Rockview Penitentiary to be Model Prison of the State.

According to a statement given out in Harrisburg, last Tuesday, several million dollars are expected to be saved the people of the State as a result of the revision of the plans for building the Rockview penitentiary near Bellefonte, because the new plans, suggested by the board of trustees and approved by Governor Pinchot, contemplate a complete change in the original intention of the designers.

The revision of the plans for the penitentiary has not been confined to the physical features alone. Under the management of warden John O. Stutzman, a new scheme for the handling of the prisoners has been evolved which has been pronounced "eminently successful" by Governor Pinchot and Dr. Ellen C. Potter, welfare secretary.

The 650 men prisoners are housed in great dormitories, somewhat resembling army barracks. All day long they are engaged in farming and construction work under the supervision of the warden and a small corps of guards.

Eventually it is planned to make Rockview the model prison of the State. It will be held out as a reward for those prisoners in the other two penitentiaries who behave themselves and prove that they are capable of responding to the treatment accorded prisoners at Rockview.

Rockview will continue to be a prison without cells and walls, according to Warden Stutzman. While he plans to utilize a cell building that has already been constructed nevertheless he does not intend to lock the prisoners up at night.

"When you send a man out on the farm all day, often without a guard and he returns each night," Mr. Stutzman stated, "it would hardly be sensible to lock that man up at night like a caged animal, especially when he made no attempt to escape during the day when he had all sorts of opportunities."

"I expect to achieve far better results with the prisoners here by treating them as men than I would if I were to make them think that I was eternally afraid that if I watched them constantly they would feel that they should endeavor to get away and I would have an old fashioned penitentiary where I would have to place the men under lock and key all the time."

An Interesting Sketch of Aaronsburg.

Always Aaronsburg has impressed us as the quaintest town we have ever seen. And when the old town pump that stood on the wide main street was taken away because they had installed a community water system, a sad blow was struck at the charm of the place.

From St. Louis, Mo., C. C. Zeigler has sent us a little sketch taken from a Jewish encyclopedia published in 1901. The sketch was contributed by Abram S. Wolf Rosenbach, a Philadelphia attorney and is as follows:

Aaronsburg, a post village situated in Haines township, Centre county, Pa., founded by Aaron Levy, in 1786, and named for him. In June, 1779, Aaron Levy bought of a Mr. Wetzel an Alexander Grant warranty. Upon this he laid out and planned the town of Aaronsburg, the town plan being recorded at Sunbury on October 4th, 1786. A plot of ground known as Aaron's Square was reserved by the founder for public use, and one of the streets was named Rachel's Way, in honor of his wife.

Flag day exercises will be held by the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks Saturday evening, June 14th.

MEEK.—John Emory Meek, a native of Ferguson township, Centre county, but for some years past a resident of New York city, dropped dead at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, on Saturday afternoon. He had been at the Springs two weeks for the benefit of his health, had just completed a round of golf and returning to his hotel was standing at the entrance to his room talking to the proprietor when he sank to the floor and expired. Heart disease was assigned as the cause of death.

Mr. Meek was a son of Fletcher and Eliza Glenn Meek and was born near Pine Grove Mills on February 21st, 1864, hence was 60 years, 3 months and 3 days old. His boyhood life was spent on the farm at Fairbrook but when he grew to manhood he decided to strike out for himself and going to Altoona entered the Pennsylvania railroad shops as an apprentice. That was in the formation period of electrical experiments and he was enough interested to make a special study of electricity and its adaptation to public uses.

It was while working there that he conceived the idea of weaving a fine copper wire and an asbestos thread into a fabric that could be heated by electric current, believing that such a project could be utilized in the manufacture of heating pads, etc. To prove the possibility of his idea he secured an old carpet loom and working at nights, succeeded in weaving a piece of the fabric which, when tested, proved he was on the right track of a big invention.

It is thirty years since he went to New York and eight years later the H. W. Johns-Manville company was organized, and four years later he formed the railroad and United States government departments of the company, of which he was general manager until the first of April of this year when he was elevated to the position of vice president of the company. He was also a director in the big corporation. Strenuous devotion to his work had undermined his health and it was because of this fact that he had gone to White Sulphur Springs.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Caroline Swart Meek, and the following sisters and brother: Mrs. B. F. Houseman and Mrs. F. S. Musser, of Altoona; Mrs. Lottie Harter, of Pittsburgh, and Stewart Glenn Meek, of New York city. One brother, George M. Meek, and a sister, Miss Hattie, died in Altoona some years ago.

