Bellefonte, Pa., July 31, 1925.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Only another month of summer vacation remains for the school children in Bellefonte.

—The Rev. Ambrose Schmidt, of the Reformed church, will be in charge of the union open air services held on the green back of the court house, Sunday evening.

—Some twenty or more Shriners of Bellefonte and vicinity went over to DuBois, on Wednesday, in "Miss Nittany," to attend the big Shrine meeting held at that place. Several thousand Shriners were in the parade, which was a feature of the gathering.

—Lewis Bellinatz, aged 39 years, was taken to the Philipsburg hospital, on Sunday, suffering with a number of knife wounds sustained in a free-for-all fight near Martha Furnace, on Sunday. Bellinatz is one of the employees on state road construction up Bald Eagle valley.

—J. R. Hoagland, of Williamsport, and Augustus Heverly, of Bellefonte, made an appraisal of the H. C. Yeager shoe store in the Bush Arcade, on Monday, and while definite figures have not been made public it is understood that the total figure is in the neighborhood of four thousand dollars. Mr. Yeager, it will be recalled, went into voluntary bankruptcy two weeks ago.

—This is James H. Potter's vacation week and today the Potters, the Sommerfelds and the H. Laird Curtins will gather at one of the Potter-Hoy cabins at Curtin for a family reunion. From the strenuous manner in which Mr. Potter started vacationing Monday morning and has continued it up to date we are convinced that he'll need at least two weeks in a sanatorium to get over the exhaustion.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emerick, of Altoona, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on Saturday in the presence of quite a number of relatives and friends. Mrs. Emerick, prior to her marriage, was Miss Blanche A. Woodring, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Woodring, of Port Matilda, and among the guests at Saturday's anniversary were her aged parents, her father being almost eighty-one years old and her mother nearing eighty.

—The evenings are growing noticeably longer and the best place in Bellefonte to spend them is at the Scenic, watching the motion pictures. The pictures shown at this popular place of amusement cannot be seen anywhere else in Bellefonte, and manager T. Clayton Brown will continue to give his many patrons the very best productions of the leading film makers of the country. If you are not a regular get the movie habit and see the worthwhile pictures shown at the Scenic.

—On Monday afternoon several deer came down off the Seven mountains and jumped into a field on the Samuel Horner farm, near Tusseyville, and proceeded to fill up on the rank tufts of grass. Now it so happened that Mr. Horner was ploughing in the same field and when he drove around in the vicinity of the deer they became frightened and started for cover. Unfortunately a two year old buck ran into a wire fence and broke its neck. Game protector Thomas G. Mosier was notified, and went to Tusseyville and brought the dead animal to Bellefonte. It was dressed at Gettig and Eckel's meat market and the meat sent out to the hospital.

—If rats were edible game the "Watchman" office would have a monopoly of rat meat. During the past few weeks just twenty-seven rodents have been trapped in the press room of this office. But we want it distinctly understood that we do not have "rats in our head," nor "rats in the bread basket." The number caught were not our regular boarders but infested the entire block and perhaps a good portion of the West ward. At night they came sky-larking into our press room, stepped on the hidden trap and there was another angel in rat heaven. We might also add that our traps are still in fine working condition and if any more rats want to tread the path of their forbears the runways are always open. Long-tailed rats, short-tailed rats or rats without any tail will all be treated alike.

—"Oh, you dears!" said a bevy of girls at the express office in Bellefonte on Tuesday noon. But the endearing epithet was not directed to the young men congregated there but to two three month's old fawns cooped up in a box, awaiting transport to game warden Henry W. Wingard, at Ingleby. The fawns had been found in the woods of Snow Shoe township where they had evidently been abandoned by their mothers or else orphaned by some unknown pot hunter. They were taken in charge by David Chambers and for six weeks had been kept at his home at Clarence, bottled and given the best of care until now he deemed them old enough to take care of themselves and hence was sending them to Mr. Wingard for liberation in a mountainous section where they will not be molested by dogs. The fawns were unusually tame and showed not the slightest fear of the human touch. There was a buck and a doe, but they were not brothers and sister, although they looked enough alike to be close blood relatives.

