Bellefonte, Pa., November 2, 1923.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Cider makers in Centre county will not sell the apple juice after it is twenty-four hours old.

Now that Hallow-eeen is a thing of the past the next event to look forward to is Thanksgiving.

Many trout are being sent out almost daily from the Bellefonte fish hatchery for stocking streams in various parts of the State.

Don't overlook the fact that the Bellefonte Academy-Pitt Freshmen football game tomorrow afternoon will start at 1:30 o'clock sharp.

Since 1881, the American Red Cross has spent $20,000,000 in disaster relief. Will you become a stockholder in this world-wide work?

In six years, the American Red Cross has spent $163,000,000 in service to America's disabled veterans of the world war and their families.

Notwithstanding the fact that it has been a month or over since the settlement of the hard coal strike, very little anthracite coal has percolated through to Bellefonte.

The American Red Cross is untiring in industry to make the world a better and happier place in which to live. Won't you join or renew your membership now? Roll call November 4-11.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wetzel have closed their home south of Bellefonte and with their family moved in to town yesterday, to spend the winter with Mr. Wetzel's sister, Mrs. Jared Harper.

The card party which was to have been held at the Episcopal parish house on Monday evening, November 5th, has been indefinitely postponed owing to the sudden death of Mr. Edward H. Richard.

An oyster and baked bean supper will be held in the Sunday school room of the Methodist church on Friday, November 16th, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society. The price will be 60 cents, including dessert.

Mrs. Henry Taylor fell down a flight of stairs at her home on Spring street, one evening last week, and sustained a badly sprained wrist as well as bruises and shock. She suffered considerable pain for a day or two but is now improving.

As a benefit for the Bellefonte hospital Mrs. John Beckman, of Oakland, Cal., will sing in native costume Swedish folk songs and play time songs, in the Presbyterian chapel, Tuesday evening, November 13th, under the auspices of the Woman's club.

Word has been received in Bellefonte of the death of Frank Felix, at his home in Newton, Kan., on October 11th. Though Mr. Felix had never been east he married a Centre county girl, Miss Ella McGowan, a sister of William McGowan, of Spring creek.

At a special session of court, on Wednesday morning, Thomas Provance, who escaped from the western penitentiary at Rockview in June, was sentenced by Judge Quigley to serve out his old sentence and an additional term of from three to six years. Provance was sent up from Lock Haven in 1920 for a term of from five to six years for burglary.

The Dim Lantern, so successfully conducted near Runville the past summer by Miss Ruth Garman and Mrs. Iddings, will serve its last refreshments for this season on Sunday, and will then be closed for the winter. Miss Garman and Mrs. Iddings coming back to Bellefonte. They have already decided, however, to reopen next year, earlier than they did the past summer, and will include meals in their bill of fare.

On Tuesday morning Harry Sampel Jr., who was working for the Decker Bros. on the foundation for their new garage, made a misstep and fell from the top of the pile of crushed stone, on Spring street, down onto the stone crusher. Joe Thal happened to be standing close by the crusher at the time and he grabbed him and pulled him off the machine in time to save him being caught in the machinery. As it was he had several ribs fractured and suffered other injuries.

Last Saturday F. P. Blair & Son put on a bargain sale of jewelry, cut glass, silverware and novelties and advertised every article on display in the show window for $1.50. Included in the large assortment was a two dollar bill and while many people looked at it and asked if it were real money it lay there for an hour until Miss Ruth Bertram came along, saw it and going into the store asked for the bill. It was promptly given to her for $1.50. All of which proves that the average person is rather suspicious of a real bargain even when he sees it.

Sixty-nine Republican women of Bellefonte, State College and Phillipsburg banqueted on spring chicken at the Bush house, on Tuesday evening. It was exclusively a woman's gathering, and landlord Lewis Daggett came in for a good share of praiseworthy comment for the cozy arrangement of his dining room and the beauty of the decorations. Of course the menu served was all that could be desired and every one present enjoyed the occasion very much. The chief speaker of the evening was Miss Lola Walker, of Pittsburgh, a representative of the State Republican women's association.

