

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Penn State defeated the Marietta College football team on Saturday by the score of 28 to 0.

The Bellefonte Academy football team went up to Scranton on Wednesday for their Thanksgiving day game with St. Thomas Academy.

On account of sickness among the children and her own misfortune, Mrs. McClure Gamble has discontinued her dancing class, expecting to reopen it the first week of January.

The ladies of the Lutheran church will conduct a bazaar and cafeteria supper in the church basement on Thursday, December 11th, afternoon and evening. Everybody invited.

Most everybody in Bellefonte observed Thanksgiving yesterday. All the stores, banks, postoffice and business offices were closed tight, with the exception of the restaurants and cigar stores, which were open a portion of the day.

The George Harpster family moved yesterday from the McQuisition house, on Thomas street, to Mill Hall, where Mr. Harpster is employed in the paper mill. The house vacated by them will be occupied by Harold Zimmerman, of Pleasant Gap.

It looks very much as if the University of Pennsylvania intends to drop its annual football game with State College for 1925, at least, but with such teams as Cornell, Rutgers and Dartmouth to choose from to fill in the gap State has little occasion to worry.

The new skating rink in the old shirt factory building on south Water street was opened to the public last Friday evening, with only a small attendance. Sydney Barlett is in charge and will also conduct an eating and refreshment room in connection with the rink.

The American Legion auxiliary of Bellefonte will meet in the Legion rooms, Thursday, December 4th, at 8 o'clock. The auxiliary is making a drive for new members. Every mother, wife, daughter and sister who are eligible are invited to this meeting for a social time.

W. C. Cassidy and Dave Washburn spent several days in the early part of the week hunting on a certain mountain not a dozen miles from Bellefonte, and while they brought home only one small wild turkey they saw deer aplenty, and a number of them were the kind it is legal to kill.

William I. Swoope's majority for Congress in this district was 14,407 votes over Edward R. Benson, Democratic candidate, and his expense account for the general election was $3784.78. Of this amount $500 were given to the Centre county campaign committee. Mr. Benson has not yet filed any expense account in Centre county. J. Laird Holmes' account shows an expenditure of $497.27.

Two carloads of Mifflin county hunters passed through Bellefonte, last Saturday morning on their way home from Potter county, and carried as the spoils of their hunt two bear, one of which dressed 287 pounds and the other 197, a porcupine, raccoon and several rabbits. They stopped in Bellefonte long enough to get something to eat and give local hunters an opportunity to examine their game.

Ground was broken Thursday morning of last week for the erection of the two wings to the Keller property in Gaysport, near Hollidaysburg. This property has been purchased by the Huntingdon Presbytery of the Presbyterian church and it is their intention to erect a large and comfortable home for the elderly women of their congregations, the original house being used as one unit of the home.

Many people in Bellefonte go to the scenic as regularly as they go to bed at night, and they are the ones who never miss a good picture because they see them all. Every evening's program is so good that it is almost impossible for the casual attendant to pick out what he or she might term "the best," and the only way to be sure is to be a regular and see them all. If you are not in this class you are missing some good ones.

Word comes from Williamsport that James Bayard, an old and well known Bellefonter during the greater part of his life, was the victim of a very serious accident recently by which, it is feared, he may lose the sight of one eye if not both. Jim has been employed in a machine shop in that city and while using a drill it exploded one of the pieces striking his glasses, breaking them with the result that a particle of the broken glass penetrated one eye ball. He was taken to Philadelphia eye specialists by his wife, but word from there is not very encouraging.

An announcement has reached this office of the marriage of Fred Yeager, son of the late Maurice Yeager, of Bellefonte, and Miss Florence Cooley, of Colorado Springs, Col., the wedding having taken place in Toledo, Ohio, on Wednesday, March 5th. The bridegroom is a graduate of The Pennsylvania State College where he was a member of the football team. He is also a world war veteran and was wounded in action in France. At present he is located at Detroit, Mich., and holds a splendid position with the Ford Motor company. His mother, Mrs. Margaret J. Yeager, and her family, are now living at Highland Park, Mich., just outside of Detroit.

DEER HUNTERS MOVING INTO CAMP.

A Small Army of Good Shots will be in Woods for Opening of Season Next Monday.

Now that Thanksgiving day is a thing of the past the blood of man is hearkening to the call of the wild and from the four corners of Centre county a regular army of men are ready to invade the mountainous districts for their annual deer hunt. This will be the only real-to-goodness vacation taken by hundreds of men who lie dormant during most of the year but become very much alive with the approach of the deer hunting season.

