

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Saturday, June 20th, has been fixed as the date for the annual picnic of the Centre county association in Philadelphia.

It almost seems too good to be true, but it is a fact, nevertheless, the borough has started work on fixing up Spring street.

Workmen have begun the job of repairing the concrete retaining wall and pavement on each side of the court house.

Clayton E. Royer has broken ground for a new house on south Water street, opposite the office of the Bellefonte Lumber company.

The Women's Missionary society of the Reformed church will hold a bake sale at the City Cash grocery tomorrow morning and afternoon.

Mrs. John F. Gray, mother of G. Oscar Gray, of this place, suffered a stroke of paralysis during the fore part of the week. She is living in Altoona with her daughter who is teaching there.

The condition of W. J. Emerick, who has been a patient in the Clearfield hospital the past three weeks, continues to improve slowly but steadily, and he has hopes of being able to return home in the near future.

Miss Martha Van Rensselaer, of Cornell University, who has frequently visited in Bellefonte, has been endorsed for the United States Senate by the New York State home economics association, a woman's organization.

A family reunion was held at the home of former county treasurer George C. Fink, at Philipsburg, last Sunday as a celebration of Mother's day and also Mr. Fink's 62nd birthday anniversary, which occurred the day previous.

A special meeting of the Bellefonte parent teacher association will be held at the High school building on Monday, May 18th, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of considering the disposition of money in the hands of the treasurer.

The pupils of Mrs. Louis Schald will give an invitation recital this evening. Thirty of the young musicians are on the program and as many of them have shown unusual talent a delightful evening is in store for those who have been invited.

A good attendance is desired at the meeting of the Bellefonte High school alumni association, to be held at the High school building this (Friday) evening, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of deciding in regard to the annual reception and dance for the class of 1925.

The Catholic Daughters of America will hold their regular card party Friday evening, May 15; also a progressive bridge party Monday evening, May 18. Admission, 25 cents. A benefit cake and apron sale will be held in their rooms above Lyon's store, May 23.

The Bellefonte baseball team of the Centre county league will play an exhibition game with the Bellefonte Academy nine, on Hughes field, Thursday afternoon, May 21st, at 3 o'clock. This will be the initial appearance of the Bellefonte batsmen this season and a big crowd should be in attendance to welcome them.

Mine Host Landsy, of the Brockerhoff house, has been highly complimented on the delicious dinner he served the Kiwanis on Tuesday evening, ladies night. And all the appointments were in keeping with the just right menu. The tables were decorated with an abundance of flowers furnished by Mrs. Stutsman, of Rockview. The speaker of the evening was Miss Mary S. Larrabee, of Harrisburg.

Many people went to see "Charley's Aunt" at the opera house last week because it was a picture replete with funny situations, and pictures just as interesting and entertaining as shown at the Scenic every night in the week. They may not be as funny as "Charley's Aunt" but they are more instructive. In fact the best pictures made are included in Scenic programs. Get the movie habit and see them all.

Three Bellefonte men were arrested on Thursday of last week for rather serious offenses. One of them was charged with stealing from the Potter-Hoy Hardware company and the other two with receiving and disposing of stolen goods. The money received from their illegal transactions was used to buy booze. The three men were given a hearing before Justice of the peace John M. Keichline on Friday morning and all were held for trial at court. The three of them gave bail for their appearance at the May term.

A short circuit on the wiring of Harry Murtoff's car started a fire under the hood just as he reached the intersection of Spring and Howard streets, on Sunday evening, and some unknown person who saw the blaze notified the Undine firemen. They were quick to respond and members of the Logans who saw the Undines come out gave the alarm and that company also responded. Dozens of motor cars took up the trail with scores of pedestrians following suit. In the meantime Mr. Murtoff extinguished the flames with a bucket of water before any great amount of damage was done to the car.

ONE MAN ELECTROCUTED ONE CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Ernest Sauers Killed at State College and Ralph Sweetwood Crushed by Oil Truck on Seven Mountains.

Ernest Sauers, for a number of years past chief electrician at The Pennsylvania State College, was electrocuted shortly after seven o'clock last Friday morning when he unthinkingly took hold of a high tension wire carrying 2,200 volts of electricity. A connecting link was being made between the lines of the Keystone Power corporation and those of the college plant, and at the request of college authorities the Keystone Power turned on the current on Thursday evening. On Friday morning when Mr. Sauers went on duty he undertook to complete the connection made the previous day by covering the wires with insulation and tape. He threw the college switch and then, according to report, tested the wire and discovered it still alive. A few minutes later he took hold of the heavily charged wire and received the fatal shock. Several physicians worked an hour in an effort to resuscitate him, but in vain.

