Mr. Stutzman has had considerable experience in supervising penal institutions and will no doubt make an efficient head of the Rockview institution. His appointment will permit warden John P. Egan to devote his entire time to the Pittsburgh penitentiary.

Politics are warming up but there is nothing partisan in the motion pictures shown at the Scenic. Members of all political parties can enjoy them with equal zest and appreciation. Manager T. Clayton Brown is putting on the biggest and best programs shown at any movie theatre in Central Pennsylvania and only regular patrons have the pleasure of seeing them all. That's why everybody should be a regular.

Miss Cora Mitchell, the dental hygienist, moved her equipment, on Tuesday, from the Bishop street to the parochial school where she will work until after teachers' institute. During her three weeks of work in grades one, four and six of the Bishop street school, Miss Mitchell cleaned the teeth of ninety-seven pupils, gave talks on the care of the teeth in all grades and made home visits to many parents to call attention to the need of dental care for their children.

"The Coming of Ruth," the musical drama that had two such successful performances at Garman's this week, will be repeated next Monday night. Furst Mr. Dale, both Mr. Roy and Mr. Dale being present.

The ladies are preparing quantities of food stuffs, hand-made aprons and other pretty things suitable for Christmas gifts.

Pinchot's Raiding Constables Round Up Centre County Bootleggers.

Twelve state policemen from Lancaster, representing the pick of Governor Pinchot's raiding squads, under command of captain Stout, swooped down on Centre county on Saturday night and arrested three men on the charge of bootlegging and manufacturing moonshine.

Those arrested include John Haldeeman, of near Bellefonte, who was caught with about five quarts of moonshine in his possession; Paul Gasper and Enro Pachicko, of the Cherry Run mine section, in Snow Shoe township, where two stills, of thirty-five and ten gallon capacity, and about seven gallons of moonshine were also confiscated. The men, the stills and the moonshine were all brought to the Centre county jail, but Haldeeman was later released on bail.

Evidence against the above parties, it is alleged, had been obtained by two state police in plain clothes, who had been in Bellefonte and the Snow Shoe region for several days prior to the raid. Having made their captures and landed their prisoners and evidence in jail the raiding party returned to Lancaster on Sunday.

MORE ARRESTS ON TUESDAY.

Following close upon Saturday night's bootlegging raid three more arrests were made on Tuesday. They included Fred Meyers and Jeff Tearney, of Bellefonte, and William Musser, of Penn's Cave. At the Musser home, it is said, five barrels of wine were found and confiscated, a big truck in Bellefonte having been commandeered to haul the stuff to Bellefonte. So far as can be learned no liquor was found in the possession of Meyers or Tearney, their arrest being made on evidence gathered in the past several weeks by a plain clothes agent of the department of justice who, according to reports, has been in Bellefonte for some days hobnobbing with many of the "favorite bootleggers" in town. All the men gave bail for their appearance where and when desired.

"The Bat" Coming to Garman's Next Tuesday Night.

Wagenhals and Kemper's production of "The Bat," by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood, will be seen at the opera house on Tuesday night, October 23rd, as part of its third triumphant tour of the country. "The Bat" is beyond question the world's greatest mystery play. It was the forerunner of more than a score of mystery plays that have sought to trade on its enormous popularity. And not one has been able to prove itself a worthy rival to the honors that have been bestowed by the theatre-going public on "The Bat."

"The Bat" comes here with a record that no other play of any type was ever able to equal. It ran for more than two years in New York; for more than a year in Chicago; for entire seasons in London, Boston and Philadelphia. In every city of the United States and foreign countries where it has been presented, it holds the record for total attendance and gross box office receipts.

On its present tour of the country "The Bat" is presented in exactly the manner in which it was seen during its long engagements in the cities. The production itself—the scenery and costumes are new, and the cast includes the stars and Broadway favorites previously seen in the play. The coming of "The Bat" is the outstanding feature of the local theatrical season. Prices, 50 cents to $2.00, plus tax. Seats now selling at Mott Drug Co.

Conference of Women's Clubs to be Held in Philipsburg.

