December 17th next will be the twentieth birthday anniversary of the airplane. It was at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, December 17th, 1903, that Wilbur Wright, now deceased, and his brother Orville successfully flew the first heavier than air machine.

In announcing the generous donation given by the people of Buffalo Run valley to the Bellefonte hospital the "Watchman," last week made a mistake. Miss Elizabeth Green was credited with giving two quarts of fruit when it should have been eighteen quarts.

A surprise shower was given Miss Florence Lamb, at the Cooney home on Bishop street, last evening, in honor of her approaching marriage to Frank Godshall, of Camden, N. J., the happy event to take place shortly after Christmas. Mr. Godshall taught one session in the Bellefonte High school about six years ago and is now teaching in Camden.

The Penn State football team was completely outgeneraled and outplayed in their Thanksgiving day game with Pitt, at Pittsburgh, losing by the score of 20 to 3. The Pitt players knew practically every play of Bezedek's warriors as soon as the signals were called and concentrated their efforts in checkmating it. It was a rather disappointing ending to an otherwise glorious season.

When your brain is in a whirl and you are all fagged with Christmas shopping go to the scenic and watch the motion pictures. Forget your troubles for the time being and enjoy yourself. Manager Brown is putting splendid programs on the screen every night and the scenic is the only place that offers entertainment every evening during the week. The movement for a big sesquicentennial in Philadelphia has almost gone a glimmer. The temporary organization was reduced on Monday by the discharge of forty clerks and workers, as well as the centennial director, Col. John Price Jackson, for many years a resident of State College, but late of Washington, D. C. Col. Jackson was appointed some time during the summer at a salary of $10,000 per year.

Beautiful and impressive exercises characterized the annual memorial services held by the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks, in Petrikin hall, on Sunday. The address by Hon. James A. Gleason, of DuBois, was a beautiful tribute to the deceased members and a plea for devotion to the high ideals of faith, hope and charity, established fundamentals of the order. The music furnished by the Choral Society was exceptionally appropriate.

A freight wreck on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, between Howard and Engleville, on Monday morning, tied up traffic so that it was necessary for the morning trains to transfer passengers, mail and express at the scene of the wreck, and the west-bound train did not reach Bellefonte until almost twelve o'clock. The road was opened for traffic, however, in time for the Pennsylvania-Lehigh train east. None of the trainmen were injured in the wreck but a carload of dishes in transit were smashed and chinaware was scattered around in profusion.

After two months' treatment for a badly broken ankle, at the Medical-Chi hospital in Philadelphia, R. Allen Hoy was brought back to Bellefonte on Wednesday of last week and is now undergoing further treatment at the Bellefonte hospital. Mr. Hoy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Hoy, of Benner township, and was taking a last year's course at State College. On September 26th he went to his father's farm to help pick apples, a limb broke and he fell to the ground crushing every bone in his right ankle. He has now recovered to that extent that he is able to get around on crutches.

MANY DEER SLAUGHTERED. The Seven Mountains Again the Favorite Hunting Grounds.

The first legally killed deer of the season to be brought into Bellefonte was hauled in on a Ford fliver shortly after two o'clock on Saturday afternoon by James Hillard and his two sons, Herbert and Reuben. The three men left Bellefonte about daylight and drove to Scotia where they left their truck and started west through the Barrens. They had proceeded about a mile and were walking on the old roadbed of the Scotia branch of the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad when a big buck stepped out of the woods some distance ahead of them and stopped broadside. Mr. Hillard took a crack at it and his son Herbert shot a second or two later, both shots taking effect and bringing the buck to earth. By ten o'clock they had the deer hanging up and dressed. On reaching Bellefonte in the afternoon they took the carcass to Eckel's meat market to be skinned and cut up. It was a fine, four pronged buck and weighed 147 pounds.

The first hunting party to get the limit was the Modocks, of Boalsburg, in camp at the old Ross place in the Seven mountains. They got six deer before dinner time on Saturday. Of course many more deer were killed in that vast mountainous section on the opening day, and the greatest wonder is that any escaped the vast horde of hunters who literally overran that famous hunting ground. Incident thereto might be mentioned the fact that last Friday just seventy-five hunters by actual count came to Bellefonte on the Pennsylvania-Lehigh train from points in the western part of the State and went out on the Lewisburg train, all bound for the Seven mountains. On Thursday there were fifty-four while about two dozen went over on Wednesday and a dozen or more went over on Saturday and Sunday. Add this big influx of hunters to the hundreds from Centre county and it makes an army of gunmen almost large enough to cover every square rod in the Seven mountains.

