BELLEFONTE'S BIG RAILROAD BUSINESS.

Bellefonte Freight Handlers Make Record in February.

From the Pennsylvania News, the weekly publication of the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., we learn that the employees of the freight station here, as well as those in the switching yards, made a record in efficiency during the month of February that will probably stand for some time as a record on the Pennsylvania System for stations of this size.

The report certainly must be a matter of exceeding gratification to agent W. T. Kelly and yard-master T. J. Kelleher and their respective helpers. Their purpose was to make February a spotless month as regards over, short and damaged freight, etc., and they almost did it—came within one of it, in fact.

They handled a total of 3058 outbound waybills; 1715 solid loads outbound; had but one shipment damaged; a slight damage for which no claim was made; had no short reports; no over reports; no free astray reports; no C. T. 619; no discrepancies of any character. This, too, was one of the biggest months, from a revenue standpoint, in the history of the station.

SHIP MATCHES AND STONE.

Of the 1715 solid loads outbound, a majority were stone. It is interesting to note that among this number there were 30 carloads of matches—368 tons of matches!

E. O. Struble, foreman of the warehousemen, deserves credit for his part in this record. As well, Agent W. T. Kelly and his force come in for high praise for such a sterling record.

This freight station serves thirty-four private sidings, in addition to public team tracts and connecting lines. Bellefonte is the junction for the Tyrone and Williamsport divisions.

Following is the personnel of this force: W. T. Kelly, agent; B. J. Beezer, M. T. Eisenhauer, John A. Garman, Frances Geppert, James Morrison, Jr., Bella Peters, K. T. Rockey and J. C. Snyder, clerks; Harry A. Smith, head clerk; C. F. Barner, L. E. Harter, E. M. Peters, E. O. Struble and G. W. Thomas, warehousemen.

YARDMASTER BREAKS RECORD.

T. J. Kelleher, yard master, who has his office in the same building, also broke all previous records.

In a yard with a capacity for 65 cars, they handled 2421 loaded and 1515 empty, or a total of 3936. Of the 2421 loaded, 1715 originated at Bellefonte alone. This record is topped by but one month in the history of the yard, and that was in April, 1924, when they handled a total of 4108 cars, or only 169 more than for the month of February, 1925.

Bellefonters who have only a superficial knowledge of what industries in this community are producing will be impressed with the statement that during the month 1715 full carloads of freight originated and were shipped from here. An average of 71 1/2 cars for every working day of the month.

New Prizes Offered Bellefonte Academy Students.

The Bellefonte Academy has not only been successful in its scholastic and athletic work this year, but it has won interested friends who have manifested their interest in the noble purpose of the historic Academy is trying to realize by coming to the front and offering prizes to incite the students to their best endeavor in various phases of school effort. Dr. W. J. Copeland, of Elmira, N. Y., whose son graduated last Christmas, has offered three prizes called the "Irving Copeland Prizes of 1924," in honor of his son Irving. Twenty dollars will be awarded annually to the most useful athlete of the school year. Ten dollars will be offered annually to each of the two students who do the best work in American history.

P. P. Blair & Son will offer an annual prize of $10.00 to the Senior who will attain the highest average for the year's work in English.

The Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. will offer a $10.00 prize annually to the student who attains the highest average in the Sophomore year.

Montgomery & Co. will present $10.00 annually to the Senior who attains the highest grade in modern languages.

It is needless to state that headmaster James R. Hughes and his fellow teachers are much gratified because of these new incentives in the Academy work and feel very grateful to the donors. These complete a good list of prizes in science, mathematics, ancient languages, oratory, English and history.

Carl Deitrick Appointed Assessor for the South Ward.

The regularly elected assessor, Joseph Apt, for the South ward of Bellefonte, having moved into his new bungalow, just over the line in Spring township, the County Commissioners, on Tuesday, appointed Carl Deitrick to fill the vacancy created by the removal.

There was quite a scramble for the appointment. Charles Saxton, J. W. Yearick, Charles Anderson and H. J. Walkey were all aspirants for the place. Mr. Deitrick, besides being amply qualified for the job, is a sterling young Democrat and has shown the will to go out and work for the party that has thus rewarded him.

