

Democrat Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., January 25, 1924.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Monday was what our lamented old friend, the late Mertie Cunningham, would have called a "hum-dinger."

County treasurer James O. Heverly last week appointed Mrs. Agnes Shaughnessy Acheson as his assistant in the treasurer's office.

A meeting of the Y. W. C. A. girls will be held at the home of Mrs. Beach, Tuesday, January 29th. All girls are urged to be present.

The Bellefonte Academy basketball team defeated the Bloomsburg Normal five, on the armory floor last Saturday evening, by the score of 41 to 34.

Mrs. Deemer T. Pearce, of State College, is mourning the death of her brother, Benjamin Franklin McMahon, who passed away at his home in Woodbury, Blair county, on Saturday night. Burial was made at Neff's Mills, Huntingdon county, on Wednesday.

While Rev. Reed O. Steely, of the United Evangelical church, has not yet acquired the title of the "marrying parson" of Bellefonte yet young couples holding marriage licenses Nos. 12355, 12356 and 12357 called upon him to officiate at their weddings last week.

At the annual meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company, held in Bellefonte last week, I. M. Huey, of Scotia, and Frank E. Wieland, of Linden Hall, were elected members of the board of directors to take the place of R. H. Reed, deceased, and Frank McFarlane, resigned.

Bond Musser, in years of service one of the oldest and most reliable bus drivers for the Emerick Motor Bus company, is making his plans to leave Bellefonte on or about the first of April. He will move to Red Lion, York county, where he will become associated with his brother-in-law in the garage business.

The meeting of the Woman's club will be held on Monday evening, January 28th, in the auditorium of the Allegheny street school, when Dr. D. G. Chambers, dean of summer session and of educational extension of State College, will give a lecture on "Education." The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

The county commissioners received notice from the State Highway Department this week that Centre county's allotment of the new fifty million road bond issue is $124,844. This applies only to second choice roads and is available only on the basis of the county or township contributing an equal amount with the State.

The annual meeting of the officers and directors of the Horseshoe Trail association will be held at the Penn Alt hotel, Altoona, on Friday of next week. M. A. Landsy, of Bellefonte, is a member of the board of directors, while Robert F. Hunter, of Bellefonte, and James P. Aikens, of State College, are district committee chairmen.

The friend who writes from New Bloomfield and urges us to "whoop er up for Coolidge" and put the skids under McAdoo is in for just such a disappointment as he knew he would have when he was writing to kid us that way. While the "Watchman" doesn't know who it will support for President our New Bloomfield friend knows it won't be Coolidge.

The Penn State glee club of fifty members will give a concert in the opera house Thursday evening, February 7th, under the direction of the Lutheran Brotherhood. The program will include glee, solos, quartettes by the famous variety four, instrumental numbers, and readings. The club will sing three of the numbers that are to be used in the intercollegiate contest at New York the following week.

St. John's Lutheran Brotherhood entertained the men's organization of the United Brethren church, Tuesday evening, in the social rooms of the Lutheran church. The address was delivered by William Van De Well, of the Pennsylvania State Department of Public Welfare, and was an explanation of the new methods used in dealing with criminals and other State wards with sick minds. Mr. Van De Well's brother is located at Rockview as the prison welfare worker.

If you did not see the "Hunchback of Notre Dame" at the opera house, last night, be sure to attend some of the shows today or tomorrow. It is the big picture of the year and in bringing it to Bellefonte manager T. Clayton Brown gives evidence of the fact that nothing is too good for the movie fans hereabouts. Don't fail to read the Scenic weekly programs published in this paper and thus keep posted on all the good ones, as many high-class pictures will be shown here during 1924.

Miss Beck, teacher of the Seller's school, near Fillmore, will give a patriotic entertainment and social on the 22nd of February, for the benefit of the victrola recently purchased for the school, from Maurice A. Runkle. Two payments have been made through the efforts of the scholars, in giving socials, and from contributions from former students, so that the proceeds from this, it is hoped, will enable them to make the last payment in full. Should this effort be successful a list of the names of all contributors will be made public.

BOROUGH COUNCIL COMPLETES ORGANIZATION.

Standing Committees Appointed and Miscellaneous Business Transacted.

