

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The deer hunting season this year will open on Monday, December 1st.

The Bellefonte reservoir was given a thorough cleaning last Saturday, and from all appearances, the big basin needed it.

A card party will be held in the American Legion rooms, in the Centre County bank building, Tuesday evening, November 18. Everybody is invited.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will be held in the Legion rooms at 8 o'clock on the evening of November 20th.

E. A. Van Valkenberg has resigned as editor of the Philadelphia North American, effective yesterday. Whether this will mean any change in the policy of the paper remains to be seen.

A shanty out at the White Rock Quarries was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning between five and six o'clock. The light from the burning building was seen by a number of Bellefonte people.

Bellefonte Chapter No. 350 Order of the Eastern Star will hold a card party on Monday evening, November 17th, at 8:30 o'clock, in the I. O. O. F. hall. Admission 50 cents. Proceeds for charity.

The total receipts from the Elks Halloween carnival and dance were $1,220. After the expenses have all been met, which will include the prizes given by the Elks, there will be left approximately $600.

The Cleveland orchestra of eighty pieces will give a concert in the Schwab auditorium, at State College, next Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The musicians will probably spend Monday night in Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Sheffer and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris comprise a hunting party that Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dorworth are entertaining at their lodge on Fishing creek this week.

Robbers forced an entrance to the John H. Beck store, at Snyder town, last Friday night, and carried away merchandise of various kinds to an estimated value of one hundred dollars. Entrance was made through a cellar window.

Leaman A. Lyons and Edward Baney, the two young men of Bellefonte arrested last week on the charge of transporting young girls, were released on Friday, as an investigation failed to disclose any foundation for the charge.

In the neighborhood of fifty members of the Bellefonte Lodge of Odd Fellows went to Williamsport on Monday evening and put on the third degree for one of the lodges in that city. The trip was made in two of the Emerick busses and the party arrived home about one o'clock on Tuesday morning.

The Rev. Frank Wetzel, of Akron, Ohio, who has been a guest of his sister, Mrs. Jared Harper, for the past week, was a guest of honor at a family party given by Mrs. Harper last night, at her home on Thomas street. This get-together of the Wetzel family was in celebration of Rev. Wetzel's seventy-second birthday.

Why travel out into the country on the hunt of pictures of natural scenery when you can go to the Scenics and see the best motion pictures made, which include big features, dramas, comedies as well as the beauties of nature. Better pictures cannot be seen anywhere than those at this popular movie house. Get the movie habit and see all of them.

One of the big trout which has been rather conspicuous on the spawning beds in Spring creek, opposite the "Watchman" office was discovered yesterday morning lying along the wall, a short distance north of the High street bridge, with one side of its jaw almost torn away. In fact it had all the appearance of having been grappled but owing to its size and weight the grapple tore through the jaw, instead of holding long enough to land the fish.

The Penn State football team staged a regular comeback, on Saturday, by defeating the strong Carnegies Tech team 22 to 7. Though it was Pennsylvania day at State College, with many week-end house parties and a special train load of Tech rooters, the crowd was not nearly as large as that two weeks previous for the State-Syracuse game. State will play Penn at Philadelphia tomorrow and her followers are all anxious to see her bring home the bacon, but to do so she will have to put up a stiff game as Penn so far has not been defeated this year.

The Bellefonte Academy football team played spectacular ball at Easton, on Saturday, defeating the Lafayette Freshmen by the score of 51 to 0. Remarkable as it may seem not a point has been scored against the Academy this season, while they have rolled up the big total of 336 points, and have played much stronger teams than generally appear upon their schedule. Two weeks ago they played the Pitt Freshmen, at Greensburg, a scoreless game while last Saturday Pitt defeated the State College Freshmen 12 to 0. So far there is no argument as to the Academy being the champion prep team in the State.

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATED.

Parade the Chief Feature of the Day in Bellefonte.

Six years ago on Tuesday, at 11 o'clock a. m., the great guns ceased firing and the armistice went into effect that finally resulted in the ending of the world war which devastated all of Europe in one way or another and rocked the world from pole to pole. What more fitting than that those who took part in the great struggle should commemorate the day in celebration of the event.

In Bellefonte the members of Brooks-Doll post American Legion were in charge. For a week previous a gang of men were at work drilling holes in the pavement on both sides of the street through the business section of the town, which were used as seats for flag poles, and the Stars and Stripes waved gloriously from the railroad station to the Diamond and on Allegheny street from Pike alley to Bishop street.

