

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., June 27, 1924.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The Eastern Star organization picnicked at Hecla park on Wednesday.

A handsome new soda fountain and ice cream container has been installed in the Bon Mot.

Wilbur "Roxey" Roach, formerly of Philipsburg, won the state handicap and all-round titles at the State trapshooters tournament at Allentown last week.

Cards received in Bellefonte on Tuesday from Kearney, N. J., announced the arrival on Sunday of a young son in the home of Rev. and Mrs. David R. Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bower have announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Miss Margaret Irvin Bower, to Albert William John Woche, of Wilkinsburg.

In addition to his job of carrying the mails between the Bellefonte postoffice and railroad station D. Wagner Geiss has been appointed carrier on the R. F. D. route No. 1.

Notwithstanding the fact that next Friday will be the 4th of July the "Watchman" will appear on that date, but will not be issued the week following. Correspondents and advertisers are requested to make a note of this fact and govern themselves accordingly.

Nathan Kofman's offer of a ton of coal free to the first farmer to drive onto his new scales last Saturday evening was not taken seriously by the farmers within reach of Bellefonte, as not a single one appeared to claim the prize. Of course, under the circumstances Mr. Kofman was not obliged to give away any of his coal.

The members of Troop B and the Headquarters Troop of the National Guard put in a busy three days at their camp in Curtin's gap over the week-end. The only unpleasant feature was a drizzling rain most of Saturday afternoon which interfered with their sham battle. The boys returned to Bellefonte on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Genoa, of Logan street, are being congratulated by their friends because the stork made them a visit last week and left a fine baby boy. Mrs. Genoa was at her parents' home in Lock Haven when the child was born and both she and the boy are doing so well that the happy father expects to have them home soon.

Postmaster and Mrs. John L. Knisely spent last week at the Mason's camp, near Snow Shoe Intersection, and on Saturday night entertained at dinner the entire postoffice force, clerks, carriers and rural men, with their wives. Of course everybody had a delightful time and it was well along toward the zero hour when the last of them got home.

Mrs. Emma Hess, Mrs. Susan Spangler, Mrs. John Noll, Mrs. Harry Dukeman and John F. Marks have all been critically ill within the past week. Mrs. Hess, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harvey Schaeffer, on east High street; Mrs. Spangler, in Centre Hall; Mrs. Noll, at her home on east Bishop street; Mrs. Dukeman, at her home on Water street, and Mr. Marks at the Bellefonte hospital.

As an artist at swinging the paint brush a man paroled from the Rockview penitentiary a few days ago after serving a four years' sentence, is proving his expertise by painting the Montgomery & Co. advertising signs in and near Bellefonte. A sample of his work can be seen on the island above the falls in Spring creek. It is painted in three colors, all free-hand work and done in a few hours.

Beginning next Tuesday, July 1st, the air mail will inaugurate what is hoped will develop into a twenty-four hour service between New York and San Francisco. Planes which now reach Bellefonte from eight to ten o'clock in the morning will be considerably later. The westbound ship will be due at the Bellefonte field at 12:30 o'clock and the eastbound at 2 o'clock. All planes will stop in Bellefonte as usual.

Last Friday Morris Miller motored over to the Seven mountains and took his father, Mr. Isaac Miller, over to that famous and historic retreat of Walter Gheritty, where he will spend some time exchanging hunting stories with Walter and the various people who make his place their headquarters while troutfishing in that section, and incidentally watch the deer that are in the habit of using his farm buildings as rubbing posts.

The home grown strawberry is now coming into market and from all reports will be a big crop. The greatest trouble will be the picking of the fruit, as the farmers are so far behind with their regular farm work that the extra labor of picking strawberries will be almost a hardship. School boys who are looking for odd jobs to do during vacation might find employment picking berries for the various growers in the county.

Miss Helen Beezer, now in charge of the Beezer meat market, is solving her own ice problem by the installation of a refrigerating plant in the basement of the Benner building. It will not only assure her of a more even temperature in the big refrigerator but will also do away with the handling of ice and obviate all danger of an ice shortage just when it is most needed. The market has also been improved by the installation of nickle and glass cases and counters.

