Big Swine Tour to Shenandoah Valley.

Last year all the swine breeders and farmers interested in swine in Pennsylvania made a successful automobile tour to the government experiment station at Beltsville, Md., and to the National capital. This trip proved to be so profitable that the breeders requested a similar trip this year. In order to make these tours more convenient to the breeders in all sections of the State, two trips are being planned this summer by the animal husbandry specialists at The Pennsylvania State College.

The trip for those in eastern Pennsylvania will be through the beautiful Shenandoah valley of Virginia, starting from Chambersburg, Pa., at ten o'clock the morning of July 30th, going as far down the valley as New Market, Virginia. A night trip will be made through the wonderful endless caverns and the next morning four stops will be made, at leading livestock farms in the Shenandoah valley, giving those on the trip an opportunity to see Berkshire, Duroc, Jersey, Poland China and Hampshire swine; Shorthorn, Angus, Jersey, Guernsey, Brown Swiss cattle and Shropshire sheep. The Shenandoah valley is also one of America's finest farming sections and those on the trip will have an opportunity to see farming conditions in this garden spot.

The breeders from western Pennsylvania will visit the Ohio experiment station at Wooster, Ohio, August 12 and 13. There is an indication that both of these tours will be made by a large number of the breeders and farmers from various parts of the State and those who can possibly arrange to make either trip should get in touch with the county agent at once and indicate their intention. It is desirable to know as accurately as possible the number of people who plan to go on these trips so that adequate accommodations can be secured for them.

The farmers and breeders making the trip to the Shenandoah valley will gather at Chambersburg at 10 a. m. on July 30th. Arrangements will be made to have members of the State College agricultural extension accompany those who make the trip and no doubt a representative of the State Highway Department will pilot the cars on a motorcycle to keep the crowd together and keep the road open. A log showing all of the stops will be given to each person making the trip and can be had from the local county agent.

Two Bellefonte councilmen on the sick list and two attending a chicken and waffle supper did not leave enough able-bodied officials to constitute a quorum, hence no meeting was held on Monday evening.

HOUSER.—Dr. Luther Murray Houser, for many years one of the leading practitioners in the western end of the county, died at six o'clock on Sunday evening at his home at Baileyville. He had not been in good health for a year or more but was able to be up and around until two weeks prior to his death when he suffered a stroke of paralysis while out walking on his lawn. From that day he gradually grew weaker until the end.

He was a son of Jacob and Elizabeth Murray Houser and was born at Houserville on April 15th, 1857, hence had reached the age of 68 years, 3 months and 4 days. His boyhood days were spent in attending school and working behind the counter in his father's store, but the latter calling not being to his liking he decided to study medicine. In 1882 he entered the University of Pennsylvania where he was graduated in 1885. The same year he located at Baileyville, taking over the practice of the late Thomas C. Van Tries, who retired and moved to Bellefonte. Later he purchased the Van Tries residence at Baileyville and that had been his home ever since.

He was twice married and is survived by his second wife, who before her marriage was Miss Anna Musser, and six children, namely: Mrs. Kline, of Chautauqua, Pa., and Mrs. James Peters, of Rock Springs, children of his first wife; and Dr. Harold Houser, of Allentown; Mrs. Thompson, of Williamsport, and Mrs. Metzger, of State College, children to his second wife. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Ailman, at the old home at Houserville.

He was a member of the Graysville Presbyterian church for many years and was highly esteemed for his thoughtfulness for others and his many acts of kindness. Funeral services were held at his late home at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon by his pastor, Rev. Harry D. Fleming, after which burial was made in the Pine Hill cemetery.

STINE.—Mrs. Dora A. Stine, wife of Allison W. Stine, died at the Centre County hospital at 10:15 o'clock on Saturday morning as the result of complications following a prolonged illness with Bright's disease.

She was a daughter of John W. and Alice Hummer and was born at Danville on July 29th, 1875, hence had reached the age of 49 years, 11 months and 18 days. She had been a resident of Bellefonte a good part of her married life and was a member of the United Brethren church, the P. O. of A. and Queen Templar. She is survived by her husband and four children, namely: Charles T., Dora I., Clarence A. and Pauline, all at home. She also leaves two brothers and two sisters, Teary and Morris Hummer, of Danville; Mrs. Abbie Shultz, of Marcus Hook, and Mrs. Tom. Packer, of Houserville.