The unfortunate man was a son of Henry A. and Malinda Sortman Sauers and was born at State College 42 years ago. He married Miss Bessie Tressler who survives with four children, Magdaline, Margarette, Louise and William. He also leaves the following brothers and sisters: J. Wesley Sauers, of Altoona; George, of Philipsburg; H. W. and T. E., of State College; Mrs. George Pritchard, of Philipsburg, and Mrs. Elizabeth Saunders, of Harrisburg.

He was a member of the Methodist church and Rev. A. E. Mackey had charge of the funeral services which were held at 2:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon, burial being made in the Pine Hall cemetery.

Just about two hours after Mr. Sauers met his death at State College Ralph Sweetwood, of Pottery Mills, attempted to jump on one of the big oiling trucks of the State Highway Department, slipped and fell to the ground, and was so badly crushed beneath its ponderous weight that he died at the Centre county hospital at 2 o'clock the same afternoon.

The young man was in the employ of the Highway Department, his father, Edward Sweetwood, being foreman of the Seven Mountain division of the highway. They had started to oil that section of the road, beginning at the Sunset club and working this way. Sweetwood, with other workmen, had gone up the mountain in their own car as far as Locust bridge, intending to walk the remainder of the distance but the big oil truck coming along on its way from Centre Hall, the young men undertook to jump on and ride up. Missing his hold Sweetwood fell to the ground and the rear wheel of the ponderous truck, which weighed thirteen tons, passed over his body, crushing one arm, his hips and abdomen and one leg. He was brought to the Centre county hospital as quickly as possible, but passed away at two o'clock.

A son of Edward and Dora Weaver Sweetwood he was born at Pottery Mills and would have been twenty-one years old on May 17th. In addition to his parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Charles Caskey, of Lock Haven; Elsie, Homer, Naomi, Ray and Paul, all at home.

Rev. C. E. Hazen, of the Methodist church, had charge of the funeral services which were held at ten o'clock on Monday morning, burial being made in the Sprucetown cemetery.

The William Chambers Home Badly Damaged by Fire.

The very comfortable home of William C. Chambers, on east Curtin street, Bellefonte, was badly damaged by fire, last Friday morning. The flames evidently originated from a spark on the roof and were discovered by children on their way to school who ran into the house and notified Mrs. Chambers. Mr. Chambers was at his work in the postoffice and he was notified and an alarm sent in but by the time the fire companies arrived the entire roof was ablaze.

Mrs. Samuel Sheffer and Mrs. Catherine McClellan occupied rooms on the third floor and Mrs. Chambers notified them and they immediately came down to the first floor, but they were unable to save anything. The house was three stories high. The first story is brick and the balance of frame construction. It was built by Andrew Curtin and was purchased from his heirs by Mr. Chambers eighteen years ago. The roof and the entire upper story were burned away, while most of the interior as well as the furnishings are considerably damaged by water.

Mr. Chambers carried $4,000 insurance on the building which will not be sufficient to cover his loss. He and Mrs. Chambers are living in two rooms of their home in order to guard the property against intrusion, while their daughter Martha is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Robb and Mrs. Sheffer and Mrs. McClellan are at the Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sheffer home. Mr. Chambers is planning to repair his house as quickly as possible.

A marriage license was granted at Cumberland, Md., last week to John Melford Horner and Mabel Greenwood Gearhart, both of State College.

Thief Drove Off in Car Just After Owner Had Parked It. Recovered Yesterday at State College.

About three o'clock last Friday afternoon Van S. Jodon, superintendent of maintenance of the Bellefonte Central R. R., drove his new Moon touring car up to the curb in front of this office, left it standing there as has been his daily custom, and proceeded to the offices of the company on the second floor of the "Watchman" building. Less than an hour later he went to use his car and it was gone. Gone as completely as if the earth had swallowed it up. Not a sign of it anywhere on the street, nor in any other part of town.

