Ex-Judge Albert W. Johnson, of Lewisburg, is scheduled for the appointment as judge of the central Pennsylvania federal district court to succeed the late Judge Charles B. Witmer.

The monthly meeting of the missionary tea of the ladies of the Reformed church will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Eberhart, on east Curtin street, Wednesday afternoon, May 6th.

Eighty-two per cent of the farmers of Centre county used commercial fertilizer in 1924. Their average consumption was 2.6 tons and the total amount used in the county was 4893 tons having a value of $92,967.00.

The Bellefonte Academy boys will stage their annual minstrel show at the Moose Temple theatre on May 21 and 22. The dance that has always featured the production will be held in the armory Friday evening, May 22, immediately after the show.

The scenic continues to be the only motion picture show in Bellefonte dependable for its big programs every night in the week, and its regular patrons never go away disappointed. No pictures made are too big or too good for the scenic, in the opinion of manager T. Clayton Brown, and that is the reason he always secures the best that can be had.

The illustrated lecture on "Pilgrim's Progress and Life of Christ", which was to have been given in the Lutheran church, last Friday evening, and was postponed, will be given this (Friday) evening. Over 300 views will be u. e. No charge, no collection and all are welcome. The lecture will be delivered by N. N. McGrew, leader of Bunyan's Pilgrim band.

The Bellefonte school board is planning to begin the remodeling of the Clement Dale home within the next week or ten days in order to have it in shape to accommodate the first and second grade schools by the opening of school in September. The plans, which call for an expenditure of approximately $12,000, have been approved by the State Department of Education.

As the Pennsylvania-Lehigh train west, on Wednesday afternoon, started to pull away from the Bellefonte station one set of drivers left the rails. Fortunately the train had not attained any great amount of speed and was quickly brought to a stop. It took only about ten minutes to get the wheels back on the rails and the train proceeded on its way without much loss of time.

The Williamsport papers published quite an extended account of the reception recently tendered Rev. and Mrs. Alexander Scott in that city. It was in the nature of an expression of Williamsport's pleasure at the return of Rev. Scott to his work in Grace Methodist church of that city, where he has been doing a wonderful work. During his service there he has taken 220 new members into the church, paid an old indebtedness of $6,000 and financed a new pipe organ which is this year's improvement program. Rev. Scott was pastor of the Methodist church here several years ago.

W. J. Emerick, who has been quite ill the past two weeks, was taken to the Clearfield hospital, on Tuesday, to be under the observation of Dr. Waterworth. The doctor was in Bellefonte last Sunday, called here to see Mrs. William J. Daley, who is seriously ill at her home on Willowbank street, and while here was called in consultation on Mr. Emerick's case which has so far baffled his own physician. Unable to diagnose the case Dr. Waterworth suggested taking him to the Clearfield hospital for observation. He was taken over in the big auto bus, "Miss Nittany," accompanied by Mrs. Emerick and his nurse, and stood the trip very well. Blood tests at the hospital following his arrival there failed to show any traces of typhoid fever. Up to Wednesday evening his condition was about the same, with the exception that he had suffered no more chills.

Last Thursday evening Mr. Gilston, one of the instructors in the Bellefonte High school, with three students, William Harvey, David Weaver and James Bower, decided to go to Philadelphia for the Penn relays. They left here in a car of standard make but bewildered with age. At Millburg one tire went flat and another collapsed out of sympathy. Repairs were made but at Millers-town six miles further along the way, the old car gave up the ghost and at 7:30 o'clock Friday morning the car was abandoned and the young men started to hike it. With successive lifts two of them reached the city at two o'clock in the afternoon and the other two at six. They saw the Bellefonte relay team win its victory and left Philadelphia on the return trip at midnight Saturday night. Though they started to hike it they walked only two miles of the entire distance of 220 miles, reaching Bellefonte at 12:30 Sunday noon. The quartette are now considering a similar trip to Pittsburgh on May 9th for the Carnegie Tech meet.

Big Hangar Completed on New Aviation Field.

The Spaulding Construction company last Friday completed the erection of the big hangar and other necessary buildings on the new airfield near Bellefonte and on Saturday the men in charge took their departure from Bellefonte. Under the one roof is the hangar, with a capacity for six of the large airmail planes. Brick walls extend from the foundation to a height of probably four feet, and windows extend from there to the roof. The entire southern end of the building is composed of three huge rolling doors which can all be rolled up and the two supporting iron posts raised, throwing the entire end open to incoming and outgoing planes.

Under the same roof on the west side of the building are the office, tool house, stock room and garage. Beneath the tool house is the boiler pit for the heating apparatus, and just west of the building is a 12x12 foot concrete cistern, which will furnish the water supply for the plant. Oil will be used as fuel in the heating plant and an up-to-date filtering system will be installed at the cistern to insure absolutely pure water. A well will also be put down so as to make sure of a constant and sufficient supply of water.