Every member was present at the regular meeting of borough council, on Monday evening, and the first item on the program was the announcement of the standing committees for the ensuing two years by president Walker, as follows:

Finance—W. J. Emerick, Harry Badger, John L. Dunlap.
Street—William H. Brouse, Thomas Hazel, William J. Emerick.
Water—J. M. Cunningham, William H. Brouse, Benjamin Bradley.
Fire and Police—Harry Flack, J. M. Cunningham, Benjamin Bradley.
Market—John L. Dunlap, William H. Brouse, Harry Flack.
Sanitary—Harry Badger, Thomas Hazel, John Dunlap.
Village Improvement—Benjamin Bradley, Harry Flack, Harry Badger.
Special—Thomas Hazel, W. J. Emerick, W. H. Brouse, Benjamin Bradley, J. M. Cunningham.

There being no verbal communications the secretary presented the bonds of overseers of the poor Alexander Morrison and Thomas Fleming, which had been approved as to form by the borough solicitor, and the same were referred to the Finance committee for consideration and recommendation.

A communication was received from the Associated Business Men of Bellefonte endorsing the proposition to purchase the Ullsh & Bashoar mill property and pledging council the association's support.

The secretary presented lists of exonerations of taxes requested by former tax collector J. Kennedy Johnston for the years 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921, the same being referred to the Finance committee for investigation and recommendation.

The Logan fire company sent in the following names as drivers for their pumper: J. R. Storch, Ellis Hines, G. Max Gamble and Allen McClellan. The Undines named Basil Doll, Charles Saxion, Ralph Moerschbacher and George Carpeneto. The lists were referred to the Fire and Police committee for recommendation.

An application was received from ex-sheriff Harry Dukeman for appointment as chief of police of Bellefonte, and the same was referred to the Fire and Police committee for recommendation.

The Water committee reported the collection of $193.00 on the 1922 water duplicate.

The Fire and Police committee reported that an examination of the Undine engine disclosed the fact that it needs a new grate and crown piece and will then be in good condition. The committee also reported that the hose tower at the Undine house is in need of a new concrete floor. The committee was authorized to have the repairs made.

The Finance committee asked for the renewal of notes aggregating $10,300.

In connection with the proposition to purchase the Ullsh & Bashoar mill property a communication was received from the elder Bashoar, of Millersburg, in which he stated that he had consulted W. B. D. Ainey, of the Public Service Commission, relative to the proposition and that gentleman stated that so far as purchasing the plant for the purpose of securing power for pumping water, the borough could do so without consulting the Commission; but as to using the power to light the streets that is a matter that might have to be considered by the Commission. However, the borough solicitor submitted a written opinion in which he stated that under the rules of the Public Service Commission the borough has the right to install machinery to light the streets, but cannot sell either light or power. The proposition was discussed from various angles and finally referred to the Water, Street and Finance committees for complete investigation and report at next meeting of borough council, if possible.

James D. Seibert was re-elected borough manager for the ensuing two years; Edward J. Gehret borough treasurer and N. B. Spangler solicitor.

Robert Kline was re-elected fire marshal and John J. Bower, of the Logans, and George Carpeneto, of the Undines, assistants.

Bills to the amount of $819.52 were approved for payment and council adjourned.

Auto Tourists to Florida Returning by Rail.

Early in January Frank Hockman, Lawrence McMullen and John Rossman, three well known residents at Hecla, left on an auto trip to Florida in Mr. Hockman's car but their return next week will be made by rail as far as Baltimore. Going south they encountered good roads until they crossed the line into Georgia and through that State and northern Florida motoring was most anything but pleasure. They finally arrived at Miami and by unanimous consent promptly shipped their car by boat to Baltimore and proceeded to enjoy the delightful weather and diversified pleasures of the Florida resort. They will leave there early next week and travel by rail to Baltimore where they will pick up their car and motor home.

Mrs. Maude G. Maines, who has been postmistress at Karthaus the past eight years, has tendered her resignation to take effect as soon as her successor can be appointed and qualify. It is her intention to move to Rochester, N. Y.

Georges Bridges, of Washington, Pa., arrived in town on Monday to accept the position of service manager for the Beatty Motor company. Mr. Bridges, better known as "Doc," was former service manager for the C. B. McAllister Motor company, at Washington. For the past ten years he has been identified with the automobile industry, and for over five years has specialized in Ford and Lincoln repair work. He is recognized as an expert in his chosen work and the Ford owners in Bellefonte and vicinity are fortunate to have his services at their command.