Moonshiners Evade Capture, but Still is Confiscated.

About a year ago a man who claimed to be R. E. Patterson, of Cleveland, Ohio, leased the John Haugh farm near Scotia, claiming that he had to get out in the open on account of his health. His household consisted of himself and wife and a hired man, but because of the fact that little farming was done and Mr. Patterson made frequent trips to Tyrone in a big automobile created more or less suspicion and finally an enforcement officer appeared in that locality and did a little sleuthing. The result was that two weeks ago he went before Squire I. J. Dreese, of Lemont, and swore out a search and seizure warrant.

The same night he swore in as deputies policeman Mingle, of State College; Harris Holmes, Fred Resides, George Fulton and Ernest Hoy, also of that borough, and accompanied by Squire Dreese, went to the Haugh farm in two automobiles. No one was at home when they arrived and they lay in wait for the occupants of the house. In less than half an hour Mr. and Mrs. Patterson approached in their big car but being a little suspicious they stopped some distance from the house and Mrs. Patterson got out to investigate. She had gone but a few steps from the machine when she evidently discovered the officers because she quickly turned around, ran back and jumped into the car, the man stepped on the gas and the car sped away in the darkness.

Several of the officers jumped in a car and gave chase but had not gone far when they had a blowout and lost some time changing tires. They continued the chase, however, across the Barrens and down the White Hall road past Pennsylvania Furnace, near Franklinville they found the Patterson car which had cast a tire and been abandoned, but no trace could be secured of the moonshiners.

A search of the Haugh house resulted in finding a most complete moonshining plant in one of the second floor bedrooms, which included a thirty gallon still, three fifty gallon barrels of corn mash and three quarts of moonshine. Owing to the frequent trips Patterson made to Tyrone it is believed that all his product was disposed of there. The still, mash and moonshine were confiscated and turned over to the custody of Squire Dreese.

Altoona Wants to Send Airmail to Bellefonte.

Inquiry as to whether or not Altoona may send her mail for airplane delivery to Bellefonte for loading instead of to Cleveland is to be made of the federal department, by postmaster J. E. Brumbaugh, according to Wednesday's Altoona Tribune.

If this is allowed by the department, it will mean a dispatch five or six hours earlier than if the mail were sent overland to Cleveland, a seven hours' trip, according to postmaster Brumbaugh.

With airplane mail service in operation it will start July 1, the time of service between New York and the west coast will be shortened from a minimum of four days to about a day and a half. The one deterrent factor, however, is the expense. To send a letter from the east to the west coast will require 24 cents in postage.

The initial airplane mail service bulletin from the department states that all mail from Pennsylvania is to be sent to Cleveland and there placed on the mail plane from the State. Only airplane mail collected in Bellefonte will be dispatched by plane from this State.

Logan Firemen will Picnic on the Fourth.

It has been many a year since Bellefonte has had a regular, old-time Fourth of July celebration, and the coming national holiday promises to be a very quiet one here. The Logan fire company will hold its annual picnic at Hecla park and it is thither the most of the people will wend their way. And the fire laddies deserve all the patronage possible. They have arranged a good program of amusements which will include various races, a ball game between two teams of the Centre county league, band concerts and dancing during the afternoon and evening. The Keystone Sirens, a Williamsport orchestra, will furnish the music for the dancing.

A big picnic will also be held at the Moravian park, in Snow Shoe, while residents of State College are arranging to celebrate the Fourth in a patriotic manner. Many Bellefonte people are likely to go into camp on Fishing creek at that time while others will motor to the mountains for the day.

To Correspondents.

While the "Watchman" will be issued next week as usual every effort will be made to get to press as early as possible, and for this reason all correspondence should reach this office not later than Tuesday. Any late news items can be covered by telephone. By giving this your careful consideration you will confer a favor on everybody in this office.