HALLOW-EEN CARNIVAL DREW A LARGE CROWD.

Many Mimmers Make Merry at Elk's Annual Frolic.

The fourth annual Hallow-eeen carnival of the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks, held on Wednesday evening, might be literally termed a howling success. The large crowd was merry mad and after the parade was over so jammed the pavement in front of the Elks that women and children screamed and it was little less than a miracle that nobody was hurt. In fact it took the combined efforts of a score of Elks and a number of special policemen to clear the street so that the ticket holders could get into the Elk's home to be judged for prizes.

HARVEST QUEEN CONTEST.

Naturally interest in the carnival centered in the contest for the Harvest Queen, and notwithstanding the fact that there were only three entries this year it far and away eclipsed any similar contest held in previous years. The contest closed on Tuesday night and the judges were literally swamped with votes. A count was made every hour and the result posted on the bulletin board, but it was not until the final count at ten o'clock that the winner was definitely decided, and it proved to be Miss Mauvis Furey, of Bellefonte. The total vote cast for the three contestants was as follows:

Mauvis Furey	91130
Margaret Mignot	49629
Elizabeth Miller	27850
Total	168509

The first Harvest Queen contest was held in 1921 when the total vote cast for the six contestants was 71645. Last year four young ladies stayed to the finish and their combined vote was but 41450, so that the vote this year far exceeded the vote of both previous years.

THE PARADE.

Notwithstanding the fact that the weather on Wednesday evening was extremely cool thousands of people turned out to see the big parade. In fact the spectators were probably more numerous than ever before but the parade fell short of that of last year. The Mummer's division was the chief feature and all those who took part in it deserve great credit for their trouble and expense necessarily entailed in providing the varied characterizations and costumes.

While it was utterly impossible for any one to appraise the merits of each costume, for many splendid ones were concealed by the jam of the revelers, a few that stood out so strikingly that they caught every eye were the walking corn shock—a splendid get-up by Edward Owens. The four balloon girls, Mrs. W. C. Snyder, of Snow Shoe, Mrs. Edmund Blanchard, Mrs. Donald Potter and Mrs. Craig, were so strikingly gotten up that almost they might just have stepped out of the chorus of the Follies into High street, Bellefonte. The "Bride and Groom," "The Cats' Meows," the two "Dutch Cleansers" women, the "white bunny," the tall man with the taffy wig the drum major of Wetzler's band, and "The Grand Dame," were splendid characterizations and attracted attention everywhere. As we have said before there were countless other splendid characters but we missed them.

The feature of the float section was, of course, the Fauble stores entry. Evidently a lot of time had been devoted to its preparation and that expenditure was well repaid by the striking results obtained for we have scarcely ever seen a more pleasingly decorated car. All of the work on it was done by William Shoop and impossible as it may sound not a tack or bit of glue was used to mar the finish of the limousine that was used.

As in former years the parade formed on Bishop street and moved promptly at 8 o'clock. While Capt. William H. Brown was chief marshal George Washington Rees was generalissimo. The Elks, topped with pumpkin colored hats, led off under escort of Wetzler's band with Warren Wood as a "colored" drum major. Next came the float with the Harvest Queen and her two ladies in waiting, Miss Mignot and Miss Miller. The Mummer's division was led by the Odd Fellows band. The Countdown band equipped with drums, pans and pan lids from the Bellefonte Hardware company's store composed the tail end of the Mummer's division. Then came the Lemont band, Knights of the Golden Eagle and Red Men.

In the division of "floats" not a float was entered. The fire companies had their pumpers and hook and ladder trucks in line and half a dozen decorated automobiles, chief among which was that of A. Fauble, made up this part of the parade.