Funeral services were held at the United Brethren church at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. J. A. Mills, assisted by Rev. C. C. Shuey, after which burial was made in the Union cemetery.

BRONOEL.—Frank Bronoel died on Wednesday of last week at the home of his sisters, at State College, following two weeks' illness as the result of a stroke of paralysis.

He was a son of John and Mary A. Bronoel and was born at Frenchville on January 21st, 1846, hence was 79 years, 5 months and 24 days old. He is survived by one son and two daughters: Andrew Bronoel, Mrs. William Wheeler and Mrs. Charles Orth, all of Lewistown. He also leaves the following sisters: Mrs. Adam Redding, of Gettysburg; Mrs. Pat Hayes, of Spangler; Mrs. James Bayard, of Williamsport; Mrs. Emil Lioret, of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Odille Mott, of Bellefonte, and the Misses Sidonie and Pauline Bronoel, of State College.

Funeral services were held in St. John's Catholic church, Bellefonte, at ten o'clock Saturday morning, by Rev. Father Downes, burial being made in the Catholic cemetery.

Members of the family extend thanks to all who so kindly assisted them during their bereavement.

HOUSER.—Maryland Leon, the eighteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Houser, died at the parental home on north Allegheny street at midnight, Tuesday. She had not been well for a long time and her death was the result of a general decline.

She is survived by her parents and a little sister. Interment will be made this morning at 10 o'clock.

Henry Noll, Aviator, Doing a Flying Business.

Since he invested in a flying machine Henry Noll, the garage man at Pleasant Gap, finds patching up old Fords and other automobiles rather tame business and when he wants a change he goes to his air-drome, gets out one of his machines and takes a flight through space. Mr. Noll now has three machines in his hangar, a Standard and two Curtiss planes. According to reports there are four pilots at the Gap and two more in the making. But the ships are not kept for pleasure or the fun of owning them. The proprietor makes a business of taking people up for a ride through the etherial blue and when you see him sailing around through the air you can count as a fact that he is sailing at so much per. Last Sunday he had one of his machines up at State College and forty or more people took a ride in it.

Bellefonte Kiwanis Club Meets with Farmers.

The regular weekly meeting of the Bellefonte Kiwanis club was held at Hecla park, on Tuesday evening, with about seventy-five prominent farmers from the agricultural districts adjacent to Bellefonte as their guests. Dinner was served at 6:30 by the refreshment committee of the club, who have established quite a reputation for themselves as caterers.

Preceding the serving of the dinner, an address of welcome to the farmers was delivered by president Sloop, of the Kiwanis club, which was very ably followed by expressions from the farmers emphasizing the fact that they were glad to be present. Kiwanian R. C. Blaney, who is well and favorably known among the farmers of the county, because of his unceasing efforts in the capacity of county farm agent, delivered a short address, stating that the purpose of the get-together was to enable the farmer and business man, as well as professional man, to better understand each other, which in turn can only result in community betterment and eliminate so-called class prejudice.

After dinner was served Mr. E. S. Hibsman, assistant to the president of The Pennsylvania State College, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the history of agriculture in Pennsylvania, dating from 1618 to the present time, all of which was greatly appreciated by all fortunate enough to be present. The last speaker on the program was farmer Ross, formerly superintendent of farms at the new western penitentiary, who offered some very good suggestions pertaining to team work on the part of the farmer and business man.

Judge Arthur C. Dale was admitted as a member to the Kiwanis club at this meeting. After the usual closing songs and salute to the flag, each Kiwanian bade the farmer guests good night.

New York Fresh Air Children Arrive in Bellefonte.

In the neighborhood of two hundred and thirty children from the tenement districts of New York, ranging in age from six to sixteen years, though there were very few of the latter, arrived in Bellefonte last Friday morning. They came in three special cars attached to the regular morning train west from Lock Haven to Tyrone, and a young lady chaperone looked after the kiddies in each car.

This is the first time that any great number of children have come to Centre county and their arrival caused as much commotion at the Pennsylvania railroad station as a circus. Fully five hundred people, most of them children, were at the depot to see the New Yorkers arrive. As soon as they were unloaded from the train the children were formed in line and marched to the scenic theatre where they were distributed among their hosts and hostesses.