Centre county has upwards of one hundred hunting clubs, each one of which has its permanent camp, most of them being in the Seven mountains, where about all the good places are pre-empted from year to year. The hunters go to camp in trucks and motor cars and carry a sufficient supply of "grub" to stock a larger of ample proportions. Today and tomorrow will witness the general exodus, as every man wants to be on the ground in time to get comfortably located and do a little scouting before the opening day.

Last year over four hundred bucks were killed in Centre county and indications count for anything there are lots of bucks in the woods for this year's sport. It is a very common thing for travelers over the Seven mountains to have deer run out into the road ahead of their machines and farmers living along the Seven mountains think it nothing unusual to see a herd of deer pasturing in their fields. While the majority of the deer are naturally does and fawns about the usual percentage of bucks have also been seen.

More deer have been seen on the Allegheny mountains this year than usual and good shooting will probably be found in that section. A few deer will also be found in Little Sugar valley, on Nittany and Muncy mountains, while the Barrens always affords good hunting to those who are acquainted with the territory.

Of course the "Watchman" is anxious to have reports of all deer killed as early as possible, and while the hunters will be beyond reach by telephone, all persons hearing news from the various camps will confer a favor on this paper by telephoning the same to us. So far as the venison is concerned a good shank or two will be about all we can use.

It might also be mentioned that the season for squirrel, pheasant and wild turkeys will close tomorrow and thereafter it will be unlawful to kill any of that kind of game. Deer, bear and rabbits will be in season until December 15th while raccoon season will be open until January 31st.

Annual Meeting of Centre County Farm Bureau.

The annual meeting of the Centre county Farm Bureau will be held in the High school auditorium, Bellefonte, on Saturday, December 6th, at 10 o'clock a. m. sharp.

At that time officers will be elected for the coming year. A representative from the agricultural extension office, at State College, will discuss the results of the work during the year and explain the program as carried out by the county agent. The report of the county agent has been completed and will be submitted at the meeting.

There has been a misunderstanding with reference to the name of the Farm Bureau as representing the extension department and the Farm Bureau Federation in different parts of the State. As every farmer probably knows the extension department took a neutral stand with reference to the Farm Bureau Federation and in order to avoid being misrepresented changed to the agricultural extension association. Since that action there are only twelve counties in the State that have not changed the name of their organization.

The question of changing the name of the Farm Bureau to the agricultural extension association will be taken up at that time and acted upon. It is necessary to make this change in order to be uniform with the other county extension organizations.

A luncheon will be served by the home economics department of the High school for a nominal fee of 65 cents. After lunch there will be short talks by E. L. Nixon, of State College, and a representative of the business interests of Bellefonte.

Another Fire at State College.

Between twelve-thirty and one o'clock on Friday night fire broke out in the Foster building, on Allen street, State College, and almost completely gutted the structure before the flames could be overcome. This is the building that was on fire on Wednesday night when the one adjoining was practically destroyed and it is just possible that the fire had been smoldering in the walls of the building for forty-eight hours before it finally broke out.

The building housed the postoffice and as soon as the fire was discovered college students formed a line and all the mail matter and stamps and other valuable equipment in the office were moved across the street into the new federal building. Though the interior of that building is not fully completed it is so far along that it can be used in an emergency and it was opened to the public at seven o'clock on Saturday evening.

The A. & P. store was also located in the Foster building and had just gotten cleaned out, fixed up and opened for business on Friday following Wednesday night's fire, when the second fire came along and despoiled almost the entire stock.

Incipient Fire Nipped in Time.

On Monday morning Mrs. Robert S. Walker, of east Linn street, sent her two little boys to their play room on the third floor because she considered it a little too chilly outside. Bobby in some way got possession of some matches and under the impression that the room was too cold for Richard gathered together a small pile of paper and set it on fire. He then pulled a small mattress in the room on top of the blaze and a few minutes later the boys went down stairs to luncheon.

At one o'clock Miss Elizabeth Walker, coming down the street, discovered smoke pouring from the third story of the Robert Walker home. She called the attention of her brother Ivan and Russell Blair to the smoke and they promptly ran across the street to the house, gave the alarm and hurried upstairs. The mattress was all on fire but they succeeded in smothering the flames. The fire, however, had burned a hole in the floor and the firemen, when they arrived, were compelled to tear up several boards and use a hand extinguisher to overcome the blaze.

Phillipsburg Candy Factory Destroyed by Fire.