A dozen or more men and women acted as judges and as the parade passed the judges' stand the second time the Mimmers were marshalled past by twos and all those considered in the running for a prize were given a red ticket requiring them to report inside the Elks home immediately after the parade. Naturally the big rooms were jammed and notwithstanding the fact that efforts were made to secure a complete list of the prize winners there was such a jam, coupled with a mix-up in tickets, that it was impossible to get a list, and that is the reason the winners cannot be announced in this issue of the "Watchman."

During the parade one of the Roman candles exploded and a portion of the burning material fell on Mrs. Casebeer's foot, burning her enough that she was compelled to leave the judges' stand and seek the services of a physician. The only other accident happened to Mrs. William Resides, who rode in the parade as "Uncle Sam." Her horse stumbled and fell and she was thrown off, but aside from a slight disarrangement of her costume she was uninjured and remounting completed the parade.

Following the parade a charity ball was held in the armory and the immense building was jammed with merry-makers. In fact the crowd was too large for comfortable dancing.

While it is impossible at this time to give the net receipts of the big frolic they will be larger than in any former year. The gross receipts from the Harvest Queen contest were $1686.50. The ball would probably gross from four to five hundred dollars, but the expenses this year were also greater than ever before. At that, it is estimated that the net amount should approximate $1500, all of which will be turned over to the Bellefonte hospital.

Girls Win Sparks Scholarship Prizes.

Two girl residents of State College were awarded the President Sparks prizes for having attained high scholarship at Penn State College, at special exercises held on Tuesday of last week. Miss Anna Haddow, who won the prize last year, was awarded the certificate this year, and Miss Helen E. Cleaver won the medal.

Brotherhood Elects Officers.

At a meeting of St. John's Lutheran Brotherhood, held Monday evening at the home of Harry A. Smith, the following officers were elected: President, Horace J. Hartranft; vice-president, Myron W. Cobb; secretary, Francis H. Crawford; treasurer, Harry Johnston. Following the meeting the thirty-five men were invited by the retiring officers, Thomas S. Hazel, H. A. Smith and D. A. Barlett, to the Hazel home, where a fine fried oyster supper had been prepared by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Hazel, Mrs. Barlett, Mrs. Ed. Garbrick and Mrs. Herman Hazel. It was a great evening of fun and fine fellowship.

Y. M. C. A. News Notes.

The Lyceum star course entertainments will open on Thursday evening, November 15th, with the appearance in the court house of the National Male Quartette, in vocal and instrumental music. Season tickets, $3.00; juniors, $1.25; single admission, 75 cents.

The bowling league will open the winter tournament this (Friday) evening, when the grocers will meet the Titans, and the Electric Supply company team goes up against the clerks.

During the month of October 1723 games have been rolled on the alleys. Four sets of new pins will be put in play on the opening night. Some of the teams are in fine shape and exciting contests may be expected.

Temporarily Saved from the Electric Chair.

Aneglo Fargasso and Marcentonio Daniele, two alleged Black Hand Italians convicted in Washington county of killing Gabriele Fiori, of East Canonsburg, escaped electrocution at the Rockview penitentiary on Monday morning by a close shave. Taking no chances of possible attempt at rescue the sheriff of Washington county transported the two men from Washington, Pa., to Rockview by automobile. Traveling in three cars and accompanied by a half dozen burly guards the party left Washington at midnight last Friday night and drove to Centre county, delivering their prisoners to the authorities at Rockview about noon on Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon men interested in the fate of the two Italians brought to the attention of Governor Pinchot an alleged confession on the part of Fargasso that Daniele had taken no part in the murder, which resulted in a stay being granted on Sunday evening until the week of December 10th, in order that the case may again be taken before the board of pardons.

Planning to Rush Work at Rockview Penitentiary.

Plans for hurrying construction of tiers of cells at the Rockview penitentiary to relieve over-crowded conditions in the eastern and western penitentiaries were discussed in Harrisburg at a meeting last week of the trustees of the western penitentiary, warden John Egan, superintendent of construction J. O. Stutzman, Governor Pinchot, Dr. Ellen Potter and Attorney General Woodruff.

