

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

How many times this week have you forgotten to write it 1924? A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kane, of Potter street, on Monday.

This is leap year and the wary bachelor will have to tread the straight and narrow path.

Mrs. Frank D. Lee, of Centre Hall, fell in her bedroom, last Friday, and sustained such serious injury that she was brought to the Bellefonte hospital on Saturday. An X-ray examination on Sunday disclosed the fact that a small bone in her hip had been fractured by the fall.

Chester Ingram, a negro of Fayette county, was electrocuted at the Rockview penitentiary on Monday morning, having been convicted of murdering George F. Riley, of Philadelphia, a special officer in the employ of the H. C. Frick Coal company at Edenborn, last March.

F. W. Martin, who gave his home as Bellefonte, was held up in Altoona on the evening of December 20th, robbed of his purse containing between $40 and $50, some Christmas presents he had purchased and his car, in which the bold highwaymen escaped. So far as known the robbers have not been apprehended.

About fifty couples attended the first assembly of the Penn-Centre chapter Order of DeMolay, held in the Bush Arcade hall last Friday evening. The affair was such a pleasant event that the members anticipate holding others during the year. The chapter's membership now numbers 136, and their meetings are held in the Masonic temple.

Now that the holiday season is over and there is nothing to attract any unusual attention the people of Bellefonte and vicinity can find good entertainment at the scenic every evening in the week except Sunday. If you are a movie fan be a regular and see all the good ones; if not a fan, get the habit and you'll have many an evening of pleasant pastime.

A twelfth-night mystery play of the Nativity of Christ will be given by the children of St. John's Episcopal Sunday school, this (Friday) evening, in the parish house, west Lamb street, at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited. There will be no admission charged, but a collection will be taken for Near East relief. Those who have seen the mystery play as given by the children other years will not want to miss the production this year.

Through a clipping from a recent issue of one of the Pottstown papers we learn of the very successful work of Harry Mentzer, who was physical trainer at the Y. M. C. A. in Bellefonte, before going to Pottstown. The article speaks particularly of a Father and Son's banquet, arranged for by Mr. Mentzer and given to between two and three hundred men and boys, it being the most successful affair of its kind ever held in that city. This is only one of the events through which Mr. Mentzer is making himself so popular and winning for himself a place in the Y. M. C. A. work of Pennsylvania.

We are under obligations to Mrs. L. James, of Lake Helen, Florida, for a Christmas remembrance in the form of a delicious confection which she is now marketing. Made from the tender pulp of the grapefruit, it is crystallized into a most appetizing and refreshing sweet, put up in attractively decorated tin boxes of one pound each and sent, post-paid, anywhere, for $1.00. For evening or afternoon entertainment, or for after-dinner sweets nothing could be more delicious to include among your refreshments. Mrs. James has many friends in Centre county, being a member of the well known Bruggler family, of Unionville.

Announcement has been made of the wedding, over a year ago, of Frederic Glenn Tibbens, of Johnstown, and Miss Jeanette Evelyn Lloyd, of Houtzdale. The ceremony was performed Thursday, December 7, 1922, at the Presbyterian parsonage in Houtzdale, by the Rev. John Mitchell, D. D., witnessed by a few relatives. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lloyd, of Houtzdale, and is a popular member of the younger social set of that town. The groom, who is the elder son of Harry Ulmer Tibbens, formerly of Bellefonte, is a graduate of the Wheeling, W. Va., High school and is a Senior at The Pennsylvania State College in the civil engineering course. The newlyweds will be located at 318 Market street, Johnstown, following the groom's graduation, until definite plans for the future are made.

FARMERS MAKE PLANS FOR COMING YEAR.

Annual Meeting of Centre County Farm Bureau.

Notwithstanding the fact that it rained most of the day on Saturday, December 22nd, sixty or more farmers attended the annual meeting of the Centre county Farm Bureau and the farm products show, held in the court house, and all of them felt well repaid in doing so.

At the business session in the morning county agent J. N. Robinson made his annual report which contained a resume of the work done during the year which included demonstrations in potato spraying, disease-free seed potatoes, potato fertilization experiment, poultry improvement, corn standardization, boys and girls potato and livestock clubs, sheep and wool co-operative association, cow testing association, wheat standardization, co-operation with Grange, Centre county farmers' co-operative association, other farmers' organizations as well as minor projects, calls to farms, office calls, etc. Each project was outlined and results obtained explained in detail after which the meeting was thrown open to a general discussion of various questions of interest.

