Democratic Watchman.

Bellefonte, Pa., July 4, 1924.

PLEASANT GAP.

Received too late for last week's issue.

That man is a master who uses, in the best way, proper means to good ends; and puts ideas into organization.

The Children's day exercises at the Lutheran church, on Sunday evening, proved a delightful entertainment. The young people were well drilled and carried out the program to the satisfaction of all who were present.

The successful housewife understands that by a re-arrangement of the furniture in her rooms they may be made to appear as fresh and at-tractive as if they had been re-furnished. It is the same old furniture; only seen from a different angle.

There is nothing so intense, so exalted, so fervent, so pure, so nearly related to the nature of heavenly love as the love of a mother. How many outcasts and ungrateful children have in all ages, born witness to the tenderness of her heart to the returning prodigal.

Our good neighbor, Albert Smeltzer, is in a very bad physical condition. He is distressingly weak and has been confined to his bed for the past three weeks. This is unusual, for Albert is one of those good souls who look at the bright side of everything and is rarely known to complain.

Billy Ross and a few more robust individuals are busily engaged in clearing up and fixing our state road. They started up at the mountain and have orders to make all necessary repairs in to Bellefonte, and put the road into a presentable shape. Their efforts as far as they have progress-ed, is showing up fine. Billy never does things by halves.

Some people have the audacity to say that no honest people exist in this age. I am fully convinced that this is a mistake. On Monday last my wife turned over her wash to our wash-woman. On Tuesday when the wash was returned the messenger handed a dollar bill to my wife and said it was in a dress pocket. We were agreeably surprised and fully convinced that there still are some honest people in existence.

Postmaster George Showers has hired Miss Mary Swartz, of Snow Shoe, as his assistant. She is a talented young lady and has had several years' experience as assistant in the Snow Shoe postoffice. Miss Beatrice Noll, who so satisfactorily conducted the office, has resigned and will go to Philadelphia in the near future to take up the nursing proposition, a position she is well adapted for, since she is a natural born nurse.

We have one dog less at the Gap. Some reckless automobile driver ran over a beautiful specimen on Wed-nesday morning and killed him out-right. A few children decorated the dead animal with a profusion of roses. Animals have equal rights with man under all laws that pertain to them in common. Of course, man is supposed to be higher and better than a dog only in a moral point of view, and just how much higher and better depends entirely upon how he stands according to the established moral standard. Of course, there are bad dogs, but taking all things into consideration, there are not as many bad dogs as there are bad men. I have more regard for a good dog than a bad man any time, because he is a trusty protector and devoted friend, and a conservator of health at the same time. A lady caller at our home the other evening said she was tired paying nine cents to our merchants for sugar when she can obtain it in Bellefonte for 71 cents. My wife is somewhat of a judicious financier; she replied there was nothing to it. Here is her argument: You send your "hubby" to Bellefonte, he pays twenty cents each way for car fare, losing at least a half day in time while in town; other little incidentals are costing you money, she added. Why not go to your merchants, tender them the cash and see if buying at home will not prove beneficial to you every time; and of course, man like, I had to have a putin. Supposing the proposition, I said, providing your man invests in two glasses of moonshine, the outcome would be you would be out enough cold cash to purchase ten pounds or more of sugar, instead of investing your hard-earned money in poison. Quite a number of our young folks are fanatics on the dancing fad. Many prefer patronizing the ballroom to going to Sabbath school or to church. Hence it is that our church people are antagonistic to what they call this vicious, uncalled for sport. But then dancing seems to be one of the natural habits of mankind; an outgrowth of his nature. As far back as history goes it formed either a part of religious ceremonies or those celebrating important events. Miriam and Moses led the dance of triumph when the Israelites landed dry-shod on the other side of the Red Sea. David danced because of the joy and satisfaction he felt on account of the prosperity of his people. Primitive christians danced in their religious services, but not by command. They had probably been accustomed to indulge in this exercise before their deities and in the temples of their gods before they became christians. Though the Puri-tans and churches decry the sinful practice-yet the dance goes merrily on.

"Dancer's Heart" Latest Fashion.

If you would be fashionable you should be suffering with a "dancer's heart."

It is the latest affliction, according to physicians here and is the aftermath of the craze for dancing at all hours, between meals and between the courses of meals.

It produces an enlarged heart, due to too much exercise through dancing at the wrong times.

There is only one thing to do: rest for weeks and no more dancing for months.
