

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Mrs. Isaac Underwood, of north Spring street, was taken violently ill on Tuesday night and is now under the care of two nurses.

Since becoming pastor of Grace Methodist church in Williamsport, Rev. Alexander Scott, formerly of this place, has received 190 persons into membership there.

A little son who was born to Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cook, of Pittsburg, on November 15, has been christened Charles F. Cook, in honor of its Bellefonte grandfather.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church will hold a food sale and bazaar, Saturday, November 22, in Bellefonte Hardware Co. store. Don't fail to give them a call.

A bake sale will be held by the members of St Mary's Guild of the Episcopal church at Spigelmeyer's store, starting at 10 a. m., Saturday, November 22nd. Pies, cakes, rolls candy, etc.

Delicious home-made salted almonds and peanuts are being made fresh each week by Mrs. Crawford's Lutheran Sunday school class. Special orders filled. Telephone or send your order to either Mrs. W. P. Ard or Mrs. Frank Crawford.

Since 1898, when Christmas caroling was done on the streets of only thirty cities and towns in the United States, this beautiful custom has spread until last year in 1285 cities and towns carolers broke the quiet of the Christmas morn with lovely hymns.

The Otterbein Brotherhood of the Bellefonte U. B. church held their annual father and sons banquet in the basement of the church last Thursday evening. Mr. Clarence Williams was the speaker of the evening and delivered an address that was very helpful to the thirty-five members who were there.

Fred Fisher, the Bellefonte Academy student who has been a patient in the Centre County hospital since past two weeks as the result of a severe attack of pneumonia, has passed the crisis and is now on a fair way to recovery. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher, of Birmingham, Mich., were with him during most of his illness.

Centre county will be in District 4, for the purpose of the new census of Pennsylvania agriculture which the Federal government is preparing to take. Paul L. Keonig, of Harrisburg, has been appointed supervisor of the district and will have 123 enumerators to appoint. The work will begin December 1, and must be completed by January 31.

Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving day, celebrated more generally as a day for feasting on turkey (by those fortunate enough to be able to afford it) and the close of the football season than a day of thankfulness for blessings enjoyed during the past year. It also means that it will be just four weeks from that day until Christmas and New Year's will be here before we realize it.

Forty years ago Bellefonte and especially the South ward, was pretty liberally dotted with saloons and drinking places, but all have disappeared. Today the gas pumps and oil tanks are familiar landmarks all over town but like forty years ago the most of them are in the South ward. And now, it is rumored, another company is looking for an available site for a centrally located sales station.

The melodrama "Enoch Arden," played by Miss Rebecca Lyon, had been announced for Monday evening but, since that date was found to interfere with the regular meeting of the Brotherhood, in the Presbyterian chapel, it is postponed to Tuesday evening, November 25, at 8 o'clock. There is no admission fee and the public is cordially invited to attend this musical evening of the Woman's club.

The student year-book of The Pennsylvania State College, published by the members of the junior class and known as "La Vie" is to be dedicated this year to James Gilbert White, head of the J. G. White Engineering Corporation of New York city. Mr. White was graduated from Penn State in 1892 and has been a member of the board of trustees of the college for over twenty years, and is now its vice-president.

If you are at all interested in motion pictures you'll always see good ones at the Scenic. A big program of the best films made is shown every evening. These include dramas, melodramas, comedies, and pictorial reviews of the most interesting events of the day. No other place in central Pennsylvania shows a more varied line of pictures than can be seen at the Scenic. Only the regulars see them all. Get the movie habit.

Old Man Boreas blew into Bellefonte on Sunday afternoon on a series of rain and snow storms, and while there was not enough of snow to cover the ground it had the effect of driving down the temperature fifty degrees or more. In fact it brought a touch of winter little expected, as thermometers in Bellefonte on Monday morning were down to fifteen degrees above zero, and on Tuesday morning it was ten degrees colder in Bellefonte, while some places in the county reported zero weather. In fact it was the coldest weather for this time of year recorded within the knowledge of the writer.

Disastrous Fire at State College Early Yesterday Morning.