CENTRE COUNTY MAN DROWNED AT NORRISTOWN.

James Sweetwood Loses Life while Canoeing on Sunday.

James Sweetwood, a native of Centre Hall but who was also well known in Bellefonte, was drowned Sunday afternoon while canoeing on Perkiomen creek, near Norristown, when his canoe was swept over the dam near Indian Head park and he was caught in the swirling rapids below the breast of the dam. The creek was unusually high owing to torrential rains in the eastern part of the State the latter end of the week. Sweetwood, with Walter Smith and Ernest Hausman, attempted to cross the stream in a canoe but the current was so swift that the frail craft was carried over the dam. Smith and Hausman successfully battled the swift current and reached shore in an exhausted condition. Sweetwood drowned while excited spectators on the shore were making frantic efforts to save him.

The unfortunate young man was a son of Ira A. and Sarah E. Sweetwood and was born at Centre Hall. He would have been twenty-five years old in November. During 1923 and 1924 he lived in Bellefonte, being employed as a clerk in the offices of the State highway. Two years ago his parents moved from Centre Hall to Norristown where Mr. Sweetwood is employed on the State highway. Last fall young Sweetwood resigned his job here and went to Norristown to accept a position with the P. R. R. company. During the recent retraining campaign of that company he was laid off, then went to work for the State highway.

While living in Bellefonte he enlisted as a member of the headquarters troop, 52nd machine gun battalion, and was appointed squadron sergeant major. He was to have come to Bellefonte next week to go with the Bellefonte soldiers to their annual encampment and had made application for a transfer from headquarters troop to Troop B, and was to have filled the position of company clerk.

In addition to his parents he is survived by the following brother and sisters: Miss Carrie M., of Philadelphia; Mrs. Ida Bromhall, of McCutcheon, N. J.; William, of Norristown, and Elizabeth, of Trenton, N. J.

The body was recovered about two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon about two miles below where the drowning took place. It had been washed ashore on the banks of Perkiomen creek. It will be shipped to Centre Hall today and funeral services held in the Presbyterian church at that place at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The services will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. J. Max Kirkpatrick.

Burial in the Centre Hall cemetery will be made with military honors, the headquarters troop and Troop B, of Bellefonte, to attend in a body.

Escaped Prisoner Sentenced. Hendershot Sent to Jail.

At a special session of court on Tuesday morning, John Ponsall, who escaped from Rockview penitentiary in August, 1924, and was captured in Syracuse, N. Y., last week, was sentenced to serve an additional term of two and a half to five years in addition to completing his old term. Ponsall was sent up from Warren county for larceny.

Edward Brown, a young man from Spring Mills refused to plead guilty to a charge of the larceny of a motorometer and was remanded in the custody of the sheriff to await trial at the next term of court.

In the case of David M. Hendershot, of Bellefonte, convicted at the February term of court on two counts, the illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors and second, illegal possession of same, the court last Friday handed down a decision refusing him a new trial and he was called up on Tuesday morning for sentence. District attorney Ivan Walker told the court that he had it on fairly reliable authority that since his trial and conviction Hendershot had been selling liquor. The young man was represented by John G. Love who said that so far as he knew Hendershot had not violated the law since his conviction. That he worked every day, was married and had a nine week's old child, and he asked the court to be as lenient as possible.

Without any ceremony Judge Dale announced that he would suspend sentence on the first count and on the second count the sentence of the court is that Hendershot pay a fine of $250, costs of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one year nor more than two. Hendershot is mess sergeant in Troop B, of Bellefonte, and when the soldiers go to camp the latter part of next week a new man will have to be selected to handle the provender.

Odd Fellows to Picnic on Labor Day.

