

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Fifty-seven more prisoners were transferred from the eastern penitentiary to Rockview on Monday.

Frank E. Nagney, of Bellefonte, was re-elected treasurer of the Pennsylvania Funeral Directors' association at the annual convention held at the Penn-Harris hotel, Harrisburg, last week.

The Logan fire company will hold its annual picnic at Hecla park on July 4th, two weeks from today, while the date for the big business men's picnic has been set for Thursday, August 14th.

While working at the Conrad Miller lime quarries, near Jacksonville, last Thursday, John Harter sustained painful injuries to his left foot when a dinky car ran over it. Fortunately no bones were broken.

The hotel at Unionville, in charge of Mine Host John Holt and his capable wife, had a busy day of it on Sunday. In addition to their regular boarders and the usual run of transients they served dinner and supper to thirty-two Welsh singers, from Johnstown, who gave a concert in that town.

The first farmer to drive on the new scales at the Nathan Kofman yard tomorrow will get a ton of coal free; the second farmer will get a ton for $1.00; the third farmer a ton for $2.00; the third $3.00 and all others $4.00. All Bellefonte people who place orders tomorrow will get a reduction of 50 cents a ton, good for the day only.

Bill Hall, the notorious criminal who recently shot two police officers in Altoona when they undertook to arrest him for burglary, was sentenced on a number of counts by Judge Baldrige, in the Blair county court on Monday, giving him a minimum of thirteen years in the western penitentiary and a maximum of twenty-six years. Hall is 57 years old so if he serves only the minimum sentences he will be 70 when he gets out.

Warm weather has evidently come to stay but that will make no difference with the comfort of scenic patrons. Big fans are so arranged that the room is always comfortable and no nicer place of amusement and entertainment can be found in Bellefonte. The programs of motion pictures shown at the Scenic are selected by manager Brown with unusual care and for the special purpose of pleasing his patrons. Be a regular and see them all.

A news dispatch from Allentown, last Saturday, stated that prior to the commencement exercises at the Park Bible school, on Friday evening, two of the students, Walter F. Bubbs, of Centre Hall, and Miss Adeline E. Behrent, the valedictorian of the graduating class celebrated their graduation by getting married. Rev. George B. Kulp, of Battle Creek, Mich., performed the ceremony. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bubbs have decided to engage in evangelistic work.

Chicken, ham and tongue sandwiches, hard-boiled eggs, apple, shoofly and cherry pies, dill pickles, pink lemonade, angel, jelly layer and devil cake, oranges, bananas, plums and apples, crackers, ice cream and coffee are among the good things to eat promised by the committee in charge of the twenty-first annual basket picnic of the Centre County Association of Philadelphia to be held in Fairmount park, that city, tomorrow. All Centre countians in Philadelphia are cordially invited.

The annual commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania industrial reformatory at Huntingdon will be held Thursday, June 26th, at 2 and 7:30 p. m. These exercises are open to the public, who are cordially invited to be present. At the close of the afternoon exercises held in the chapel, visitors will be shown through the workshops and industrial departments of the reformatory and will have an opportunity of seeing the workmanship of the young men who are being taught trades in these departments.

Last Friday, the 13th, was sure an unlucky day for passenger train west on the Lewisburg division of the Tyrone railroad. First the engine frame broke and the fact was discovered in time to avert a serious wreck and another engine secured from Sunbury. Running behind time the train ran down three cows in the vicinity of Oak Hall, killing one of them. At Lemont a man named Lewis Jones tried to get across the track ahead of the train. He escaped without a scratch but his flivver was reduced to junk.

Fred Campbell, of Tyrone, has signed a contract to go on tour with Sousa's band in the fall. Fred is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, formerly of Milesburg, where Jim was a member of the original "Boys Band," of that place, and developed into a wonderful alto player. Since moving to Tyrone he has jumped all around in his instrumentation by going on double bass and then to cornet. Like father, like son, it was natural for Fred to get into a band so he started under Frank Wetzler, at Milesburg, taking the flute and piccolo. He showed such talent for the instruments that after leaving Milesburg he studied flute under Buerre, became a member of the Ridgway 69th cavalry band of New York city and is now going with America's greatest bandsman.

HOSPITAL BOARD ORGANIZED.

Chairman of Building Committee Instructed to Get Busy at Once.