When it comes to consistent, every evening entertainment the Scenic is the only dependable place in Bellefonte. Open every evening in the week except Sunday and no better programs of motion pictures are shown anywhere than at the Scenic. The only way to see all the good ones is by being a regular. No need to stay at home because of hot weather, as the Scenic is always comfortable.

The Boy Scouts of Bellefonte will hold a big festival on the grounds in front of the High school building this (Friday) evening. Everything seasonable will be on sale and the Odd Fellows band will furnish music. As the Scouts are working to get together a camping fund the patronage of the people of Bellefonte and vicinity will be appreciated.

Figuratively speaking, the business portion of Bellefonte will soon bloom like the rose. Kiwanis has installed flower boxes on all the lamp posts from the railroad to the Diamond and from Bishop street to Howard street, and when the flowers which are to be planted therein come in bloom it will doubtless add to the beauty of the town. The Boy Scouts have agreed to see that the flowers receive all the care and attention they may need.

The Academy swimming pool on Hughes field is proving a popular place with the young people of Bellefonte during this torrid weather. Constantly running water keeps the pool clear and pure and a dip in its depth is very refreshing. An attendant is constantly in charge and the pool is open morning, afternoon and evening, the small charge of 25 cents being made for each period. Bathing suits are also kept in the dressing rooms and will be rented to those who don't have any, at a small fee.

A get-out-the-vote caravan, composed of members of the Pennsylvania League of Women voters, will spend the month of October touring the State for the purpose of inducing all women to get out to the polls in November and vote. The entourage will travel in automobiles and October 8th is the date when they are expected to visit Lock Haven, Bellefonte and State College. While it is supposed to be non-political it has all the earmarks of being arranged in the interest of the Republican candidates.

From all reports the berry crop in Centre county this season will be the biggest in some years. This includes raspberries, blackberries and huckleberries, although the crops will be a little later this year than usual, owing to the long period of cold weather. Many of the mountains in the county are covered with huckleberry bushes and in good seasons they afford remunerative employment to scores of women and men who pick them for market. The berries are shipped to nearby cities and command a good price.

Last Thursday night G. Max Gamble and Russell Beezer drove to Lock Haven to take in the sights of the carnival and just as they were passing the Thos. Beaver property on their way home one of the Hon. Tom's pinto ponies ran out of the driveway right in front of the car. The animal was hit with sufficient force as to break its leg while the shock of the impact threw Mr. Beezer against the framework of the top of the car, resulting in the breaking of his right arm about midway between the elbow and shoulder. The pinto pony had to be shot.

Sixty-five members of the Newport, Perry county, Outing club visited Bellefonte last Thursday and had luncheon at the Brockerhoff house. They were on a three day's tour and following luncheon they visited the big spring and took a look at the trout in Spring creek. Leaving Bellefonte they journeyed to the new western penitentiary at Rockview, having previously made arrangements to inspect that institution, then motored to State College to look over that big educational plant before continuing their journey to Sunbury, where they spent the night.

The concluding testimony in the condemnation proceedings brought against the Millheim Turnpike company and the Nittany, Bald Eagle and Brushvalley Turnpike company, in an effort to have the last remaining toll roads in Centre county vacated, was taken before John Love, as master, and a jury of three last Friday and Saturday. The attorneys interested in the case included Harry Keller, N. B. Spangler and S. D. Gettig Esqs., and the testimony is so voluminous that the viewers, who composed the jury, will take some time to deliberate before rendering a decision.

R. Russell Blair was the victim of a peculiar accident last Saturday evening, as the result of which he has been housed up most of the week at his home on east Linn street. While out in a camp he had been bitten a number of times by mosquitoes, which showed in red blotches on his face and neck. Some of his friends advised him to bathe the bites with ammonia and they would soon disappear. Consequently on Saturday evening he took the ammonia and went out in the yard to apply it. Removing the cork he held his thumb over the neck of the bottle and shook it to live up the gaseous mixture. When he removed his thumb there was an explosion of ammonia gas which threw the liquid into his face and eyes. The lawn hose was on at the time and dropping the bottle he turned the hose right into his face washing off as much of the ammonia as possible, but some of the liquid got into his eyes and burned blisters half as big as a pea on the inside of the eyelids. Fortunately the eyeballs were not injured in the least.

