

Hecla Park Jumps to Second Place.

By winning both games the past week Hecla Park jumped to second place in the Centre county baseball league. In fact on Thursday of last week Hecla defeated Bellefonte by the score of 2 to 0, while Millheim forfeited to State College. On Saturday Bellefonte won from Millheim 6 to 3 and Hecla defeated State College 10 to 2.

Tomorrow Bellefonte will play at Millheim and Hecla at State College, while next Thursday's games will be Bellefonte at State College and Millheim at Hecla. Following is the standing of the clubs to date:

	W.	L.	P. C.
Bellefonte	7	1	.875
Hecla Park	4	4	.500
Millheim	3	5	.375
State College	2	6	.250

A Call to Threshermen.

The Centre county Threshermen and Farmers' Protective association will meet in the grand jury room in the court house, Bellefonte, at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, June 27th. The threshing season is drawing near and important matters will be considered at this meeting, hence a full attendance is desired. Every farmer, thresherman, saw mill man, and every employee of labor of any kind will learn something of interest and profit at this meeting.

—Emma Mills, the little five year old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Mills, of the United Brethren church, had a miraculous escape in a motor accident last Thursday evening. She was in the act of running across Thomas street just as Sherman Lowery, of Coleville, turned the corner off of High street on his way home. The child was knocked down and Mr. Lowery feels confident was run over by the car. She was rushed to the Centre County hospital where a thorough examination failed in discovering any serious injury and she was taken home by her parents. Her right foot was injured somewhat and her neck and chest bruised, but she was out and around the next day and has now almost completely recovered.

Amundsen Expedition Returns from Polar Regions.

The entire Roald Amundsen North Pole expedition arrived safely in Spitzbergen in one plane last Thursday.

The party did not return to Kings Bay by plane, but was picked up by a fishing boat and conveyed there.

It is reported that the expedition reached North latitude 88 degrees 30 minutes, or about 100 miles from the North Pole.

The government on the receipt of the news of the arrival of the Amundsen expedition in Spitzbergen sent Amundsen a telegram with the nation's best congratulations.

"In narrating their story on arriving at King's Bay, the fliers, all of whom looked worn and thin from suffering, said their weeks upon the ice were like a fight with death. Amundsen will later narrate this.

"Now he mentions that the members of the expedition were separated for a while and that Lief Dietrichsen (Norwegian pilot of one of the planes) and Oskar Omdahl (Norwegian mechanic) fell into the water and were just saved from drowning by Lincoln Ellsworth. Meanwhile Amundsen and Hjalmar Risslerarsen (Norwegian plane pilot) were on the other side of the water. They heard them scream, but were unable to help, as thin ice prevented."

Regarding the picking up of the members of the expedition by the fishing boat Sjoeliv, which brought them to King's Bay, the Dagblad's story says:

"The fishing boat Sjoeliv is a small cutter of twelve tons with a crew of nine men. Her captain is Nils Wollan. The vessel had had a poor catch and was hunting for a wounded walrus. When off Huggie Bay on the north side of Spitzbergen, the crew heard motors purring and discovered an airplane ten kilometers away.

"They at first thought it was an airplane from the patrol expedition but when it neared they immediately recognized Amundsen, in spite of his long beard.

"The explorers all quickly got aboard the Sjoeliv and crowded into the small berths. There was not much food for so many—only seal, beef, cider and eggs. The hawser towing the airplane broke once, but a new one held.

"As Amundsen was told that the patrol expedition was ready to leave King's Bay, he decided to make for King's Bay as fast as possible and leave the plane. Wollan says this was the greatest catch he had made in his fifteen years' experience in these regions."

CENTRE HALL.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huyett are entertaining their grand-son, William Magee, of Wenonah, N. J.

Master Robert Longwell, of Williamsport, spent Monday and Tuesday as the guest of Miss Emma McCoy.

Clyde Smith, son of Witmer Smith, of Bellefonte, and his bride, just here from Australia, spent Sunday at the home of Clyde's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. James Keller and their son, James Jr., of Lancaster, are guests at the D. K. Keller home on Church street. William Sweetwood, youngest son of I. A. Sweetwood, of near Philadelphia, is also a guest in the D. K. Keller home.

Last Friday, Mrs. Harry Gall, of Lancaster, called at the Bartholomew home. Mrs. Gall was Miss Geneva Johnson, a classmate of Miss Helen Bartholomew, at Millersville State Normal school in '95. She, her husband, two children and her parents were on an auto trip through the Central part of our beautiful State.

Thrills at Brook Park, Lewisburg, July Fourth.

