On the seventh page of today's "Watchman" will be found a very interesting article on the Centre county bar as it was over seventy years ago when Judge Burnside was on the bench. Most of the men mentioned either were at that time or later became renowned in their calling and some of them nationally famous.

A fifty pound live wild cat in a strong cage attracted considerable attention as it was being transported through Harrisburg by motor truck, last Friday. The animal, it is alleged, was captured in the mountains of Centre county by C. W. Anderson, of Stewartstown; John Ziegler and R. L. Hodgson, of York, and they were taking it home with the intention of making a pet of it, evidently forgetting that unknown something that makes the wild cat wild.

The Centre county commissioners have offered to donate to Phillipsburg and Chester Hill an old iron bridge which has been discarded in Snow Shoe township to erect over Moshannon creek connecting Phillipsburg and Chester Hill. The estimated cost of concrete abutments on which to place the bridge, transporting it and putting it in place will be $3,000, and the people of that section are desirous of having the intersecting counties bear a portion of the expense.

David A. Barlett has tendered his resignation as agent at the Eagleville station on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad to accept a position as traffic manager with the Chemical Lime and Stone company, of Bellefonte. Mr. Barlett has been with the Pennsylvania Railroad company for twenty years and one of his principal reasons for making the change is that the new position will enable him to spend more time with his family in Bellefonte. His resignation will take effect March 17th.

Next Tuesday will be St. Patrick's day and the Bellefonte Amusement company has arranged for a big boxing tourney in the Moose Temple theatre that evening. There will be four bouts for a total of twenty-eight rounds. Two local fistic men will appear in the preliminaries while the final bout of ten rounds will be between men of State-wide reputation. The tourney promises to be the best one pulled off in this section for years, and if you are a lover of the sport get your seats early.

Last Friday afternoon eight year old Edward Houser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Houser, was knocked down and run over by an automobile while at play on the state highway in front of his home on Pine street. The driver of the machine was not to blame for the accident as he did everything possible to avert hitting the boy, but the latter became bewildered and ran right in front of the car. Fortunately a few slight cuts and bruises were the extent of his injuries and he was able to go back to school on Wednesday.

Dr. W. U. Irwin on Tuesday morning purchased from John G. Munson the Munson residence on north Allegheny street. Quite a number of people were after the house and from all reports the bidding was almost equal to a public sale, though the price paid has not been made public. As soon as the sale became generally known the doctor was besieged with house hunters anxious to buy or lease his present residence on Spring street. The doctor and family will move into their new home in the near future so as to be right on hand to oversee some repairs they intend making.

CENTRE COUNTY JURY RETURNS BIG VERDICT. New York Man Awarded $45,073.32 Against Rowland Estate.

The second largest verdict ever returned by a Centre county jury was that awarded James H. Cullen, of New York city, against the estate of the late Congressman Charles H. Rowland, of Phillipsburg, the exact sum being $45,073.32.

The case was heard last week before Judge Miles I. Potter, of Middleburg. It went on trial Monday morning and it was late Friday afternoon when the verdict was returned. The plaintiff was represented by M. Ward Fleming, of Phillipsburg, and N. B. Spangler, of Bellefonte, while the attorneys for the defendant estate were A. M. Liveright, of Clearfield, and Judge Ellis L. Orris, of Bellefonte. Concerned in the defense were Mr. Rowland's widow, Mrs. Annie C. Rowland; John E. Fryberger, of Phillipsburg, and Supt. J. K. Johnston, of Tyrone, administrators of the Rowland estate.

The suit grew out of the sale by the late Congressman Rowland, in 1917, of the old Cartright mine, in Clearfield county, to Mr. Cullen. The tract included 200 acres of land, and according to the plaintiff's testimony, Mr. Rowland guaranteed an outcrop or stripping vein of the Moshannon coal sufficient to yield from 150,000 to 200,000 tons of coal. At the time of the deal Cullen was in the employ of the United States government operating a fleet of dredges in New York harbor. He was badly in need of coal and knowing this L. G. Rosenthal made a scouting expedition to the Clearfield region. He inspected the Cartright mine then interviewed Congressman Rowland relative to its purchase.

