BOROUGH COUNCIL VOTED TO BUY BEACON TRAFFIC BEACONS.

Cost for Installation of Five Beacons Will be Approximately $1,500.

John T. Gephart, who some years ago was superintendent of the State Highway Department in this district, demonstrated his ability as a salesman at the regular meeting of borough council on Monday evening when he stamped the borough dads into placing an order for five traffic lights or beacons at a cost of $240 per, without the concrete base or cost of installation. Just six members were present at the meeting, Messrs. Badger, Bradley, Brouse, Cunningham, Emerick and Flack. President Walker being absent Mr. Cunningham was chosen to preside.

Mr. Gephart represents the American Gas Accumulator Co., of New York city, manufacturer of the beacon lights, and he appeared before council loaded down with photographs, data and testimonials of the beacons. It was plainly manifest that he had personally seen most of the members of council beforehand as all of them seemed pretty well imbued with the good points of the beacon, especially as they are to be subject to thirty days trial and not to be paid for before next March. The price for a single beacon is $265; but if purchased in quantity lots of five they are sold at $240 each, or if ten are ordered $225 is the figure. The beacon stands on a concrete base, forty inches square, which must be put down by the borough, and all told is about seven feet in height. Each beacon is lettered with warning signs, and extra lettering will be done at $4.00 a beacon. The light is furnished from an acetylene tank inside the beacon, which will burn steadily for six months, and will then be refilled by the company at about $12.00 a tank. After getting all the dope possible Mr. Bradley moved that council purchase five beacons and the motion carried. As now planned the beacons will be installed at the intersection of Bishop and Allegheny streets, Bishop and Spring, High and Spring, High and south Water street, and Allegheny and Linn streets.

When council convened Perry Moran put in an application for the position of traffic officer on Bishop street to guard the school children but upon recommendation of the Fire and Police committee the regular policemen are to be assigned to do that work.

W. C. Rowe and Jacob Marks, representing the Logan Fire company, asked for some much needed repairs in the way of paper and paint to the public building. Mr. Flack also stated that the Undine building is in bad shape. It ought to have a new roof and also new paint and paper. The matter was referred to the Fire and Police committee with power to secure bids, and if deemed satisfactory, have the work done.

Robert Morris appeared before council in the interest of the Crown fuel saver, which he wants to install in the furnaces at the two fire company buildings at a cost of $35 each. The matter was referred to the Fire and Police committee for investigation and report.

Under the head of written communications residents of north Penn street petitioned for more light and the matter was referred to the Street committee and borough manager.

A communication was received from borough solicitor N. B. Spangler advising council that the ordinance providing for the putting down of pavements does not cover gutters and the Special committee was instructed to have a new ordinance prepared covering the matter.

A letter from the State Board of Health was read in which council was advised to lock the gate to the spring and put the drinking fountain outside. This fact was covered in the "Watchman" last week.

Secretary Kelly reported that the new book typewriter for the use of the secretary in recording the minutes of council had been received and put into service.

A resolution sent in by the State Highway Department was passed in which the borough agrees to bear ten per cent. of the cost of a new railing along north Water street, which will make the borough's share $41.50.

The Street committee reported that north Water street had been completed and much traffic had already been diverted that way.

The Water committee reported that between thirty and thirty-five hopper toilets had already been replaced with more modern fixtures. The collection of $19.25 on the 1922 water duplicate was also reported.

The Finance committee reported that the treasurer had been compelled to float a new note for $5,000 two weeks ago to meet current bills, and his action was ratified. Regarding Albert Schadt's request for a refund of interest paid on tax liens the committee reported that in no other case had interest being collected, and recommended that the refund be paid Mr. Schadt, but a resolution was then passed that from this time on interest should be demanded and collected upon all tax liens.

On motion of Mr. Brouse the second reading of the ordinance providing for the paving of Spring street was held over to a future meeting.

The question of the borough putting down a new pavement along the Brant house property was referred to the Street committee and borough solicitor.

Regarding the extension of the sewer on Church alley it was reported that both Charles Schaeffer and M. L. Broderick have offered to contribute $25 each towards the expense and it is probable Charles Hassinger will do likewise. The matter was referred to the Street committee with power. Bills were approved to the amount of $5951.30 after which council adjourned.

