Six years or more ago, when the order was given for the scrapping of the old Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, many residents through Nittany valley hooted the idea of the stockholders voting to do such a thing. But they did it, and the road went on the excavation of the foundation for a scrap pile, and since then everything new oil and gasoline station in the that is grown by the farmers in that rich and fertile valley has to be hauled out, and everything they buy has to be hauled in. #### Bellefonte Academy Minstrels Stage Two Performances.

When the curtain rose for the opening chorus of the Bellefonte Academy minstrels, last Thursday night, every man and woman in the audience gasped in astonishment at the brilliance of the stage setting. Elaborate electrical effects intermingled with festoons of gold and blue ribbon, the Academy colors, on a scale never before attempted. Catchy songs and music, clever jokes and dialogues ran through the entire first part, while the dancing of the end men was also a pleasing feature.

The second part opened with banjo and guitar selections followed by Pete Then came the carnival of song and dance which was something new and ance given by Academy students. ## Five More New Cases of Typhoid Fever, No Other Deaths.

Five additional cases of typhoid fever developed during the week as the result of the epidemic at Coleville and vicinity, but fortunately no more deaths have occurred, although four of the patients are in a serious condition. Those developing the disease during the past few days are Laura, Merle and Harry Davis, Thomas Leathers and Paul Justice. The four whose condition is quite serious are Mrs. Evoch, John Rossman, Thurman Davis and Clarence Young. Miss Pearl Leathers, whose condition was so critical for several weeks, is now so much improved that there is every hope of her recovery. There are now twenty-three fever patients in the hospital, and with two deaths and two who have been discharged makes twenty-seven afflicted ones as the result of the epidemic.

If ever an institution proved a blessing in any community the Bellefonte hospital has at the present time. The entire fourth floor has been given over to the fever patients, so that they are practically isolated from the other sick. This, naturally, has overcrowded the capacity of the institution and placed a heavy burden upon the entire supervision and nursing staff, but they have all responded most nobly and are doing their work willingly and cheerfully. In addition to the fever patients Sanford Kalin, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Kalin, of Bellefonte, was admitted for a surgical operation last Friday and on Wednesday afternoon of this week just fifty-six beds were occupied.

The record in number of patients at the hospital was made last week when fifty-seven were in the institution, seven more than its supposed capacity of fifty. That they are being wonderfully cared for is accepted here as a matter of course, but the exceptionstrain, has drawn the attention of the Miss Eckert, the superintendent:

HONORING THE SOLDIERS.

Memorial Day Exercises will be Held in Bellefonte This (Friday) Afternoon

The ranks of the old soldiers of the days of '61-'65 have been so thinned by death that the younger veterans of the world war are now "carrying on" in the time-honored custom of religiously observing the annual Memorial day. In Bellefonte the Brooks-Doll Post of the American Legion has assumed the burden of this obligation in connection with the few surviving soldiers of the Civil war and the veterans of the Spanish-American war.

The initial service was held on Sunday when the veterans attended divine service at the Episcopal church where Rev Malcolm DePui Maynard preached a most appropriate sermon. During the day details visited Snydertown, Hublersburg, Zion and the Meyers' cemeteries, where brief services were held and the graves of deceased soldiers decorated.

Memorial exercises proper will be held in Bellefonte this (Friday) afternoon. As usual, the parade will form in the Diamond at 1:30 o'clock and will include the Odd Fellows band, the Civil war veterans in automobiles, Spanish-American war veterans, the American Legion, Troop B, P. O. S. of A., civic societies and school children. It will move promptly at two o'clock and march to the Union cemetery where the regular services will be held and graves strewn with flowers, following which the memorial address Knisely, while here looking after some will be delivered by Rev. ## Big Farm Gathering at State College.

A delegation of Centre county boys will go to State College for the annual young farmer's week which is to be held June 9th to 13th, under the auspices of The Pennsylvania State College. Several of the boys will compete in state-wide judging contests which will be held on Thursday, June 12th. Dairy cattle, general livestock, including beef cattle, horses, sheep, swine, poultry and crops, will be judged by the juniors in these contests and prizes will be awarded the individual winners and the team champions.

The first three days of the week will be devoted to instruction on agriculture, organized recreation and play, and special entertainment. Arrangements have been made to house the boys free of charge in one of the college buildings and reservations will be made for the girls at rooming houses at $1.00 per day. Thursday has been designated as farmer's day, and at least two thousand farmers are expected to visit the college farms and view the experimental work being done in crops and live stock. Thirty demonstrations and lectures have been arranged for various hours throughout the day, and a farmer's dairy judging contest, an hour devoted to field events, and an auction sale of pure-bred dairy calves have been scheduled as added attractions. A program has also been arranged for the women.

Farmers and their families are urged to arrive at State College by the evening of June 11th, when the big meeting has been scheduled with special talks, community singing, and educational moving pictures.