It scarcely seemed possible that in broad daylight, on one of the busiest spots in Bellefonte any one would steal a conspicuous looking car like Mr. Jodon's but it was gone and hurried calls to police, garages and filling stations on all roads leading out of town failed to reveal any trace of it further than that some people at Axe Mann thought they had seen a new Moon car passing there with one man in it.

Gideon Payne, who was standing in front of the Beatty Motor Co's place when Jodon parked, noticed him drive up. He said that Mr. Jodon had scarcely stopped when he noticed the car back out and start up High street. Of course he had no thought of its being stolen, but his statement proves that the person who took it must have been standing nearby when the owner stopped and got out. And why he waited for this particular car when the curbs on both sides of the street were lined with others is a matter of mystery.

No further clue was found until Saturday afternoon when Steve Mattis, who lives on the John Haugh farm near Scotia saw a car drive out of the woods and into one of his fields. Apparently the driver was lost, but as Mattis started to offer help the car was turned about and headed back into the woods. Steve, thinking of the possibility of prisoners escaped from the pen, telephoned the chief of police here. Sunday morning Dukeman, Jodon and several others went up and found the tracks. They corresponded exactly with the tracks of the tire on the stolen car and Mattis' description of it convinced the men that it was the Moon. There the trail was lost. Later a woman at Gatesburg was positive she had seen a Moon car go through there and a little girl recalled that a short, heavy set man with smooth face and teeth noticeably gold-filled had stopped and offered her a ride in a car which she described perfectly as being the one they were after.

The last trace was found at Warriorsmark, where late in the evening a Moon, occupied by one man, had stopped and taken gas at a filling station that had not been notified of the theft at the time the other in that place were.

There was some thought that a prisoner who had been discharged from the pen Saturday morning might have taken the car, but in appearance he doesn't tally at all with the man the little girl saw in it.

THE CAR RECOVERED AT STATE COLLEGE.

About 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning officer Mingle, of State College, noticed two men in a Moon car stop on the streets there. He went to investigate, but both the occupants jumped and got away in the darkness.

The car is standing in front of this office now, little damaged, but wonderfully changed. Since last Friday the thief had painted it black.

Evidently all of the clues mentioned above were imagination.

"Bagdad" Declared Best Picture Ever.

Douglas Fairbanks will be seen in the marvelous Arabian Nights tale, "The Thief of Bagdad," at the Pastime theatre State College, May 18, 19 and 20. It was, according to all accounts, the great good fortune of the screen, that Douglas Fairbanks came upon this amazingly romantic love story and that he undertook to make it into a photoplay. Moving picture critics, in such cities as "The Thief of Bagdad" has been shown, have been unanimous in asserting that it is the greatest film ever made. When it is considered that his story departs from the affairs of everyday life and soars off into dreamland; that there has been visualized and made real the soaring away of the Magic Carpet over the house-tops and into the sky; the Winged Horse, with the Thief galloping off to and through the clouds; the Magic Rope which the Thief throws into the air and climbs into the sky, up into all sorts of places—it will be seen that "The Thief of Bagdad" is no mere spectacle; no mere bringing together of crowds to appal the multitude. When a crowd or even an army is desired, the Thief simply takes a seed from a box, throws it on the ground, and lo! a huge army with banners springs from the earth. This sort of thing is the warp and woof of "The Thief of Bagdad."

Jack Tuylles, electrical engineer on the eastern division of the government airmail, is now in Bellefonte for the purpose of installing and connecting up the lighting system at the new aviation field. As most of the fixtures are already in place it will probably take a week to make the connections and then the lights will be thoroughly tested out.

FIVE NURSES GRADUATE.

At Commencement Exercises of Centre County Hospital Training School on Tuesday Evening.

Pearl Garbrick Clevensine, Zion. Alma Miriam Detwiler, Smullton. Faye Gertrude Watson, Moshannon. Jane Adaline Keller, Madisonburg. Alta Myra Yarnell, Nigh Bank.

The five young ladies mentioned above constituted the class of 1925 nurses who have completed their four year's course in the Centre County hospital training school for nurses and were awarded their diplomas at the regular commencement exercises held in the court house on Tuesday evening. From personal observation we feel assured that each and every one is fully equipped and competent to go forth from their alma mater, carrying care and comfort into the sick room and ministering to those afflicted and in distress.

