

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., February 8, 1924.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTRY.

—All business places will be closed today from three to four o'clock, during the funeral of the late W. S. Zeller.

—The Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a tempting food sale in the Variety Shop on Saturday, February 9th, open at eleven o'clock. Home-made bread and rolls a specialty.

—The groundhog saw its shadow, on Saturday, but with Pinchot running everything in Pennsylvania now he certainly won't give the groundhog any show at controlling the weather.

—The regular meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at the Y this (Friday) evening, at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is greatly desired. New members will also be welcome.

—Group Six of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association will have its annual meeting and banquet on Lincoln's birthday, February 12th, at Altoona. The group comprises the bankers of Centre, Clearfield, Cambria, Blair, Huntingdon and Bedford counties.

—Rev. Samuel Martin, of State College, will fill the pulpit in the Presbyterian church, Bellefonte, on Sunday morning, and immediately following the sermon will preside over a congregational meeting which will vote on the selection of a permanent pastor. A full turnout is very much desired.

—The rumor on the streets to the effect that the McClain block, adjoining this office, has been bought by persons intending to open an agency there for the Packard car is without foundation. The trustees of the Bush estate yesterday stated that they have had no negotiations for the sale of the property to such persons.

—The Penn State players will appear at the Garman opera house next Thursday, February 14th, in "Caste," under the direction of Arthur Cloething. The Penn State students have given annual performances in Bellefonte, to these many years, and always draw large houses for the reason that the theatre loving public is assured of seeing something worthwhile. Because of this fact seats should be reserved as quickly as possible.

—Two big feature films are incorporated in the program of motion pictures to be shown at the Seanie next week, with another one booked for the opera house. Very few moving picture theatres in the State offer such an elaborate list of high-class attractions. Movie fans should keep in touch with the weekly programs and make it a point to see all the good ones as booked, as no other opportunity will be offered. By being a regular you will be sure not to miss any of them.

—Our good friend, Jerry Donovan, celebrated his eighty-second birthday anniversary on Friday and it is hard to picture him as an octogenarian. The writer has known him for almost forty years and he is one of the few men whom passing years have touched with a kindly hand. Notwithstanding his years he still takes daily care of twenty-five head of dairy cattle and does it as thoroughly as ever, though he does admit that it takes him a little longer to do it now than it used to years ago.

—According to a report from the West Jersey Presbytery unusual success is crowning the work of Rev. David R. Evans in his new pastorate at Kearney, N. J., whither he went from Bellefonte last September. In October he had 37 accessions to his church roll of membership and in January 140, while the Sunday school has increased from 160 to 360 active members, all without any evangelistic campaign. A school of missions will be conducted this month looking forward to many more accessions at Easter time.

—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Barr celebrated her eightieth birthday anniversary, on Friday, at the home of her son, W. C. Barr, in Tyrone. Mrs. Barr, whose maiden name was Stiver and who was born and grew to young womanhood not far from Centre Hall, Centre county, has many friends in that locality who will learn with interest that she still enjoys good health and takes an active interest in the affairs of the day. She recently attended every service during evangelistic meetings held at the First Presbyterian church, of Tyrone, of which she is a member.

—H. E. Van Norman, former professor of dairy husbandry at The Pennsylvania State College and well known in this community and throughout the State, has accepted an executive position with the National Dairy Association, of which he has been president since 1910, and will now be located in Chicago. Since leaving Penn State he has been vice-director of the Agricultural Experiment station and dean of the University Farm School, University of California. On leave of absence he spent some time in Rome and for the past year has been in Washington, D. C., where, as president of the World's Dairy Congress Association, he planned and accomplished the dairy congress held in Washington in October, the most stupendous affair of its kind ever held in this country and the program of which includes every name of international importance in dairying and allied subjects.

CANDIDATES MUST PLEDGE.

Citizenship Conference Will not Accept Equivocal Statements On Law Enforcement.

Though rainy, inclement weather ushered in Tuesday, February 6th, and lasted throughout the day it did not prevent the earnest, enthusiastic gathering of many representative citizens from various parts of the county to consider the all-important topics of law-enforcement and Christian citizenship at the special meeting called for the purpose by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the Anti-Saloon League.