Don't Forget the Hospital Meeting.

On Monday night the corporation of the Centre County Hospital is scheduled to meet in the court house in this place for the purpose of electing a full board of trustees and transacting such other business as may come up for consideration.

It will really be the first annual meeting under the new charter. Every driver who contributed to the recent drive is a member of the corporation and entitled to vote. It is desirable that as many of them as can possibly do so be at the meeting, for unless one should be specially called there will not be another meeting of the corporation for a year.

The clean, clear, golden Texaco motor oil is lubricating the cylinders of the Chevrolet that is now on a 100 hour endurance test over Centre county roads.

Two Civil Cases Tried in Court Last Week.

The big murder trials over last week the court took up the trial of the case of the Bellefonte Central Railroad Co., vs. The American Lime and Stone company, being an action in trespass to recover damages as the result of two cars running away on the siding of the defendant company and damaging the property of the plaintiff. The cause for action was based upon the fact that when the siding was built the railroad company specified that it was to be not over a two per cent. grade, but it was constructed with at least a four per cent. grade. The defense contended that when the railroad company placed the cars there they did so at their own risk and without any clause of liability by the defendant company. The jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

The last case tried was that of Sinie H. Hoy against the Keystone Power corporation, being an appeal from the amount of damages awarded the plaintiff on account of the defendant company running its high tension line through his farm. The board of viewers to assess the damages awarded Mr. Hoy $5,000, and he brought action to recover $8,000.

While the Keystone Power corporation has only fifteen poles planted on Mr. Hoy's farm they run diagonally across it and within two hundred feet of his barn. Mr. Hoy contended that owing to the line being a high tension one the close proximity to his barn was dangerous, and the line was also dangerous to human life as well as livestock, while it will always be a source of trouble farming around the poles. The jury returned a verdict for Mr. Hoy in the sum of $5,250.

Painter Dan Has Gone but Will Not be Forgotten.

Daniel Bernard, better known around Bellefonte and in some other parts of Centre county as "Painter Dan," has gone one one knows whither, but he left behind him such a splendid trail of forged checks, endorsed notes and unpaid bills that he will not soon be forgotten by the holders of his worthless paper. Dan served a two to four year's term in the western penitentiary for perjury and when he was turned out on parole early in the summer he quickly demonstrated to a few Bellefonters that he was an adept with the paint brush when it came to painting signs. He was promptly engaged by various business men to paint advertising signs for them, and to his credit be it said, he did a good job in every instance; giving full value for the money charged for the work.

He painted many signs in Bellefonte and along the country roads and when business got slack went to State College and worked there. But recent developments prove that Dan was about as mighty with the pen as he was with the brush and last week he made a killing by passing several forged checks then quietly dropping out of sight. When the men who cashed the checks learned they were worthless Dan was among the missing, and he very thoughtlessly forgot to leave any forwarding address.

The exact amount of his financial obligations in Bellefonte and other parts of the county has not been accurately tabulated because most of the men caught are doing their best to keep out of the limelight, but Dan was no piker. His checks ran from $60 to $75; unpaid bills as high as $125; an alleged note of $250, and various other delinquencies. While in Bellefonte he purchased an automobile on the installment plan but did not take the machine with him so the dealer who sold it is really the best off of any of the victims.

John Pinchock Held for Court in $1,000 Bail.

John Pinchock, of Clarence, who on September 10th shot and killed Miss Margaret McDowell, of Scotchtown, was given a preliminary hearing before justice of the peace S. Kline Woodring, on Monday morning, and held for trial at court without bail. It will be recalled that Miss McDowell was shot while she and Pinchock, Miss Jane Stark and Kenneth Shank were standing in the doorway of the Central garage, at Clarence, and at the time it was stated that the shooting was purely accidental.

Several days later Pinchock was arrested on the charge of murder and has been confined in the Centre county jail ever since. When brought before the justice for a hearing, on Monday, three charges were entered against him, namely, murder, carrying concealed deadly weapons and assault. The main witnesses at the hearing were Kenneth Shank and Miss Stark and in an attempt to find a motive for the shooting it was alleged that the McDowell girl had a ring belonging to Pinchock which she refused to return to him.