J. M. Campbell, of Pennsylvania Furnace, gave an interesting talk on the several potato improvement projects carried on in the county and outlined the results of several years work, giving definite recommendations which should prove of advantage to all potato growers.

J. S. Dale, of State College, discussed the policies of the Farm Bureau toward all farmers organizations, telling the farmers that the bureau is willing and anxious to co-operate at all times in any movement that will have for its object the improvement of agricultural conditions. He gave specific examples of how the bureau has co-operated with the Grange during the past year, and especially in connection with the Grange encampment at Centre Hall, where it was successful in putting across an educational and agricultural pageant which was later presented at the Motor Square garden, in Pittsburgh, during the State and National Grange meetings.

Newton I. Wilson, of Halfmoon township, talked on the value to farmers of the series of meetings held throughout the county during the winter seasons. He stated that the people in his vicinity were well pleased and the topics discussed were practical questions in which every farmer is interested, especially the subjects of greater economy in the production and marketing of crops.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, J. M. Campbell, Pennsylvania Furnace; vice president, J. S. Dale, State College; secretary, J. Will Mayes, Howard; treasurer, W. C. Smeltzer, Bellefonte. The above officers, with the county agent, will appoint the executive committee in the near future.

At the afternoon session Dr. Fitz, of the bureau of animal industry, Harrisburg, talked on the eradication of tuberculosis among cattle in Pennsylvania, pointing out the fact that it would mean a large increase in the value of all herds. It would also mean much toward health improvement of the human family. Dr. Fitz stated that the time is fast drawing near when the milk consuming public will demand assurance that their milk comes from healthy cows. In this connection it might be stated that the farm products show held in the grand jury room was not as large as in former years but some very good qualities of produce and fruit were on exhibition. Prizes were awarded as follows:

Eggs, white.—1st and 2nd, Mrs. H. K. Mattern; 3rd, C. E. Close. Eggs, brown.—1st, Mrs. H. K. Mattern; 2nd, Lloyd White; 3rd, Mrs. H. K. Mattern.

Potatoes, white skin.—1st, Charles Campbell; 2nd, E. E. Swartz. Potatoes, russets.—1st, Charles Campbell; 2nd, J. H. Bailey; 3rd, Lloyd White.

Potatoes, early rose.—1st, E. E. Swartz. Corn, yellow dent.—Lloyd White. Corn, white cap.—Charles Campbell. Corn, silage.—A. C. Hartle. Wheat.—1st, Boyd Carner; 2nd, Charles Campbell.

Barley.—1st, Henry Zerby. Prize winners in the apple exhibit were D. H. Way, R. F. Glenn, J. S. Dale, and E. E. Swartz.

Hecla Park Sold Again. William C. Rowe has disposed of Hecla park, Centre county's popular picnic grounds, to A. F. Hockman, of that place. During the two years Mr. Rowe was the owner of the park he made quite a number of improvements which added greatly to its attractiveness as a summer resort for picnickers and evening dances. The price paid was $12,000, and the new owner will probably continue it as a pleasure resort.

Any person owing the late John A. McGinley for cigars will please communicate with Mrs. McGinley at earliest convenience. 1-1t

Next Week.

Tomorrow we expect to revise and correct our mailing list. All subscribers who have remitted so that their checks have reached this office by this date will please look at the label on their papers and ascertain whether they have been properly credited.

If we have made any errors kindly advise us at once so that proper correction can be made.

The extremely high price we are compelled to pay for the grade of paper on which the "Watchman" is printed necessitates saving at every point possible so that we have discontinued sending receipts unless they are specially requested.

The labels on all papers carry the date to which subscription is paid and within a reasonable time after any subscriber has remitted he or she can assure themselves that it has been received here and credited if the figures on the label advance to the date covered by the remittance.

Please check up on us by saving the label on this copy or on the wrapper you received it in and compare it with that on next week's issue.

DeMolay Officers Elected.