The program at the Lewisburg fair grounds on Saturday, July 4th, will open with a song fest, Spanish dancing, and a grand military pageant. This will be followed by a short, snappy troop drill.

The second annual Rodeo of the American Legion and 103rd Cavalry will prove to be a huge success. Many new and novel mounted events will be staged. Some of the events are high jumping, broad jumping, jumping through a burning arch, broncho busting, kicking horse.

The races are novel too. A new race will be the handicap race in which each man will place his equipment on the ground and unsaddle, then dress and saddle up. This is a most interesting event. The mule skinner race will be the laugh maker. For speed there will be the running race, one-half mile Derby and one-quarter mile Derby for two year olds. The Roman riding will be the speediest ever seen. All the troops are preparing and working their horses for this thrilling and hair-raising old-time race. Last year one team of Roman horses ridden by Guyer made the half mile in 56 seconds flat. There are three running horses of noted speed.

A very interesting spectacle will be the mounted wrestling where men wrestle while on horseback, and the pyramid riding where six men form a pyramid.

Horseback riding will be the main feature. The committee offers $25.00 for any horse which the troopers are unable to ride and stay in the saddle. The above events are only a part of the large program which is being prepared for the entertainment of the public. A many sided exhibition will be staged.

What the Moose Do for Children.

Fifteen Pennsylvania boys and girls have just been graduated from the Loyal Order of Moose vocational school at Mooseheart, Ill. They represent all parts of the State, though none of the class are from this immediate vicinity.

Mooseheart was founded in 1913 by James J. Davis, U. S. Secretary of Labor, so that he could carry out his belief, that "Every child is entitled to at least a high school education and a useful trade." All children at Mooseheart are taught a useful trade, as well as being trained in heart and head.

Mooseheart is in no sense a charitable project, or orphanage or an institutionalized home. There are no walls, guards, incarceration, uniformity of dress or concerted action. Mooseheart is a co-operative venture as each of the 700,000 members of the Moose order, by paying four cents a week to it, have built and are maintaining it, and by the gift of pennies, buy service for their children. No pay student can enter Mooseheart.

There are 30 useful trades and vocations taught there, including building trades, machine shop, cement and ornamental concrete. Mooseheart took the lead in teaching youth the dignity of labor. Children here, to get diplomas, must write their theses by building houses, making machines and doing other actual work. Mooseheart graduates take their places with craftsmen of long experience and are able to do the work as well, and they receive the highest wages paid. There are now 1250 children at Mooseheart, and there have been over 2,000 there, since it was founded.

Motor-Cycle Classic at Altoona.

Two of the brightest stars of the motorcycle racing firmament on the Pacific coast are now enroute to the famous Altoona speedway to begin tuning their special-built wheel motors for the national championship classic to be held in Altoona on July 4th. They are Johnny Krieger and Bob Sarkegian.

Following on the heels of Johnny Seymour, world famed rider, who started practice at the huge oval last week immediately upon returning from Australia, Krieger and Sarkegian have snipped their mounts by express after weeks of preparation in workshops there to provide new changes because of the extreme speed predicted for the course at Altoona.

Krieger and Sarkegian have been victorious in practically all of the west coast events during the past year, and fans in this district who watched Seymour hurling around the giant mile-and-a-quarter board oval declare that he and the other stars who have won big foreign reputations will have to battle at speeds far above the present world's records to win.

You Need That Vacation.

Busy men are apt to put off much needed vacation, but it pays to take time off at least once each year.

On these summer days there is nothing so restful and so enjoyable as a trip on cool Lake Erie. Steamers of the C. and B. Line, the great ship "Seandbee" and her sister-ships, the "City of Buffalo" and "City of Erie," operating daily between Cleveland and Buffalo, carry thousands of passengers each year, some on business bent and a vast number seeking and finding pleasure.

Travelers may leave Cleveland or Buffalo on C. & B. Line steamers any evening at 9, (eastern standard time), enjoy a night of refreshing sleep on Lake Erie and arrive at destination the following morning at 7.

Automobile tourists, too, will find this a delightful way of relieving the monotony of long overland tours, and each year a great number of motorists make use of this popular "save a day" car-by-steamer service.

BIRTHS.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beaver are receiving congratulations on the birth of their fifth child, a daughter, who was born Sunday morning at their home east of town.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lutz, of east High street, Monday, June 22.

BANKING IS Not a Quick-Rich Business

Surplus is of slow growth. This Bank was organized in 1863. It now has, after 62 years, an earned surplus of $250,000.00. This represents earnings, after dividends of a little less than $4,000 per year. Its present earnings, in large measure, are due to this surplus, slowly accumulated during more than half a century.