The Centre county conference of women's clubs will be held in Philipsburg on Saturday, October 27th, the first session to be called to order at 10:30 a. m.

All who are interested, or would like to become interested, in any or all of the activities in which women are so conspicuous and efficient, are urged to attend this meeting. The reports must necessarily be limited to five minutes each, but much can be told in that time to stimulate efforts for bigger achievements. The reports will be followed by discussions. Mrs. Olmstead, who will be present, is no stranger to Centre county people, and is a most pleasing and inspiring speaker.

Kindly communicate with Mrs. R. S. Brouse at an early date relative to making the trip so she can perfect her plans. Box luncheon.

Escaped Prisoner Recaptured.

Thomas Provance, one of the six prisoners who escaped from the western penitentiary at Rockview on the morning of June 19th, by sawing two bars out of one window, was captured at Lock Haven on Saturday and brought back to the Centre county jail. Provance was sent to the penitentiary from Clinton county for not less than three nor more than six years. For some time past reports have been current that he had been in hiding in the neighborhood of Lock Haven and officers had been keeping a close watch for him. It was not until Saturday, however, that his whereabouts were discovered and he was promptly arrested and brought to Bellefonte. All told eight men escaped from the penitentiary within two days during the month of June, and four of them have now been recaptured and are once again behind barred doors.

The thimble bee of the ladies of the Reformed church will be held at the home of Mrs. David E. Washburn, on east Curtin street, this (Friday) afternoon. A full attendance is desired.

Returning home on Saturday they were given a big reception and kitchen shower at the home of the bridegroom's parents. On Monday they began housekeeping at State College, where Mr. Parsons is a clerk in Gentzel's store.

M. C. A. We have not been informed as to the way the potatoes will be served but presume they will be dished up in various ways. Preparations will be made to entertain two hundred or more guests.

High School vs. Mt. Union Today.

While football fans have their eyes on State College tomorrow for the Navy-State game the fact must not be overlooked that an interesting gridiron contest will take place on Hughes field this (Friday) afternoon, when the Bellefonte High school eleven will play the Mount Union High school team. Bellefonte High has been playing wonderful football so far this season, defeating the strong Cooper township (Clearfield county) team last Saturday by the score of 32 to 6, and the game today will be one well worth seeing. Every football fan in the town should go out and root for the home team.

Harvest Queen Contest Growing in Interest.

The contest for the Harvest Queen of the Elk's big Halloween carnival is beginning to excite considerable interest from the fact that State College has put forth a candidate in the person of Miss Elizabeth Miller, a popular High school girl of that place. The two leading contestants in Bellefonte are Misses Mavis Furey and Margaret Mignot, and while they still lead Miss State College, there is abundant opportunity to develop one of the most interesting contests that has ever been held. The standing of the three ladies in yesterday's count was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Mavis Furey 3735, Margaret Mignot 3490, Elizabeth Miller 2000.

Inasmuch as the contest has almost two weeks yet to run there is ample time for entries from other towns in the county.

Preparations for the big carnival are moving along smoothly and every organization intending to take part should report as early as possible to Capt. W. H. Brown, who will be chief marshal of the parade.

The Coming of Ruth.

The musical drama "The Coming of Ruth," which was presented at Garman's Monday and Tuesday evenings, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., and the direction of Dr. W. C. T. U., of Philadelphia, proved to be a far more finished entertainment both from the action and singing than was anticipated.

Very large audiences greeted both performances so that the hospital is likely to be the beneficiary to the extent of $329.66 at least.

All of the leads were well taken; the voices being admirably adapted for the roles they sang and the chorus work in the ensembles was full and harmonious. Miss Celia Moerschbacher, Mrs. Charles E. Garbrick, Mrs. M. R. Krader, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. R. Russell Blair, Miss Elizabeth Hoag and Miss Margaret Hassinger with R. Russell Blair, Millard Hartwick, Cecil Walker and James Y. Seig carried the solo parts and the leads with their accustomed finish and splendid interpretation.

It was indeed, a very pleasing performance. So different from the frivolous productions that have been so popular in recent years that every one seemed to enjoy the change immensely.