At a regular meeting of the Penn Centre chapter Order of DeMolay, last Thursday night, officers were elected and installed as follows: Master councillor, Warren L. Cobb; senior councillor, Nelson D. Zimmerman; junior councillor, Mahlon K. Robb; scribe, John Yeager; treasurer, Kenneth Mayes. The appointive officers included Russell Hill, Richard Sones, Joseph Katz, James Brooks, Sherwood Hobbobough, Willis McClellan, Paul Dubbs, Leonard Peters, Allison Hobbobough, Fred Fisher, Harold Shirk, Hoy Royer, Ned Willard, William Jones and Thurston Willard.

Penn State Athletes to be Guests of Honor at Banquet.

The Penn State club, of Philadelphia, of which Charles C. Hildebrand is president, will give a testimonial luncheon at the Adelphi hotel, Philadelphia, on Saturday, January 19th, at which the guests of honor will include coach Hugo Bezdek and the following State athletes: Bedenk and Wilson, of football fame; Alan Helfrich, Carter, Edgerton and Enck, of the world's championship two-mile relay team, and Nate Cartmell, the track coach. Jimmy Leyden and the quartette of the University glee club, of New York, will also be present.

Clyde and George Gray Paroled from Penitentiary.

At the December meeting of the State Board of Pardons Clyde and George Gray were both paroled from the western penitentiary in the custody of Grant Hoover, of Williamsport, and were released the Saturday before Christmas. The Gray case, which was tried at the December term of court, 1918, created considerable interest and both being convicted they were sentenced in two cases to an aggregate of not less than five years nor more than six, to date from February, 1919. Both men had thus almost completed their minimum sentence and their parole in the custody of Grant Hoover will mean that they will be obliged to report to him until automatically released by the expiration of the time of their sentence.

Mrs. Rachel Harris Victim of Train Accident.

Mrs. Rachel Harris, who went to Johnstown on Monday for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Van Pelt and family, was the victim of an accident on the train just as it was pulling into the Johnstown station and as a result will likely be laid up for some time as the result of her misfortune.

Mrs. Harris, who is afflicted with rheumatism, was standing in the aisle of the Pullman waiting to alight at the station when the quick halting of the car threw her to the floor. She had left her seat before the car stopped and with the aid of a cane had made her way to the front of the Pullman.

She was carried into the station and given medical treatment by Dr. J. S. Taylor, who took her to the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Van Pelt, of Somerset Pike, where it was found she was suffering with a fracture of the left thigh bone.

"Santa Claus" Badly Burned on Christmas.

Gregg Curtin who, on Christmas morning was playing Santa Claus in the distribution of baskets and gifts from the W. C. T. U. headquarters in Petrikin hall, was painfully burned on both hands and wrists when his Kris Kringle regalia caught fire from the spark of a match. The accident happened in the W. C. T. U. room, while he was assisting several ladies in preparing the baskets for delivery. He struck a match to light a cigarette and a live spark fell onto the fluffy cotton trimming of his bright red coat. The trimming caught fire and had it not been for the quick work of the ladies in smothering the flames with their coats Mr. Curtin would undoubtedly have been far more seriously burned. Notwithstanding the burns on his hands, however, he continued his work as Santa Claus until the entire distribution was completed.

New County Officers Will be Sworn in Next Monday.

The new county officials will be sworn into office next Monday morning and their induction will mean almost an entire change in county officials, the only exceptions being Roy Wilkinson, re-elected prothonotary, and Harry P. Austin, who will be the minority member of the board of county commissioners. At a meeting of the commissioners-elect the Saturday before Christmas, they made the following appointments:

Chief clerk—S. Claude Herr. Assistant clerk—Miss Marie Doll. County solicitor—S. D. Gettig. County physician—Dr. W. U. Irwin. Court house janitor—John Benner. Fireman—George Harpster.

Mr. Herr was a candidate at the recent election for prothonotary but was defeated by a narrow margin by Mr. Wilkinson. For a number of years past he has been the senior member of the firm of Herr & Heverly, but has arranged for the disposal of his interest to Mr. Heverly so that he will have no outside interests to detract from his service as chief clerk. He is efficient, courteous and accommodating and the new commissioners are to be commended upon their choice. In fact the same good judgment prevailed in all their appointments.

Sheriff Harry Dukeman has already moved most of his furniture and personal effects to his new home on South Water street and the new sheriff, E. R. Taylor, will move to the jail from Howard street early Monday morning, where he will take charge with John L. Dunlap as his deputy.