The meeting scheduled was an all-day conference held in the Y. M. C. A., Bellefonte, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., with intermission only for luncheon and followed the lines of the National and State meetings of the same import.

After singing and devotional exercises the chairman, Miss Rebecca Rhoads, president of the county W. C. T. U., explained the purpose of the meeting and introduced Rev. E. E. McKelvey, of Bellefonte, president of the Ministerium, who dwelt upon the necessity for arousing all the Christian forces to a deeper realization of their duty and graphically depicted the power that is theirs when once aroused, that nothing could then prevent righteous rule and an utter routing of evil—if but the will to do be exercised.

Dr. Irving L. Foster, of State College, president of the Sunday School Association of Centre county, followed with a most forceful appeal for more definite instruction, and longer than the now fifteen minute period in the Sunday schools to the study of the Bible truths concerning reverence for authority and obedience to all law, especially that of love of God and one's neighbor. "Obedience to law is liberty," he quoted, and spoke of the serious menace of the barring from the public schools of our country of the reading of the Bible. It is absolutely forbidden in twelve States, in thirty it is optional; in six (of which Pennsylvania is one) ten verses may be read daily but must be without comment.

Attorney J. K. Johnston, of Bellefonte, president of the Centre County Civic committee, elicited much applause by his practical remarks and exposition of correct and faulty information concerning the collecting of evidence and reporting of law-violations—unsigned letters of alleged information being valueless—fearlessness and willingness to co-operate to the limit essential.

Important announcement of having secured the promise of the famous head of the State constabulary, Major Lynn Adams, as the speaker for a monster mass meeting being planned for March 14th, in the court house, Bellefonte, aroused great enthusiasm. Promises of hearty co-operation in working up this big meeting all over the county between now and then were enthusiastically pledged. Two noted professional singers will likely also be a drawing card for this big event.

At the afternoon session Rev. Thompson, of Johnstown, district superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, was the main speaker, giving much practical advice along legislative lines. He was ably assisted in this by Mrs. Beach, W. C. T. U. county superintendent of citizenship, and those participating in the general discussion following. Questions were asked as to how to find out the exact status of candidates on the dry issue—warning sounded not to depend on mere words or pledges for "law-enforcement," public declaration of unequivocally "dry" attitude essential. Motion carried unanimously that a committee be appointed to wait upon candidates for State Legislature and if results are not satisfactory another candidate to be selected. Motion also carried unanimously to have said committee ascertain attitude of candidates to other offices also and widely disseminate knowledge thus obtained.

AFTERNOON MEETING.

A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the introduction of the new sheriff of Centre county who spoke briefly but convincingly of his determination to enforce the law absolutely and his appreciation of the co-operation of the good citizens. He emphasized, as did Mr. Johnston in the morning, the necessity of properly signed communications being sent him. Motion carried unanimously that a vote of thanks be given Sheriff Taylor for his attitude in encouraging the holding of religious services in the jail. Added to this was a rising vote of confidence in the new Sheriff.

The new district attorney, Mr. Arthur Dale, was on the program but greatly regretted his inability to be present owing to a death in his immediate household the very morning of the conference.

Revs. Dingman and Wagner participated helpfully and Mr. Aplin, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spoke feelingly on the necessity for more home training on law-observance, advocating the family altar. James E. Hughes, headmaster of the Academy, pledged the support of his school to the great issue. The many patriotic women present took part freely throughout the day in the general discussions. The paramount duty of serving upon juries was stressed—never to evade this.

Plans were made to extend these conferences to each of the larger towns of the county.

Announcement was made of the address to be given in the court house, February 21st, by Hon. John Mc-

Sparran, Master of the State Grange, at a public meeting under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League, after which, following the Mizpah benediction, the first Centre county citizenship conference stood adjourned.

Lemont Couple Celebrated Their Golden Wedding.