In the general expression of gratitude for assistance in the production the ladies of the W. C. T. U. wish to include, specially, Manager Brown, who gave the opera house for both the rehearsals and the performances without any charge at all. The drama will be presented again at Garman's next Monday night.

One Man Killed in Auto Accident on Sunday.

One man killed, several injured and half a dozen wrecked cars was the toll of auto accidents on the state highways between Bellefonte and Lock Haven and Bellefonte and State College on Sunday. Inasmuch as ninety-nine per cent. of all such accidents are the result of carelessness, fast driving or intoxication those interested, especially the drivers and owners of machines, shun publicity and evade giving their names to the public, so that a wrecked machine is all that is left to tell the tale.

The fatal accident occurred shortly after two o'clock on Sunday afternoon at a sharp curve in the road just below Snyderstown. Five Italians in an Overland Red Bird car were coming toward Bellefonte from Lock Haven and according to reports of people in Nittany who saw the car pass, were driving the machine at top speed. The driver of the car failed to make the turn at the sharp curve and crashed into a tree standing by the side of the road, completely wrecking the car. One man, whose name could not be learned was killed outright, one escaped injury and three, Mike Krot, Pete Boline and Pete Varembo, were taken to the Lock Haven hospital. Krot was only slightly hurt and after being treated at the dispensary was able to leave. The other two men are not seriously injured. A quart jar of moonshine was found at the wrecked car, and that was about the only thing that wasn't smashed.

State College Expects Big Crowd for Navy-State Game Tomorrow.

State College has made preparations to entertain the largest crowd tomorrow that ever gathered there to witness a sporting event of any character, the occasion being the Navy-Penn State football game. The big stands have a seating capacity of seventeen thousand and most of the tickets have already been allotted and sold. Four hundred seats have been reserved for midshipmen and dignitaries from Washington who are expected to attend the game. The Navy defeated State last year and the Nittany lions will attempt to turn the trick this season.

Sousa's Band at State College.

John Philip Sousa and his band visited Centre county for the first time last Thursday night when they gave two concerts at State College. The great auditorium that stands as a memorial to the public service of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab, was crowded for both the afternoon and evening performance of America's foremost band master and his eighty-five musicians.

Always we have thought that a contributing factor—and a large one—to Sousa's popularity—is his program. With a band capable of interpreting the heaviest compositions, both as to full instrumentation and the technique of the performers he has always sought to appeal to the relative tastes of his audiences by selections comprehensible to them.

At State College this was the case and almost we are constrained to say that "It is to laugh," that in that developing centre of musical culture "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheen" and "No Bananas Today" got uproarious encore after encore whereas the really worthwhile music was received with restrained enthusiasm.

Of course a Sousa concert is always a treat but the singing of Miss Nora Fouchald, soprano; the violin offering of Miss Rachel Senior; the xylophone solos of George Carey and the cornet solo of John Dolan were all stellar interpolations that contributed to the diversity and pleasure of the program.

Winter Lyceum Course.

A series of six entertainments of high class will be presented to the people of Bellefonte this winter, the course being put on by the National Lyceum system and is endorsed and underwritten by a strong committee of citizens interested in producing the best in the line of entertainment for the community. The opening number will be given on Thursday evening, November 15th, when the National male quartette, vocal and instrumental artists with a national reputation, will present a fine musical program. The other numbers in the course will be the Philippines quartette, December 12th; Julian B. Arnold, lecturer, January 5th; Elias Day Players in "Happiness," January 15th; the Gipsy Quintette, February 27th, and the National Trio in dramatic sketches as a closing number on March 17th. Mark these dates in your calendar, buy a ticket and help provide the kind of entertainment that helps and uplifts.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Fleming will be among the excursionists leaving today for Washington, D. C. A part of their time, however, will be spent with friends in Harrisburg, where they expect to stop en route home.

Mrs. H. S. Cooper is planning to leave within a few days for New York, where she will make a short visit before returning South. Mrs. Cooper has been in Bellefonte for four months, with her aunts, the Misses Benner, and will leave for her home in Dallas, Texas, that she may reach there by the first of November.