Register Harry A. Rossman will remain the services of Miss Geraldine Bilger while Recorder Lloyd A. Stover will be assisted by his daughter, Miss Madeline Stover. J. O. Heverly, the new county treasurer, will have the assistance for several months, at least, of the present deputy treasurer, Miss Verna Chambers.

The new county auditors will also be sworn into office next Monday and will begin their work of auditing the county accounts for the year 1923.

The First National Bank the Pioneer in Profit Sharing.

In view of the general practice of profit sharing now in force, it is a matter of peculiar interest that one of our local institutions, the First National Bank, was probably the first institution of its kind in the United States to adopt a profit sharing plan for the benefit of its employees.

In January, 1908, sixteen years ago, the board of directors of this bank put in force a plan by which, at each dividend period, a certain percentage of the net earnings was distributed to its clerks. The plan has been in successful operation ever since and results in a substantial increase of salary, dependent on the earnings for the period.

At the time of its adoption the idea was novel. Correspondence with leading financial journals was had with the view of learning the best method. The replies indicated that, so far as was known, no plan was in operation providing for regular and systematic profit sharing.

Since that time distributions on practically the lines then laid down have become the general practice.

The thirty-second semi-annual distribution will be made by the First National bank this week.

Forged Check to Buy a Ring for Sweetheart.

James E. Allen, the twenty year old youth of State College, who passed a forged check at the D. I. Willard & Son store about ten days before Christmas, was captured in Altoona on Wednesday evening of last week and is now under bail for his appearance for trial at the February term of court.

Prior to passing the worthless check in Bellefonte Allen dealt in high finance at State College. At the Crabtree jewelry store he purchased a diamond ring as a Christmas present for his sweetheart, giving in payment a bogus check for $62.50 and receiving $32.50 in change. He also negotiated a worthless check at the Twentieth Century shoe store. State College authorities knew the young man had a sweetheart in Altoona and notified the authorities there to be on the lookout for him. They were, and nabbed him at the young woman's home. He was brought back to Centre county but was able to give bail for his appearance at court.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Rees, of Erie, spent Christmas and part of the Holidays in Bellefonte with Mr. Rees' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rees, and Mrs. Rees' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hurley. Mr. and Mrs. Rees were also looking forward to having with them their son William, with his wife and daughter, of Indiana, Pa., but while moving several days before Christmas he had the misfortune to sustain a broken ankle, hence was not able to come and will probably be laid up for six weeks or longer.

Escaped Prisoner Recaptured.

Herman Beagler, one of the prisoners who escaped from the Rockview penitentiary last June, was recaptured at Nant-y-Glo, Cambria county, on December 21st, and brought to the Centre county jail the following day. Beagler was sent up from Clearfield county for from four to ten years for felonious assault and had less than a year of his minimum sentence to serve when he escaped. When called before Judge Quigley for sentence on December 26th the court told him that he had no discretionary power, and under the law was compelled to impose the same sentence he had originally received for escaping, but if he had a good record at the penitentiary at the end of a year he would join in an application for a pardon for him.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miller, of Erie, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter who arrived in their home on the 28th of December. Their Bellefonte friends extend congratulations.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Mrs. John W. Stuart, of State College, will leave tomorrow to spend the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Rachel Harris departed for Johnstown, on Monday afternoon where she is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. John Van Pelt.

Miss Winifred M. Gates spent from Saturday until New Year's evening in Johnstown visiting her brother, Edward L. Gates and family, as well as other relatives.

Miss Mabel Allison, of Spring Mills, left two weeks ago for Toronto, Canada, having planned to spend a month or more there with her brother Charles and his family.

Miss Betty Lockington returned Wednesday to Wellsboro, where she is instructor in French in the schools of that place. Miss Lockington had spent the vacation in Bellefonte with her parents.

Mrs. Joseph Neff, of Jacksonville, was in Bellefonte between trains on Saturday; returning from an over Christmas visit with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Neff, of State College.

Miss Anne Keichline went to Philadelphia last week to spend a month there in the interest of her work. During her stay in the city Miss Keichline will be a guest of Miss Shellenberger for the greater part of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Wetzel were in from Chicago for Christmas, the first visit back home since their marriage. While here their time was divided between the Barnhart family and Mr. Wetzel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wetzel.