The new board of managers of the Centre County hospital, chosen at a corporation meeting on Monday evening of last week, met at the hospital on Monday evening. Every member was present with the exception of Prof. Woodruff, of State College, who is out in Wisconsin on his summer vacation, and W. Edgar Williams, of Port Matilda. Of the eight men elected to the board in the Bellefonte district, A. Fauble and W. H. Noll Jr., declined the honor and the first business of the board on Monday evening was to elect Calvin Troup and Horatio S. Moore to fill the vacancies. Both gentlemen accepted the responsibility and went forthwith to the meeting.

The board then organized by electing George Hazel, of Bellefonte, president; J. Laird Holmes, of State College, vice president; Ralph T. Malory, secretary, and Edward R. Owens, treasurer. The bond of the latter was fixed at $50,000. Mr. Moore was chosen chairman of the building committee and empowered to select any other four members of the board as his co-workers.

Before adjournment all the papers in connection with architect Wright's plans and estimates for remodeling the hospital were turned over to Mr. Moore and he was asked to lose no time in communicating with that gentleman and arrange for a visit to Bellefonte at the earliest possible date, so as to get the benefit of his advice in connection with beginning work on the improvements to be made at the hospital as the result of the recent drive which resulted in almost one hundred thousand dollars being raised.

The board also decided that the committee appointed by the Kiwanis club, and the organization it had made for the collection of the pledges toward the big fund, should continue effective for the time being. The second Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., was decided upon as the time for regular meetings, and the place of holding same at the hospital.

The meeting on Monday evening brought to the hospital men who perhaps never before had been inside the institution and they were all naturally much impressed with what they saw.

ASSETS OF THE BELLEFONTE HOSPITAL TURNED OVER TO NEW BOARD.

On Tuesday H. E. Fenlon, treasurer of the Bellefonte hospital, turned over to president George Hazel, of the Centre county hospital, all cash and securities in his hands. Expressed in cash the sum amounted to approximately $15,732.06, itemized as follows:

Balance in general fund $301.49
Balance in subscription fund 1,805.14
Certificates of deposit 2,545.45
U. S. Liberty Loan Bonds 2,500.00
War Saving Certificates 2,400.00
43 shares preferred and 43 shares common stock of Federal Match Co. estimated at 5,000.00

Also Building and Loan Association books of the value of approximately $1800.00, this representing the saving against the payment for the Hess property which was bought for use as a nurses home and carried in the B. and L. as a current expense.

Insurance policies on the buildings aggregated $27,500.00, $8,000.00 on the furniture and equipment and $2,500.00 on the laundry equipment.

This represents the nucleus of the board of the Bellefonte hospital had conserved through gifts of Harriet Thomas Kurtz, F. W. Crider, L. Olin Meek, and others, and such amounts as were raised by various local entertainments for the purpose of permanent endowments, and does not include any of the money already paid in on the recent big drive which now totals in the neighborhood of $32,000 cash in the several banks of the county.

Fly Campaign to be Conducted by Boy Scouts.

One thousand fly swatters with the same amount of State health posters will be distributed by the boy scouts as their contribution to the fly campaign being conducted throughout the State by the Department of Health. The swatters have been provided through the generosity of the Bellefonte Trust company and surely when the swatter is carried to your door you will do your part and swat every fly you see. Mr. Brown kindly showed at the Scenic a series of slides on the calendar to see the stage of the moon, then ambles down to the stream to see the condition of the water and, if all is just like it was on the day years ago when he made a killing, the wheels of industry are jammed with fishing tackle and visions of a mess of trout for breakfast or some sick friend.

Last Wednesday Frank Kern saw all the signs. Everything was right but the water. It was a bit cloudy so he took minnows and went down about the fair grounds. He came home with four. One measured 2 1/2 inches and weighed 5 pounds, another was 1 1/2 inches long and the other two measured 1 1/2 inches each.

The next evening, Thursday, the water had cleared up, the temperature, the moon and the sky were about the same so Dr. Kilpatrick "flivvered" himself up to the "horse hole" just above the Roopsburg school house. He used a large "cowdung" and a "willow" fly. When he was exhausted in the effort to keep a 5 ounce rod and light tackle from breaking he had one that was 2 1/2 inches, one 2 1/2, one 1 1/2 and one 1 1/2 in his creel.

All of which goes to prove that they are there if you know the time, the food they are taking and have the skill to land them.