The remains were taken to New York city where funeral services were held on Wednesday, burial being made at Catskill, N. Y.

GILLILAND.—Mrs. Anne V. Gilliland, widow of L. K. Gilliland, passed away at her home at Mooresville at 1:30 o'clock last Saturday morning, following a week's illness as the result of a stroke of paralysis. In comparatively feeble health the past year she had spent most of her time among her children and only recently returned to Mooresville and opened her home for the summer.

She was a daughter of George and Elizabeth Bell Scott and was born in Shaver's Creek valley on June 6th, 1858, hence was in her sixty-sixth year. On December 27th, 1877, she married L. K. Gilliland and the early years of their married life were spent on the well known Stalker farm in Ferguson township. She was a member of the Methodist church from girlhood and a faithful attendant at both church services and Sunday school.

Her husband died in 1917 but surviving her are the following children: Mrs. Carrie Brooks, of Altoona; T. Burton Gilliland, of Tyrone; Miss Anna G., of Harrisburg; Joseph H., of Pennsylvania Furnace, and Oscar, of Graysville. She also leaves three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. L. C. Thomas, of Latrobe; Mrs. Luther Grove, of Huntingdon; Mrs. Ada R. Gilliland, of Mooresville; William Scott, of Saalsburg, and Oliver Scott, of Cottage.

Funeral services were held at her late home at 10:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning by Rev. J. A. Garver, assisted by Rev. Alexander B. Scott, of Williamsport, after which burial was made in the Mooresville cemetery.

HUNTER.—J. Craig Hunter, a lifelong resident of Centre county, died at ten o'clock last Wednesday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edmund Dale, on the Branch, as the result of a stroke of apoplexy sustained just five hours previous. He had not been in good health for several years but his death at that time was very sudden and unexpected.

A son of Hon. Benjamin F. and Nancy Hunter he was born in Buffalo Run valley on May 1st, 1861, hence had reached the age of 63 years and 20 days. All his life was spent on the farm until about fifteen years ago when he moved to State College, but during the past year he had made his home with his daughter, on the Branch. He married Miss Mary Wise, who died fifteen years ago, but surviving him are two daughters, Mrs. Dale, with whom he made his home, and Miss Rachel, a Senior at State College. He also leaves two brothers and one sister, Robert F. and J. Dorsey Hunter, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. A. M. Reeser, of Lancaster.

Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church at State College, of which he was a member, last Friday afternoon. Rev. Samuel Martin officiated and burial was made in the Meyers cemetery near his old home.

PRICE.—David Price died on Thursday of last week at his home on Curtin street, as the result of cancer of the jaw. While he had been a semi-invalid for the past twelve years his serious illness began only about a year ago.

A son of Isaac and Diana Harris Price he was born at Karthaus on January 5th, 1839, hence had reached the age of 85 years, 4 months and 17 days. During his early life he worked in the woods as the greater part of the country surrounding his home was then a dense wilderness. When the Civil war broke out he heeded President Lincoln's call for volunteers and walking from Karthaus to Bellefonte enlisted in Company E, Fifth Pennsylvania reserves. At the expiration of the term of his enlistment he returned home but soon re-enlisted as a substitute for the period of the war's duration, and his regiment was assigned to the army of the Potomac. Among the battles in which he participated were New Creek, Drawsville, Mechanicsville, Gaines Mill, New Market Cross Roads, Malvern Hill, Harpers Landing, Bull Run, Antietam and Fredericksburg. At the latter place he was taken prisoner and spent ninety-three days in Libby prison. He was finally exchanged and rejoining his regiment at Washington took part in the battles of Gettysburg, Rappahannock and The Wilderness. He was wounded in the right knee, left foot and left shoulder and was honorably discharged at Harrisburg in June, 1864.

Returning home he resumed his work in the woods in which he engaged many years. During his residence in Karthaus township, Clearfield county, he served as tax collector for eighteen years and was also constable for an equal period of time, discharging the duties of both offices with promptness and fidelity. Five years ago he moved to Bellefonte and this had been his home ever since.

He is survived by his wife and the following children: Mrs. Martha Kelley, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Roberta Bucher, of Lock Haven; Mrs. Nettie Loy, at home; Mrs. James Daley, of DuBois; Frank, in the Perryville (Md.) hospital for invalid soldiers, and Leonard, at home. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Margaret Sparr, of Clearfield.

Brief funeral services were held at his late home on Saturday morning by Rev. E. E. McKelvey, after which the remains were taken to Keewadin, Clearfield county, for burial.

