Electrocutions in Pennsylvania Number 140 Men.

Every few weeks some unfortunate individual is put to death in the chair at the Rockview penitentiary and it might be of interest to many people to know that since electrocution was made the legal mode of death for murderers in Pennsylvania just 140 men have gone to the chair. The Legislature of 1913 passed the electrocution bill and the first one took place on February 23rd, 1915. That same year four others were electrocuted. In 1916 thirteen men were electrocuted and the same number in 1917. In 1918 there were eighteen, in 1919 p.m. nine, 1920 nineteen, 1921 eleven. The year 1922 saw the largest number go to the chair, twenty-seven. In 1923 there were six, 1924 twelve and seven so far this year.

The unfortunate individuals came from thirty-eight counties in the State. Allegheny county sent the largest number, 21; Dauphin was next with 13 and Philadelphia 12. Lancaster sent 7, Erie 6, Cambria, Fayette and Lackawanna each 5; Beaver, Lawrence and Blair 4 each; Clarion, Delaware, Northumberland, Schuylkill (and Somerset 3 each; Adams, Berks, Carbon, Cumberland, Lehigh, Luzerne, Montgomery, Northampton, Washington and Wyoming 2 each, while one each came from Bedford, Bradford, Bucks, Butler, Chester, Clearfield, Crawford, Jefferson, Lebanon, Venango and York counties.

Twenty-nine counties in the State were not represented in the number of murderers electrocuted, Centre county being one of them. It might also be interesting to know that in addition to the number electrocuted thirty-nine men convicted of murder in Allison's grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. the first degree and for whom death James Runkle. warrants had been issued, were later granted commutation by the board of prisonment sentences. Fully one-half ter, of State College. of the men electrocuted were buried in the penitentiary cemetery at Rockview.

Big Picnic at State College.

Every organization in State College, business, civic and church, is making preparations to lend its aid and support to a big community picnic to be held at that place on July large, small and intermediate, with their children and grand-children, uncles and aunts, and all other relations are invited. It means everybody. at the home of Mrs. Margaret Smith, Take a basket. There'll be a big bas-ket lunch in the beautiful college tor trip through Central Pennsylvawoods. Committees have been appointed to furnish music as well as games and sports of all sorts for all sorts of people, even fat people. Instead of a glorius Fourth of July it is