At five minutes of eleven o'clock all the whistles and most of the bells in town sent forth peans of rejoicing as they did on that day six years previous, which was a prelude to the parade held in the afternoon at two o'clock. In the line were a squad of Troop B, the Odd Fellows band, American Legion, Bellefonte troop of Boy Scouts and the Howard troop of Boy Scouts, the P. O. S. of A., led by its own drum corps, the Elks Lodge and the Logan and Undine Fire companies.

Forming at the armory they paraded through the principal streets of the town, disbanding in the Diamond.

At three o'clock the Bellefonte High school football team engaged the Huntingdon High on Hughes field, defeating them by the score of 33 to 13.

In the evening the great war picture, "Powder River," was shown at the Moose Temple theatre and thus ended the sixth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

Bears Rob Apple Orchard at the Dim Lantern.

On the Dim Lantern property at Runville, is a small apple orchard which contains some excellent fruit, among the varieties being several trees of Baldwins. The trees had considerable fruit on this year but day by day the apples were disappearing and Mrs. Clara Iddings, who is associated with Miss Ruth Garman in conducting the Dim Lantern, blamed the robbery on boys.

Last Friday afternoon she took a basket and went into the orchard to pick up the apples that had fallen over night and discovered a bulky form under one of the best trees which she took for a young man in the act of picking up the apples. Thinking to catch him in the act she went as quietly as possible until she got close enough to see, when she made the startling discovery that the robber was a huge black bear, and that he was feasting on the much prized apples.

The bear discovered her about the same time and quitting his feast made for the bushes. Mrs. Iddings avers that she also heard two other bears in the underbrush but she did not tarry long to investigate. Dropping her basket she ran back to the house as quickly as possible. Other parties have also seen the bear in the orchard and several hunters, including W. H. Garman, are laying for a chance to get a shot at them.

On Monday afternoon Newton Louck was hunting in the woods above Runville when he came across a cub bear and laid it low with the first shot. This is probably one of the bears referred to in the above story, and which was helping to rob the Dim Lantern apple orchard.

FERGUSON TOWNSHIP HUNTERS BAG THREE BEARS ON MONDAY.

A half dozen or more members of the Rossman hunting club, of Baileyville, went out onto the ridge between Fairbrook and Gatesburg, on Monday, on the hunt of small game but got into a regular bear's nest and forgot to look for anything smaller. The "bear's nest" included a monster she bear and two cubs and the lucky nimrods succeeded in bagging all of them. The lucky shots were R. E. Rossman and Earl Smetzler, of Baileyville, and William Bilger, of Pleasant Gap.

At noontime on Tuesday four hunters from Mahaffey, Clearfield county, came into Bellefonte with a big she bear and a cub strapped on the running board of their car. The animals were killed near Cross Forks, Potter county, by R. E. Johnson. The old bear would probably weigh 250 pounds and had a splendid pelt.

Three Lucky Pleasant Gap Hunters.

Three Pleasant Gap sportsmen have been in luck during the week. Going up on Nittany mountain on Wednesday morning Ed. Mulfinger bagged an eighteen pound wild turkey and Sam Weaver got one that weighed nineteen pounds. On Tuesday evening Free-mont Hile shot a nine pound hen.

The Bellefonte Academy football management has decided to make Saturday's game between the champion Academy team and the West Virginia Freshmen, ladies day, when all ladies and girls will be admitted free to Hughes field. They were inspired to this generous impulse because this will be the last game the Academy will play at home and they wish to give every woman and girl in Bellefonte an opportunity to see the team in action. The game will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

Celebrated Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Struble, of State College, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at the Centre Hills Country club last Wednesday evening. In the neighborhood of one hundred guests were present the largest percentage being relatives of this well known couple. Mr. Struble is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Struble and his wife was Miss Alice Fye, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Fye, both families being prominent in the history of College and Ferguson townships for the last century. Mr. and Mrs. Struble have four children, Olin, Forrest, Frederick and Mrs. James Holmes, all residents of State College.

Bellefonte Chapter, D. A. R.

The November meeting of the Bellefonte Chapter of the D. A. R. was held at the home of Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes, Thursday evening of last week, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Harry Keller, Mrs. John P. Lyon and Mrs. Clevan Dinges acting as hostesses. Reports of the State conference held in Johnstown in October, were given to a large assemblage of members, by Mrs. Mary Irvine Boyd, sister of the headmaster, of Mercersburg Academy, and by Mrs. Edwin Erle Sparks, ex-State Regent of Pennsylvania.

Among the names proposed for membership were those of Miss Olive B. Mitchell, Mrs. William C. Thompson and Miss Helen Harper.

Left $3,000 for Evangelical Church.

