PLEASANT GAP.

Society like butter, must be continually stirred else it will burn.

When men become encircled in the great anacrona of prejudice, all hope of progression is up with them.

John Tate has taken advantage of the excellent sledding that abounds here.

It is always best to form acquaintances slowly, for in case of dissatisfaction you not only delay the event of your disappointment, but also of their discomfiture.

The season of the year is here when the owners of grape vines should proceed to prune their arbors.

Ward Showers, who for many years was one of the kiln men at Whitecock, has been transferred to the dinkey crew, but is not overjoyed with the change.

Josiah Zeigler, the up-to-date progressive farmer adjacent to Madisonburg, made brief calls among his old-time friends here on Monday last.

On Wednesday evening of this week Noll's hall was filled with an overflowing fire hundred party.

$500,000,000 is filched by fraudulent and hopeless schemers annually, from the poor of the United States.

John Barnes, one of our energetic real estate manipulators, purchased a property in Bellefonte last week and sold a house and lot at Pleasant Gap.

One of our best and most enterprising news boys happens to be a girl—in the person of Miss Nellie Baney.

Comrade Fry's ably edited Pine Grove column in the "Watchman" is sincerely missed by his numerous friends at the Gap.

Lady Astor, according to the consensus of cablegrams, is the wittiest woman who was ever elected to Parliament.

Conscience is a righteous governor amidst the social activities of man, and would in its region prevent those immoral extremes to which he is liable to swing by reason of the gift of freedom; but God in his consideration for humanity's welfare, has not left us solely dependent from conscience and its solicitous dictates; but falling to heed it, permits us to fall back on nature, which employs the most rigid laws in all her operations.

Conscience has ceased to be a governing factor in the affairs of society, then of a necessity, we must go back to the school of nature and learn through antagonism and all the severe lessons it teaches, that harmony is after all the best condition in which to live.

We never believed the ancient assertion that women are more talkative than men; yet it's a fact that every time we find somebody talking on our party line it's a woman and another woman, and when we try again twenty minutes later it's the same ones.

Our Sunday school girls and boys were all smiles last Sunday owing to the constant fall of snow.

It is alleged that Billy Ross, who retired from the farming avocation, will not remain retired but thinks very seriously of entering the Evangelical profession.

It does seem strange, nevertheless it is true, that the heads of some men get boozed long before their legs become shaky or their feet so blind that they cannot see where to sit down.

The advice of a Normal school professor in an address to a teachers' institute in a neighboring county, that the teacher must discover the cause for a pupil's lack of interest in common school subjects and overcome it by a proper presentation, probably will discourage the busy but conscientious teacher.

The prospect of securing prompt delivery is daily becoming more uncertain. We cannot urge too strongly, therefore, the necessity for placing your order immediately, if you are planning to drive a Ford Car this spring.

Members of the Knights of Malta are beautifying the banquet hall in their Temple by hanging new wall paper, and expect to have it in readiness for their banquet on Friday evening.

The cafeteria supper given by the young ladies of the Lutheran Sunday school was quite a success, more than $46.00 being added to the fund started for a new heating plant for the church.

Quite Trustworthy.

The southern lady saw old 'Rastus setting out with his fishing tackle for a day on the river, and she deemed it a fitting time to rebuke him for his notorious idleness, since she and everybody else knew that the entire family was supported by the industry of 'Rastus' old wife as a washerwoman.

"'Rastus," she said severely, "do you think it's right to leave your wife hard at work over the wash tub while you pass your time fishing?"

"'Yassum, ma'am," replied the old dandy earnestly. "'It's all right, Mah wife don't need any watchin'." She'll wuk jes' as hard as if I was dah."

Teacher May Flog Pupils.

The rod was upheld as a necessary aid to the cause of education when a jury that tried Eugene Moyer, a school teacher of Lehigh county, acquitted him on charges of assault and battery, growing out of a whipping that he was alleged to have inflicted upon two sons of Ray Geary, using a razor strop.

The outcome of the trial hinged entirely on the ancient question whether a teacher has a legal right to flog pupils for breach of discipline.

The jury divided the costs between the teacher and father of the boys.