Miss Hattie Hart, who has not been well for some time, accompanied her brother and his wife to Canada last week, hoping that a months visit there might be of benefit to her. Miss Hart's mother is also ill at the Hart home, on Spring street.

Miss Catharine Shaffer, who had been home to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Shaffer, of east High street, started back to the Indiana Normal, where she is a Junior, on Saturday. On her way she stopped off for a visit of a few days with friends in Altoona.

Frank Hockman, Lawrence McMullen and John Rossman will leave Hecla next week in the Hockman car, for Florida. The drive as now arranged will take ten days to go down, ten days are to be spent in motoring in Florida, and ten days for the return trip, bringing them home the first of February.

Mrs. Jennie Orvis Canfield, of Wyncote, has been with her daughter, Mrs. Louis Daggett and her family, at the Bush house, since before Christmas, expecting to remain here for a mid-winter visit with Mr. and Mrs. Daggett; her sister, Mrs. Harry Keller, and her brother, Judge Ellis L. Orvis.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan S. Garman, of Tyrone, were in Bellefonte on Monday for a short visit with members of Mr. Garman's family here prior to going to Florida for the winter. Al. expects to make Miami his first stop, but later in the season will move northward to Stewart. They expect to be gone until spring.

Mrs. Herbert Miller and her son Paul, with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Walker, motored to Philadelphia on Monday. Paul is a pupil in the Mt. Airy school and had been spending the Christmas vacation at home. With the party, as far as their home in Hanover, were Mrs. Raymond and Mrs. George Weller, both of whom spent the holiday season with relatives and friends here.

Among the "Watchman" office callers last week was James B. Lane, of Letonia, Ohio, who came in to spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Lane. Though it has been a number of years since his last visit to Bellefonte he looks the same "Jim" as in days of old, and is now anchored in a good position with a large iron manufacturing company at Letonia.

Mr. M. C. Haines, of Rebersburg, was a Bellefonte visitor on Thursday of last week. While in town he made it known that he has hoisted a political lightning rod so that should a lucky stroke happen to send a particular little plum tumbling it might be attracted his way. Certainly Mr. Haines comes from a family of stalwart Democrats and a district that commands consideration. Personally he is a gentleman who would dignify and capably fill almost any office.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Callaway, who has been at College Point, L. I., with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Garber, since leaving here the first of November, will sail January 15th, on the Clark's four month's cruise around the world. Mrs. George B. Thompson, of Alto, will go to College Point to be with her mother and sister, until after the former sails. Her son, George Jr., has been spending the holiday vacation with his grandmother, and with relatives in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Rees, of Erie, spent Christmas and part of the Holidays in Bellefonte with Mr. Rees' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rees, and Mrs. Rees' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hurley. Mr. and Mrs. Rees were also looking forward to having with them their son William, with his wife and daughter, of Indiana, Pa., but while moving several days before Christmas he had the misfortune to sustain a broken ankle, hence was not able to come and will probably be laid up for six weeks or longer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harper and their two sons left Wednesday morning to return to Brooklyn, following a Christmas visit here with Mr. Harper's mother, Mrs. J. C. Harper, and Mrs. Harper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Barnhart. Much pleasure was given the Bellefonte people during their stay among them, through their elder son, Arthur Jr., whose voice is developing into one of such unusual quality as to attract the attention of makers of boys' choirs in the city of Brooklyn. Arthur generously contributed of his talent, adding much to the Christmas music in Bellefonte.

A motor party from State College that spent last Friday afternoon in Bellefonte was made up of John P. Ishler, his daughter, Mrs. Robert A. Kerstetter and her son Clarence and Mrs. William Kline. While the ladies and Clarence, who is a motor shark, were around looking for a Sedan that one of them contemplated buying Mr. Ishler dropped in for a little call here. It had been so long since we have seen him that the visit was a genuine pleasure; especially since we saw at once that he is in splendid health and spirits. He has gotten so contented with life at State College, however, that he doesn't come to Bellefonte nearly as often as his friends here would like to see him.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miller, of Erie, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little daughter who arrived in their home on the 28th of December. Their Bellefonte friends extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Casebeer and daughter Betty spent from Sunday to New Year's evening with friends in Somerset.

Mrs. Harold Kirk spent the greater part of last week in Phillipsburg with her husband, returning home on Sunday evening.

Among the young people who were home for the Christmas season was Philip S. Barnhart, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Barnhart.

