Mrs. Nettie Bilger, estimable wife of Charles Bilger, very kindly volunteered to take care of the fifty ring-neck pheasants prior to the distribution on the nearby mountains. Our sportsmen's club is supplying the necessary feed. Mrs. Bilger is very proud of her new acquisitions, and cares for them as studiously as she does her vast flock of chickens. The birds are plump and fat and in excellent shape to stand the winter weather.

One of the leading social events of the season was the Halloween masquerade held in Noll's hall, by Mrs. R. W. Noll and Mrs. S. E. Noll, on Friday evening of last week. Forty-seven jolly participants were present in both ancient and modern attire, as well as many clever and ridiculous costumes. Ten tables of 500 were in play. After a superb lunch every one present joined in making the evening a most fascinating affair. A vote of thanks was given to the originators. Numerous outside parties were present; among others were Mrs. Goodhart, sister and friend of Centre Hall, D. Paul Fortney and wife of Bellefonte. All present were highly delighted with the evening so agreeably spent.

Superintendent of construction of the penitentiary was in Harrisburg two days last week. Evidently His Excellency wanted to interview Mr. Crumlish, who reports having had a very satisfactory visit. He was treated royally while at the capitol though thinks the future prospects of Rockview point to little more activity than for some time past. Incidentally while at Harrisburg Mr. Crumlish met that magnetic gentleman, the Compton, better known as "Billy" Bryan, and like everybody who ever met him, was most favorably impressed. He speaks of him as a practical man, with a sound mind in a sound body; a man well organized physically, intellectually, morally, and added, with a conscience; that inner light which illuminates the life.

On the evening of the 23rd of October a very unique party was held in the spacious barn of J. T. Noll. Forty guests participated in the festivities. Carl Deitrich, of Bellefonte, furnished violin music for the old-fashioned barn dance, which was a special feature. It was a masked affair and some surprises were sprung at the hour for unmasking. Refreshments were served in abundance and all went away feeling it was good to have been there. The guests included, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Noll, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Jodon, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bilger, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Irvin, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Evey, Mrs. Henry Noll, Mrs. R. S. People are rarely so bad but what they have some redeeming quality, and if they have only one, the liberality of humanity exempts the others, and allows them a through passport on the strength of the one; so it's not so terribly hard to get through the world after all, when one qualification will do it. Learn to do one thing, and do it well, and you are a guaranteed success.

Of all things in the world selfishness is the most perishable and that selfishness which forms combinations to control prices, will ultimately fail, because it cannot control itself. For selfishness is so blind that it cannot see that the efforts to preserve, tend also to destroy, and thus blind its goal in the pit. Selfishness is the dominant trait in humanity, and is only held in check by encountering the selfishness of others. It is the cause and cure of itself.

For some unknown reasons, some evil-disposed persons have it in for our neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Zelesnick, who own a small farm in Pleasant Gap. The parties in question are very industrially engaged in making an honest living by tilling the soil and I might say minding their own business studiously. Last May some one shot a valuable dog, and wounded another; since then numerous little articles about the premises were stolen. Last Friday night their faithful watch-dog was again wounded and three bullets had to be extracted from the body of the dog. The same night twenty heads of cabbage and a few other minor articles were stolen. A close watch is now being instigated with a view of getting even with the thief or thieves. It is to be regretted that we have such intruders in our community.

The successful housewife understands that by a re-arrangement of the furniture in her rooms they can be made to appear as fresh and attractive as if they had been re-furnished. It is the same old furniture; only seen from a different angle. It is always a difficult task to write about nothing, especially if it must be done well. In a majority of instances topics contain little else than words; hence the difficulty in writing them so well as to be read, or they will not actually detract from the value of that which follows. Articles should be written so they may be seen at different angles than those from which they are usually viewed. This gives them a new aspect without rendering them strange or unfamiliar. He will feel that he has been eminently successful in this if he shall lead his readers to exclaim with Willis: "What he has written seems to be no more than I have thought a thousand times before."

SURGEONS POINT WAY TO STEM INCREASING TOLL PAID CANCER.

Chicago.—Fifty thousand lives sacrificed each year to cancer might be saved.

Ninety thousand persons in the United States die of cancer every year, or one person every six minutes. Cancer is not contagious or hereditary.

The great increase in cancer is due to ignorance and delay of treatment. It can be cured if taken in time, when it is local and before it can be carried through the system.