Storm Plays Havoc in Little Nittany Valley.

About two o'clock Wednesday afternoon a terrific storm swept through Little Nittany valley laying low fences, uprooting trees and seriously damaging buildings.

It reached the height of its fury just south-west of Jacksonville where the big farm barn of W. E. Waite was moved five feet off its foundation and the attached straw shed entirely demolished. The chicken house on the farm was wrecked and the garage turned completely over. With Ford luck the fliv in the garage ran out on the wind to safety while the Buick was turned upside down.

Just east of the Waite place, on the Al Pifer farm, the barn was greatly damaged, one end having been blown in.

STORM SWEEP ACROSS INTO BIG NITTANY.

Taking a narrow swath the storm swept over the ridge into big Nittany, taking a south-easterly course, struck the Jacob Crow farm on the state highway a mile east of Hublersburg and uprooted every tree but one in the orchard.

On this side of Nittany the farm barn on the George Harshberger place was unroofed and trees blown down.

The door was blown off the Dory Gunsallus barn and his orchard suffered considerable damage.

The barn on the Frank Long farm, formerly occupied by Joseph Emerick was partially unroofed.

Bellefonte Takes Two More.

The Bellefonte ball team gathered in two more games last week, defeating Centre Hall on Thursday by the score of 6 to 2 and putting it over State College on Saturday 11 to 5. State won from Millheim on Thursday by the score of 5 to 4, while Millheim defeated Centre Hall on Saturday 6 to 1.

Harshberger continues his good work in the box and is backed up by a team of heavy swatters, which is evidenced from the fact that Bellefonte's batting average is .298.

Martin was compelled to retire from Thursday's game due to illness, but before doing so he contributed a single, triple and two runs to the Bellefonte budget. Gingerich had the unique record of three sacrifices out of four trips to the plate, and also contributed a sterling catch of H. Emery's Texas leaguer. Weber laced two wallops to right on Saturday that any one but a draft horse would have made homers, but Johnny ran too much in one place and only reached third on each swat.

Saturday's game was rather loose due to adverse weather conditions. A drizzling rain fell almost continuously during the first five innings, making the ball exceedingly heavy. Only about eighty dyed-in-the-wool fans braved the moisture to view the pastime, which hardly seems enough. Following is the standing of the clubs:

	W.	L.	P. C.
Bellefonte	7	1	875
Millheim	5	4	556
State College	3	5	375
Centre Hall	2	7	222

Tomorrow State will play at Centre Hall and Bellefonte at Millheim, while the next games will be on the Fourth when Millheim will play a double header at State College and Centre Hall a double header at Bellefonte.

Architect Wright Expected Here Next Week.

H. S. Moore, chairman of the building committee of the Centre County hospital, states that there are a number of preliminary details to be determined and plans prepared before the actual work of construction can be started. He has communicated with architect Wright, the New York hospital expert who some months ago prepared the preliminary plans for the remodeling of the hospital, and that gentleman expects to be in Bellefonte and meet with the board some time next week. Previous engagements prevented his coming this week. The new board wishes to assure all contributors to the hospital fund that there will be no unnecessary delays in starting the work, and as little time lost as possible. All contributors who have not paid the first installment on their pledges are requested to do so at the earliest convenient date, so the pledge list can be brought up to date.

Bonus Blanks Now Here.

A large supply of soldiers' bonus blanks have been received by the Red Cross and various American Legion posts in Centre county, and arrangements have been made for a committee and corps of expert stenographers to sit at the Bellefonte armory on July 7th, 8th and 9th, from one o'clock to ten p. m., for the purpose of filling out all blanks for soldiers who apply. July 10th the committee will sit at Centre Hall and on the 11th in Snow Shoe.