The bridge club, of which Mrs. James Heeron was a member during her residence in Bellefonte, was entertained by her yesterday afternoon, at the superintendent's residence at the Huntingdon reformatory. The twelve women, who are its present members, motored over for luncheon and spent the afternoon at cards.

Mrs. Charles Gilmour returned home Monday, from a two week's visit in Philadelphia and Atlantic City. At the former place she was with her daughter, Miss Margaret, while at the latter she was a guest of her cousin, Miss Humes, who with Miss Sadie Caldwell, had been spending a part of the month of October at the Shore.

Mrs. John B. Miller, of Hubersburg, was among the temperance enthusiasts from over the county in town the early part of the week for the organization's hospital benefit, "The Coming of Ruth," which was staged here with such great success, Monday and Tuesday nights. During her visit in Bellefonte Mrs. Miller was a guest of Mrs. Martin Haines, of Curtin street.

Mr. and Mrs. Lief A. Olsen and children and Mr. W. C. Coxe motored to York, last Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Farbert. Mr. Olsen and Mr. Coxe returned home on Monday while Mrs. Olsen and children will remain for two weeks when Mr. Olsen will motor down and bring them home. Miss Dorothy Coxe, who has been with her sister for some time, will also return at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cassidy entertained a driving party Tuesday and Tuesday night, composed of members of Mr. Cassidy's immediate family. In the party were his three sisters, Mrs. Leonard Betz, Mrs. L. E. Sober and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Welker, who left Canton Saturday for a visit to Newry, Blair county, the home of their ancestors, and for the overnight stay with their brother in Bellefonte. The trip home had been planned for the drive through Cumberland valley and west over the Lincoln highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, of Altoona, were Sunday visitors with friends in town. Frank is still reminiscent of their recent tour of Colorado where they spent several weeks in mountain climbing and loafing about the resorts of that land of wonderfully blue skies and red-brown landscapes. Their son Carol, who was only seven years old when they moved from here, was with them. We could scarcely realize that he is a man now, holding a passenger brakeman's job on a run between Altoona and Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Harvey A. Dornblazer, of Pennsylvania, with Miss Schmidt, of Philipsburg, were in Bellefonte on Wednesday; having come over to spend the day here looking after some business matters both are interested in. Mrs. Dornblazer is a daughter of the late John Long, of Philipsburg, and has been back at her former home for a visit. It would scarcely be expected that a daughter of such an ardent Democrat as Mr. Long was could remain inactive especially after the women were emancipated. Living in the suburbs of Philadelphia where her husband is identified with the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co., evidently she saw the rich field her environment afforded for organization and missionary work. She was accordingly one of the originators and organizers of the woman's Democratic club of that city and has played no small part in keeping it from infection of the taint of the men's organization down there.

Mrs. Elva Johnston, of Gatesburg, with her daughters, Sara, Edith and Violet, and her son Earl at the wheel of their motor, spent Saturday afternoon in the Bellefonte shops. Mrs. Johnston's brother, Ira Harpster, was a guest of the party, and while the ladies bustled themselves looking over fall apparel Ira dropped in at this office for a little chat. Most every one who knows either Ira or Sam or George will understand how much we enjoyed the call. Sam, of course, is the active politician of the family, but he has the rheumatism now and has quit making that "big splash" that he used to tell us about when he contemplated jumping "into the political pond." May be that's how he got the rheumatism. Be that as it may, there's no finer trio of rugged, wide-awake, red-blooded fellows in all this country than the Harpster boys and our only regret was that Ira couldn't have staid longer with us.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tate and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gelhaus and daughter Betty returned home last Friday from a two week motor trip through Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. The ladies had some interesting experiences. Mrs. Tate visited her sister at Red Lake, Wis., and Mrs. Gelhaus to visit her parents at Medford, Wis. The two men, in Mr. Tate's car, made the trip by motor, leaving Bellefonte on September 30th. During Mr. Tate's visit at Red Lake he accompanied some friends on a hunting expedition into the high timber of that State, the party being successful in bagging twenty pheasants and five large wild ducks. They also saw a large timber wolf but as neither of the hunters had a rifle the animal got away. Mr. Tate visited a fox farm, where he saw three hundred silver and black foxes, the pelts of which sell for from $200 to $300 each. In making the trip they covered 2,300 miles and had good weather all the time. The roads were in splendid condition with the exception of Indiana, where bad roads were encountered and the routings poorly marked. The trip was made without any motor trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bingner, of Somerset, were over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Walkley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey McClure, of Aurora, Ill., were over Sunday visitors of Mr. McClure's parents Mr. and Mrs. James McClure.

