

Former German Kaiser's Sons Working in Offices.

A personal item in last week's "Watchman" told of the recent return of Mrs. John A. Waite and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Nagel, of Johns-town, from a trip to Germany. Mrs. Waite, since her marriage about a year ago, has frequently visited in Bellefonte with her husband, at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. George H. Waite, and her description of the late royalty of Germany is quite interesting.

She and her mother spent two months and a half in the "Vaderland," sailing from New York on the North German Lloyd liner "Bremen" on May 29th and arriving in this country on September 6th on the American liner Finland. Their travels through Germany included many interesting and historical towns and cities.

In Berlin they were guests of Miss Elsie Peters, who makes her home with two Countesses who live at the residence of the physician at the Bethanien hospital. This hospital was built by the deposed Kaiser's brother and has a capacity of eight hundred beds, with its own church, green-houses, etc.

Mrs. Waite and her mother visited the Kaiser's palace at Berlin and the palace at Charlottenburg as well as the mausoleum where the old German Emperor and the Kaiserin are buried. Miss Peters and one of the Countesses above referred to accompanied them on a trip to Potsdam where they met another Countess, the one who accompanied the Kaiserin on her ignoble flight with her husband to Holland, and at her death had charge of the body on its trip back to Potsdam for burial. This Countess now lives in Potsdam, in one of the houses which stands in the court of the former Crown Prince's palace.

The Kaiser and Crown Prince, of necessity, continue to reside in Holland, but the Kaiser's other sons are living in Potsdam and working in offices like any commoner of the land. The Kaiserin had four Countesses as social secretaries, all of whom were necessarily ladies of high title.

An interesting visit was that to the palace of the Crown Prince at Potsdam, where both the Kaiser and the Crown Prince were born. The kitchen where the food was prepared for the Prince, his family and his lordly guests, stands some distance away from the palace so that none of the odors of cooking food would permeate the palatial surroundings or offend the nostrils of kingly royalty. A long super-heated tunnel runs from the kitchen to the palatial dining hall so that the food could be transported to the table without becoming chilled. The new palace of the Kaiserin at Potsdam was also visited. This palace contains a private theatre with a seating capacity of four hundred.

At Baden-Baden the visitors took a trip on the incline which goes up seven hundred metres, or about 2800 feet. Trips were also made to Muenchen, through the large palace at Chiemsee, near Muenchen, Konstanz, Linden, Heidelberg, Darmstadt, the capital of the province of Hessen-Darmstadt, Cassel, Giessen, Naemheim and Frankfurt, but the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor was the most welcome sight of all when they returned home a month ago.

A big Hallow-eeen dance will be given in the Bush Arcade, Friday evening, October 19th. There will be good music and everybody is invited.

P. R. R. Announces Prize Essay Contest.

Announcement was made Wednesday that the Pennsylvania Railroad system is offering approximately $1,000 in prizes in an essay contest, open to all employees, on the subject of "The benefits of employee ownership of stock and securities of the Pennsylvania railroad through the Employees' Provident and Loan association."

In each of the four operating regions, at Altoona works, and in the general offices, three prizes are being offered for the best essays written by the employees. The first prize will be two shares of stock in the Pennsylvania Railroad company, the second prize one share of stock, and the third prize a credit on the books of the Provident and Loan association amounting to half the cost of one share of stock. In all, eighteen shares of Pennsylvania Railroad capital stock will be awarded outright and half payment on six other shares will be credited to the winners. The essays are limited to 500 words and the contest throughout the System is being conducted under the auspices of The Pennsylvania News, the regional newspaper for employees.

The Pennsylvania railroad employees' Provident and Loan association, the "security purchase" feature of which will be dealt with in this essay contest, was established in July of this year, with the approval of the board of directors of the company, to provide a new means by which the officers and employees might save money, increase their pensions, invest in homes and in the company's securities, and obtain emergency loans on their personal credit. The association came in response to many requests from employees in recent years for additional opportunities for saving and investing their wages or salaries. It is purely co-operative, organized by the officers and employees for their benefit and at their own risk. Any employee who has been in the service of the company for one year is eligible to membership. Participation is entirely voluntary.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company encourages and assists the work of the association by providing for the safe keeping of its funds, paying its ordinary operating expenses and supplying the necessary facilities for conducting its business.

The President of the Centre Hall Borough Council Replies to the Reporter.

To The Democratic Watchman, Bellefonte, Pa.

Gentlemen: Permit me to use the columns of your paper to voice the sentiment very generally held in this community that the senior editor of the Centre Hall Reporter has been very much peeved since our council passed the traffic ordinance on July 6th last.

He certainly has lambasted council good for the last few months. But as the Scotch proverb runs: "You can't lick a man by fighting him." We are not licked yet, and are very much alive.

We fancy that he is sore because he was not consulted in the matter, but that was because our principles and ideas do not run in the same channels.

All we have to say is that our action has proven a public benefit. The cost of our police service has been met by fines collected or in process of collection for violations of the Highway laws and Borough Ordinances, and our citizens and the children, especially, are safer in crossing the streets when the bluecoat is in sight.

Bakers Drop Lotus Leaves.

Shanghai bakers used to wrap their bread and cakes in nice green lotus leaves. But the days of this romantic practice are gone forever. According to the new regulations covering bakery products, bread and other products must be suitably wrapped in grease-proof or similar papers. The clause in the regulation covering this particular requirement quoted by Assistant Trade Commissioner A. V. Smith in a report to the Department of Commerce, reads as follows: "That bread and bakery products shall, upon sale or when carried or handled for sale, or delivered in baskets, vehicles or otherwise, be suitably wrapped in grease-proof paper or other cleanly covering, in such manner as to completely protect the bread from dirt, dust and flies, or from harmful contact in handling."