The latter agreed to sell him the mine for $30,000, he to receive as his commission all he could get over and above that amount. Mr. Rosenthal returned to New York and informed Mr. Cullen that he had a coal mine for him. Not knowing anything about mines Mr. Cullen enlisted the services of George Clittery, a coal broker to represent him in the deal. Mr. Rosenthal placed the price of the mine to Mr. Cullen at $36,000, and with a certified check for $18,000 in his pocket Mr. Clittery accompanied Mr. Rosenthal to Phillipsburg. They visited the Cartright mine and being assured by Congressman Rowland that it was as represented Clittery closed the deal for Mr. Cullen, giving Congressman Rowland the certified check for $18,000 and notes to cover the balance of the purchase money.

Machinery was installed and the mine put in operation early in 1918, but after taking out 11,000 tons of coal the armistice was declared, coal prices took a tumble and operations ceased at the Cartright mine. But the coal mined was said to be not up to the standard of Moshannon coal and some of it had been condemned by government inspectors. In the mean time two of the notes given Congressman Rowland had been paid off, or a total of $23,000. With the mine not in operation Mr. Cullen defaulted in the payment of the last note and under a sheriff's attachment Mr. Rowland seized the mine and machinery, the latter estimated at a value of $5,000. Mr. Cullen later endeavored to effect a compromise settlement with Mr. Rowland but failing to accomplish any satisfactory settlement brought an action in deceit to recover damages, and the result was the big verdict as given above.

So far as court records show this was only the second action in deceit ever tried in the Centre county courts, the other one being about twenty-two years ago when a man named Bitner brought action against George W. Gates, of Halfmoon township, to recover for a team of horses purchased from the latter, which were not at all as represented. Attorney N. B. Spangler represented Mr. Bitner and won his case.

In the Cullen-Rowland case attorneys for the defense promptly made a motion for a new trial, reasons to be filed within the specified time required by law.

The only other case heard last week was that of P. R. Rupp against Dr. J. V. Foster, of State College, to recover an alleged balance for building the doctor's present residence in that place. The jury awarded the plaintiff a verdict of $957.10.

Auto Show a Big Success

The fourth annual auto show held in the Bellefonte armory last week was a pronounced success in every way. There were in the neighborhood of sixteen hundred paid admissions during the four days and dealers report about twenty actual sales with dozens of good prospects in view. In fact every dealer is confident this is going to be a good year for the sale of new cars, and that the gross business will greatly exceed that of last year.

Much of the success of the show was due to the clever and earnest management of Mr. G. C. Payne, who arranged its setting, secured the entertainment features and made exhibitor and visitor, alike, feel comfortable.

Patriotic Meeting and Rally.

Bellefonte Camp No. 887, P. O. S. of A., will hold a special meeting and rally on Friday evening, March 13th, at 7:30 o'clock, in their hall over the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. store, after which refreshments will be served.

The meeting will be addressed by the Hon. Albert C. Johnson, of Lewisburg, ex-Judge of the Union-Snyder county district, who is regarded as one of the foremost speakers of our State, and the Hon. O. P. Waters, of Sunbury, former State organizer and now connected with the news staff of the New York Tribune, who will also deliver an address.

Every member is urgently requested to attend and make this the banner meeting of the year.

Needs a Little Uplift.

After reading Levi A. Miller's Pleasant Gap items in last week's "Watchman" a well known Bellefonte gentleman who signed himself "H. G." sent him a postcard on the face side of which was a picture of a man in the act of buying a bottle from a bootlegger while a big blue coat hovered in the offing; also the inscription:

"East side, west side
All around the block.
The bootlegger's rushin' business
At all hours of the clock."

On the address side of the card was the following trite communication:

My Dear Comrade:
I enjoyed your P. G. article in the "Watchman" last week in regard to taking a "nip." I agree with you that when a man reaches the 80th milestone in life he needs a little uplift. But the rich have it and we poor devils have not the price. I am opposed to prohibition and woman suffrage.

The First Telephone in Bellefonte.

In a reminiscence story on the coming of the telephone to Bellefonte we stated last week that the Snow Shoe Coal Co. had built the first line in the county when it put telephones in service between its offices in Snow Shoe and this place.

In a sense we were right, but for the sake of exactness let it be said that the line was not built for telephone service. It was strung in 1868 as a telegraph line and Mr. Andrew Cook, of this place, struck the key that sent the first dash or dot flashing over the wire to signal the man at Snow Shoe that the installation was successfully completed.