Interesting Meeting of Bellefonte Chapter D. A. R.

A large and especially interesting meeting of the Bellefonte Chapter D. A. R. was most hospitably entertained at the home of the Misses Virginia and Grace McCurdy, on east Linn street, on Thursday evening, March 5th.

Following the usual order of music, business new and old, the Chapter added to its benefactions a subscription of $25 to Near East relief; $25 to its room in the Centre County hospital, and voted an extra voluntary gift of twenty-five cents per member to the publication of the "Immigrants Manual," a book printed in twelve different languages for the enlightenment of arrivals at Ellis Island and other immigrant stations in "Ways American."

Mrs. John I. Olewine read an exhaustive, though by no means exhausting, (as often proves to be the case) paper on the D. A. R. work at Ellis Island. The detention rooms at that place on the Atlantic coast and at Angel Island on the Pacific coast would cage many a more restless spirit, both among the men and women, were it not for the occupations in rug making, sewing, manual study, (now often begun on shipboard en route from foreign parts), furnished by the D. A. R. This organization has had 850,000 copies of the manual printed and has spent between $450,000 and $475,000 for the work.

Following Mrs. Olewine's paper the entertainment committee presented another "star" in the person of Mrs. Winters, wife of Capt. Theodore Winters, of the U. S. navy, who told of life in the Philippines. Referring to a matter already presented to the Chapter Mrs. Winters, who is a prospective member of the D. A. R., removed any doubt as to the United States government providing for its soldiers and sailors. She said that the government sees to it that the men always have food, clothing and rooms, but the seamen of the merchant marine are sometimes in need of such things. The latter can be summarily dismissed anywhere in the world, no matter how far from home, but a seaman in the government's employ, even though he be in disgrace, is always returned to his home country and never left stranded in a foreign port. Mrs. Winters explained, however, that both the soldiers and sailors do need places for recreation and entertainment in Manila, and she added that upon returning there she will be glad to assist in this branch of the D. A. R. work, so it is highly probable that the local Chapter will have a representative in a good work in almost the other side of the world.

Police Arrest Packer, Who Later Has Police Arrested.

Cleveland Packer, of Holt's Hollow, was arrested by state police on Saturday night for having in his possession and transporting intoxicating liquor. He was in his car when stopped by the police and when they undertook to search the car resisted with the result that a scrap ensued in which Packer received a discolored eye. The only wet goods the police found was a half pint in Mr. Packer's hip pocket. At a hearing before Squire S. Kline Woodring, on Monday, Packer was held in one thousand dollars bail for trial at court.

On Tuesday Packer swore out a warrant before justice of the peace J. M. Keichline for the arrest of state policeman W. J. Lyster on the charge of assault, the officer being placed under arrest the same day. He will be given a hearing before Squire Keichline today and some interesting developments are expected.

According to reports Packer was on his way home late Saturday evening and had what he claims was cow feed in a bag in the rear of his car. He was stopped by the state police who, it is claimed, declared the "cow feed" was mash. In any event Packer did not yield willingly to being searched and the police claim he kicked at them from his car. It was at this time that policeman Lyster poked him one on the eye. He avers he hit him with his fist, and if he did he has some "poke" in his arm, as Packer had a badly battered eye. The police, it is claimed, then went to his home and ransacked it from top to bottom on the hunt of stills or moonshine liquor, but all they found was the half-pint bottle found in Packer's hip pocket, and there was only a "nip" of moonshine in it.

Whether the state police were armed with a search warrant or not, has not been divulged, but will likely be brought out at the hearing today; also an officer's right to commit an assault in making a search for liquor.

John Haldeman, Moonshine Maker, Again in Jail.

John Haldeman, of Hornstown, was arrested by state police on Monday on the charge of having in his possession about a gallon of moonshine. This is Mr. Haldeman's second offense, as he had served a sentence last year for bootlegging.

James Lora, of State College, was also arrested on Monday on a similar charge, about a quart of moonshine being found in his possession. In default of $1000 bail he was also sent to jail.

Mrs. A. C. Preston, of Lock Haven, has a full line of stamped and embroidered models in art embroidery on display at Miss Cooney's Hat Shop. Every one is asked to see them. 12-17

BIG MASONIC GATHERING.