A large three-story frame building on south Allen street, State College, was entirely destroyed by fire between two and three o'clock yesterday morning. The building is probably better known as that of John F. Gray & Son, but which was recently sold to Polydor Baroutsis, of Williamsport. On the first floor were a bake-shop, formerly conducted by William Harrison, but now owned by a Mr. Spanogle who went to State College only recently from Lewistown, and a restaurant conducted by a Greek, by name of Juranis.

In the basement was Clyde Hartman's barber shop and on the upper floors were two apartments, one of which was occupied by Walter Riley, who had charge of the bake-shop, and the other by some college students, one of whom escaped from the flames with nothing but his pajamas and his watch.

The fire originated in the restaurant and is said to have been caused by an explosion of a gasoline coffee percolator. The flames spread rapidly and although the State College firemen were quickly on the scene and did valiant service the fire looked so threatening that Bellefonte was appealed to for aid and the Logan fire company made a quick run to the college with their pumper. By the time they arrived on the scene, however, the flames were under control. Sparks from the burning building set fire to the Foster building next door and damaged the second and third stories considerably.

It was impossible to get any accurate figures of the loss on the building or by the various occupants. So far as could be learned there was $14,000 insurance on the building proper, which will not cover the loss by any means, and it is likely that all of the occupants carried some insurance, at least.

For the most part their losses are total. The Baroutsis building is completely destroyed and none of its tenants saved anything of consequence.

The frame part of the Foster building on the corner, which was the Ewing property, has the roof burned off and the two upper stories badly damaged. The tenants in them lost most of their belongings. The first floor of the Foster building is occupied by a Greek shoe repair shop and the A. and P. store. While the flames were stopped before burning down to them they were greatly damaged by the water above.

Bellefonte Hunters Get Nice Bag of Birds.

Dr. David Dale, Willis Shuey and John Curtin, of Bellefonte, and James W. Herron, superintendent of the Huntingdon reformatory, have the record of bringing in the biggest bag of birds brought down in Centre county this year, thirty-eight in number. They spent two weeks in camp over back of Colyer and that is where they got their birds. They also saw a number of deer, but of course were not hunting that kind of game.

Last Saturday four Bellefonte hunters went on a scouting expedition out to the old McCloskey place back of Orviston. They bagged three rabbits and one pheasant, but chased up fifteen or twenty birds, most of them beyond gunshot range. They also saw a handsome big buck and a doe.

Up in the foothills of the Alleghenies, back of Unionville, birds are reported fairly plentiful, but gunners who have tramped the territory from end to end have had little success, as the birds are wild and wily. The small game season will close a week from tomorrow, and so far not any great amount has been bagged.

Injured in Auto Wreck.

Theodore Seidel, aged 20 years, a student at The Pennsylvania State College, is a patient in the Lewistown hospital suffering with a fractured collar bone sustained when an automobile in which he was riding turned turtle near Lewistown early on Sunday morning. Thompson Burt, another student, sustained lacerations of the head and face and was treated at the hospital before continuing his journey to State College. Both young men were returning from Philadelphia where they attended the State-U. of P. game on Saturday.

Quite a number of Bellefonte and Centre county people motored to Philadelphia for the game and among the unfortunate ones was Malcolm Wetzler, of Milesburg, who drove the car of his father, Frank L. Wetzler. A few miles outside of the Quaker city his car skidded on the icy road and went over an embankment, damaging it to such an extent that he was unable to drive it home. A number of other drivers had narrow escapes because of the treacherous highway.

The U. S. treasury savings certificates, series of 1920, will mature January 1st, 1925. Interest will stop on this issue at the above date. If you are holding any you should turn them in for redemption now, so that remittance can be made to you promptly. See your banker or postmaster.

ENROLL IN THE RED CROSS.

The annual Red Cross roll call is being conducted this week under the direction of Hard P. Harris. There will be no house to house solicitation but you are asked to enroll at Red Cross headquarters, Petrikin hall, open today and tomorrow from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

This is YOUR Red Cross. Give your confidence and support through membership.

Union Thanksgiving Service.

The Bellefonte Ministerium have arranged for the annual Thanksgiving service to be held this year in the Methodist Episcopal church at 10 a. m. Rev. Wm. C. Thompson, of the Presbyterian church, will preach the sermon. This is a community service and all churches are invited to participate in the same, which will start promptly at 10 o'clock and will close by 11. The usual offering will be taken.

Hi Y Entertain Foreign Worker.