It was some years later that Mr. Roads and Mr. Bailey, of Williamsport, who were interested in the perfection of the telephone, then in its experimental stage, seeking a long wire over which it could be tried, came to the Snow Shoe Co., and secured the opportunity of experimenting on its line from here to Snow Shoe. That explains how the first telephone came to Bellefonte and that was really the beginning of the Central Pennsylvania Telephone Co., at Williamsport, in the organization of which Messrs. Roads and Bailey played such important roles.

Rev. Steely Returned to Bellefonte by Conference.

Members of the United Evangelical congregation and church people in Bellefonte generally were gratified to learn that the Rev. Reed O. Steely has been returned to the pastorate of the Bellefonte church by the annual conference which convened at Milton on March 5th and closed on Monday of this week. Other re-appointments by Bishop L. H. Sager, of LeMars, Iowa, the presiding officer, were as follows: State College, J. F. Hower. Howard, F. F. Mayer. Nittany, J. W. Zang. Rebersburg, W. H. Warbuton.

Among the changes were the resignation of Rev. C. I. Raffensperger as presiding elder of the Williamsport district, of which the Bellefonte church is a part, and his assignment to a York church. Rev. W. B. Cox, a former pastor of the Bellefonte church, was appointed presiding elder of the Williamsport district to succeed Rev. Raffensperger.

J. F. Bingham was transferred from Centre Hall to the Cumberland circuit and Floyd Huff was sent to Centre Hall, it being his first appointment.

The time limit of Rev. C. B. Snyder's appointment at Millheim having expired he was assigned to Nesquehock and H. C. Kleffell sent to Millheim from Ringtown.

A. F. Weaver, a former pastor of the Bellefonte church, was moved from Trinity church, at York, to the First church, Williamsport, the largest and most influential in the conference, while A. D. Gramley was transferred from Williamsport to York.

Conference voted to hold its sessions next year at Jersey Shore.

Making Plans for Building Mountain Road.

Members of the contracting firm of the James & Nicholson Co. Inc., of Johnstown, who have been awarded the contract for the building of the 44,000 feet of state road over the Allegheny mountain from Runville to Snow Shoe, have been on the ground during the past week making their plans for carrying on the work. The building of this road will be a tedious job because of the fact that there will be no possible way of establishing detours and the road cannot be closed to traffic.

The road is to be built of reinforced concrete and the contract, it is said, specifies that only half the road shall be poured at one time, thus leaving the other half open to traffic. But the contractors hope to be able to make temporary detours along considerable portions of the road over the mountain. As is well known, the present road is quite narrow in many places and it will be necessary to dig off the side of the mountain to make it the required width and it is believed that the material thus obtained can be used for a temporary fill at the lower side of the road which can be used as a detour while the concrete is being poured.

Another proposition the contractors will have to deal with is the question of water. This they will overcome by laying a pipe line from the big spring near the top of the mountain down this side to Runville, or as near there as necessary. Then a pump will have to be installed at the spring to pump the water to the top of the mountain and as far on the way to Snow Shoe as necessary. It will be a big job, but of course the contractors had figured it all out before submitting their bid.

Man Who Refused to Leave Jail Sent Away on Monday.

Ordinarily men shun the county jail as they would a pest house, and it is only the natural instinct against restraint and being locked up, but sheriff Taylor has had the unique experience of having a prisoner in his charge whom he had a hard time getting rid of. In fact it was necessary to buy him a railroad ticket, put him on the train and send him out of town in order to get him off his boarding list.

It will be remembered that on February 7th the sheriff made a trip over to Pennsvalley and took into custody a Swedish tramp by the name of Christian Hanson on suspicion of being the man who had been implicated in a number of barn fires. He was brought to the Centre county jail and ten days later given a hearing before Judge Dale. As there was no evidence to connect him with the burning of the barns the judge ordered his discharge. Said discharge was given the sheriff on February 27th and that ended the county's liability for the prisoner's keep.

