Owing to a rush of new orders the management at Whiterock was compelled to ask the men to work half a day on Sunday. While this is against the general policy in vogue et this plant, as all the officials beleve in observing the Sabbath, yet there may come rare occasions when work is really unavoidable. Substantial orders to be held must be filled promptly, otherwise a great loss will be the result.

Some weeks ago an evangelist held a series of meetings at Fillmore with a view of converting as many of the sinners in that section as possible. He set apart one night for the young girls and on that occasion preached an unusual sermon, strong and emphatic in every detail, after which he extended an invitation to all to come forward with a view of changing their worldly career. To his surprise not one responded. He then said "if you young girls don't want to go to heaven you can go to hell," laying particular emphasis upon the last word. Our old friend, Billy Sunday usually pulled off some rather original sayings, but I never heard him express himself quite so abruptly as did this evangelist.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

ATA just compiled by the U. S. Geological Survey and the Bureau of Labor Statistics discloses the fact that during the year just ended the output of Portland cement was 50% more than five years ago while prices in the same period have declined 37½ cents a barrel or 16 per cent.

As a matter of fact, it is seldom that any industry has been called upon to meet such an increased demand for its products as has been met by the Portland cement industry since 1920. In that year shipments were somewhat in excess of 96,000,000 barrels. It is estimated that shipments last year amounted to 145,750,000 barrels, an increase since 1920 of 50 per