On Tuesday the comfortable home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Coble, at Lemont, was the scene of a very happy gathering of family and friends to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

The festivities began at 10:30 in the morning and continued without interruption until 4:30 in the afternoon, an elaborate dinner for which fifty-one covers were laid, being one of the many pleasant incidents of the day. Aside from the bride and groom themselves probably the person of next most interest on this auspicious occasion was Mr. John R. Williams, of Lemont, who is the only living person who witnessed the original marriage of the couple half a century ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Coble are both in good health and greatly enjoyed the anniversary. Among the many gifts showered upon them were $75 in gold and a bouquet of fifty golden daffodils.

All of their children and grand-children were present as follows: Mr. and Mrs. William Coble and family of five, of Lemont; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thompson and son Richard, of Pine Grove Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Orie Barnes and three children and Mrs. Harry Coble and three children, of State College; Mrs. Margaret Waite and three children and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coble and two children, of Bellefonte. Other grand-children and the one great grand-child were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hess and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gearhart and their daughter from Pine Grove Mills.

Other guests were Mrs. Lydia Clark, of Lock Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halderman, of Renovo; Mr. and Mrs. John Shuey and Mrs. Alice Williams, of Lemont; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ertter, of Oak Hall, and Rev. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick and their son, from Centre Hall.

The County Democrats to Banquet.

Tuesday evening, February 19th, is the date, 8 o'clock the hour, the Brockerhoff hotel in Bellefonte the place, and $1.50 per plate the price for the next annual get together banquet of the Democrats of Centre county.

There are to be no formal invitations. This public notice of the event is invitation to all to join in another of what has in the past been a series of very delightful affairs. The accommodations of the hotel are limited to 150 so that reservations up to that limit will be made in order of their receipt by G. Oscar Gray, county chairman.

While several prominent Democrats from over the State are expected the only one definitely assured of being here is the Hon. Bruce Sterling, of Uniontown, former Congressman and state chairman of the Democratic party.

Remember to apply early for seats to the banquet and avoid disappointment.

Jack Wilkinson Hurt in Auto Accident

Jack Wilkinson, six year old son of prothonotary and Mrs. Roy Wilkinson, was painfully injured, last Friday afternoon, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. Robinson, of Milesburg, and rolled along the paved surface of Linn street some twenty or more feet. Jack had just gone home from school and met Melvin Fore who asked him to take a ride in his express wagon. The boys went to the top of the hill at Curtin street and coasted down Spring street to Linn where they were run into by the Robinson machine. According to eye witnesses the latter was not running over ten or twelve miles an hour and when he hit the boys the Fore lad was thrown to one side while Jack Wilkinson was caught under one of the front wheels and rolled along the roadway. Fore was uninjured but Jack was badly cut and lacerated on the head and face. Fortunately no bones were broken so that no serious consequences are anticipated.

At a meeting of the Centre County Automobile Dealers' association, held in Bellefonte on Wednesday evening, it was decided to hold their fourth annual auto show in the armory in Bellefonte March 12th to 15th, inclusive. Gideon Payne was elected as show manager and a complete program will probably be in shape to announce next week. The association re-elected all the old officers, as follows: President, George A. Beezer, of Bellefonte; vice president, C. E. Snyder, State College; secretary, John Porter Lyon, and treasurer, Charles M. Beatty, both of Bellefonte.

St. Valentine On Our Street.

When good St. Valentine wanders forth, To scatter love and joy, He seems so much like Santa Claus That every girl and boy Must hasten to the candy shops, Or else, with flowers sweet, Each sends his "love" this message: "St. Valentine's on our street."

So when the faithful postman Comes, a-tapping at your door, And hands to you a package Like you've never seen before; 'Twill be a true and wondrous sign, If big, or tiny and neat, That some one loves you very much "For St. Valentine's on your street."

And all the time, I charge you, Hold fast to what he sends Though the good Saint comes but yearly His love thoughts never end. And, again, he's just like "Santa" Whom daily each may meet In neighbor, friend or stranger Through "St. Valentine on our street."

COUNCIL ELECTIONS NEW CHIEF OF POLICE.

Ex-Sheriff Dukeman Chosen at Salary of $125 per Month.