The plans involve expenditure of $250,000 remaining from the unexpended 1921 appropriation for building construction, and $245,000 appropriated this year. Mr. Woodruff was asked whether the unexpended funds which originally were appropriated for tiers of concrete cell blocks could be used for some other form of construction work which would bring more speedy relief.

Among the plans discussed was one for the erection of permanent dormitories to accommodate about 200 prisoners each, with a permanent plan for separate buildings in the general scheme of Rockview construction. The plans do not contemplate scraping tiers already constructed for by the old board.

The Attorney General also was asked if limestone quarried at Rockview by prisoners could be sold to the highway department for road construction work.

WANTED

A Partner in a Great Humanitarian Enterprise.

"Will you become a stockholder in the American Red Cross?" said a great philosopher. "I can think of no better way of spending one's time and money than trying to make this old world a better, happier and more pleasant place for everybody to live in." Will you do your share? The Red Cross needs your support. America's great humanitarian effort in behalf of stricken Japan early in September gave the answer to the question, "What is there for the Red Cross to do in time of peace?" Preparedness to take the field when relief is needed is a charter duty of the Red Cross. Without a membership enrolled in every community in the land this readiness would be impossible. Since opinion is divided between the importance of National and local work, the classes of membership are herewith explained:

CLASSES OF MEMBERSHIP.

The classes of American National Red Cross memberships, the amount of the dues for each, the purposes to which these dues are devoted, and the way in which they are divided, are indicated below:

Class of membership and amount of dues: Annual, $1.00; contributing, $5.00; sustaining, $10.00; supporting, $25.00. Fifty cents out of each one of the above goes to the support of national and international Red Cross work, while for the support of the work in our home community the apportionment is 50 cts., $4.50, $9.50 and $24.50 respectively. Life memberships are $50.00 and patrons $100.00, devoted entirely to the permanent endowment fund, only the interest on which can be used for general relief purposes.

If you desire to divide your membership equally, then become a one-dollar member when fifty cents goes to national work, fifty to local. If you prefer to support local more generously than national work, lump your one-dollar memberships in a family, say into a two or three-dollar membership when only fifty cents will go to the National Red Cross. The educational work of our Red Cross public health nursing service has been brought to you monthly through reports published in all the town papers, as well as the yearly report published last week. Details of one day's work are shown in "A Day with the Red Cross Nurse."

9-9:30—Office hours; call from physician to visit patient in Lyontown.

9:30-9:45—Worked on records; errand to drug store.

9:45-12—Visited schools in High building; examined heads of thirty pupils.

12-1 p. m.—Dinner.

1-1:30—Office hours.

1:30-2:30—Returned to schools; examined heads of fifteen pupils.

2:30-3:15—Home visit to child needing glasses; accompanied child to oculist and return home.

3:15-3:30—One home visit to school child.

3:30-5:30—Home visit to patient in Lyontown; gave enema, made bed and did what was possible to make patient comfortable.

Pitt Freshmen Here on Saturday.

The Pitt Freshmen will play the Bellefonte Academy football team on Hughes field tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock. Mark the change in time of game which is made to enable the visitors to return home on the evening train. The price of admission for this game will be $1.00, owing to the greatly increased expense of securing the above team. Regular college football of fifteen minute quarters will be played, so that the fans will get their money's worth. Four of last year's Academy team are playing on the Pitt Freshmen team this year, with one of them captaining the team. The Academy will use a lot of new plays on Saturday that they have never used before. Watch them.

Stricken While Hunting.

Just shortly after he had entered the woods near his home, early yesterday morning, A. B. Tanyer, of Pine Grove Mills, suffered a stroke of paralysis.

How badly he is effected was not known at our time of going to press, as he had not then been brought out of the woods.

Vote for Smith for Treasurer.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Miss Carrie Neiman spent Wednesday in Bellefonte, looking after some business relative to her farm up Dix Run.

