit college to again enter the employ of the P. R. R. In due course of time he was promoted to a freight conductor, which position he filled most acceptably until he resigned thirty-five years ago to come to Bellefonte as trainmaster on the Buffalo Run railroad, now the Bellefonte Central. His death leaves W. Homer Crissman as the sole survivor in this place of the old operating force when the Collins Brothers opened the road for traffic through Buffalo Run Valley. For thirty-three years he ably filled the position to which he was appointed over a third of a century ago, or until his retirement almost two years ago on account of ill health.

Mr. Judge was a Democrat in politics and although he never was especially keen after public offices he was twice elected to Bellefonte borough council and was honored by that body by being made its president for two years, an unusual honor in a Republican organization. Needless to say he made a very able presiding officer. A quiet, unostentatious man he was faithful to every trust imposed in him. In his dealings with his fellowmen he was just as considerate of their interests as he was of his own. Though of a retiring disposition he was a good, wholesome companion, and was esteemed by all who knew him intimately.

He was a faithful member of the Catholic church all his life and always a regular attendant. He was also a member of the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks. He was the last of a family of five children and his only immediate survivor is one daughter, Mrs. G. Oscar Gray, of Bellefonte.

Funeral services will be held in St. John's Catholic church at 9 o'clock this (Friday) morning by Rev. Father Downes, after which the remains will be taken by auto hearse to Tyrone for burial in the Oak Grove cemetery.

POTTER.—William Bigler Potter, the well known merchant of Karthaus, died in the Clearfield hospital on Wednesday of last week, being a victim of the typhoid fever epidemic that has prevailed at Karthaus and vicinity for some time past. He was a son of Dr. Johnson W. and Alamanda Hoffman Potter and was born at Karthaus on July 9th, 1863, hence was a little past sixty years of age. He was educated in the public schools of that locality and as a young man went to work as a clerk in his father's mercantile store. Some years later he purchased the store and continued in active charge up until his late illness. He was also a member of the coal mining company of Potter, Bigler & Potter, a director in the County National bank, at Clearfield and interested in various other business enterprises.

In 1897 he married Miss Emma B. Emerick, who survives with seven children, Bessie, Grace, Johnson W., Dudley, Mary, George and Harry, all at home. He also leaves one brother, Roger Potter, of Pittsburgh. Burial was made at Karthaus on Saturday.

VAUGHN.—Elmer E. Vaughn, of South Philipsburg, left his home on Tuesday afternoon to take a bus for Osceola Mills, where he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company. While waiting for the bus he was stricken with heart failure and died before help could reach him. He was a son of Joseph and Nancy Vaughn and was born at Port Matilda over fifty-six years ago. He married Miss Tessie Jones, of Unionville, and she survives with thirteen children. He also leaves seventeen grandchildren, two brothers and one sister. Burial will be made at Philipsburg this afternoon.

GEARY.—D. L. Geary, for many years a resident of Penn township, died at his home at Newport, Perry county, last Friday morning, of heart failure. He is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters, Frank Geary, of Centre Hall; Charles L., of Newport; Mrs. E. P. Brown, of New Haven, Conn., and Mrs. G. J. Wagen-seller, of Newport. The remains were taken to Millheim where funeral services were held and burial made on Sunday.

BIDDLE.—John Wesley Biddle, for many years a resident of Buffalo Run valley, but of late years a resident of State College, died at his home in that place on Monday morning following a brief illness with a complication of diseases, aged seventy-three years. His wife died a number of years ago but surviving him are one son and a daughter, both living at State College. Burial will be made in Gray's cemetery this afternoon.

UNDERCOFFER.—Mrs. Mary North Undercoffer, widow of William Undercoffer, died at four o'clock last Thursday afternoon at the home of her son, Joseph W. Undercoffer, as the result of a general breakdown. She was a daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Ashton North, who came to Centre county from England, and was born at Roopsburg in March, 1836, hence was in her eighty-fourth year. She married Mr. Undercoffer about 1859, and all her life was spent in this vicinity. Her husband died many years ago and she occupied her own home just south of Bellefonte until two months ago when her condition became so feeble that she was taken to the home of her son. She was the last of her generation of the North family and her only immediate survivor is her son, Joseph W. Undercoffer.

She was a member of the Episcopal church and Rev. M. DePui Maynard had charge of the funeral services which were held at ten o'clock on Monday morning, burial being made in the Union cemetery. Among those from out of town here for the funeral were William Undercoffer, of Ambridge, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moeslein and little daughter, of New York city; Charles and James Dinges, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Moyer and Mrs. English, of Williamsport, and Mrs. William Beck, of Nittany.