Celebrated Birthday Anniversaries.

Jacob Griffin celebrated his seventy-third birthday anniversary on Sunday with a family gathering at his home in Stormstown. Fifteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren were present.

On Monday Mrs. Margaret Smith, of Centre Hall, was ninety-two years old and the event was quietly celebrated by a little family gathering at her home in that place on Sunday. Notwithstanding her advanced age Mrs. Smith enjoys remarkably good health.

Peggy U'Dell Again on the Front Page.

Peggy U'Dell, the pretty Follies girl who two years ago drew considerable front page notoriety through being defendant in an annulment of marriage proceeding instituted by a young man of Bellefonte, got on the front page this week as the result of an action for divorce and non-support brought by her against her second husband, Jimmy Conzelman, an athletic star and song writer. Peggy says Jimmy took her to Chicago to live in one room and board with his mother, and that she washed his socks, handkerchiefs and shirts; cooked, scrubbed and did many things she never had done before, but the Conzelman family was too much for her. Any person who saw Peggy when she visited Bellefonte in the fall of 1922 can imagine her washing and scrubbing.

A Boarding Home for Children.

Mrs. Mary Kane has now five children in her boarding home for children, at Roopsburg. It is fortunate for homeless kiddies that some one wants them and will give them an attractive home and good board for the reasonable sum of five dollars a week.

Mrs. Kane owns and has entirely renovated the old Haas home with especial thought for the needs of little ones. An illustration of the value of such an enterprise in a community was given this week when a mother, a foreigner, became so seriously ill that she had to be taken to the hospital immediately, leaving three small children in the home with no one to care for them, as the father could not afford to leave his work. He was willing to pay for the care of his children and the Red Cross nurse put them temporarily in the borough home. This institution is not well adapted for the care of children and their removal was requested. The almost distracted nurse happily thought of Mrs. Kane's boarding home and soon the three lonely and homesick little ones were transferred there awaiting the recovery of their mother, and last seen of them looked happy and contented.

Can Use Old Appropriation for Construction at Rockview.

Deputy Attorney General Schnader on Tuesday handed down an opinion in which he advised that the three hundred thousand dollar appropriation passed by the 1921 session of the Legislature for construction work at the Rickview penitentiary, and most of which has not been used because the building operations at that institution were held up for various reasons, is available for the prompt payment of contractors now engaged on the renewed construction.

This position is directly contrary to that of Auditor General Lewis, who has held up payments because of conflicts in the administrative code and the appropriation. These conflicts are admitted by Schnader in the opinion, but he cites section 3 of the code which transfers powers to make unexpended appropriations available.

Unless this section is unconstitutional the payments can be made under that provision, said Schnader. The act of 1921 made an appropriation of $300,000 to the board of inspectors of the western penitentiary which has been abolished by the administrative code.

Catching Big Fish.

The season has not been propitious, but every once in a while the real piscatorialist looks at the thermometer, takes a squint at the sky, goes to the calendar to see the stage of the moon, then ambles down to the stream to see the condition of the water and, if all is just like it was on the day years ago when he made a killing, the wheels of industry are jammed with fishing tackle and visions of a mess of trout for breakfast or some sick friend.

Last Wednesday Frank Kern saw all the signs. Everything was right but the water. It was a bit cloudy so he took minnows and went down about the fair grounds. He came home with four. SUNDAY GRIST OF AUTO ACCIDENTS.

One Car Plunged Through Railing of Milesburg Bridge into Bald Eagle Creek.

Sunday brought its usual grist of auto accidents and although there were a number of miraculous escapes no deaths resulted and only one person was injured seriously enough to send him to the hospital. Probably the most remarkable accident of all happened to G. W. Caldwell and wife, of Jersey Shore. They were on their way home from visiting Mr. Caldwell's brother in Clearfield, in a Buick sports model car. At the Milesburg bridge Mr. Caldwell was too slow in making the turn onto the bridge with the result that his car plunged through the railing and down into the creek, carrying both occupants with it. The accident happened about 7:30 o'clock and in a very few minutes a large crowd gathered at the bridge, naturally horrified over the possibility of finding Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell both dead, but strange as it may seem, neither one was seriously injured and were soon rescued from the submerged car. They went home by train the same evening and on Monday the Deitrick-Dunlap Cadillac company raised the car from the creek and towed it to their garage in Bellefonte for repairs.