The one point, probably, on which Pinchock was held without bail, was the fact as testified to that the revolver with which Miss McDowell was shot could not be accidentally discharged. It is an Iver-Johnson weapon and supposedly "fool-proof," inasmuch as the only way a cartridge can be exploded is by pulling the trigger of the gun. The witnesses agreed upon the fact that Pinchock was exhibiting the revolver and snapped it open and shut twice, and it was the second time when it was discharged and Miss McDowell was shot. Miss Stark testified that at that time she heard a double click, which sounded as if the trigger had been pulled just as the gun was snapped shut.

Pinchock was represented at the hearing by S. D. Gettig Esq., and he promptly took out a writ for a habeas corpus hearing, which was held before Judge Quigley at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

The testimony brought out at the hearing on Wednesday afternoon was just about the same as that produced before 'Squire Woodring on Monday, and at its conclusion Judge Quigley held Pinchock in $1,000 bail for trial at court on the charge of involuntary manslaughter. Bail was promptly furnished by the young man's father and he was released from jail.

—Guess at the mileage that Texaco products will give on the 100 hour endurance run now being made in Centre county.

Four Centre County Families Migrate to Florida.

Four Centre county families left this week for Florida where they will locate for the time being and perhaps make that State their permanent home. They are Mr. and Mrs. Snyder Stover and three children, of Coleville; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Witmer and six children, of Buffalo Run; Mr. and Mrs. William Bohn and two children, of Little Nittany valley, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pletcher and seven children, of Boggs township. The first three named families left between nine and ten o'clock on Tuesday morning, all traveling by automobile. They went by way of Lewistown and Harrisburg to a point near Gettysburg, where they arranged to go into camp and wait for Charles Pletcher and family, who were unable to leave until Wednesday morning.

All four men are carpenters and had at one time or another worked at the western penitentiary at Rockview, but of late Mr. Pletcher had been working a small farm below Milesburg. He made sale last Friday and it was the settling up of his affairs that delayed him one day in starting. While working at the penitentiary the men became acquainted with H. F. McGirk, of Bellefonte, who on a former occasion spent a year or more in Florida. He returned to that State three weeks ago and wrote back that carpenters are in great demand at Lake Worth, Fla., and wages exceedingly good, and it is that place that is to be the destination of the families who left Bellefonte this week. Three of the families traveled in Ford touring cars and one in a Chevrolet, and they all were fully equipped with camping outfits.

Tag Day, Saturday, Yields $113.32.

The Heart Day receipts when checked up by Mrs. Hilda Leathers, who had charge of the Volunteers of America tag day held in Bellefonte on Saturday, totaled just $113.32. The children engaged in the tagging worked faithfully from early in the morning until the close, and those interested in the affair are deeply grateful to all who helped in any way to make the enterprise a success.

At the close of the contest it was found that Helen Auman was entitled to first prize, a manicure set given by the Mott Drug company, for having collected $14.25. The second prize, a handbag given by William S. Katz, went to Elfrida Kofman, who collected $7.11. Carolyn Young, with $6.20, got the third prize, an Eversharp pencil contributed by C. D. Casebeer, and the fourth prize, a box of chocolates from the Bon Mot, went to Beulah Shawley, who turned in $5.53. All the other children who helped to distribute the tags were made happy with passes to the movies.

Your Eyes and the Light You Use Them In.

In the good, old days before the advance of civilization, when the Indians roamed the hills and vales, keen eyes were possessed by the entire population. We might add that in those days the eyes were not required to carry the heavy strain to which they are subjected in our day, but then again, the aborigines were always on the alert to protect themselves from enemies, wild animals and poisonous snakes, and it is natural to suppose that great care was exercised in protecting the eye-sight.

Today in the mad rush to earn a living and to keep up with the trend of the times, the eyes are many times sacrificed, and total blindness is increasing so fast as to cause great alarm. Thoughtful men and women among the industrial leaders have harkened to the powerful appeals made by scientists to do something to stop this great waste of the eyes with the result that the better Home Lighting activity has been inaugurated to remove the cause by bringing the importance of the movement direct to the family, through an educational contest among the school children.

A $15,000 model electrical home is the prize for the best thought out plan. This prize would certainly fit in nicely in Bellefonte, and it is up to the children to get busy.

The necessary papers are now being distributed among the school children; in the meantime, lay out your plans and be ready for the contest.