The Passion Play Coming.

A reproduction of the Passion Play, as it was presented at Oberammergau, in 1922, will be shown in the Red Men's hall, in this place, on Wednesday evening, February 6th. The "Play" will have its screen showing here as a benefit for the Protected Home Circle, which is a branch or auxiliary organization of the Red Men, and accepts membership of both men and women. The "Home Circle," as is its name suggests and the new Bellefonte chapter has started off very auspiciously.

A Correction.

Last Friday Gordon Montgomery came in to tell us that the story we had published that morning with reference to the rumored sale of the Bellefonte Fuel and Supply Co's business and really was without foundation.

We published it only as a rumor, but did say that the business and property is for sale. Mr. Montgomery has told us that "positively neither one are for sale" so that we cheerfully make correction of our statement last week in accordance with his statement to us.

W. J. Emerick Planning Another Trip to the Coast.

Councilman W. J. Emerick is working out plans for another motor trip to the Pacific coast. It will be remembered several years ago Mr. Emerick converted one of his busses into a motor house and took his family across the continent.

Now he is said to be arranging for a much more commodious vehicle, one that will have all the comforts of home and provide accommodations for ten. We understand that the party is to be all men and several have already signified their willingness to join it.

Lewisburg Man Fined for Violation of Game Laws.

On Friday of last week, William H. Snively, of Lewisburg, formerly of Greenbrier, Clinton county, was arrested by game protector Miles Reeder, for a violation of section 705 of the game laws, and was charged with having killed a female deer on or about the 14th of December, 1923. Mr. Snively was taken before Magistrate C. M. Steese, in Millinburg, on Friday evening and after hearing several witnesses he was placed under $150.00 bail for appearance at a hearing on Saturday afternoon.

The second hearing was held on Saturday afternoon. H. M. Shwalter appeared for the defendant and L. F. Lybarger for the Commonwealth. Evidence was introduced showing that the defendant had admitted killing the doe, in the hearing of sheriff Hackenberg and several other county officers. The defendant's own testimony that he saw his father kill the doe. After hearing the case the defendant was found guilty and fined one hundred dollars and the costs. He was then placed under three hundred dollars bail for a period of five days, during which time he can either pay the fine and costs, or appeal the case.

The Blizzard Reached Here, All Right.

That northwestern blizzard scheduled to reach this section early in the week arrived on time, without snow, however. The mercury dropped forty degrees on Sunday and on Monday morning thermometers in Bellefonte registered as low as two degrees below zero, while ten below was registered at Pleasant Gap. The arctic temperature was accompanied by a high wind and the two combined rendered Monday the most wintry day we have had this season. In fact it was so cold on Monday that a number of cars froze up and had to be hauled into garages, while there were several instances of burst radiators. The wind exhausted its efforts during Monday night but the cold increased and six degrees below zero was recorded Tuesday morning.

About four o'clock on Monday afternoon Bellefonte firemen were called out by a fire at the home of Thomas Shaughnessy, on Logan street, but it proved to be only a flue and no damage was done. Tuesday morning the firemen were again called out to extinguish a small fire at the home of Mrs. Louisa Harris, on Allegheny street, caused by an attempt to thaw out frozen water pipes by burning old newspapers. No great damage was done, however.

Huntingdon Presbytery to Have Home for Aged.

A year or more ago a committee was appointed to secure a suitable site for a home for the aged of the Huntingdon Presbytery and announcement was made this week that the committee had taken an option on the Keller property at Gaysport, Blair county, now owned by Frank P. McFarland and Oliver Rothert, and it is the general belief that the Presbytery will ratify the action of the committee and sanction the purchase of the property. If the deal is consummated the fine colonial residence will be enlarged and put in the best condition possible for the purpose for which it is intended. Plans for the enlargement and improvement will be made at once by the committee on the strength that the Presbytery will sanction the purchase.

The churches will be canvassed for funds for the property, building purposes and endowment. As the Presbytery covers a wide scope it is believed the securing of the money necessary will be an easy matter. These counties are included in the Presbytery: Bedford, Blair, Huntingdon, Clearfield, Mifflin, Centre and Fulton.