Mrs. Sallada Shutt returned last Saturday, from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Gates and family, in Johnstown.

Miss Marie Royer was home for a Hallow-eeen visit, leaving early yesterday morning to resume her work at the Altoona hospital.

Miss Rebecca Rhoads has been in Washington this week, attending the National conference of the chaplains of the Army and Navy.

Miss Sara Moore, of Centre Line, a teacher in the schools of Stormstown, was a guest last week of Mrs. Nora Ferguson, while here attending institute.

Mrs. Jack Mitchell, of Lemont, was in Bellefonte over Sunday, for one of her occasional visits with Miss Margaret Stewart and her brothers at their home on Linn street.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Grove are among those from Centre county who are anticipating driving to Pittsburgh next month to attend the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Grange.

Vince Bauer, store manager for the Greer Supply Co., at Greer, West Virginia, is back home for a visit until after the election. While here Mr. Bauer might dispose of his properties on Bishop street.

Dr. and Mrs. George Kirk, of Kylesburg, spent part of Wednesday in Bellefonte, on their way home from State College, where they had been to see their two sons, Robert and Thomas, who are Freshmen at Penn State.

Mr. and Mrs. Linn Harris, of Lock Haven, were among those who came to Bellefonte Wednesday for the Elk's carnival; visiting while here with Mr. Harris' father, John P. Harris, at Mrs. Warfield's, in Petrikin hall.

Mrs. Helen Malin Shugert and her daughter, Mrs. Rufus Lochrie, with the latter's two children, have been here from Central City, Cambria county, visiting with Mrs. Shugert's sister, Miss Sara Malin, at her home on Howard street.

A party of teachers, including Miss Marion Seigfried and Miss Helen Henry, of the North Phillipsburg schools, and Miss Anna Bowers and Miss Grace Harpster, of the Phillipsburg schools, took time to make us a call last week, which we greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Olmstead, of Philadelphia, here to speak before the conference of women's clubs, on "Peace," which she continued at the regular meeting of the Woman's club, of Bellefonte, Monday night, was a house guest during her stay, of Mrs. Beach and Miss Blanchard.

Mrs. Harvey Griffith has returned home from her annual visit of several months in the east. Leaving here during the summer she went directly to Wildwood, N. J., for the remainder of the year, later going to Philadelphia, where she had been with her son, J. C. Dawson and his family.

Mrs. John J. Bower went to Philadelphia a week ago, for a visit with her son, John J. Jr., who has been with the Westinghouse Electric Co. since leaving Bellefonte almost a year ago. John's only visit back home in that time was for Labor day, which allowed him the week-end with the family and his many friends here.

Joseph W. Undercoffer is again back on the job as baggage agent at the Pennsylvania railroad depot after taking a two week's vacation, a part of which time was spent by him and Mrs. Undercoffer on a trip to Pittsburgh and New York. In the latter city Mr. Undercoffer took in the Penn State-West Virginia football game last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Macker, with their car loaded down with provisions and tents for camping left yesterday morning to motor to Florida where they will spend the winter months. Mr. Macker has not yet decided where he will locate, but after reaching that State will investigate conditions in various cities and towns and then decide on a place which offers the best opportunity for taxi service.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Schmidt will arrive home today or tomorrow from their two week's vacation spent in Philadelphia and Washington. In the latter city they attended a meeting of the Pennsylvania Society, last Friday evening, at which Lloyd George was the guest of honor. Cabinet members present included Secretaries Davis, Weeks and Hoover. Hon. Clyde Kelly is president of the Society.

Miss Sarah Bayard will come here from Atlantic City today, to be a guest for a week of Mrs. Elsie Rankin Hellivell, at the home of her father, William B. Rankin. The visit to Bellefonte at this time being made by Miss Bayard that she may look after the sale, Monday, of some of the Bayard furniture which has been in storage since the family left Bellefonte. Miss Bayard is a nurse by profession, and has just returned from the Berkshire mountains, where she spent the summer with a patient.