Last year's reports showed that over two hundred bucks were killed in the Seven mountain region, and notwithstanding this woeful slaughter the bucks seem to be as plentiful this year as last. In fact it is just possible that the count at the end of the season will show more deer killed this year than last, and it is only natural to wonder where they all come from. True it is, that the protection of does has a lot to do with the natural increase in the deer family, but even that will hardly account for the many bucks, as bucks with three and four point antlers do not grow in one year.

But it matters little to the Centre county hunter whether they are grown in the mountains of this section or migrate, so long as they are here to afford him sport during the fifteen days of the hunting season.

Among the early kills, last Saturday morning, was a nice buck shot in a meadow near the Frank Carson store at Potter's Mills by Ira Auman. The animal had likely been frightened out of the mountain by hunters making an early drive and Mr. Auman got his venison without going to the woods for it.

The Woodward Rod and Gun club, with which Judge Quigley and editor T. H. Harter were hunting, got two bucks on their first drive Saturday morning then quit for the day.

The Shuey party, of Bellefonte and vicinity, in camp at the old Nevill place back of Colyer, got one buck on Saturday but should have had four. With the party were W. J. Emerick, of Bellefonte, and his cousin, and according to reports both missed easy shots at big bucks, and for so doing they were sent to the woodpile to cut enough wood to last over Sunday.

Of course with so many hunters in the woods and every man anxious to get his deer it was a foregone conclusion that mistakes would be made which would result in illegal killings, but considering everything the number has really been small so far. Up to Tuesday evening five such deer, two spike bucks with horns less than six inches in length, and three does, were brought into Bellefonte by game protector Thomas A. Mosier and taken to Gettig's meat market to be cut up for use at the Bellefonte hospital. A spike buck and a doe were brought in from Musser's gap, the buck having been shot by Frank Rice, of Cambria county, and the doe killed by some party unknown. A spike buck was shot at Woodward by A. M. Hoy, of Millersburg, and a doe at Ingelby, by Dewey Hatfield, of Girardville, while another doe was sent in by G. A. Reed, of Pine Grove Mills. In each instance the man who did the killing paid his fine.

On Wednesday six more does were brought to Bellefonte, which makes eleven up to Wednesday evening. Seven hunters have paid their fines of $100 each and game warden Mosier expects settlement from at least two others who are known. As the meat of so many deer is more than the Bellefonte hospital can use some of it will be given to the borough home while two deer were sent to an institution in Lebanon and two to Freeport, Pa.

Last reports from the Modock hunting club comes the information that they have added a bear to their six deer, the lucky shot being Robert Bailey. Mr. Bailey, by the way, killed one of the deer, got a wild turkey during the open season and shot his limit of pheasants.

On Tuesday a party of day hunters from Centre Hall, with whom Albert Rush, of Waynesburg, was hunting, got a fine buck on the mountain above Potter's Mills. The deer was shot by Mr. Rush and was taken to the home of forester William McKinney where it was hung up in the yard and dressed. Between seven and eight o'clock in the evening, while the men were in Mr. McKinney's house, some persons unknown entered the yard, cut down the deer and carried it away. A reward of $25.00 has been offered for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the thief.

Following is the list of deer killed in the Seven mountain section up to Wednesday evening, as reported by forester McKinney:

- The Spring Mills party 2. Brown hunting club 3. Lewistown hunters 1. The Williams crowd 3. The Decker party 1. The Selingsgrove club 1. The Latrobe hunters 3. The Sweetwood gang 6. Among the day hunters up in Ferguson township who got their deer were Samuel Fleming, Irvin Keller, Harry Gearhart, Lester Harpster, Lloyd Ripka, Will Gummo, Will Foster, who killed his on the way to camp; Ralph Heberling and Albert Rossman. Rev. McAlarney wounded one that was later brought to earth by Ernest Dreiblebis.

The Wilson club have 2. The Fleetfoots 4. The Bailey club 2. The Sholl's gap crowd 2 deer and 2 foxes. The Shoemaker party 3 deer and a bear.

Down in the lower end of the county thirty or more deer have been killed, the Woodward party having four to their credit.

The Riley party in the Bear Meadows have 4. The Foster crowd, of State College, got two the first day and no report has been received since.

A HUNTING ACCIDENT. The first hunting accident in this section of the State occurred on Tuesday when Charles Heimer, of lower Bald Eagle valley, was shot through the leg below the hip by Roy Heverly, of Beech Creek. Both men are members of the Bullock hunting party composed of the above two men and Willis Bullock and Harry Park. Their camp is located sixteen miles from Beech Creek, away back in the Alleghenies. In moving through the thick underbrush Heimer was mistaken for a deer by his fellow hunter. The wounded man was carried in on a stretcher and sent to the Lock Haven hospital.