But when the sheriff told Hanson he could go he refused to do so. In fact he would hide in unoccupied cells whenever he saw the sheriff approach, fearful lest he was to be turned out. As the weather was bad at that time the sheriff didn't have the heart to turn the man out, so he allowed him to remain. But finally on Monday, with the sun shining nice and warm, the sheriff decided to get rid of his prisoner and taking him to the railroad station bought him a ticket to Williamsport, gave him a little money and put him on the train, hoping that he has seen the last of Hanson.

Centre County Hospital News.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Centre county hospital, held Tuesday night, the building committee, Mr. Moore, chairman, reported that the contract with the bricklayers had been made and that the brick is being delivered and that the sand is contracted for early delivery. Work will be started at once. He also reported the new boiler installed and in use.

Mrs. Schloss, Mrs. Emerick and Mrs. Mott, of the ladies auxiliary, were present and made some valuable suggestions to the board. The president requested that the auxiliary appoint a visiting committee and submit reports to the board regularly. Mrs. Schloss stated that it is the intention to extend the organization of the auxiliary to cover the entire county.

Secretary Mallory reported that offers to furnish and maintain several rooms in the new wing have been received.

Dairy Meeting at Howard.

Dairymen living in the vicinity of Howard will be interested in a meeting to be held at the school house on Tuesday evening, March 17th, at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. E. B. Fitts, in charge of dairy extension at State College, will discuss ways and means of improving the dairy herd. One of the important factors in economical milk production is the feed the cow consumes. Mr. Nicholas Schmitz, who is a specialist on alfalfa and forage crops, will be the speaker on the program.

Is Bellefonte to Have a New Opera House?

On Wednesday the deal was closed by which Walter Cohen sold to Charles H. Richelieu, of the Richelieu Theatres, of Blairsville, a sixty foot frontage on High street, this place.

The property transferred is a portion of the Wilson property and begins at the corner of the Elks property running west on High a distance of 60 feet. This includes the brick residence but leaves a lot of 30 feet frontage abutting on the William S. Katz home, which Mr. Cohen retains. The consideration is said to have been $21,000.

When here Mr. Richelieu is reported as having said that he intends building a $250,000 theatre and business building on the site and is already in search of a home so that he can be on the ground to supervise, personally, the work of construction.

All of Mr. Cohen's tenants in the building to be demolished have been notified to move, and it is expected will be gone by April 15th, when building operations are supposed to begin.

Judge Dale has already moved his offices into the chambers provided for him in the court house. The James Craig and Thomas W. Cairns families, who have apartments there, are anticipating taking the Shugert residence on east Linn street.

Near East Relief Discussed at Kiwanian Luncheon.

The regular luncheon of the Bellefonte Kiwanis club was held at the Brockerhoff house on Tuesday noon. The lunch given by Kiwanian Landsay was excellent and well served. Mrs. Clark, who has been connected with the "Near East relief" since the war, was a guest of the club and gave a very enlightening talk on the deplorable conditions as they now exist in that country, and all who were fortunate enough to be present appreciate more than ever the great work that is being carried on by the Near East relief, and in view of this have pledged themselves to contribute more freely through the regular sources than heretofore. Kiwanian Blair had charge of the music and Russell is the boy that can make things lively. It is alleged that Kiwanian John Love will again render a solo, entitled "Sweet Genevieve," at the next luncheon and those who miss it are passing up a rare treat.

Head of Five Generations and Still Young.

Mrs. Anne Klinger Cox, one of the most interesting characters among the older residents of this community, prides herself, and justly so, on being probably the only person in Bellefonte who is head of a family of five generations.

Following her own comes that of her son Jesse, of Reading; her grandson Charles, of Altoona; her great-grandson Ralph Smith, of Bellefonte, and her great-great grand-daughter, Anne Louise Bottorf, of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Cox is in her eighty-fourth year and quite as active and closely in touch with current affairs as a person half her age. An exceptional character and home-maker her greatest outside interest has been in her church and the welfare of others, many of whom will carry through life loving memories of the kindly ministrations of this good woman.

Mrs. Naginey Will Sell All Her Furniture.

At the same time there will be offered a large roll top desk, a type writer and a 5 passenger Studebaker touring car.

According to a dispatch from Huntington W. L. Howell, a "free lance" detective, is facing arrest because of his arrest of two women in Altoona, on Tuesday, on the charge of passing fraudulent checks. Quick, now serving a term in the Centre county jail, was associated.