The Keller mansion is of purely colonial type and was built many years ago by Henry Patterson, a pioneer contractor of Hollidaysburg, who also built the famous reservoir that was a feeder for the old canal. The house is of the square type and is built of solid brick with the choicest lumber and is in excellent condition today. It is well adapted to the purpose and it will be an easy matter to make the enlargement on account of its shape, which improvements can be made at minimum cost.

A feature of the house is its spiral stairway, extending from the bottom to the top, which is a splendid example of the high grade hand work of that day. The rooms are large and well-lighted and have high ceilings.

This property is one of the most desirable in Blair county in every respect. It is especially suited for the purpose by reason of being in a quiet community and being in close touch with the railroad and trolley line and motor roads and in easy access of six Presbyterian churches in Altoona and Hollidaysburg. The house is situated on a large lot, with many trees, flowers and a fine lawn which will be still further improved, making it a place of great beauty. The price placed on it is $10,000.

Kansas Cottontails Being Distributed in Centre County.

A second consignment of Kansas cottontails was received on Monday by game protector Thomas A. Mosier. There were ten crates, with a dozen rabbits to a crate. Five of the crates were sent to Philipsburg for distribution while the other five were turned over to John L. Knisely, who placed some of the rabbits down in Curtin's gap, others out in the woods below the Hines property and the remainder near the old Gatsburg bank. Four dead rabbits were found in the five crates, leaving fifty-six alert animals to be turned out for propagation purposes.

Rabbit hunters in Centre county might be interested in knowing that the Pennsylvania Game Commission has entered into contracts for the shipment of twenty thousand Kansas cottontails for the purpose of restocking Pennsylvania lands, and of that number seven thousand have already been received or are on their way, almost a full car load being shipped in one day.

Koon C. Beck, an animal dealer of Hutchinson, Kan., has the contract to furnish the rabbits. He buys them from the farmers and their sons, who catch them in traps, paying from twenty-five to thirty-five cents each, according to the quantity delivered. The bunnies are shipped in specially constructed crates holding one dozen, each rabbit having a compartment of its own. At the beginning of the trip a receptacle in each compartment is filled with food, including the third of an ear of corn, alfalfa and a piece of carrot. The latter furnishes all the moisture the rabbit needs and the quantity of food supplied will last the entire trip.

During the latter half of December Mr. Beck bought and shipped to Pennsylvania 4000 rabbits, for which he paid $1800. The express charges on that number to Pennsylvania were close to a thousand dollars, so that exporting rabbits is a profitable business for residents of Kansas, where the bunnies are so plentiful that they are very destructive to fruit and shade trees and various kinds of crops; and, in fact, are regarded as considerable of a nuisance.

Motion to Advance in the Centre County Bank Case Granted.

The motion to advance the three cases of Florence F. Dale, Andrew Brees and Geo. R. Meek against John M. Shugert and the Centre County Banking company which were far down on the list for argument before the Supreme court of the United States, has been granted and Monday, March 10th, set as the date for the oral argument.

As we stated last week attorneys Keller and Spangler were in Washington on Monday, January 14th. The latter presented a petition to advance the case. Mr. Keller, for his clients acquiesced, with the result that the date has been fixed as above. At that time the oral argument will be made by both sides on the jurisdictional question involved and the Court will later hand down its decision.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

W. Harrison Walker will return today from a three days business trip to Wilkes-Barre.

Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Kilpatrick went east Monday, to spend a part of the week in Philadelphia.

Mrs. R. S. Brouse returned home this week from a month's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Topelt, in Brooklyn.

Mrs. J. B. Scott has been in Pittsburgh this week, visiting with her daughter, Mrs. George S. Dennithorne.

Miss Helen Stall, of Wyncote, who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Daggett, at the Bush house, came to Bellefonte Tuesday, for a week's visit.

Mrs. Della Miller and her son Edward drove to Bellwood Sunday, for a day's visit with Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Spotts, who makes her home there with one of her sons.

Miss Josephine White returned a week ago from Philadelphia and West Chester, where she had spent the first two weeks of January with her sister, Mrs. Hoopes, while under the care of eye specialists.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Barlet spent the fore part of the week in Washington, D. C., where Mr. Barlet attended a railroad employees committee meeting while his wife went sight-seeing in the national capital.