Only five members were present at the regular meeting of borough council, on Monday evening. A communication was received from Bottorf Bros., electricians and dealers in auto supplies, requesting permission to erect a sign seven feet long and thirty-four inches wide across the pavement in front of their store on Bishop street. The matter was referred to the Street committee.

The Street committee reported the collection of $53.23 from the State Highway Department for the use of the road roller and $2.50 from the sale of old material.

The Water committee reported the collection by the borough manager of $1100.00 on the 1922 water duplicate turned over to him at the last meeting of borough council. Also $21.50 from the Bellefonte Lumber company and $9.75 from W. C. Witmer for fittings, etc. The committee also recommended that the 1923 water duplicate totalling $10,121.50, and the meter bills for the quarter ending July 1st, 1923, totalling $1,329.61, be turned over to the Keystone Power corporation for collection. The committee presented checks for $206.25 which had already been paid in on the 1923 duplicate.

The Fire and Police committee reported that one battery of the gasoline tanks on south Potter street has been fenced in since the last meeting of council and arrangements have been made to fence in the others within a few days.

Borough manager Seibert suggested to council the advisability of placing insurance on the borough dump truck, and he was instructed to secure rates and report at the next meeting of council.

Mr. Flack called attention to the good work of the firemen in extinguishing the fire in the D. A. Barlett home, on east Curtin street, on Tuesday evening of last week, and suggested that because of the town's efficient equipment an effort should be made to obtain a reduction in insurance rates. The matter was referred to the Fire and Police committee to take up with the various agents and have them take the matter up with the authorized underwriter for this district.

Bills amounting to $2827.91 were approved for payment, after which council adjourned.

Pardons Recommended for Centre County Boys.

The board of pardons has recommended pardons for Joseph Schimco and Sandy Fedora, two sixteen year old boys of Munson, convicted at the May term of court of assaulting on two young girls and now serving time in the Huntingdon reformatory.

A pardon was also recommended for Michael McGaffin, serving a term in the western penitentiary for battery, breaking and escaping. McGaffin was sent to the penitentiary from Potter county in 1917 for four to five years for stealing a box of tomatoes. In due course of time he was transferred to Rockview and with four others escaped in the latter part of 1919. He made his way to West Virginia, where he worked in a lumber camp, but was finally located, captured and brought back to Centre county. In March, 1920, he pleaded guilty to breaking and escaping and was given the usual sentence prescribed in such cases. And now, after six years behind prison doors he is to be pardoned.

Tyrone Division Freight Brakeman Killed.

Joseph C. Welch, a freight brakeman on the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania railroad, with a run between Altoona and Lock Haven, was instantly killed at his home at Orchard Crossing, near Tyrone, about 7:45 o'clock on Saturday evening. Welch had gone from his home to a tower a short distance away to telephone for orders. Leaving the tower to return home he was forced to wait until a freight train passing. While standing on the track a shifting engine approached unnoticed and ran over him, killing him instantly.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welch and was born at Vall thirty-six years ago. Surviving him are his wife and seven children; his father, three brothers and two sisters. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Relief association. Burial was made at Bald Eagle on Monday afternoon.

Condemned Murderer Sent Back to Franklin County.

On Tuesday of last week Judge George S. Crisswell, of Franklin county, pronounced sentence of death on Lawrence Roberts, a negro, convicted the week previous of killing his father-in-law, and on Wednesday sheriff Voorhies and a deputy brought Roberts to the Rockview penitentiary for admission to the death house to await the day for his electrocution. The officers were unaware of the fact that condemned men are not kept there any length of time and inasmuch as the date of electrocution had not been set by the Governor the penitentiary officials could not receive the man and the officers were compelled to take him back to Franklin county and keep him in the jail there until ordered to bring him to Rockview.

About Time for Motorists to Rebel.

Owners of automobiles are certainly being played for all they will stand by the State Highway Department.

After raising the license fees several years ago and then compelling all owners to pay for a certificate of ownership they are coming through with another scheme to mulct more from the owner of the machine.

The 1924 tags are being sent out, but when you get yours you won't receive a license card that will permit you to drive your own car. There is the joker that nobody seems to have discovered. For the last year's fee you get a license to own your car, but none to drive it. After January 1st you will get another blank to fill out and then you pay a dollar more to get a card that will permit you to drive your own car.

Talking about getting the motorists, going and coming, this seems to be a fine little example of it.