Miss Sophia S. Rockey, who died at her home in Hublersburg last week, left an estate estimated at from $12,000 to $14,000. She was the last of her generation but had a number of nieces and nephews and a host of intimate friends, most of whom were remembered in her will with bequests ranging from $25 to $500. One special bequest made was $3,000 to any Evangelical congregation in Centre county without a church as the nucleus of a fund towards building a place of worship, but the legacy must be claimed within one year. If there is more than one claimant the selection of the beneficiary is left up to her executor, S. P. Hockman, of Hublersburg.

Dr. Kilpatrick's Car Stolen, but Recovered.

About ten o'clock on Saturday evening Dr. J. J. Kilpatrick drove his Ford coupe down town and parked it in front of the Bon Mot. Along about twelve o'clock, when he was ready to go home, his car was gone. The Bellefonte police were notified as soon as possible but no trace of the car could be found in Bellefonte. On Monday morning the police were notified of an abandoned car having been discovered along the road in the foothills of the Allegheny mountains north of Curtin and the doctor went out and found it to be his car. It had evidently been taken by some person stranded in Bellefonte who was anxious to get home and then abandoned it. The car was not damaged and Dr. Kilpatrick drove it home, glad to get it back so easily.

"My China Doll" Coming.

Manager L. J. Toner, of the Moose Temple theatre announces a new attraction for the evening of Wednesday, November 26th. It is called "My China Doll." The musical comedy is in its second year, in itself a record. Its stop here for one performance will afford local theatre-patrons their first view of this much talked of show. The books, lyrics and music are by Charles George, America's youngest composer. Mr. George, while still in his twenties, has had a number of shows see the light of day on Broadway. "My China Doll" is his latest success, and by critics has been proclaimed the "perfect musical comedy."

Tuneful melodies, a rapid change of scenes, a plot with a real story woven in it and a corps de ballet of good-looking girls, who can dance and sing, all combine to insure an evening of real pleasure. Barbara Bronell, famous dancer, who is starring in this success, is ably supported by a metropolitan cast, including Bessie Delmore, Betty Montgomery, Lottie Proctor, Arthur Bauman, William P. Murphy, Roy Peck, Tom Crowley and George Ellis.

Great De Mille Spectacle Coming.

The coming of "The Ten Commandments" to the Moose Temple theatre, Wednesday, November 19th, matinee and night, should be greatly anticipated. This gorgeous dramatic spectacle of Cecil B. De Mille has created a furore in New York, London, and the large cities of two continents. It comes here following a run of five weeks at the National theatre in Washington. The company carries its own orchestra and Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld's brilliant score will be played by twenty musicians.

"The Ten Commandments" is a pictorial narrative of the exodus of the Israelites from Egypt; the miracles that were performed for their safeguarding, and the bestowal of the tablets of stone upon Moses, together with a melodramatic modern story of the danger of transgressing against the ancient fundamental laws. Twenty-five hundred people were employed in making the picture and the construction of the buildings required was the labor of many months. The result is the most impressive motion picture so far made.

Miss Lyon to Play "the Melodrama of Enoch Arden."

The Woman's club of Bellefonte will present the melodrama of "Enoch Arden," in the Presbyterian chapel on the evening of Monday, November 24th, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Orvis-Harvey, reader; Miss Rebecca Pugh Lyon, at the piano.

The musical setting to Tennyson's famous poem was composed by Richard Strauss, toward the end of the 19th century. It was first presented in America by the composer and a noted German actor. At that time it excited considerable interest and criticism, on account of its peculiar dissonances, chromatic progressions and changes of key. Since that time, however, modern composers have so accustomed our ears to lack of tonality and harmonic eccentricities that the music of Richard Strauss who, is after all, a believer in tonality and always comes back to the key, seems by comparison almost orthodox or at least conservative.

Strauss is the most famous exponent of programme music which had its rise under Berlioz and Liszt about 1830. The other great influence on his art was Richard Wagner, from whom he inherited the idea of the leading motive which, although used by earlier composers was so extensively developed by Wagner in his operas as to be indissolubly associated with his name and called the Wagnerian principle. It is this principle which is the basis of the music of "Enoch Arden." As very clearly expressed by Daniel Gregory Mason, "a musical motive is a number of notes grouped into a pattern, just as a number of words, which belong together, are grouped in poetry."

Strauss's melodrama opens with the sea motive, which consists of some rapid passage work intended by its rhythm and color to prepare our musical consciousness of the description of the sea coast, which follows. Then come the three motives associated with the leading characters in the poem. They are quite distinct from each other and accompany any action on the part of Annie, Philip or Enoch. As is well known much of the emotional power of music is due to the force of association and it is this force used, through the medium of the leading motive, by the master hand of Richard Strauss, to intensify and deepen the effect of the poem, which is responsible for the dramatic appeal of the melodrama.