The second annual picnic of all Odd Fellow and Rebekahs of Central Pennsylvania, will be held on Labor day, September 7th, at Hecla Park. Last year about 7,000 people attended this picnic, representing about forty Odd Fellows lodges and nearly that many Rebekahs, and this year the committee hopes to still make it better. This is a beautiful park, centrally located with many new improvements, including a dining hall 100x26 feet. Baseball games, dancing, bathing, canoeing and plenty other amusements will be provided to accommodate a large crowd. A good orchestra will be there to live it up. Go, and take your friends, as everybody will be welcome.

Public Service Commission Approves Telephone Company Sale.

The Public Service Commission, on Tuesday, approved the sale of the Penn State Telephone company to the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania. It will be recalled that an agreement of sale had been entered into several months ago by the board of directors of the two companies and endorsed by the stockholders, but it was also necessary to secure the approval of the Public Service Commission. Now that this has been obtained negotiations for closing the deal will likely be resumed without much delay, though it will naturally take considerable time to make the transfer of the property and adjust connections to accommodate the telephone using public.

The Penn State company has a labyrinth of wires and exchanges covering ten counties in Central Pennsylvania, with a total of approximately twelve thousand subscribers. It also has long distance connections east and west. The Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania has about forty thousand phones in service, and when it takes over the Penn State company it will naturally mean considerable work in effecting the change. But the public will be benefited to the extent of using only one telephone, whereas two are now almost a necessity, in business places especially.

In fact engineers of the Bell company have already figured out that when all duplicates are eliminated it will mean but seven hundred additional phones on their lines in the entire Bellefonte district, which includes State College, Boalsburg, Centre Hall and Millheim. The present switchboard in the Bellefonte exchange is ample to accommodate the extra lines that will be necessary to cover the service here, but it will probably be necessary to increase the force of operators.

Mrs. Coll Asks Increased Support for Her Child.

At a brief session of court on Monday morning attorney W. G. Runkle presented the petition of Mrs. Guy Coll for an increase in the amount of allowance granted her for the support of her seven year old daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Coll have been separated for approximately eighteen months, and at the time of separation Judge Henry C. Quigley made an order requiring Mr. Coll to pay ten dollars a month for the support of his child. Mrs. Coll claims that this amount is not sufficient now and asks for $40 a month. James C. Furst Esq., represented Mr. Coll, who conducts a barber shop in Bellefonte, and he stated to the court that his client is perfectly willing to pay the bills for any unusual expense in the keep of his daughter, such as schooling, doctor's bills, music lessons, etc., but does not feel that the regular allowance should be increased. The court heard testimony and argument on both sides and will render a decision later.

Fresh Air Kiddies Will Leave for New York This Evening.

The two hundred and more fresh air children from New York, who have been guests of Bellefonte and Centre county families the past two weeks, will leave this evening for their homes in the city. The children will be taken to the Y. M. C. A. at seven o'clock where they will all be prepared for their night's journey to New York, marching to the Pennsylvania railroad station in time for the 8:16 p. m. train.

During the two weeks the children have been in Centre county they have enjoyed every minute of their stay, and with very few exceptions their host or hostesses have enjoyed having them. The children are a bright, healthy lot, and there is no doubt but that their brief sojourn has been beneficial to them in various ways and will be a glimpse of country sunshine that they will recall for many days.

Two More Prisoners Escape from Rockview.

Between two and three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, two more prisoners made their escape from Rockview penitentiary by cutting their way through the barbed wire stockade in the rear of the big cannery building. The men are both from Philadelphia and were among the last consignment of one hundred prisoners sent to Rockview from the eastern penitentiary.

The men are Francis Short, sent up on March 2, 1924, for five to ten years for robbery, and James Doersch, sentenced on July 2, 1924, for five to ten years, also for robbery. Up to the time the "Watchman" went to press no trace of the fugitives had been obtained.

Making Survey for New Road Over Seven Mountains.