The judges' platform had been very appropriately decorated with rhododendron, huge sprays of blossoming dogwood and lilies of the valley, the class flowers. It was 8:30 o'clock when the class, preceded by members of the hospital staff of physicians, the superintendent and assistant superintendent, marched into the court house. They were followed by ten nurses and nurses in training, members of the board of trustees, members of the nurses' alumni association and the woman's auxiliary. The class was seated on the platform. John Blanchard Esq., presided and following the invocation by Rev. Dr. Schmidt a ladies quartette composed of Mrs. Krader, Miss Esther Johnson, Mrs. Hazel Solt Emerick and Miss Rachel Shuey sang a medley of catchy songs, being accompanied on the piano by Miss Madeline Sunday.

In a brief talk Mr. Blanchard introduced the speaker of the occasion, Rev. William C. Thompson, of the Presbyterian church. He began his remarks by stating that the date for the exercises had been selected by the nurses because it was the 105th anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, to whom belonged the credit of establishing the first training school for nurses and who elevated the profession from a calling that had always been regarded with disrepute to one of the highest respectability and noble purposes.

Following Rev. Thompson's address Cecil Walker sang as solo "Springtime," after which Mr. Blanchard conferred the diplomas and on behalf of the women's auxiliary presented each of the graduates with the much coveted pin, the nurses badge of her profession. Following the benediction by Dr. Schmidt doctors, nurses, members of the board of trustees and their many friends tendered the graduates an impromptu reception.

THE NURSE.

Who is the angel all in white Watching so kindly day and night! Who soothes our suffering and distress And moves with mother-tenderness! Why, that's the nurse.

Ministering angel! sweet and calm Her tender touch is like the balm. Or like the sunset after-glow Upon the sufferer's aching brow. The kindly nurse.

Who shares with us our aches and pains And like a mother, ne'er complains! As from the love-born flowers she brings Healing and gladness on her wings Why, that's the nurse.

And like the Magdalene of old So constant with a heart of gold, She serves and watches to the end And tarries like a mother-friend; The faithful nurse.

She sweetens service with a smile That we may sleep and rest awhile. Softly and silent like the dew She gives her life to comfort you. The constant nurse.

I name her with the best there is, A lily—or a mother's kiss, A ray of sunshine—or a star. The Angel's sister, and there you are. The cheerful nurse.

With tender care she watched our birth And when the fevers of the earth Burned on our brow, she came along And mixed her potions with a song The tender nurse.

And she shall come with us at last When all the pains and pangs are past To listen for the final breath And kindly close our eyes in death. God bless the nurse.

Bellefonte Chapter D. A. R.

The annual meeting of the Bellefonte Chapter D. A. R., for which Miss Janet Potter and Mrs. H. Laird Curtin were hostesses, was held at the home of Miss Potter, on west Linn street, Bellefonte, Thursday evening, May 7th.

After the yearly reports had been presented by the officers and committee chairmen, and delegates elected to the State conference to be held in Philadelphia next November, Mrs. Edwin Erle Sparks gave a report of the continental congress held in Washington in April, throwing light for the home constituency upon the business, social, educational, political (?) features of the 1925 session. Mrs. Sparks noted this year a free expression of opinion on the part of individuals—a feature surely commendatory of the incumbency of the President-General, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, of Pennsylvania.

The further business of the meeting was the election of officers, a full list of which will be given after the constitution day meeting next September, following the summer recess.

Preceding the social hour the chapter availed itself of the privilege of recommending the endorsement of Mrs. Edwin Erle Sparks for vice president-General in 1926.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

—Mrs. Walter Cohen went east, Sunday, for a visit of several days in New York city, with her daughter, Mrs. Saul Auerbeck.

—Herbert Beezer returned home from South Bend, Ind., on Sunday evening, driving home a new Studebaker car, making the trip in two days.

—Miss Daisy Smith is here from Philadelphia for a two week's vacation visit with her sister and brother, Miss Bessie and Charles Smith, at their home on Bishop street.

—Mrs. Odille Mott and Mrs. Richard Brouse were in Altoona on Sunday, attending initiatory exercises of Court Eugene A. Garvey, No. 62, Catholic Daughters of America.