Mrs. John F. Smith, who arrived here from Shamokin, Monday, will be joined by Mr. Smith; intending to see the Navy-State game tomorrow.

Miss Watis, of Columbia, N. C., has been a guest for two weeks of Miss Lida Morris; an annual visit which she has been making for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Murray Andrews returned Saturday from a two month's stay along the coast of Maine, and have opened their home for the winter.

Mrs. Benjamin Bradley left Wednesday to visit relatives in Bradford, Pa.; also East Aurora and Buffalo, N. Y., where she will visit her sisters indefinitely.

Mrs. Henry Wetzel is again in Bellefonte after a visit of two months or more, with her son Nevin, at Bellington, W. Va., and with the Rev. Frank Wetzel family, at Akron, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin O. Noll, of Conshohocken, are expected in Bellefonte tomorrow, Mr. Noll to attend the Navy-Penn State game and Mrs. Noll to visit her mother, Mrs. M. Fauble.

Mrs. Sara Satterfield accompanied Mrs. Irvin to Snow Shoe, Wednesday, to spend the night; intending to go from there to DuBois to spend a week or ten days with her nephew, James Dawson and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schwen will drive here from DuBois today, to be over night guests of Mrs. Schwen's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Chambers. Their objective point is the Navy-Penn State game.

Mrs. Barnard and her two children, who have been guests at the home of Judge and Mrs. Ellis L. Orvis for a part of October, have returned to their home in Minneapolis. Mrs. Barnard will be remembered as Miss Margery Lyon.

Robert Witmer and his three daughters will drive here from Philadelphia today and be guests at the Bush house, while in Bellefonte for a short visit. The Witmers are among the people from over the State attracted here by the Navy-State game tomorrow.

Mrs. James Chambers returned to her home in DuBois, Wednesday, after a month's visit in Centre county, the time while here having been spent with Mr. and Mrs. William Chambers, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. William Larimer, at Peru, and with friends at Pleasant Gap.

Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker went up to Ebensburg, on Monday, called there by the death of Mrs. Philip Collins, and four of her children, T. Collins, Philip, Ellen and Mary Shoemaker, left Bellefonte at four o'clock yesterday morning and motored to Ebensburg for the funeral.

Mrs. George M. Sellers, of Williamsport, has been spending the week at her former home at Lemont, being a house guest of her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Thompson; having come up at this time to be at the College tomorrow for the home-coming. During her stay, Mrs. Sellers has been looking after her work, as factory inspector of this district.

A party from Centre Hall composed of Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk, Mrs. Frank V. Goodhart, her sister, Miss Nancy McWilliams, a clerk in the First National bank, and Mrs. Ebright, wife of Leigh Ebright, cashier of the bank, drove to State College on Wednesday afternoon and from there to Bellefonte; the time at both places being spent in looking after some business and some buying.

Among those from out of town who were here for the funeral of the late Hon. John Noll, last Saturday, were Mr. and Mrs. George N. VanDyke and Richard P. Noll, of Pittsburgh; the venerable Benner Waddle, of Jersey Shore; Charles Noll, of Altoona, and Mrs. Charles Noll, of Clearfield; Capt. C. T. Fryberger and Edward Bezer, of Philipsburg; Mrs. M. T. Zabler, of Spring Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. Vonada, of Coburn.

For that reason a small amount of Preferred Stock now is available for immediate sale. If this interests you, apply to Charles R. Kurtz, Bellefonte, for further information. 41-1t
