Bellefonte, Pa., March 20, 1925.

AARONSBURG.

Mrs. John Mohr Otto, after an absence of several months, has returned to her home in this place. Mrs. Clark Herman, of State College, spent a few days with her brother, A. S. Stover and family. Samuel Laidacker came down from State College and spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. George Weaver. Clinton Benson, of Milroy, spent Sunday with his wife and small son, at the home of Mrs. Benson's father,

Mr. and Mrs. George Z. Kern, of Madisonburg, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hull. While in the village Mrs. Kern called on a number of old friends and neighbors.

Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock will be the regular time for services in the local Evangelical church, at which time the newly appointed pas-tor, Rev. Kleffel, will fill the pulpit.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Henry and two children, of Milroy, spent several days with Mrs. Henry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. King. Mr. King spent a few days with the Henry family, and they accompanied him home.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Acker spent Sunday in Millheim, guests of Mrs. Acker's sister, Mrs. Clark Musser and family. Mrs. Musser and Mrs. Acker are twins and celebrated their seventy-fourth birthday on Sunday. May they live to enjoy many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Samuel Mowery moved to our village from near Rebersburg, and is nicely settled in the west side of Mrs. Noah Leitzell's home on Main street. George Cunningham has vacated the William Bower house on North 2nd street and is living in the part of the Perry Smith house vacated by Lloyd

BOALSBURG.

George Rowe is having a bath room fitted up in his residence on Maine street.

The Henry Reitz residence has been greatly improved by the building of a large porch.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement G. Dale, of Pleasant Gap, were visitors in town on Wednesday.

Misses Alice Kerchner and Hilda Lonebarger, of State College, were week-end visitors in town.

John Horner and family moved from Tusseyville, last week, to the Bitner property east of town. The Civic club will serve a cafeteria supper in the Malta hall Saturday, March 21st, from 5 to 8 o'clock. Jerry Dunklebarger returned to West Virginia on Friday, after a few week's visit with his sister, Mrs. Hen-

Messrs. S. R. Rishel and George Rowe, Mrs. William Meyer and Miss Alice Reitz motored to Altoona on Sunday to visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Garner returned home last week after spending a month in the Cumberland vicinity, where Mr. Garner, a Penn State Senior, was engaged in practice teaching.

Miss Mary Hazel, a Bucknell student, assisted by three classmates, gave a recital in the Reformed church on Saturday evening, under the auspices of A. J. Hazel's Sunday school

OAK HALL.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lowder made a business trip to Bellefonte on Tues-

Mr. and Mrs. Clel. Garner and children were recent callers with relatives about Oak Hall. Mrs. W. E. Homan and two children spent a day recently with Mrs. Geo. Homan, at Boalsburg. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fishel, of Pennsylvania Furnace, were recent visit-ors at the parental home.

Misses Mae Houser, Margaret and Marian Dale were guests, Saturday, at the Burwell home near Pine Grove

Quite a number of people from our town attended the social held at the Samuel Wasson home, on the Branch, last Friday evening.

Sunday guests at the Edward Zong home were Mr. and Mrs. George Lohr and family, of the Branch; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Zong and Mr. and Mrs.

Edward Zong and Ralph Dale, of this place, and Henry Hosterman, James Irvin and L. W. Whitehead, of Boalsburg, motored to Altoona, Tuesday evening, and attended a very interesting I. O. O. F. meeting.

Some Mail Order Houses Find Them Very Useful in Their Business.

CAN "DOCTOR" PHOTOGRAPH

Concerns Can Give Wrong Impressions With Illustrations While Sticking to Truth in Descriptions.

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.) "Figures never lie," it has been claimed, but this is far from the truth. The defaulter who has "doctored" his books in such a way that he has escaped detection for years, knows that figures can be made to lie. The shrewd politician, who knows how to juggle statistics, knows that they can be made to tell a story that is far from the truth. But there is another medium of expression which is also supposed to be a stickler for truth, but which is a greater prevaricator than figures. That is a picture. A picture of any person or thing, supposedly, is an exact reproduction of the original, but this is frequently only a wild supposition. The photographer who did not make his picture tell a little fib now and then would soon go out of busi ness from lack of patronage.

Pictures Better Than Words. Pictures have come to occupy a very mportant place in the life of the world in recent years. It has been said that for newspaper purposes a picture which tells its story strikingly is worth more than columns of written words on the same subject. Newspapers and magazines have realized the truth of this fact and as a result pictures are used profusely in illustrating the news and fiction of the day No one has been quicker to realize the possibilities of the picture when properly-or it might be said improperly-used, than the mail order man, He has realized that a picture will do more to sell his kind of merchandise than a column of words and figures. One reason for this is that it is harder to catch a picture in a lie than it is printed words and figures. For instance, if you sell a man a table on the strength of a printed statement that it is 48 inches wide and if when the table reaches the customer it is only 36 inches wide, the customer not only has a moral right to kick, but he has a legal right to accuse the seller of obtaining money under false pretenses. However, if the customer buys a table which looks in a picture to be 48 inches wide, but which proves upon its arrival to be only 36 inches wide, he has no legal grounds upon which to base a complaint if the seller has not told him in so many words that the table was 48 inches wide Stick to Truth in Figures. Some unscrupulous mail order houses have taken advantage of this selling power of pictures in a very ingenious way. They adhere strictly to the truth in the actual measurements given in their catalogues of the articles which they have to sell. They may employ descriptions which exaggerate the qualities and appearances of the articles offered, but when it. comes down to actual measurements the descriptions given are technically correct. Then these concerns rely upon their pictures to sell the merchandise, realizing that a picture will make a far deeper impression upon the mind of the prospective buyer than the actual figures given. A picture of a wide, roomy bed will attract the eye and the reader probably will not stop to measure off the width of the bed as it is described in the catalogue to see whether it is as wide as desired. Figures, in the abstract, mean little to the average reader and do not convey the impression that is given in the pic-

A former manager of a mail order nouse tells how his concern manipulated pictures in this way to suit its purposes. It had pictures of its chairs retouched so that the legs seemed to be an inch and a half in diameter, when they were really less than an inch. It made narrow beds appear in the picture to be wide and comfortable. Posts of iron beds that were really an inch in diameter were made to appear as if they were three inches in thickness. These things are easy for any competent artist to do.

Patrons Had No Recourse. This concern, however, adhered rigidly to the truth in the measurements included in the descriptions. Customers who found, when they received their goods, that they were not what they expected, could kick, but it would do them no good. The mail order house could show that it had set forth the measurements truthfully in catalogues, and there was no recourse for the customer. There is no question but that pic tures will lie, sometimes without any manipulation, and the person who buys an article of merchandise from a picture is taking big chances, even though the picture is not intentionally altered to give a wrong impression. Any amateur photographer knows from experience how the camera often will give a wrong idea of proportions. The only safe method is to buy from the local merchant where one sees the article itself and not a picture of it. The article itself cannot lie about its dimensions, at least.