Twenty-three Knights Templar Past Commanders Awarded Jewels.

The Masonic Temple on Allegheny street was the scene of unusual activity on the part of Knights Templar, last Friday evening, the occasion being an official visitation by such eminent Knights as Grand Commander Arthur D. Bacon, of Harrisburg; Grand Captain General Boyd A. Musser, of Scranton, a former Bellefonter and a member of Constans Commandery No. 33; Division Commander Charles T. Derick, of Bellwood, and Division Commander Clyde P. Love, of Harrisburg, as well as a number of visiting Knights from points in Pennsylvania and adjoining States. The Grand Commander witnessed the conferring of the highest order in York Rite Masonry, the Order of the Temple, on a class of ten candidates.

The feature of the evening was the presentation by the Commandery of past commander jewels to every living past commander of Constans Commandery, twenty-three in number. The presentation address was made by Division Commander Charles T. Derick while the response and speech of acceptance was feelingly delivered by Past Grand Commander Wilson L. Fleming. The past commanders who received the jewels were Col. J. L. Spangler, Col. W. Fred Reynolds, Wilson L. Fleming, Dr. J. L. Seibert, Albert C. Mingle, George T. Bush, Harry Keller, W. Harrison Walker, Milton S. McDowell, Jesse T. Cherry, W. Homer Crissman, Mitchell I. Gardner, Sydney Krumrine, George S. Grimm, Dr. Walter J. Kurtz, Wilson S. Sholl, Major Hugo Diemer, Charles F. Mensch, William B. Rankin, Dr. William U. Irwin, Dr. S. M. Nissley, Dr. James R. Barlett and Charles E. Garbrick.

The jewel is a very handsome and appropriate ornament, being composed of gold enameled in red and black. On the bar in relief numerals are the words "Commandery 33." Suspended by two small chains is the pendant containing in relief a picture of the court house and the soldiers' monument while in the circle surrounding it is the inscription "Constans Commandery No. 33, K. T., Bellefonte, Pa." The pendant is in the form of a maltese cross, the emblem of the order.

Following the presentation officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Eminent commander, William H. Brouse; generalissimo, Myron M. Cobb; captain general, Louis S. Schad; treasurer, P. C., William B. Rankin; recorder, P. C., George T. Bush; trustees, S. M. Nissley, George T. Bush and Wilson S. Sholl.

Though located in one of the smaller and interior towns of the State Constans Commandery has for years enjoyed an enviable reputation among Knights Templar everywhere. It has knighted three men who have become past grand commanders of Pennsylvania and one of another State. Five from the Commandery have filled appointive offices in the Grand Commandery, a record probably unequalled by any Commandery of its size in the State. During the past five years the membership has been almost tripled, and now numbers 240.

Following the ceremonies of the evening a roast chicken banquet was served and after dinner speeches were made by Eminent Knights Arthur D. Bacon, Boyd A. Musser, Charles T. Derick and Clyde P. Love.

On Tuesday evening about thirty members of the Commandery journeyed to Huntingdon to attend a meeting of the Commanderies of Division No. 10, and assist in conferring a degree before the Grand Commander and his staff.

Another Version of the First Telephone.

Writing from Spangler, Pa., James A. McClain Esq., adds another correction to the "Watchman's" recent stories of the installation of the first telephone in this county.

Mr. McClain is of the opinion that the first distance test by Mr. Bailey, the promoter, was not between Bellefonte and Snow Shoe, as we stated. He says that the first test was between Bellefonte and Milesburg station where he was then agent and telegraph operator. When the test was made Mr. Bailey was at the Milesburg end of the line and the late W. L. Malin, who was then manager of the Western Union office here, had the receiver in Bellefonte at his ear. After they had actually conversed over wire, a distance of three miles, Mr. McClain was given a chance to prove to himself that what was then thought next to impossible was actually very simple after all.

It is his opinion that the test was made some time between 1874 and 1881, though he doesn't remember the exact year.

We are inclined to think that Mr. McClain has the time fairly definitely fixed though it must have been nearer 1881 than it was to 1874.