The big building will be lighted almost entirely by exterior lights with strong reflectors, the standards of which are already in place. The beacon light on top of the hangar and the one on Nittany mountain have not yet been put in position, but the big generator which will furnish the juice for the lighting system is on the ground and ready to put in position. The field will be entirely surrounded with lights on standards about two feet in height, which will be low enough to prevent their being a hazard to the mail planes. The telephone lines which run along the roads on each side of the field are being moved one field further away, and the one deep depression in the field is now being filled up and all rough spots smoothed off.

There is still some interior finishing to do at the office, tool house and stock room, but it will all be done and in readiness for night flying by June 1st, if the same is inaugurated on that date.

Fire at Whiterock Destroyed Three Dinkey Engines.

The three dinkey engines owned by the Whiterock Quarries, and used by them in the operation of their big plant at Pleasant Gap, were destroyed by a fire, last Thursday afternoon, which burned to the ground the engine house in which the dinkeys were kept during the night. The fire was discovered about 4:30 o'clock and had already gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building or engines. The fact that the men quit work at four o'clock and had all left the plant accounts for the fact that the fire was not discovered until the building was a mass of flames. How it originated is not known.

The destruction of the dinkeys might have left the company in a bad way, as they are rushed with orders at the present time, had it not been for the fact that they just happened to have at the plant a Ford tractor built to run on a narrow gauge railroad. It was at once pressed into service and is helping out nicely. One of the dinkeys destroyed was twenty years old and naturally had seen its best days. The others were in better condition and officials of the company estimate the total loss at not over ten thousand dollars, partially covered by insurance.

FARM HOUSE BURNED. The farm house on the W. C. Smeltzer farm, adjoining the new aviation field in Spring township, occupied by Harry Tressler and family, was entirely destroyed by fire about nine o'clock on Wednesday morning of this week. The fire evidently originated from a defective flue and had gained a good start when discovered. All the men working at the aviation field rushed to the aid of the Tressler family and they were able to save practically all of their household goods. The Undine fire company went out but could do nothing to save the house. They did, however, keep the other buildings from igniting. The loss on the house is partially covered by insurance.

American Plant Damaged by Fire.

Tuesday morning fire was discovered on the roof of the coal bunker unit of the big hydrating plant of the American Line and Stone Co., in this place. It had gained such headway that all efforts to stop it were fruitless until the entire roof of that section was destroyed. The fire had its origin in a peculiar way. The coal in the bunkers took fire several days ago and workers had been fighting it continuously. There were four cars of coal in the pile and not until Monday night was it thought to be out. The supposition is that it caught up again during Monday night and generated gases and heat that caused the explosion that ignited the roof.

The summer schedule was put in effect on the Pennsylvania railroad and branches on Sunday but the only change of any consequence on trains running into Bellefonte is on the morning train from Tyrone, which is ten minutes earlier, reaching here at 9:40 a. m. Sundays and week days, instead of 9:50, as heretofore.

Thrilling Western Drama to be Presented at Snow Shoe.

The thrilling western drama, "A Daughter of the Desert" will be presented at Snow Shoe next Friday and Saturday evenings by the Thespians of the High school there. They have produced a lot of plays out at Snow Shoe and as reports have always been that each new performance has been better than the last "A Daughter of the Desert" should be quite worth seeing.

We trust that it will not be made as realistic as it was when enacted by the High school at Westville, York county, last week. There, during one of the thrilling incidents of the play when the hero fires several shots at the villain, the revolver turned out to have been loaded with real shells instead of blank cartridges and the villain got plugged through the leg and the stage floor was perforated with bullet holes.

Among the well known amateurs who will have parts in the play are R. L. Kressler, Ambrose Watson, Ralph Watson, Joe McKee, T. Stark, Lemoyne Lucas, P. Viehdofer, Ruth McCloskey, Myrtle Bohn and Wilmina Oswald.

Word was received in Bellefonte last week of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Slickmon, of Chico, Cal. Both Mr. and Mrs. Slickmon were former residents of Bellefonte, Mrs. Slickmon being well known here as Miss Sarah Leitzel, a graduate nurse of the Bellefonte hospital.

Shooting Affray in Harrisburg.

A dispatch from Harrisburg on Wednesday says: When James Hauser, 32 years old, of Penbrooke, went with a constable to serve a warrant on his wife and Harry Casper, of Altoona, on a serious charge, Hauser was shot through the head. His wound is not believed to be serious but an X-ray examination will be necessary to determine how bad it is. Casper was held without bail on a charge of having done the shooting.