—Mrs. Harry Otto and her son were over from Johnstown for the week-end, guests of Mrs. Otto's sister, Mrs. Fred Crafts. Mrs. Otto's visit was made that she might spend the day with her mother, Mrs. Henrietta Nolan.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Fleming were called to Philipsburg, Tuesday, by the illness of their son, M. Ward Fleming, whose condition has become very much improved. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming drove over, returning they motored over, returning the same day.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Strawn and daughter, Miss Ellen, were over Sunday guests at the Brockerhoff house. They only recently returned from spending the greater part of the winter in Florida and for the present have taken up their residence in Parnassus, Pa.

—Mrs. Edwin Erle Sparks has been visiting at State College for the past week or more, a guest of her many friends, who have been giving a series of social functions in compliment to Mrs. Sparks. At present Mrs. Sparks is the house guest of Mrs. H. B. Shattuck.

—Robert W. Lyon, with a party of five friends arrived here from Buffalo, Wednesday afternoon on a fishing trip of several days along Fishing creek. Being night guests at the Nittany Country club, the days have been spent at "Rubenheim" camp and on the creek.

—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore motored up from Philadelphia the latter part of last week, remaining in Bellefonte for an over Sunday visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. Clayton Brown. The trip at this time was made principally to see Mrs. Moore's aunt, Mrs. Satterfield, who is ill at Mrs. Brown's with pneumonia.

—Betty, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Derstine, of Ambridge, Pa., has been in Bellefonte for the past week with her grandmother, Mrs. William Derstine, and other relatives. Betty came in last week with Mrs. Sutherland, who was back home for a Mother's day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hartwick.

—Alvan W. Paschall, an instructor in the schools of Trafford, Pa., was an over Sunday visitor in Bellefonte, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith, of east Bishop street. Mrs. Smith and her daughter, Miss Miriam, are on one of their weekly visits to Clearfield, the latter having gone over for a treatment from Dr. Waterworth.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Barnhart visited in Williamsport the early part of the week, guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Alexander Scott. Mrs. Barnhart represented the foreign missionary society of the Methodist church at its convention there Monday and Tuesday, while Mr. Barnhart was down for a day only, looking after some business.

—Mrs. Jack O'Connell, with her daughter and son, Miss Josephine and Harry Bentley, motored in from Cleveland, Sunday, for a back home visit with Mrs. O'Connell's brother, H. C. Yeager, and some of her girlhood friends in Bellefonte. Remaining here but a couple of days, they left Wednesday morning for the return drive to Ohio.

—Mrs. D. I. Willard, who left Bellefonte early in April to visit with her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Ludwig, while the latter was getting located in her new home at Wilkingsburg, is now at Grindstone with another daughter, Mrs. Ralph Kirk. It is probable that Mrs. Willard will return home shortly, business interests necessitating her being here before the first of June.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dawson and their son John, of Philadelphia, were among the Mother's day visitors to Bellefonte, the week-end trip having been made that they might be for the day with Mr. Dawson's mother, Mrs. S. Harvey Griffith. A part of the day Mr. and Mrs. Griffith spent at Mill Hall, where they were called by the funeral of Mrs. Griffith's sister-in-law, Mrs. Caroline Eckley.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Mitchell, of Minneapolis, who have been visiting at Mr. Mitchell's boyhood home at State College, and with relatives in that locality, spent Thursday in Bellefonte, guests of Mrs. Mitchell's cousins, Mrs. John S. Walker and Miss Shortridge. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell have been house guests during their visit to Centre county of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mitchell, at Lemont.

—The Charles Samuels family of seven children, left last week for Meadville to join Mrs. Samuels, who has been there in a position as a cook for several months. The going of the Samuels family from State College, is another mark of the rapidly decreasing colony of our colored folk, they being the last of the Overton family, which at one time was among the prominent colored families of the town. Mr. Samuels will join Mrs. Samuels and the children some time this month.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Garman, with Mrs. Forrest Bullock and Mrs. Charles Cruse as driving guests, will leave Sunday morning for a motor trip through eastern Pennsylvania and Maryland. Their plans upon leaving are for a stop in Harrisburg, where Mrs. Cruse will make a visit with her son, the remainder of the party going on to Baltimore, where Mrs. Bullock will spend a day or more with her daughter, Mrs. Birkhead Rouse. Mr. and Mrs. Garman's trip will include both Baltimore and Washington, combining business and pleasure.