Bellefonte borough council broke all former precedents, at the regular meeting on Monday evening, when the recommendation of one member of the Fire and Police committee was endorsed in conflict with the other two members and ex-sheriff Harry Dukeman was elected chief of police at a salary of $125 per month, which is an increase of $35 per month over any salary previously paid. The motion that Mr. Dukeman be elected was made by Benjamin Bradley and seconded by William Brouse. Mr. Flack, chairman of the committee, protested that the motion was out of order because there was no vacancy on the force. Mr. Cunningham, the other member of the committee, protested against the motion because to consider it would be setting aside all former precedents of council in considering only such applicants as had been recommended by a majority of the committee. Mr. Cunningham also objected to any increase in salary over the present figure of $90 per month. On a demand for the question, however, the motion was put and Badger, Bradley, Brouse, Dunlap, Hazel and Emerick voted for the election of Mr. Dukeman, while Cunningham and Flack voted against it. Having received a majority of the votes of council Mr. Dukeman was declared elected. At the opening of the councilmanic session the secretary read an application from William Curry for appointment as a police officer, but the application was given no consideration.

The Water committee reported the purchase of a carload of coal, a portion of which was stored at the water works and the balance sold, $113.17 being turned in as proceeds from the coal. The committee also reported $249.42 collected on the 1922 water duplicate.

The Finance committee presented the treasurer's report showing a balance in bank of $12,644.04, and requested the renewal of two notes for $1,000 each, which was authorized. The committee also recommended the approval of the bonds of overseers of the poor Alexander Morrison and Thomas W. Fleming.

On recommendation of the Fire and Police committee J. T. Storch, Homer P. Barnes, G. Mac Gamble and Ellis Hines were elected drivers for the Logan pumper and George Carpeneto, Basil Doll, Charles Saxton and Ralph Moerschbacher for the Undines.

Borough manager J. D. Seibert stated that if it is the intention of council to open up North Water street a terra cotta pipe ought to be laid in the old canal where the fill is being made. He stated that it would require about forty feet of fifteen inch pipe. The matter was referred to the Street committee and borough engineer with power.

Bills to the amount of $1501.44 were approved for payment after which Mr. Emerick made a motion that council go into executive session to consider the proposition for the purchase of the Ullsh & Bashor mill property, and the reporters were invited to leave. Just why Mr. Emerick deemed it necessary to discuss in secret session the possible expenditure of many thousands of dollars of the people's money may never be divulged but the "Watchman" is of the opinion that everything in connection with the proposed deal, whether it goes through or not, should be open and above board.

Farm House Burned.

The old farm house on the McKnight farm near Hunter's park was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday evening, nothing being left but the ashes. The house was occupied by David Casper and family, and according to report Mr. Casper claims he smelled smoke on Wednesday and tore a hole in the side of the house and deluged the place with water. On Saturday evening the family, which consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Casper and seven children, were away from home. At a quarter of six people who passed the house declare there was no evidence of fire while at 6:10 Thomas Huey saw a reflection from a fire and telephoned Cy Huey who investigated and discovered that the McKnight house was all in flames. Neighbors rushed to the place and were able to save all the furniture on the first floor but nothing from the second floor. The house was insured for five hundred dollars while the Caspers had no insurance on their furniture. The house will not be rebuilt, at present, at least.

Facts About the Bald Eagle Trail.

Notwithstanding the fact that considerable publicity has been given to the concerted efforts being made by the people of Bald Eagle valley to have the main public road through the valley incorporated as a state highway, many people are skeptical as to the ultimate results. The "Watchman" has it on pretty reliable authority that records now in the State Highway Department offices, at Harrisburg, show that a piece of public road to be known as the "Bald Eagle Trail," running from Snow Shoe intersection to Bald Eagle, where it will connect with the state highway to Tyrone, is to be started in 1925 and completed not later than 1929. The Blair county portion of the road, some four miles, will be built this year. State Senator W. I. Betts has interested himself in this piece of highway and will do everything possible to aid the local committees recently appointed to take the matter up with the Highway Department.