TRESSLER.—Joseph Tressler, a well known resident of Zion, dropped dead last Saturday morning while visiting his daughter, Mrs. Wayne Evey, at Lock Haven. He was out walking in the garden when he suddenly collapsed and expired before help could reach him.

A son of Henry and Lydia Reitz Tressler he was born in Benner township, having reached the age of 78 years, 10 months and 22 days. He married Miss Elizabeth Resides, who died in 1921, but surviving him are the following children: Boyd, of Zion, with whom he made his home; Daniel, of Juniata; Harry, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Emma Campbell, Mrs. Bessie Showers and Mrs. Eva Struble, of State College; Mrs. Ida Evey, of Lock Haven, and Mrs. Gussie Seinnell, of Ambridge. He also leaves two brothers and one sister, Daniel Tressler, of Erie; William and Mrs. William Colpetzer, of Bellefonte.

The remains were taken to the home of Mrs. Struble, at State College, where funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Thompson, of Houserville, burial being made in the Pine Hall cemetery.

RISK.—Mrs. Lilly Risk, widow of the late Alexander Risk, at one time residents of Bellefonte, died at her home in Altoona on Tuesday evening as the result of a complication of diseases. She was born in Syria on January 1st, 1875, hence was in her fifty-fourth year. Her husband died on May 24th, 1916, but surviving her are the following children: Mrs. Louis Shidaker, of Columbus, Ind.; Florence, Catherine, Bessie, Barbara, Dale, Emaline, Hayes and Alexander, all at home. She also leaves two brothers, Charles and Frank Mosier, of New York city. Funeral services will be held at the Sacred Heart Catholic church, in Altoona, of which she was a member, at ten o'clock this (Friday) morning, after which the remains will be brought to Bellefonte on the Pennsylvania-Lehigh train and taken direct to the Union cemetery for burial.

SELDING.—Mrs. Nancy Selding, widow of John Selding, died at her home at Linden Hall on Tuesday evening following a brief illness with gangrene. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Witmer and was born at Pine Grove Mills 77 years ago. Surviving her are three children, George, at home; Mrs. Wallace White, of Centre Hall, and William, of New York. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Aaron Thomas, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. John Kline, of Lemont. Burial will be made at Boalsburg tomorrow morning.

Some farmers in Centre county are complaining because of the lack of help, yet one employer of labor in Bellefonte avers that he is having more applicants for work this spring than in some years. In fact three men asked him for work on Tuesday and one more was after him bright and early Wednesday morning.

KURTZ.—Charles R. Kurtz, editor of the Centre Democrat, Bellefonte, died at the University hospital, Philadelphia, at 11:30 o'clock on Tuesday night, following six months' illness with kidney and heart trouble. He was taken to the hospital about a month ago but his condition at that time was so serious that nothing could be done to prolong his life.

He was a son of Frederick and Anne Harter Kurtz and was born at Aaronsburg October 31st, 1864, hence was in his sixtieth year. When a child his parents moved to Centre Hall where he attended the public schools until seventeen years of age. He then entered Bucknell University at Lewisburg, graduating at that institution in 1886. Returning to Centre Hall he assisted his father in the editing and management of the Centre Hall Reporter during a period of two years, coming to Bellefonte in 1888 to take charge of the Centre Democrat. The latter paper was owned at the time by a number of Bellefonte men and in 1895 Mr. Kurtz purchased their interests and became sole owner of the paper. His entire energies were devoted to his newspaper interests until after the election and inauguration of Woodrow Wilson, as President, when he was appointed Surveyor of the Port, at Philadelphia. He assumed the duties of his appointment about mid-summer of 1913, and being re-appointed during President Wilson's second term, filled the office a month or two over eight years. He returned to Bellefonte in 1921 and resumed personal charge of his newspaper, a work in which he was engaged when overtaken by his fatal illness. In addition to his newspaper he had various other financial interests and a year or so ago was instrumental in floating a large issue of stock in the Blanchard Coal company, which developed operations out near Karthaus. He was an attendant at St. John's Episcopal church and a member of the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks.

Some fourteen years ago he married Miss Lois Calderwood, superintendent at the Bellefonte hospital, who survives with two children, Frederick and Lois Virginia. He also leaves one brother, John Frederick Kurtz, of Lewisburg.

The remains were brought to Bellefonte on Wednesday evening and taken to his late home on High street where funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon. Rev. M. DePul Maynard will officiate and burial be made in the Union cemetery.