A peculiar accident happened at the Underwood farm, near Unionville, about eleven o'clock on Sunday morning. The State Highway oiling gang are at work on the Bald Eagle road and on Saturday the big tank oiler got stuck in the ditch at the Underwood farm. Several hundred gallons of oil were dumped into the ditch in order to reduce the weight of the load so the big truck could be gotten back onto solid ground. Sunday forenoon a Mr. Malone and son, of Tyrone, were on their way to Lock Haven to attend a funeral and when they struck the freshly oiled road their car skidded and landed in the ditch right where the big quantity of oil had been dumped. They were compelled to engage the services of a tractor to pull their car back onto the road, and though the top of the car was badly damaged and the auto badly smeared with road oil, it was able to run and the two men proceeded on their way.

On Sunday evening Cordice Chambers and John Pinchock, eighteen year old son of George Pinchock, were motoring near Clarence when their car was ditched and upset. Chambers escaped injury but Pinchock was brought to the Bellefonte hospital where it was found that he had sustained several fractured ribs and other injuries, though his condition is not considered critical.

A party of four people from Winburne, in a Ford car, were on their way to Snow Shoe on Sunday afternoon when a blowout wrecked their car, near the concrete bridge over Beech creek. The car turned turtle and one man suffered a fractured collarbone while all the occupants were more or less injured. They were taken to their homes in Winburne.

Quite a number of minor accidents were reported from various sections of the county, but the result in each case was only a damaged car.

Features of the Band Concert.

The Odd Fellows band gave the second of its summer concerts Wednesday evening and delighted a large audience. The organization is playing so smoothly now that its real superiority as a concert band must be apparent to even the untrained lover of music. With only twenty pieces the parts were splendidly balanced Wednesday night and the execution in all movements about as fine as any one has reason to expect from a volunteer band.

The program was varied by the interpolation of a song by Master Irvin Martin and a duet in which his little sister joined singing alto to Irvin's soprano in a most pleasing rendition. Paul Crust and Harold Wion, two of the younger musicians in the organization, contributed cornet and trombone solos, respectively, so nicely executed that we could scarcely realize that they have been under the direction of band-master Bryan little more than a year.

Mr. Louie Geist, of Johnstown, tenor, in splendid voice, and with professional artistry, sang three songs that contributed much to the charm of the program.

Seriously Hurt at State College.

Oliver Burrows, who makes his home with E. S. Moore, on the Mitchell farm west of Pine Grove, was very seriously injured at State College on Wednesday.

He had gone down to the College to transact some business and was just in the act of getting into his car to return home when another machine side-swiped his, knocking him down and dragging him a considerable distance. Several ribs were broken and he suffered painful lacerations and other injuries. The unfortunate man was taken to the Moore home where it was reported yesterday that he is in a serious condition.

W. R. Bierly, who for several years past has been conducting a book printing plant in Philadelphia, writes the "Watchman" that he has sold his plant and "moved out of Nutville and Craft Elyseum." Bellefonte Continues Winning Streak in Centre County League.

The Bellefonte nine continues its winning streak in the Centre county baseball league with Millheim tagging along only a few games behind. Last Thursday's contests resulted as follows: Bellefonte 7, State College 5; Millheim 3, Centre Hall 2. On Saturday Bellefonte blanked Millheim, the score being 10 to 0, while Centre Hall defeated State 7 to 0.

In this game the Bellefonte team played gilt-edged ball, Harshbarger's pitching being the big feature. But twenty-eight men faced him in nine innings and not one reached second base. His support was also airtight, seventeen assists being recorded. Rutherford's hit was a simon pure double but by cutting first base he was thrown out enabling "Harshey" to enter the no hit hall of fame.

The local outfit also had their batting tugs on Saturday. Fifteen healthy swats rattled off their bludgeons, Gingerich leading with four. Malone's sparkling catch off Musser's bat in the seventh was a beauty, another good hit gone wrong. Smith's catching has also meant much for the success of the Bellefonte team, his headwork being so far superior to any backstop in the league. Following is the standing of the clubs:

	W.	L.	P. C.
Bellefonte	5	1	833
Millheim	4	3	571
State College	2	4	353
Centre Hall	2	5	289

Tomorrow State will play at Bellefonte and Centre Hall at Millheim, while next Thursday's games will be State at Centre Hall and Bellefonte at Millheim.
