Christmas Cheer to be Liberally Distributed in Bellefonte and Vicinity.

Any one strolling the streets of Bellefonte and watching the hundreds of shoppers, men, women and young people, buying Christmas gifts for friends probably never stop to think about the unfortunate ones who are denied that privilege; some who have denied that privilege for the actual needs of life let alone the purchase of a few extra things which makes of Christmas a day of happiness and joy. Bellefonte, as a town, and the surrounding community are perhaps more fortunate in this respect than most places. There are few cases, if any, of the extremely needy, but there are various homes in which a little assistance will make the sun shine on Christmas day and swell with gladness the hearts of children who otherwise might have a dreary time of it. And this is leading up to the fact that the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks, with their usual generosity, will again play Santa Claus this year. They have a fund of about four hundred dollars which will be used in the most advantageous way possible to carry the glad tidings into all the homes where aid is needed. Various private individuals have regular lists of names to whom they give baskets of cheer the night before Christmas, so that the spirit of good fellowship flows fully and freely and the only hope is that not a single deserving case may be overlooked.

The Christmas spirit will also pervade the walls of the western penitentiary at Rockview. All work will be suspended, and various groups of inmates will take turns in doing kitchen duty and caring for the stock. Three extra fine meals will be served during the day, with special emphasis on the dinner. In the evening there will be wrestling and boxing bouts between the inmates, with music and sufficient diversion to make the day as Christmassy as possible.

The twelve inmates in the Centre county jail will be served the same kind of a dinner that is placed on the sheriff's table, which naturally will include chicken and all the extras.

Community Christmas Tree Sunday Evening.

Several years ago the Campfire Girls inaugurated the custom of a community Christmas tree in Bellefonte, and we are glad to report that the tree will be in evidence on the Diamond again this year. Mr. Charles Bilger has donated the tree which, he avers, is one of the biggest and best he has ever seen. It will be erected and wired tomorrow and on Sunday evening will be illuminated with the hundred or more colored electric lights contributed by the Elks. Cecil Walker and Willis E. Wilson will be in charge of the carol singing and the Campfire Girls invite everybody to join in singing the old Christmas songs. Santa Claus has sent a message to the children that the business men have given him an enormous pack and he will be ready for one thousand kiddies. The tree will be lighted at nine o'clock on Sunday evening, after the church services, and the Campfire Girls will be present to look after the crowd.

Don't Cut Your Christmas Tree Without Asking Owner.

There is a law in Pennsylvania which makes it a misdemeanor for any person to go on the land of another and cut Christmas trees without getting the consent of the owner. The law provides a fine of $500 and imprisonment not exceeding three months. The purpose of the law is to protect timber lands from ruthless and indiscriminate cutting of trees. Ordinarily, however, the average land owner, if asked in the right way, will grant permission to cut a tree.

Christmas Hours at the Postoffice.

The city carriers will make the early morning delivery and collection on Christmas morning and all the windows will be open from 11 to 11:30 o'clock in the morning at the Bellefonte postoffice to enable patrons to get any belated Christmas mail. On orders from the second assistant Postmaster General, however, no rural deliveries will be made on Christmas day.

The beautiful midnight Mass, as on other years, will be held at St. John's Episcopal church on Monday, Christmas Eve, beginning promptly at 11:15 p. m., a quarter of an hour before midnight. This service gives an opportunity of worshipping at the Manger of Bethlehem in a way sanctified by the devout custom of many centuries, and at a time before other distractions of the day interfere.

"Christmas Sing," Sunday evening in the lecture room of the Methodist church. This service will begin promptly at 6:30, so please go early if you want the benefit of the entire program. Everybody cordially invited. Sunrise never service Christmas morning 10:30. Everybody welcome.

The beautiful Christmas cantata, "The Light of the World," will be sung in the Reformed church next Sunday evening at 7:30, by the united choirs of the Presbyterian and Reformed churches, under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Krader. The public is cordially invited.

R. M. Stultz's cantata, "The King Cometh," in three parts, as follows: A King is Promised; the Incarnation and the King Born, to be sung by the choir of the Methodist church, Sunday evening, under the leadership of Miss Rachel Shuey, will have a prominent part in the church service in celebration of Christmas. The public is cordially invited to join the Methodists for this special service.

No "Watchman" Next Week.

Please don't overlook the fact that the "Watchman" will not make its appearance next Friday morning, as usual. Somewhat weary with the steady grind of six months the entire force is going to take a week's vacation. In the meantime we trust that Santa Claus will be generous with each and every one who reads this item, that your Christmas may be very, very merry and your New Year exceedingly happy and prosperous.

Filipines Generous with Music.

The Philippine quartette, which gave such a splendid concert in the court house on Wednesday night of last week, were extremely generous with their music. While in Bellefonte they went to the High school and gave a half hour's concert then went to the Bellefonte Academy and played for an hour. An incident in connection with their visit to the Academy might be of interest to friends of that institution.

Shortly after the close of the Spanish-American war in 1898 Mr. James R. Hughes read of the establishment of an academy at Cavite, in the Philippines. He promptly decided it would be a gracious act to present an American flag to the budding educational institution and communicated his desire to the War Department. His offer was promptly accepted and officials of the department agreed to deliver the flag and make the presentation in the name of the Bellefonte Academy. And now twenty-five years later a quartette of splendid musicians from the Philippines honored his school with a free concert. While the members of the quartette are not residents of Cavite when in their native country they know of the academy to which Mr. Hughes sent the flag.