HAYES.—Mrs. Sarah B. Hayes, widow of the late Dr. Thomas R. Hayes, died at six o'clock last Thursday evening, at her home in Atlantic City, as the result of an incurable disease with which she had suffered for a number of years.

She was a daughter of Hon. Hugh M. and Henrietta Ashman Orison McAllister and was born in Bellefonte seventy-three years ago. Her father was one of the prominent attorneys at the Centre county bar during his generation and sat in the State constitutional convention in 1873. During her girlhood days Mrs. Hayes was regarded as one of the most charming young women in Bellefonte. On December 28th, 1871, she married Dr. Thomas R. Hayes, and during the many years they made their home in Bellefonte she was an active participant in the social life of the town as well as a ministering angel to many people less fortunately situated than herself. A lifelong member of the Presbyterian church she was for years a member of the church choir and a leader in most every department of church work. From the time of its establishment until leaving Bellefonte both she and her husband were staunch supporters of the Y. M. C. A., and it was largely due to their philanthropic interest that the institution was kept alive during the many years of its struggle for existence. Twenty or more years ago they were compelled to leave Bellefonte owing to the doctor's health and for ten years they spent their winters in Los Angeles, Cal., and their summers at Atlantic City. Dr. Hayes passed away in December, 1913, and since that time Mrs. Hayes had continued to make her home in Atlantic City, with only brief visits to Bellefonte.

Her only immediate survivor is one sister, Mrs. James A. Beaver, of Bellefonte. Brief funeral services were held at her late home in Atlantic City last Friday after which the remains were taken to Philadelphia where they were cremated and the urn containing her ashes was brought to Bellefonte on Tuesday morning and placed in the vault with the remains of her husband, Rev. William C. Thompson having charge of the commitment service.

A number from Bellefonte attended the communion service held Sunday, in the Buffalo church, at the Buffalo Cross Roads, Union county. This one with that of Pottsgrove and Warriors Run, lays claim to being the oldest Presbyterian church of Central Pennsylvania. These quarterly pilgrimages are made by churchmen from all parts of the State so that the charter may not lapse.

Cooper Bros. show passed through Bellefonte on Tuesday morning on its way to Howard where it delighted the residents of that section. The show traveled in two railroad cars.

Registration for the Elks' kiddies picnic to be held at Hecla park on June 14th will begin at the Elks' club on Monday, June 2nd.

Eggs Almost Equal Wheat in Productive Value to Centre County Farmers.

Off hand the average person would smile incredulously if you were to tell him that the value of the eggs produced on Centre county farms is within $45,000 of being as great as that of all the wheat grown. Yet it is the fact, if statistics compiled by the Department of Agriculture are to be taken as fairly accurate.

The following table showing the acreage, yield and approximate value of the principal farm productions is interesting because it gives an idea of what agriculture really means to Centre county in the way of creative value and should be a guide to farmers who study it intelligently with the thought of devoting more of their effort to the more profitable branches of their work.

CENTRE COUNTY CROP REPORT YEAR 1923. Table with columns for Crop, Acres, Production, and Value. Includes Wheat, Corn, Oats, Rye, Buckwheat, Barley, Potatoes, Hay, Apples, Peaches, Pears, Livestock Products, and Livestock on Farms.

In corn yield we are 4.9 bushels below the average yield in the State. In wheat we are 4.1 below the average. Oats we produce 2.4 bushels less per acre than the average, but in potatoes we are 14 bushels per acre above the average, our average yield being 120 bushels. This is due to the application of more scientific methods in treatment of the seed and spraying by some farmers and shows the possibilities in application of modern methods. Some farmers are getting as high as 400 bushels to the acre and all could do much better than they are if they were to specialize a bit on this crop that has possibilities of more profit for less work than almost any other on the farm.

John Strabilla Acquitted of Murder.

When the "Watchman" went to press last week John Strabilla, of Snow Shoe, was on trial in the Centre county court on the charge of murder in connection with a dynamiting affair in that section two years ago. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

In the case against William H. Turner, charged with desertion and non-support, the court ordered the defendant to pay $25 per month and costs. On a similar charge Guy Coll was ordered to pay $10 per month and George Austin $35 per month.

Henry "Crow" Brown plead guilty to aggravated assault and battery and was sent to jail for sixty days. Wilbur Perch plead guilty to operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and was fined $100 and costs.

The disposition of the case of Frank Auman, charged with having killed Hugh H. Gilett, was continued until the September session of court, the defendant being released upon his own recognizance.