The Casper referred to is believed to be a Bellefonte man, now living in Altoona and working on the Pennsylvania railroad, running between Altoona and Harrisburg.

This story is now running as a serial in the "Watchman," and the above award is evidence of our judgment in selecting it for publication.

Bellefonte High Won Relay Race at Philadelphia.

The Bellefonte High school's relay team won a signal victory in the big sports carnival conducted by the University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, last Saturday. Pitted against High school teams from Connellsville, Ford City, Lock Haven, Bloomsburg, Kingston and Stroudsburg, they took the lead in the first lap and turned the mile in 3 minutes 35 and 3-5 seconds. Twenty high school races were held and out of the total number only four made better time than did the runners from Bellefonte.

The Bellefonte team was composed of John Emel, James McCullough, Merrill Waite and James Shope. The seven teams lined up for the start at one o'clock. Emel drew second place from the pole. Connellsville led by a yard for three quarters of the first lap then "Bunny" took a sprint and reached the tape five yards ahead of his nearest opponent. "Dutch" Waite held the lead during his lap and Jim McCullough increased the lead three yards during his sprint. Shope completed the race by holding the lead already attained by the first three runners, breaking the tape eight yards ahead of all competitors.

Each member of the team received a gold medal suspended from a red and blue ribbon. On the face of the medal is a representation of the seal of the University of Pennsylvania. On the reverse side is engraved "1st place High School 1925." The team trophy was a beautiful mahogany plaque, eighteen inches in diameter, upon which is a bronze medal showing in relief the figure of Benjamin Franklin presenting a relay team with the wreath of victory. All the prizes have been on display this week in Zeller's drug store.

As stated last week the team was taken to Philadelphia in a car donated by Willis Wion and driven by Boyd Vonada. They left Bellefonte at eight o'clock Friday morning, had lunch in Harrisburg and reached Philadelphia at six o'clock in the evening. The night was spent at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening the boys took in a show, left Philadelphia at 12:30 Saturday night, ate breakfast in Harrisburg at five o'clock and reached Bellefonte at 9:30 Sunday morning.

Opposition to Motor Bus Line Between Bellefonte and Tyrone.

Considerable opposition developed at the hearing before the Public Service Commission, in Harrisburg yesterday, on the applications of William R. Grazier, of Warriorsmark, for a certificate of public convenience to operate a motor bus line between Bellefonte and Tyrone, and the Fullington Bus company to operate a similar line between Bellefonte and Bald Eagle.

Business men's associations of Bellefonte, Tyrone and intermediate towns presented resolutions protesting against the granting of such certificates, averring that the existing railroad accommodations are ample to handle all traffic conveniently.

Centre county people, especially, have good cause to know the ultimate results of motor bus opposition. They put the old Central Railroad of Pennsylvania entirely out of business and have reduced the Bellefonte Central to the status of a freight carrying line only.

Academy Still Winning.

The Academy base-ball team continued its winning streak by defeating the Freshmen team of Carnegie Tech. at Pittsburgh, last Saturday by the score of 11 to 6. The Skibos got to Hill's delivery, but after "Sammy" Harshberger was sent to his relief they couldn't get another run over the plate.

Today the team will play Indiana Normal at Indiana and then journey to Keysert, W. Va., where they will meet Potomac school today.

On leaving Bellefonte his plans are to go to New Jersey to visit his daughter Gussie and her husband.

George Harpster was up from Mill Hall last Sunday just to spend the day looking around his old haunts here. It was his first visit back in five months and we had to own that there was every evidence that his new environment must be very agreeable, both as to health and pecuniary return. He is one of the two blacksmiths in the paper mill there and is kept busy all the time. He reports that the family like the new home quite as well as he does himself, so everybody is contented and, after all, what else is there to be gotten out of life?

Witmyer arrived home Friday, ending their seven day's drive from Lake Worth, having come north for the summer, as has been their custom since becoming interested in the development movement in Florida. Mr. Dunkle brought up the report that they had had a hard frost down the valley and was a bit concerned as to what effect it might have had on the fruit. We had just fallen to on what promised to be a fine time in telling hunting stories when he bustled off with the promise that he'd come back some day when he has more time and tell us some of his experiences in the mountains. He has had a lot of them because he is some hunter when he gets on the trail.

Quite a heavy frost fell in some parts of the county on Wednesday morning. There is no accounting for the vagaries of the weather. On Tuesday morning, April 21st, the ground was frozen so hard that newly made garden bore the weight of a heavy man. Three days later we were sweltering in a temperature that ran to 94 degrees in the shade and Monday night it turned cool again so that at Runville ice was frozen, and yesterday morning snow flakes were falling with the rain.