Miss May Taylor went over to Huntingdon, on Saturday, where she was an over Sunday guest of her brother, Charles Taylor and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Gray and their two children were among the holiday visitors home, leaving before the New Year to return to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Frank McCoy and her daughter, Miss Anna, and Mrs. John McCoy and two children, left on Wednesday for a two week's sojourn at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Pauline Lichten, of Philadelphia, was the Christmas home guest of her sister, Mrs. Louis Grauer, returning to the city after a visit here of less than a week.

Miss Margaret Broeckerhoff returned to Philadelphia yesterday, following a two week's visit here with her uncle and brother, Dr. Joseph and Henry Broeckerhoff.

Robert Reed Jr., of Stormstown, was among the business visitors to Bellefonte within the past week, giving us a small portion of his valuable time while in town.

Miss Marian Ethel Dale left Monday for Colorado to resume her work at Denver. Miss Dale had been home to spend the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Dale.

Miss Hartman, head nurse at the Bellefonte hospital, has been making a New Year's visit home this week, having gone out to Pittsburgh Monday, expecting to return today to resume her work.

Jesse Derstine, of Ambridge, and his two daughters were in Bellefonte for an over Sunday and New Year's day visit with Mr. Derstine's mother, Mrs. William Derstine, at her home on Bishop street.

Mrs. Mary Heaton, of Runville, one of the best known women of Boggs township, was in Bellefonte yesterday with her brother, looking after some business for the new year, and to spend several hours in the shops.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Decker have closed their apartments in the Kelly building and departed Wednesday, for Lancaster, where Mr. Decker will have headquarters until April while looking after his business in that district.

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Wagner, of Watsonstown, were among the Christmas guests entertained by Mrs. Wagner's father, W. R. Brachbill. Mr. Brachbill then spent the following week-end with his daughter at her home at Watsonstown.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Furst's holiday guests included Mrs. Furst's mother and two sisters, Mrs. Harrar and her two daughters, the Misses Emily and Mabel Harrar, of Williamsport, who came to Bellefonte, remaining until after the New Year's day.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Grove's holiday house party included both their children, Miss Isabelle, an instructor in the schools of Bethlehem, Pa., and Edwin M. Grove, with Mrs. Grove and their daughter Betty, of New Castle, all remaining with Mr. and Mrs. Grove until after the New Year.

Miss Augusta Shoemaker, who resigned her position with the American Lime & Stone Co., several months ago, to go into the P. R. R. Co. office at Pittsburgh, was home during the holidays for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker. Since going to Pittsburgh, Miss Shoemaker has made her home with her sister, Mrs. Ebe, better known here as Miss Martha Shoemaker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sommerville, who were in Bellefonte Monday for the funeral of Miss Alice Wilson, came here Sunday from Milton, where they had been for a visit with Mrs. Sommerville's sister, before going to New York for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Sommerville have closed their home at Robertsdale and stored their house furnishings, in anticipation of having no definite location for several years.

Mrs. J. R. Driver went out to Pittsburgh a week ago with her son Creighton Way, who had been home from Reading for Christmas. Creighton went from here to Erie for a short visit with his father's brother, before returning east. Mrs. Driver and her son were accompanied as far as Altoona by her daughter Margery Way, who expected to spend the remainder of her school vacation with her aunt, Mrs. F. M. Musser, at Eldorado.

Mrs. Dreer, of Wilkes-Barre, her daughter, Miss Katherine and Miss Helen E. C. Overton have all been guests of Mrs. John S. Walker and Miss Shortridge for the several days Mrs. Dreer and her daughter have been spending with their cousin, Miss Overton, in Bellefonte. Mrs. Walker and her sister entertained New Year's day in compliment to their house guests and Miss May Bible, of Westfield, N. J., a holiday visitor in the George P. Bible family.

A driving party composed of Dr. William S. Glenn, of State College, and his wife, Dr. Nannie Glenn, in their car; Mr. and Mrs. James Holmes and Mrs. Holmes' sister, Mrs. Diehl, also of State College, in the Holmes car, and Howard Struble and his sister, of Zion, in their car, left Wednesday for a drive to Florida. The party has no particular destination in view after arriving in the State, but will spend the three months they have planned to remain south, wherever their fancy may lead them, intending to visit all places of interest frequented by northerners.