A supper conference was held on Tuesday evening at the Y at which Mr. W. R. F. Stier was the guest of honor. Mr. Stier was in Japan during the last earthquake, and after the supper he spoke of the conditions there and showed some lantern slides of the country and the terrible devastation wrought. The Hi-Y are financial supporters of the Y. M. C. A. work in foreign lands, and the visit and pictures were most interesting to the members and their friends.

Christmas Cards.

The line of Christmas cards that we are showing is the most exclusive and, we think, the most artistic we have ever had.

You can buy the cards blank, if you prefer the intimate significance of writing your own.

You can bring in your calling card plate and have your name engraved on them.

If you have a greeting plate of your own we can print it on any card selected that, in size would carry it.

Or if you choose to avoid the cost of engraving we will print the cards with any greeting you select.

None of the cards will be duplicated in Centre county.

Henry Manning, Finlander, Shoots Himself.

Henry Manning, a naturalized Finlander, committed suicide last Thursday morning by shooting himself through the heart while lying in bed at his boarding house, near the old office of the American Lime & Stone company, about 9:30 o'clock. The exact reason for the man's rash act has not developed but he had been melancholy for some weeks. He was 37 years and 4 months old and had been in this country long enough to become a naturalized citizen. He worked at the mine and roomed and boarded in the general boarding house. So far as known he had no immediate relatives in this country but leaves a wife and four children in Finland. The remains were buried in the Trczyulny cemetery on Sunday.

Bellefonte Kiwanis News.

At the last Tuesday noon luncheon of Bellefonte Kiwanis at the Bush house forty-nine members signified their intention of joining the drive made to Tyrone last evening to attend the anniversary meeting of the Tyrone club. The women accompanied the men.

Edward R. Owens, treasurer of the Centre County hospital, appealed to Kiwanis to continue their activities in behalf of that institution and help in making collection of the pledges made in the big drive seven months ago, as well as solicit additional funds for the institution. Dr. Seibert talked on health preservation and the attendance prize was awarded to Rev. Ard.

Progress was reported in the matter of getting up a business show for Bellefonte and arranging for a minstrel show to be given in the future, proceeds from which will be devoted to the cause of the unprivileged child, a work that has been taken up by Kiwanis all over the country.

Thousands of Bushels of Frost-Bitten Potatoes.

From all parts of the county come reports that potatoes have been either nipped or actually frozen by the sudden drop of temperature on Sunday night.

There is no way of securing a dependable estimate on the number that have been damaged by the freezing weather, but it must be very large. Many farmers haul their potatoes onto their barn floors preparatory to sorting and screening, before placing them in bins for winter storage. Rarely are they threatened with freezing this early, consequently the work of disposing of the potatoes is usually left until all of the other fall work is out of the way.

When the temperature dropped to 15 degrees on Monday and 8 degrees on Tuesday morning barn floors were not warm enough to save the potatoes stored on them and the result has been disastrous in many parts. We talked to one farmer, on Monday afternoon, who has no unfrozen potatoes left from his entire crop.

Two of the umbrellas left at the army Halloween night can be gotten from Mrs. G. Oscar Gray, by the owners telephoning Mrs. Gray which kind of an umbrella they lost.

Hawk Run Woman Killed in Auto Accident.

Mrs. Ann Wilson, of Hawk Run, near Philipsburg, was killed in an auto accident near State College about 11:30 o'clock last Thursday night. She was a member of a party who had motored to the College to attend a grand session of the State College Lodge of Rebekahs, the others being Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. Mary McClement and Mrs. Thomas Dixon, with Samuel Morris as driver of the car.

The meeting closed about eleven o'clock and fifteen minutes later the party started for home, intending to go by way of Pennsylvania Furnace and Warriorsmark. At the John Strauss place, just west of the college, Mr. Morris attempted to pass a car going in the same direction and in so doing the front wheel hit a culvert, throwing the car into a wire fence. The top of the car came in contact with a fence post and was torn completely off. An iron rod struck Mrs. Wilson on the head, rendering her unconscious. Passing motorists made a hurried trip to State College with the injured woman but she died before a doctor could be reached.

