PLEASANT GAP.

Josiah T. Zeigler, a former resident of this place, visited friends here on Armistice day.

The families of Harry Grove and William Allen, of Lewistown, motored over the Seven mountains and spent the week-end among friends here.

Mr. Woodring, of Williamsport, was a guest of R. S. Melroy over Sunday and on Monday morning went out on a hunt, Mr. Woodring bagging one rabbit.

Mrs. Florence Wion, of Bellefonte, is spending a few days among her friends here, while her daughter, Miss Catherine Wion, was a recent caller at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ward Showers.

While our esteemed citizen, W. H. Noll, was defeated for the Legislature, he polled 746 more votes than did John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President, and has the consolation of knowing that he received the largest majority in his precinct ever given a candidate, either Republican or Democrat.

Word has been received here of the death, on Tuesday morning, of Mrs. Catherine Johnston at the home of her daughter Ella, at Curwensville. She was 78 years old, the widow of William T. Johnston, and leaves a sister, Martha, at Milroy, and two stepdaughters, Sallie, of this place, and Aussie, of Boalsburg.

Almost a full turnout of members of Camp No. 229, P. O. of A. attended a district meeting held in the P. O. S. of A. lodge rooms a few evenings ago. Six lodges were represented and almost three hundred women were in attendance. Degrees were conferred upon a small class, Mrs. Blanche Meyer and Mrs. Fred Lose, of this place, being among the new members.

Owing to the fact that she is moving westward Mrs. Allen recently resigned as teacher of the Pike primary school, and the directors promptly elected as her successor Mrs. Elsie Herman Rimmey. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Rimmey had been one of our most efficient teachers and her return to the school room is meeting with the approval of all the patrons.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Millward gave a surprise party, last Friday evening, for their son Gerald, on his 18th birthday anniversary. Thirty-six young friends were present, as well as Gerald's grandfather, of Osceola Mills, and to say that he was surprised is putting it very mild. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening and Gerald received many useful and valuable presents as mementoes of the occasion, which proved most enjoyable for everybody concerned.

CENTRE HALL.

Rev. and Mrs. Greenhoe moved into the Lutheran parsonage on Tuesday. "Billy" Shoop, of Bellefonte, spent Armistice day with his parents, in this place.

Capt. George M. Boal is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Charles Meyer, in Reedsville.

Miss Annie Lohr, of Boalsburg, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. J. F. Lutz.

Mrs. Mary Smith, of Bellefonte, a sister of Mrs. J. F. Lutz, spent a few hours in town on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lohr returned to their home in Rutledge, on Tuesday, going by way of Lewistown.

Mr. Witmer Wolf and daughter, Miss Emma, and A. L. Knite, of Ardmore, are visiting relatives in town.

Mrs. W. Gross Mingle, of Philadelphia, spent a few days visiting her father, Capt. George M. Boal, over the week-end.

A number of our towns-people drove to Tusseyville on Saturday evening to see the fire which destroyed the Charley Stoner home.

Mrs. Gearhart, of Boalsburg, is here taking care of a Williamsport lady, who is ill at the home of her friend, Mrs. Simon Hennigh.

Mrs. Samuel Barr, of Tyrone, who came down for Mrs. Goodhart's funeral last week, visited for several days at the home of her niece, Mrs. Lycurgus Lingle.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Homan, and daughter, of Cleveland, Ohio, came to the home of Mrs. Homan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Strohmeier, where they will visit for some time.

Word reached "grandpa" D. A. Booser, on Thursday, that the Stork had left a young son at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kline, of Youngstown, Ohio.

Marriage Licenses.

Fourth License in History of Republic Was for New Method of Making Type.

Washington.—An authentic copy of the fourth patent issued by the United States government, the only facsimile of a patent granted in the early days of the American republic, has just been found by Commissioner of Patents Thomas E. Robertson. It was issued in 1791 and is in a good state of preservation. There are no copies of the first, second or third patents issued by the government.

When this document was issued there was no patent office. All inventions were approved by the President, countersigned by the secretary of state and the attorney general and delivered to the applicant personally by the secretary of state. The fourth patent, therefore, bears the signatures of George Washington, President; Thomas Jefferson, secretary of state, and Edmund Randolph, attorney general.

Francis Bailey of Philadelphia applied for and received this patent on January 31, 1791. It was on a new method of punches and matrices for making printing types. The patent reads as follows:

"To all to whom these presents shall come, Greetings:

"Whereas, Francis Bailey of the city of Philadelphia, in the state of Pennsylvania, printer, hath invented certain methods, not before known or used, for forming punches, by which to impress on the matrices for printing type, whether such types be for setters or devices, as well as to impress on any metal or other substance capable of receiving and retaining impressions various marks which are difficult to be counterfeited, and the said invention appears to be useful and important: these are, therefore, in pursuance of the act entitled 'An act to promote the progress of useful arts,' to grant to the said Francis Bailey, his heirs, administrators and assigns, for the term of fourteen years, the sole and exclusive right and liberty of using and vending to others the said improvement, according to the true intent and meaning of the act aforesaid."

The grant was issued at the national capital, then located in Philadelphia.