Each child was tagged with its name, age and name of the person whose guest it was to be, so that it was an easy matter to distribute them. Those taken by residents of Bellefonte and nearby vicinity were hustled to their place of entertainment as quickly as possible, as they were all quite hungry, while those taken by people living some distance away were given a lunch at the scenic before being taken home. The whole crowd was quickly assimilated and aside from the homes in which they are being entertained nobody notices the influx.

The children are proteges of the New York Tribune fresh air fund and are of various nationalities, but they were a good looking, healthy bunch of kiddies.

Auto Tourist Scents Robbers and Speeds to Safety.

Driving by automobile from Middlebury, Vt., to State College, the latter part of the week, J. W. Rushly, who was on his way to pay a visit to Dr. Thomas and family before they leave the College, had what he believes a narrow escape from highwaymen down in Lycoming county.

He was driving along in the mountains between Ralston and Trout Run, about twenty miles from Williamsport, when he saw an automobile tire lying in the road ahead of him. He was about to stop his car when he heard men talking in the underbrush a short distance ahead. There was a little curve in the road and the headlights of his car showed two men, one with a pistol in his hand and the other with a club.

Needless to say Mr. Rushly did not stop, but stepping on the gas made haste to get out of that vicinity as quickly as possible. A little farther along the road he saw an automobile parked among the bushes and he feels certain it was the car of the highwaymen. Mr. Rushly made good time on that road and finally reached State College in safety.

Infants usually learn to creep before they attempt to walk, but Vol. 1, No. 1, of the McKeesport Journal, which has just reached our desk, indicates that there are exceptions to the rule. With a special edition of eighty-four pages it has walked right into the field of journalism with a stride that is amazing. If the inaugural number of the Journal is the standard its makers mean to maintain McKeesport may well be proud of its new newspaper enterprise and support it to the limit, for it will prove a very valuable asset to the thriving city on the Yough and Monon.

Bellefonte Presbyterians Pledge $4,432 for Old Folks Home.

Following the regular services in the Presbyterian church of Bellefonte, on Sunday morning, the question of raising the congregation's apportionment of $5,000 for the old folks home near Hollidaysburg was taken up. Mr. Robert Sommerville, chairman of the committee in charge, was present and presented the question from a business standpoint. He stated that in order to start the home properly it was necessary to raise a fund of $150,000 within the bounds of the Huntington Presbytery. Fifty thousand dollars of the above amount will be needed to make necessary changes in the property which was donated for the home and to properly equip it for the purpose for which it is intended. One hundred thousand dollars is desired as an endowment fund to furnish the home with a definite means of partial support.

Rev. Thompson stated that this is an age of old peoples' homes. The Masons, the Odd Fellows, the Elks, the Moose and other organizations have them, and it is time the church is looking after the interest of its aged and infirm. He explained that the apportionment of $5,000 to the Bellefonte congregation was made after a very careful survey and consideration of financial conditions. Contributions and pledges were then taken and a final count showed $4,432. Miss Blanche Underwood was elected treasurer of the Bellefonte church fund and on Monday she received several contributions not counted on Sunday, so feels confident that the full apportionment of five thousand dollars will eventually be raised.

It is expected to have the home in shape to open this fall and already there are three applications for admission from the Bellefonte church membership.

"Back to Bradford."

Bradford will celebrate her centennial anniversary August 9th to 15th, with an old home week. Preparations are being made for a wonderful time up in McKean county and it is not without interest to sections of Centre, for hasn't she contributed, both of her sons and daughters, to melt in with the sturdy types that pioneered that vast lumber and oil region.

The McCaffertys, the Glens, the Bradleys were all transplanted from Centre to contribute to the fine citizenry of McKean. The song that the Old Home week committee has had published in commemoration of the centennial is an echo of the musical culture of Bellefonte. While its lyrics were written by Joseph A. Riley the music is the composition of Miss Mary Bradley, which means, of course, that "Back to Bradford" will be something more lasting than a mere seasonal song. It is written in waltz time and is a sweet, lilting melody for words that express something. They run:

My heart has been tuned in, with a station far away, A station in old Bradford, and they're calling night and day Calling from my old home town, in the Allegheny hills Back in dear, old Pennsylvania, and my thoughts with joy it fills So, I'm going back to Bradford To the county of McKean To the State of Pennsylvania To the towns of which I dream. Yes, I'm going back to Tarport, Derrick City, Duke and Rew Sure, I'm going back next August, So are you, and you, and you.

Philipsburg Boy Dies at Camp Meade, Maryland.