Harry Spicer, of Scottsdale, was among the visitors to Bellefonte last week, making one of his very infrequent visits back home. Mr. Spicer was here only for a few days, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spicer.

Miss Lewis and Miss Mackey, two of the instructors in the High school, went to their homes in Punxsutawney, yesterday, for a short mid-winter visit, there being a few days' vacation at the end of the first semester.

Miss Anna M. Miller left Monday for her home at Salona, expecting to be there for several weeks while making definite plans for the spring. Miss Miller had spent much time in Bellefonte with the late Dr. R. G. H. Hayes and his family.

Mrs. Miles A. Kirk went over to Clearfield yesterday, to visit for a week or more with her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Young and her two children, Evelyn and Jean, and with her sister, Mrs. Daniel Rhinesmith. During her stay, Mrs. Kirk will be a house guest of Mrs. Rhinesmith.

Joseph Sourbeck has returned to Colorado, where his wife will join him in April. Joseph had been very well in the climate there and continued so while east, but as a precaution will remain west until his lungs have so completely healed, that there may be no danger from the climate of this section.

Mrs. Joseph Baker was a driving guest of Miss Anne McCormick from Harrisburg, Tuesday, having come up to spend the night with her mother, Mrs. Brees, who was visiting here with Mrs. George F. Harris. Mrs. Brees had come to Bellefonte from Downingtown, for the funeral of her aunt, Miss Alice Wilson.

A. J. Musser came in from Indiana, Pa., on Monday to attend the funeral of his uncle, A. A. Dale Esq., and while here greeted his many friends in this place and Pine Grove Mills. Al. is a coal baron now and none are more pleased to know of his success than the Pine Grove Mills folks who know how deserving of it he is.

Mrs. Norman Calvert and her small son Jack returned to their home in Williamsport, last week, after a two week's stay here with Mrs. Calvert's mother, Mrs. Della Miller and the family. Mrs. Calvert's visit home at this time was made on account of the illness of her sister, Mrs. Guy Lyon, with whom she spent much of her time while here.

Edward Rankin, of Philadelphia, and Walter B. Lembeck, of Washington, D. C., who accompanied the body of Mrs. John Rankin here from Philadelphia, Saturday, drove to Boalsburg, for the same afternoon, with Mrs. Frank McFarlane and were her guests over Sunday. Mr. Rankin is Mrs. McFarlane's youngest brother, while Mr. Lembeck is the nephew of Mrs. John Rankin.

The out-of-town relatives here last week for the funeral of the late Isaac Mitchell included his daughter, Miss Grace Mitchell, of Princeton, N. J.; his sons, J. Thomas, of Greenwood, Miss.; and Joseph D., of Lewistown, with the latter's wife Lane, of McKeesport, and George Lyon, of DuBois, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Lyon's only son and Mr. Mitchell's grandson.

Newton Hess and his son Samuel McW., of State College, were in town on business last Thursday afternoon and while here Sam dropped in for a brief call at this office. You will probably recall that Sam was the mighty "Moo" over whom we gushed so much last fall because we thought he had sent us a roast of venison. Later we came out of the trance long enough to discover that the real donor was his uncle John Hess.

Upon leaving Bellefonte again early in the week, Mrs. James B. Lane went to Summit, N. J., intending to spend several weeks there with her sister, Mrs. Charles Shaffner and her daughter, Miss Anne. Mrs. Lane's home has been closed since before Christmas, at which time she went to McKeesport to spend the holidays with her son Richard and his family. Being called home by the death of Mr. Mitchell, Mrs. Lane was here only for a few days, which were spent as a guest of Miss Powell.

Mrs. Jared Harper, accompanied by her daughter-in-law and grand-child, Mrs. John Harper and baby Elizabeth, arrived here from Philadelphia yesterday morning. Mrs. Harper was returning home after being a patient in the University hospital for several weeks, Mrs. John Harper having gone there from Schenectady, to make the trip to Bellefonte with her. Mrs. John Harper will be here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Barnhart, for a visit, before returning to New York State.