Enoch Arden has been presented by Miss Lyon several times in the vicinity of Philadelphia, but this will be the first time the people of Bellefonte will have the privilege of hearing Richard Strauss's musical setting of this famous poem. It is hoped many will be at the chapel that evening. There will be no admission, no collection and every one is invited.

Bellefonte Academy—West Virginia Game Tomorrow.

Bellefonte football fans will have the opportunity to see a real football game tomorrow when the West Va. Freshmen will make their first appearance on Hughes field as opponents of the unbeaten and unscared upon Academy team. These teams have played twice at Morgantown, W. Va., the Academy winning the first game and West Virginia the second, so that tomorrow's game will be in a way a test for supremacy. Last year the southern lads scored 21 points in one quarter against the Penn State Freshmen at State College. They are the equals of the Pitt Freshmen which the Academy held to a scoreless tie two weeks ago.

On the visiting team will be four college players that coach Snively protested because they are members of the upper classes in the college and should not be playing on a Freshmen eleven against an Academy team, but the authorities refused to take them off. The Academy management wished to give the fans a real football thrill, as all the other home games have been one-sided, and so withdrew the protest. The players referred to are Lathan, who played on Bob Higgins Bachanan Wesleyan team last year; Joe Preece, who captained "Pitt" Freshmen last year; Gilbert, Carnegie Tech's Varsity centre last year, and elected captain for this year's team, and Hamilton, of Carnegie Tech's Freshmen team last year. So the fans can see the calibre of the eleven the Academy lads must face this Saturday. Go out and cheer the locals to victory. You will get your money's worth. Time, 2:30 p. m. Place, Hughes field. Admission, $1.00.

Centre County's Official Vote.

The official count of the vote of Centre county at the election on Tuesday, November 4th, was begun last Thursday under the supervision of Judge Henry C. Quigley, and was made by prothonotary Roy Wilkinson, D. R. Foreman and John Love Esq. It took until Monday afternoon to complete the count, owing to the large number of presidential electors. Only minor changes are shown from the totals given in last week's paper with the exception of the vote on the Legislature, Mr. Noll's vote being almost three hundred more than given in the unofficial count, and on the constitutional amendment, which showed over twelve hundred more against it than was given last week. How these very decided discrepancies occurred can only be accounted for in the fact that incorrect figures must have been entered upon the No. 2 return sheet from which the newspaper men got their reports last week. The official count for the principal offices is given as follows:

Table with columns for office and vote count. Includes For President (Coolidge 7723, Davis 4443, LaFollette 673, Paris 122, Nations 92), Judge of Superior Court (Trexler 7328, Klinglesmith 4267), State Treasurer (Lewis 7286, Ermentrout 4307), Auditor General (Martini 7234, Collins 4334), Congress (Swoope 7780, Benson 4760), Assembly (Holmes 7406, Noll 5159), Constitutional Amendment (For 1225, Against 7794).

Young People's County Conference.

The fourth annual county conference of the young people's department of the Centre county Sunday schools will be held in Bellefonte on Saturday, November 22nd. Each Sunday school in the county is entitled and requested to send two girls and two boys, between the ages of 12 and 24 years, and one adult as delegates.

The program that has been planned can best be carried out by the co-operation of all who are interested in young people and the building up of Christ's kingdom. The program will be printed in next week's paper.

Girls and boys, whether a delegate or not, are urged to attend the conference. Esther I. Williams, one of the State workers and an especial friend of young people, will be present as one of the speakers. It will be a treat for all to hear her talk.

Forty-three Bellefonte merchants are represented in the "buy-at-home" advertising campaign now being conducted by the "Watchman." Practically every line of business is represented and every reader of this paper should consult the advertisements on page six and then investigate what the merchants have to offer. It is really surprising how many Bellefonte people do the greater part of their buying out of town, as evidenced by the vast sum of money sent through the postoffice and banks. And it is just possible that some of the merchants themselves practice what they are preaching against. But if seventy-five per cent. of the money sent to the cities was spent at home it would mean a much bigger business for all the business men, and possibly afford a reduction in price.

During the statistical year just closed the Blue Valley creamery institute reports that the number of dairy cows, over two years old, in Centre county, has increased 2.8 per cent. over the preceding year. It is interesting to note that there must be an annual increase of 320,000 cows if the milk and butter output of the country is to keep pace with its normal growth in demand.

Mrs. Schloss and Mrs. A. Fauble were hostesses at a card supper given in the dining room of the Brock-erhoff house, Thursday evening of last week. Eight tables of five hundred were in play, Miss Frieda Baum taking first prize, while Mrs. Schlow had second.