William Grebe, seventeen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grebe, of Philipsburg, died on Wednesday night of last week at the soldiers' training camp, at Camp Meade, Md., following an operation for strangulation of the bowels. With a number of other young men of that place he went to the training camp on June 29th to spend the month of July and had been getting along splendidly until Tuesday of last week when he was suddenly taken ill. His condition becoming rapidly worse his parents were notified on Wednesday morning and left immediately for the camp.

An operation was performed Wednesday afternoon but gangrene had already set in and his death followed within a few hours. The young man was a junior in the Philipsburg High school, a member of the Presbyterian church and the Boy Scouts. In addition to his parents he is survived by six brothers and sisters. A military escort accompanied the remains to Philipsburg where funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, burial being made in the Philipsburg cemetery.

Among Those Entertaining.

The luncheon given by Miss Mary H. Linn, yesterday, at her home on Allegheny street, was in compliment to the Hon. Martha G. Thomas and Mrs. Herman L. Schwartz, of the State organization of the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. John F. Smith was hostess at a bridge party, Friday night, given in honor of Mrs. Russell T. George, wife of Captain George, military instructor of this district, who has been transferred and will leave shortly for Kansas.

Miss Irene Cross entertained with bridge, for Mrs. George, Tuesday evening, and again at Mrs. Gideon Payne's bridge party, last night, Mrs. George was the guest of honor.

Farming on a Big Scale at Rockview Penitentiary.

Rockview penitentiary is located less than five miles from Bellefonte and yet very few people here, or in any part of Centre county for that matter, realize the magnitude of the work being done there. If one or more prisoners escape the fact is heralded far and wide, as it should be, as the men serving time there are on honor to regard prison regulations and should make no attempt to evade serving the sentence meted out to them by the courts of the various counties in the western part of the State.

But that is not what we started out to tell, but rather about the crops that are being raised on the prison farms this year. There were 398 acres of wheat, and 398 acres of hay. The oats crop covers 370 acres and the corn 375. Potatoes are being grown on 120 acres and there are 50 acres of alfalfa. The pasture land for the farm stock used to cultivate the farms totals 468 acres. There is a truck garden of 85 acres, which is as much as many farms in Centre county have under cultivation. The forestry beds used to cultivate seedlings for forestry purposes cover 9 acres, and the number of seedlings on this tract at the present time is estimated at 3,500,000.

At present there are 744 prisoners at the penitentiary and all able bodied men work on the farms, on the big cell block or at one of many other occupations necessary to keep a big institution like the penitentiary on the move.

Arrested for Stealing a Flying Machine.

On Tuesday afternoon chief of police Harry Dukeman received a telegram from the chief of police in Meadville requesting him to apprehend "Red" Bartow and Parker Cramier, who are wanted in that city on the charge of stealing a flying machine. Now it just happened that Mr. Bartow had been out at Pleasant Gap the past ten days or two weeks, and officer Daniels, of the State police force, went out to look for him, but he had gone to Clarion by automobile. He returned to the Gap, however, on Wednesday, and was then placed under arrest.

While all the details of the transaction leading up to the charge of stealing the machine, lodged against the young men, have not been obtainable, enough has been learned to justify the assertion that the men did not deliberately steal and convert to their own use the machine in dispute. It appears that the machine is owned by a Greek resident of Meadville but just how it passed into the hands of Bartow and Cramier could not be learned. But they made repairs on the machine and have other costs against the owner which he has not paid and the men are simply holding the machine for payment. And because of this fact, it is alleged, the Greek owner has had a warrant issued charging them with the theft of the machine.

The fact that neither of the men have been in hiding or tried to evade arrest gives color to their side of the story.

The Stoner Sisters Attacked Near Tusseyville.

About eleven o'clock last Monday night the two daughters of Mr. Stoner, a well known farmer near Tusseyville, were returning from a party they had attended. When on a secluded part of the road an unknown person stepped from the brush and grabbed their horse by the bridle. The animal became frightened and tried to break away. Then the miscreant struck it with a club and it did run away, with the result that the buggy was overturned and completely demolished.

The screams of the older girl were heard by a farmer who went to the rescue, finding that she was not seriously hurt, but her younger sister was unconscious under the wreckage of the buggy. She was carried home and a physician summoned. Her injuries, while painful were not serious, though she suffered greatly from shock.