Mrs. John Morris was injured internally, but not seriously; Mrs. McClement was bruised and cut with glass from the broken windshield, while Mrs. Dixon and Mr. Morris suffered from shock. All the injured were taken home by George M. Raines, of Philipsburg, who happened along shortly after the accident. Mrs. Wilson's body was prepared for burial by undertaker Koch and sent to her home at Hawk Run.

The unfortunate woman was fifty-eight years old and was born in England. The family came to this country in 1888, and had lived in Philipsburg and at Hawk Run ever since. She is survived by her husband, Joseph Wilson, twelve children and twenty-seven grand-children. Burial was made at Hawk Run on Monday afternoon.

Join the American Red Cross Today.

Eight years have passed since the wartime roll call of Americans to the standard of their Red Cross. They came by millions in the greatest supporting movement the warring legions of any nation ever witnessed. What these millions have sacrificed and accomplished is preserved in history.

Today, in the sixth year since the Armistice, the call is still urgent and the duty resting on all Americans to back up their Red Cross in its work; in assisting the rehabilitation of the ex-service men and women; in meeting the steadily increasing demands caused by floods, fires, mine explosions and other disasters; in public health nursing in rural communities; for humanitarian effort throughout the United States and its insular possessions; and last but by no means least in responding to international demands upon the American Red Cross throughout the world.

Join the American Red Cross; be a participant in its noble work. It is not merely a duty, but like our citizenship is a privilege and a pleasure to be a member of the one national organization which is equipped and ready in an instant to answer the call of distressed humanity in every emergency.

Farm Products and Poultry.

Farmers of Centre county are looking forward to the farm products and poultry show to be held in the army in Bellefonte, December 5th and 6th.

Entries in farm crops are expected to be larger this year in spite of the short corn crop. There are a number of fields in which show corn can be selected but in most cases one man's field is as good as another's where it is matured. The show will be limited to potatoes, corn, apples, wheat and oats. The premiums in each class are larger than last year and the effort in bringing out exhibits will be justified.

There will be approximately $100.00 in prizes in the poultry and egg department. There are a great number of good farm flocks in the county and a lot of interest will be shown in this department.

Start to select your exhibits for the show now and you will stand just as good a chance of winning prizes as the other fellow.

Jackson-Watson.

Abram D. Jackson, son of Abram Jackson Sr., and Miss Guinevere W. Watson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William T. Watson, both of Bellefonte, were married at the A. M. E. church at noon on Tuesday by the bride's father, Rev. Watson, pastor of the church. Before the ceremony, Miss Collins, of Bradford, sang "O, Promise Me." Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the bride's home on east Lamb street after which the young couple left on the 1:20 p. m. train for their home in Harrisburg, where the bridegroom is employed.

Fire on the roof of the W. Miles Walker residence, on east Linn street, shortly after the noon hour on Monday, called out the fire department, but as the blaze had not made much headway it was extinguished with the chemical apparatus. The damage was not great. A spark from a burning flue is supposed to have been the origin. This was the third time in recent years that the same house has been on fire. Early Tuesday morning the Undine company was called out by a fire in a railroad freight car filled with ashes, on the siding at the Phoenix mill. It was quickly extinguished.

Mrs. Francis Musser, who is accompanying her uncle and cousin merely for a pleasure trip, will return by rail within a few weeks.

Mrs. Wilson P. Ard is contemplating spending two months of the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bullock and the family, in California, going out as a guest of her mother. Mrs. Ard and her young son, who are planning to leave shortly after Christmas, will be accompanied by Miss Neese, a graduate nurse of the Bellefonte hospital, and recently night supervisor of nurses at the same institution.

Centre County Bank Case Will Not be Reached This Week.

Although what is hoped will be the final argument in the Centre County bank case was listed for this week in the Supreme court the court has been so jammed with cases ahead of it that the argument will probably not be reached until some time next week.

The attorneys on both sides have been in Washington since Sunday waiting to be heard. The court convened on Monday but all of that day's session was taken up with reading opinions handed down on cases disposed of. When Tuesday's session opened it was found that there were 23 cases to be argued ahead of the ones this community is interested in and as some of them were of extra-importance they are consuming more time than was expected.

Through membership you should take part with more than 3,400,000 others in the humanitarian work of your Red Cross. Your name should be inscribed this year, and every year, upon the membership rolls of the American National Red Cross.