—Mrs. Herbert Kerlin, her brother, Patrick McGoldrick, a niece, Alice Murtha, all of New York city, and a nephew, James Tuffey, of Attleboro, Mass., arrived in Bellefonte Wednesday of last week, having driven over from New York. Mrs. Kerlin, who is now occupying the Kerlin home on east Howard street, is here with indefinite plans as to the length of her stay in Bellefonte, there being a possibility of her making this place her home. Mr. McGoldrick will be with his sister only until her arrangements for spending the summer here are completed, while the children will remain with Mrs. Kerlin until fall.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Burkett, of Warriorsmark, and their two children, have been with Mrs. Burkett's family, Mr. and Mrs. William Tressler, since Wednesday and will be in Bellefonte over the week-end. Their children are Mr. and Mrs. Tressler's only grand-children.

—Capt. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, was a business visitor in Bellefonte on Wednesday, having been a motor guest of George W. Fisher, of Boalsburg. Having retired almost entirely from his veterinary work for the purpose of taking life a little easier time hangs heavy upon his hands and he just can't sit still, so came to Bellefonte on a humanitarian mission for one of his old-time neighbors and friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lingle, now making their home in Lemont, while their son is at college, were both in Bellefonte for several hours Saturday morning. Mrs. Lingle being on her way to Mill Hall for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Barber and her husband, the Rev. L. V. Barber, Mr. Lingle spending a part of the morning looking after some family business matters. Mr. and Mrs. Lingle are with Mrs. Lingle's mother, Mrs. Georgiana Dale.

—Misses Helen E. Bowersox, of State College, and Mary Helen Thomas, of Meadville, have just returned from their season of teaching in Murphy College, Sevierville, Tenn. On the way north they visited in Roanoke, Va., and spent some time in Washington seeing the points of interest there and at Mt. Vernon. Miss Bowersox has been granted a year of absence by the College in order that she might spend the time in further study at the Chicago Bible School.

New Talent Will Feature Academy Minstrels.

These shows have become a fixture in Bellefonte and our good citizens look forward to them each passing year. In the first place there are more of the really funny minstrel jokes to be cracked than in former years, the music is catchier and prettier, and the dancing and manoeuvring of the ends more clever than usual.

The second part will introduce imported talent of a clever and talented type. Margaret Meckel, a fourteen year old girl from near Pittsburgh, a sister of an Academy student, who has danced at the Davis and Nixon theatres in that city, will give some of her fancy and acrobatic dances.

Huberta Bernhardt, of Pittsburgh, seven years of age, who made a big hit at last year's minstrels, with her wonderful dances and character songs, will be here again this year in new dances. She has danced before immense audiences in Pittsburgh, Ewing and Ralph Kennedy, the crack dancers of the State College "Theatians", will be on the program and entertain with their clever steps as only the Kennedy brothers can do. Cornelius O'Donnell, the star dramatic leader of State College, will not only be an end, but put on other stunts. The stepping work of Herbert Beezer, the startling ghost dance by Lynch and Rush, the many little acts, incidental stage effects, and the splendid nine piece orchestra, all these features, it can be plainly seen will produce a program that can not be excelled.

The chart for Thursday's performance will be open at Mott's drug store, Monday morning, May 18th, at ten o'clock, and the chart for Friday's performance will be open Friday morning, May 22nd, at nine o'clock. Be sure and see one of these shows. The street parade on Thursday at 5-30 p. m. The annual minstrel dance will be given at Bush Arcade hall, Friday evening, May 22nd, from 11:30 to 3-30 Saturday. All dancers are cordially invited. Music by Danny Deever's popular orchestra, of State College.

C. Y. Wagner Injured in His Own Mill Machinery.

C. Y. Wagner, head of the milling firm of the same name in this place, narrowly escaped losing his left foot Monday morning when he got it caught in the shaft of the corn crusher in the mill. He was working at the machine and undertook to kick the belt off. Somehow his foot got fastened in the shaft and his shoe ripped off. Fortunately the shoe gave way, else his foot might have been crushed. As it was it was so severely bruised and sprained that he will have no use of it for some time and is now only able to get around by use of crutches.

The regular sessions of the May term of court will be held next week and while there are no very grave cases on the quarter session list it will be interesting from the fact that Judge Arthur C. Dale will preside for the first time over jury cases. At the February term Judge Dale took very little part in the proceedings, Judge Reader hearing the quarter sessions cases and Judge Miles I. Potter the civil list.