We had an agreeable surprise last Saturday when a friend we haven't seen for years dropped in for a moment or so. It was Hiram Lee, of State College. Years ago Hiram farmed the Hale farm just below Bellefonte and was a familiar figure here. Then he quit the soil, moved to Chester and engaged in carpentering, but the lure of old Centre county was too great and he returned to make his home at State College, where he built a home several years ago and has since been on the corps of carpenters who keep things ship-shape about the College buildings.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Adaline Miller, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. Lawrence Miller, of Lewistown, and Nelson S. Hibshman, of State College.

With Those Who are Ill.

The condition of Frank McFarlane, of Boalsburg, who was so ill last week that it gave his friends some alarm, is now considerably improved. Mr. McFarlane is convalescing from a recent operation with indications of a rapid recovery.

Mrs. Guy Lyon is slightly better after her three week's illness at her home in Bush Addition. While only about her room, it is hoped the change for the better may continue.

There has been perceptible improvement in the condition of Clement Dale Esq., who is seriously ill of heart trouble at his home on north Allegheny street.

Some alarming symptoms developed in the illness of Miss Elizabeth Longwell, which have given her friends great concern. Miss Longwell has been ill for a week with an affection of the heart.

Mrs. Harry Shivery, a victim of a broken collar bone, the effects of a fall from the Marshall porch two weeks ago, was taken to her home from the hospital early in the week.

Miss Louise McClure is ill at the home of her mother, Mrs. William McClure, on Bishop street, suffering from nerves. Miss McClure has never recovered from the shock of the automobile accident of more than a year ago, in which her small niece was thrown from her arms and killed.

Mrs. J. Willard Barnhart has been confined to her bed for the past week, at her home on Pine street.

Mrs. Hackett, wife of Rev. Fred B. Hackett, of the United Brethren church, underwent an operation at the Bellefonte hospital, on Tuesday, and is now getting along as comfortably as could be expected.

Miss Daise Keichline is ill at her home on Bishop street, from a severe attack of sinusitis, from which she has been suffering for two weeks or more.

Charles Marks, of Pine Grove Mills, is seriously ill with pleurisy and has been in a very critical condition for the past few days.

In Society.

W. Harrison Walker, as Burgess of Bellefonte, entertained the borough council and solicitor at a six o'clock dinner given Tuesday night at his home on Linn street.

In celebrating Mrs. A. Wilson Norris' eightieth birthday, Tuesday, Mrs. Beach and Miss Blanchard gave an evening dinner of ten courses followed by a reception, the guests all being Mrs. Norris' relatives. Those from out of town included Mrs. William E. Wright and Miss Anne McCormick, who were house guests of Miss Mary and Henry S. Linn while in Bellefonte, and Mrs. E. Z. Gross and Mrs. H. F. McCormick, guests at the Blanchard home; all being from Harrisburg, Mrs. Norris' former home.

Mrs. Alter K. Ullsh was hostess at a seven o'clock dinner given at her home on west High street, Thursday night of last week, in compliment to her house guest, Mrs. Montgomery, of Harrisburg. The guests were from State College and Bellefonte.

Miss Louise Carpeneto was the originator of a dutch treat supper party at the tea room at Nittany, on Tuesday night. The twenty-three women composing the party made the trip down and back in the bus.

Mrs. Harter and Mrs. Mensch entertained with five hundred Tuesday night, at the Harter home on north Allegheny street.

Mrs. H. S. Taylor was hostess, Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week. At both parties cards were in play.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. George M. Gamble, for a bridge party, to be given at her home on west Linn street, Monday evening.

Benner—Spearly—Russell G. Benner and Miss Helen S. Spearly, daughter of County Commissioner John S. and Mrs. Spearly, were married at the United Evangelical parsonage at 8 o'clock last Thursday evening, by the pastor, Rev. Reed O. Steely. Mr. Benner is in the employ of the American Lime & Stone company and is an industrious young man, while his wife is a young woman possessed of the ability to make their home a happy abiding place.

Johnson—Weaver—Harry B. Johnson, son of Mrs. Harry Johnson, of Bellefonte, and Miss Adaline L. Weaver, of Axe Mann, were married in the United Evangelical church just prior to the services on Sunday evening, by the pastor, Rev. Reed O. Steely. The bridegroom is employed in the chemical department of the Federal Match company plant in Bellefonte, and this place will be their home.