KREAMER.—Mrs. Anna Mary Kreamer, widow of William Kreamer, a long-time resident of Centre county, died last Thursday afternoon at the home of her son-in-law, W. H. Klepper, in Lock Haven, of general debility. A daughter of John and Elizabeth Ruhl, she was born in Rebersburg on July 14th, 1838, hence had reached the age of 85 years, 1 month and 26 days. In early life she married William Kreamer and practically their entire life together was spent in the vicinity of Rebersburg. She was an active member of the Lutheran church and was unusually generous and charitable in disposition. Coming of an old line Democratic family she inherited the party tradition and when the women were given the ballot she was very prompt in registering and just as prompt in casting her ballot.

Her husband died in 1913 and her only survivors include four grandchildren, one brother, Jonathan Ruhl, of Tylerstown, and one sister, Mrs. Rose E. Blair, of Williamsport. Funeral services were held at the Klepper home in Lock Haven on Sunday afternoon by Rev. C. T. Stein, and on Monday morning the remains were taken to Millheim where final services were held in the Lutheran church at ten o'clock, burial being made in the Fairview cemetery.

Big Football Games at State College. Preparations are being made for the handling of record breaking crowds at State College this fall on the occasions of feature football games with the Navy and Georgia Tech. The former will be played on October 20, Alumni home-coming day, and the latter on November 10. These are probably the greatest football attractions ever scheduled for Central Pennsylvania. New stands that are now nearly completed will seat at least 17,000 people. The completed schedule for this fall is as follows: September 29—Lebanon Valley, at State College. October 6—North Carolina, at State College. October 13—Gettysburg, at State College. October 20—Navy, at State College. October 27—West Virginia, at New York. November 3—Syracuse, at Syracuse. November 10—Georgia Tech, at State College. November 17—Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia. November 29—(Thanksgiving) Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh.

Quite a number of candidates for the Bellefonte High school football team have reported for practice and are being coached by Harris Nicely, a graduate of Gettysburg College, class of '21, and a four year varsity man. Although the team lost a number of players through graduation last year a large number of new candidates are out so that there will be no lack of material from which to select a team. At least forty candidates are now in training and the prospect is for the best team in the history of the school. The schedule so far arranged includes the following games: October 6—Curtwainville at home. October 13—Kylertown at home. October 19—Mt. Union at home. October 27—Milton at Milton. November 3—Tyrone at Tyrone. November 9—Lewistown at home. November 17—Phillipsburg at home.

A Thanksgiving day game is pending with the State College High school but the question of where it will be played has not yet been decided. Two Fall Movings. The Barnes house on Logan street recently vacated by N. B. Hubbell and family, is now occupied by R. F. Shearer, proprietor of the Allegheny street meat market, and his family. G. R. Spigelmyer is preparing to vacate his house on Howard street, which was purchased some time ago by the Methodist congregation, about the middle of October and will thereafter occupy rooms in the Archibald Allison home on Allegheny street.

Big Enrollment at Bellefonte Academy, and Strong Faculty.

The Bellefonte Academy is opening this week with one of the largest enrollments in its history, and an unusually strong faculty. The present year, therefore, promises to be a "red letter" one for the "school upon the hill."

We often wonder how many of our good Centre countians realize how this historic Academy has not only put Bellefonte upon the map, but has kept it there during the past one hundred years. How many realize that it requires a great expenditure of time, energy and money, amidst the tremendous competition that prevails among the hundreds of splendid schools in the country, to secure the fine lads who come here from several of our leading States? How many realize that this school is turning thousands and thousands of dollars into the business channels of this county that would go to other school towns of the country, but for the efforts of the Academy management? Bear in mind always, too, that the Academy is a promoter of the best interests of the community, whether athletic, social, scholastic or religious.

Students in the town or county who would like to enjoy the advantages of the Academy as day students will please consult James R. Hughes. The faculty for this year is as follows: James R. Hughes, A. M., Headmaster, (Princeton University) French, Greek and Oratory George F. Reiter, Ph. D., Sc. M., Assistant Headmaster, (Bucknell University) Physics and Chemistry Helen E. C. Overton, (Formerly of Minneapolis City Schools) English, Grammar, History, Civics and Commercial Law. Isabella S. Hill, Ph. B., (Wesleyan Univ., Columbia Univ.) English, Rhetoric and Literature. Morris W. Grabill, A. B., (Otterbein College, Ohio State University) Higher Mathematics. Lawrence D. Kimball, A. B., (Bates College) French, German and Spanish. J. L. Simons, A.