The women who represented Bellefonte at the annual county conference of clubs, held in Phillipsburg, Saturday, were: Miss Overton, Miss Hill, Mrs. Robert Mills Beach, Mrs. Daniel Grove, Mrs. John S. Walker, Mrs. R. S. Brouse, Mrs. John Porter Lyon, Mrs. Jacob Hoy, Mrs. Roy Wilkinson, Miss Rebecca Rhoads, Miss Daise Ketchline, Mrs. Charles Garbrick, Miss Nora Stover and Mary Gray Meek. The women were guests for the drive, of Miss Rhoads, Mrs. Walker, D. A. Grove and Roy Wilkinson.

George C. Bingham, purchasing agent for the American Lime & Stone company, is entertaining his father, George C. Bingham Sr., of Pottstown, and his brother, John R. Bingham, and a gentleman friend, of Reading. They came to Bellefonte on Wednesday evening and yesterday morning the four of them, accompanied by Rev. W. P. Ard, went over to the Seven Mountains with the intention of bagging a turkey pie, but owing to the fact that the "Watchman" went to press before they returned home we are unable to state if they made good their intentions.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lose visited recently in Bellefonte with the Lose and Curry families; stopping here on their way back to Philadelphia from Altoona, where they had been, securing an apartment in anticipation of moving there. After a residence in Philadelphia of fifteen years, Mr. Lose, who is one of the P. R. Co.'s very efficient inspectors, has been transferred to Altoona, that he may be near his work, which is over the division between Altoona and Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Lose will sell their home in Philadelphia and go to the Penn Alto in Altoona the first of December.

Mrs. John I. Olewine will leave shortly for a stay of several weeks in Atlantic City.

Miss Louise Hoffer went over to Phillipsburg last Friday afternoon to visit her mother, Mrs. C. T. Hoffer, and to attend a children's masquerade at the home of her brother, John Hoffer; returning to Bellefonte on Sunday evening.

Many Hunters Out Yesterday for Opening of Hunting Season.

Wild turkeys, pheasant, quail, squirrel, rabbits and bear, are now legal game for the hunter's gun, the season for all the above having opened yesterday and will continue for one month, with the exception of bear and rabbits, which extend to December 15th.

Naturally the woods were full of hunters yesterday morning, about ninety per cent. of the men who owned a gun, or could borrow one, having gone out to try their luck. Wild turkeys and pheasants were the prizes sought by most of the hunters, as it is a little too warm for rabbits and squirrel are not plentiful enough to be attractive to the hunter who covets some return for his time and labor.

While wild turkeys are not overrunning the woodlands nice flocks of them have been reported in various sections of the county, and the hunter who is able to bring one down has something worth carrying home. Pheasants are quite numerous in all sections of the county and most of the hunters made a try at bagging a few of them.

Bazaar and Food Sale.

The Ladies Aid society of the Baptist church at Milesburg will hold a bazaar and food sale in the firemen's hall, in that place, November 16th and 17th. Thrifty housewives are urged not to bake on those days but patronize the sale and buy home-made bread, cakes, pies and candy. If advance notice is given the kind of pies and cakes you like best will be made for you. Sandwiches and coffee will also be on sale. Bazaar open from 4 until 8 p. m.

ELIZABETH WETZLER, President.

On Tuesday of last week Lancy Grimm, a colored prisoner, was transferred from the western penitentiary to Rockview, but he evidently did not like his quarters as he escaped last Saturday. He was recaptured, however, on Tuesday up Buffalo Run valley and is now in the Centre county jail waiting for an interview with Judge Quigley.

Matthews — Maguire. — Thomas Matthews, of Hawk Run, and Miss Ethel B. Maguire, of Morrisdale, were married at the Methodist parsonage in Bellefonte, on Monday, by the pastor, Rev. E. M. McKelvey.

The Campfire girls of Bellefonte on Wednesday morning mailed to the Bellefonte hospital a check for $110, the net proceeds of their home talent play, "Springtime."