The candy factory of the Haworth Candy Co., at Phillipsburg, was completely destroyed by fire about six o'clock on Monday evening, entailing a loss estimated at upwards of one hundred thousand dollars. The fire started on the fourth floor where a large quantity of candy boxes were stored, and spread rapidly. The plant was working on a large number of heavy holiday orders and as a consequence had a big stock of manufactured product on hand as well as a great quantity of raw material. The company was organized in September, 1923, and though only a little over a year old, employed fifty people.

Escaped Convict Charged with Robberies.

Fred Lutz, one of the prisoners who escaped from the Rockview penitentiary on August 10th, was recaptured near his home in Clearfield county last week and is now in the Centre county jail awaiting sentence, has several other charges entered against him for alleged robberies committed during the three months he was at liberty. Several stores burglarized in Clearfield county are believed to have been part of his work while robberies of freight cars are also blamed on him.

Several grips of merchandise which are said to have been taken from the Somerville store, at Winburne, and turned over to Mrs. Homer Illian, were recovered on Monday when Mrs. Illian was picked up at her home at Spring Mills, Centre county. She turned over the property and was held in her own recognizance to appear as a witness against Lutz.

Kiwanian Goose Got Loose.

A large, fat goose was the attendance prize awarded at the weekly Kiwanian luncheon at the Bush house on Tuesday noon and it fell to the lot of meat dealer John Eckles to get it. Before the presentation was made the goose got loose in the dining room and created some sport for the Kiwanians before it was captured. No damage resulted from the goose's escapade.

Roy I. Webber, superintendent of farms and buildings at State College, was the luncheon speaker and gave an interesting talk on the plans for the improvement of the grounds and buildings at that institution.

The next meeting of Kiwanis will be held in the evening at the Brockerhoff house and will be in charge of the educational committee, who are planning to hold a district school.

Bazaar and Fair.

The ladies of the Evangelical church, of this place, will hold a bazaar and fair on Thursday and Friday, December 4th and 5th. Aprons, home-made bed quilts and fancy articles suitable for Christmas gifts will be sold. On Thursday evening, December 4th, a chicken and waffle supper will be served in the social rooms.

Young People's Conference Attracted Large Attendance.

An interesting conference of the young people of the Sunday schools of Centre county was held in the Lutheran church of Bellefonte, Saturday, November 22nd. This was declared the most successful ever held by the county young people. One hundred and seventeen registered and of these one hundred and twelve reported. Twenty-seven Sunday schools of the county were represented.

State superintendent E. H. Bonsall directed the sessions, and was ably assisted by Miss Mildred Burkholder, of Harrisburg, and Miss Margaret Ferree, of Oak Hall, county superintendent of young people's work. Prof. I. L. Foster, of State College, president of the county Sunday school association, was also on hand and assisted until the arrival of Mr. Bonsall.

The conference had a very practical application to the work of the young people's division and the demonstrative sessions of the four-fold life. Hymn interpretation and week day program of the department were all entered into with spirit by the delegates.

The work of the training camp was presented by four of the campers and a financial statement by Prof. Foster. It is expected that as a result of this session an enthusiasm has been aroused that will fill the allotted delegation for 1925 camp and bring in the $900.00 deficiency of Centre county's part in the purchasing of the site.

The Ladies Aid of the church served luncheon to fifty-one of the delegates and the banquet in the evening, which was attended by one hundred, was a very sociable affair. The section containing the campers enlivened the conference by the usual camp song spirit and frills. The meals were excellent and a resolution of thanks was tendered the ladies for their splendid services, and the officers and leaders of the conference for the work done in making it so successful.

After the banquet the delegates returned to the church and the county officers of the Sunday school young people's division were duly installed, the friendship circle was formed and the conference adjourned.

An Evening with Tennyson and Strauss.

A large and appreciative audience assembled to hear an artistic rendition of Richard Strauss's "melodrama of Enoch Arden" as presented by the Woman's club of Bellefonte.

By the union of the two sister arts of music and poetry, this work presents a true picture of human feeling. A powerful impression is made of the beauty of unselfishness through Tennyson's noble lines, reinforced by Strauss's beautiful dramatic music and the contemplation of the rugged virtue of Enoch Arden is as wholesome and refreshing as a brisk walk in the teeth of an autumn gale or a draught from our sparkling spring.

The Woman's club wishes to thank Mrs. Orvis Harvey and Miss Rebecca Pugh Lyon for an evening of refined and elevating enjoyment.