Darkly pigmented moles which rise above the surface of the skin and are subject to irritation should be removed.

Habitual gulping of scalding tea or coffee is likely to lead to cancer of the stomach.

Holding an old and very "ripe" short-stemmed pipe in the same place in the mouth is likely to cause cancer of the lip.

Ninety-nine per cent. of cases allowed to run their course prove fatal. These are a few of the facts culled from the cancer propaganda of the College of Surgeons in session in Chicago, last week. It is deemed desirable that the widest knowledge of cancer should be effected to prevent the spread of this disease which science has failed to conquer.

Dr. John Wesley Long, of Greensboro, N. C., a cancer specialist, voiced the warnings of surgeons in general who now dwell upon the importance of pre-cancer precautions.

"Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, malaria, pneumonia and even old age death rates are decreasing," said Dr. Long, "but cancer deaths are increasing 2.5 per cent. annually. In the United States, as a whole, the death-rate from cancer is 78.9. Cancer kills as many persons each year as died from wounds and disease during our two years of the world war."

"While I come with no new doctrine, I do come with a message of hope, more potent than that of M. Coue."

"If we could educate the public and some doctors as well, to the full significance of operating before cancer actually begins, we might cut our cancer statistics in half."

"We may go further and state with all confidence that even after cancer has developed, but is yet local, operations will cure 25 per cent. of the cases, and I firmly believe, more than that."

"Thermo-cautery runs the knife a close second in the list of remedies. Thermo-cautery merely means a hot iron. The poker heated in the fire and applied to the local lesion will cure many a case of potential cancer and some cancers as well. And how simple it is, but to be effective it must be used before the cancer cells are carried into the blood stream."

Dr. Long also asserted that dynamite in your vest pocket is less dangerous to your safety than your favorite dirty and well-flavored pipe, held always in the same corner of your mouth, with about the same degree of pressure.

"Pipes—corn-cob, briar or meerschaum as the case may be—have resulted in more than one cancer of the lip," declared Dr. Long.

Exposure to excessive sun and wind in a dry climate also gives rise to cancer, and that makes the Texas pan-handle a place for people with thin skins to avoid, according to Dr. A. C. Scott, president of the Texas State Medical Association and State chairman of the American Society for Cancer Control.

In that, his colleague, Dr. W. Burton Thorning, of Houston, agrees with him.

If cold cream were found beside the wash basin in every Texas ranch instead of being restricted to milday's boudoir, there would be a great decrease of skin cancers in Texas and other dry western States, these surgeons think.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Penn State to Grant Admissions Early.

In order to better equalize rural and urban admissions to the freshman class at The Pennsylvania State College, forty per cent. of the 1924 class will be admitted before next July 1, the date when admissions would normally start. This means that applications will be received any time now for admission to the 1924 freshman class, and those well qualified will be notified that they may enter next September. From early applicants the college registrar, Professor W. S. Hoffman will select 100 who will be able to enter with an additional freshman group at the beginning of the second semester late next January.

The outstanding feature of this early notification plan will be the earlier knowledge of the applicant as to whether or not he will be permitted to enter State College in the fall. Working on the basis of a class of 1000 to be admitted next September a total of 400 can be notified of admission before July. A tentative quota of admissions for each county has been set by the Penn State registrar, based upon the rural population figures. In this way every county will receive equal consideration. Requests for admission to the 'January replacement class' of one hundred are already coming to Professor Hoffman's office.

About Telephones.

In the United States, there is one telephone for every eight of the population. Twenty years ago, we had only one to every ninety. Europe is still far behind us in this line, having one telephone for each hundred people.

The farm telephone has become wonderfully popular, more than three million being in use among the farmers. About 65 per cent. of all the telephones in the world are in our country.

In all, we use 14,000,000 of these modern conveniences, now become necessities, and this number increases every year by about half a million.

MEDICAL.

If Women Only Knew

What a Heap of Happiness it Would Bring to Bellefonte Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back.

Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains often come from weak kidneys.

"I would save much needless woe. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Many residents of this vicinity endorse them.

Mrs. Ralph Hassinger, Oak Hall, Pa., says: "My kidneys troubled me a great deal and my back was weak and lame. I tired easily. Inflammation of the bladder was my worst trouble and the action of my kidneys was frequent and painful. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon strengthened my back and regulated my kidneys, relieving the bladder trouble."