A corps of state highway engineers are now engaged in making a survey for a new road over the Seven mountains from Milroy to Bellefonte and State College. The route will be through Cox's valley, leaving the present road at the Long Mountain bridge and eliminating the dangerous curve at the tip of the mountain known as the Devil's Elbow, and also avoiding some dangerous grades. The new route, which will be two miles longer than the old one, will join the present road at the old Foust place.

Public Sale of Household Furniture. —At the late residence of Miss Harriet Hart, N. Spring St., Saturday, Aug. 1, at 1:30 p. m. 30-11

Blanchard-Moshannon Coal Properties to be Sold August 27th.

In accordance with an order of the Clinton county court R. P. McClellan, A. R. McNitt and T. R. Bridgens, receivers for the Blanchard-Moshannon Mining company, will offer at receiver's sale on the property in West Keating township, Clinton county, on Thursday, August 27th, all the right, title and interest of above named company in approximately 4600 acres of coal land, together with the company's interest in six miles of railroad, tenement houses, and all the paraphernalia of an operating coal company; subject, however, to two mortgages, one for $91,036.10 given by the Blanchard-Moshannon Mining company to the Blanchard-Moshannon Coal company, and one for $31,960 given by the Blanchard-Moshannon Mining Company to T. B. Bridgens. The title to over 3700 acres of the land is not vested in the company because of unpaid purchase money aggregating about $250,000.

In addition to the above there are claims against the company aggregating between one and two hundred thousand dollars, and may exceed these figures. The Blanchard-Moshannon Coal company was promoted less than three years ago by William G. Blanchard, of Pittsburgh, and the late Charles R. Kurtz, of Bellefonte. Preferred stock amounting to $170,000 was sold in Bellefonte and Centre county, and so far as can be learned this was the only real money put into the enterprise. A railroad was built to the coal lands and two big steam shovels secured under lease to carry on stripping operations. Considerable coal was mined in this way but last December unpaid bills, labor claims, etc., became so pressing that the company was compelled to cease operations. In February Robert F. Hunter and Nelson E. Robb, both of Bellefonte, petitioned the Clinton county court for the appointment of a receiver for the company, and the court appointed Messrs. McClellan, McNitt and Bridgens.

The receiver's sale will develop what chances the local stockholders have of securing any portion or all of their $170,000 invested in the concern. A movement will naturally be made to purchase the property for the benefit of the stockholders and the only question is their ability to finance it.

Fire at Hart Home on Friday Night.

About 10:30 o'clock on Friday night fire was discovered on the third floor of the double house on north Spring street, the property of Albert Schadt and occupied by Mrs. William Hart and daughters and Frank Houghton and family. The fire originated on the Hart side and had gained considerable headway when discovered. The building is of brick with a slate roof and the flames being thus confined almost entirely to the interior of the building made it extremely difficult to fight, but it was finally overcome.

Considerable excitement was occasioned during the fire by a report that a young girl who makes her home with the Hart family, was imprisoned in her room on the third floor of the building. Ralph Mallory went upstairs to investigate but found the room a mass of flames. Fireman Paul Hagg tied a wet towel over his face and rushed upstairs but was so nearly overcome with heat and smoke that he had to be dragged from the building. It later developed that the young girl was the first one out of the house, and had managed to save practically all her clothing.

As the flames were confined entirely to the rear portion of the third floor of the house, and the walls were not injured Mr. Schadt's loss is mostly covered by insurance. Mrs. Hart is an invalid but she was removed from the burning building without undue excitement and taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mallory, later being removed to the Centre County hospital and is none the worse for her experience. The Houghton family moved back into their side of the building on Saturday.

Seneca S. Walker Purchased Triangle Filling Station.

Seneca S. Walker, of Thomas street, last week purchased from William O. McCoy the filling station at the Triangle, a short distance east of the old aviation field, on the Nittany valley road. He took charge on Thursday and this week is busy making some alterations and improvements which will no doubt prove attractive to the average automobile tourist. A tea room will be opened for the serving of light lunches, sandwiches, ice cream, etc. The ground on which the filling station is located is owned by Frank M. Crawford, and if Mr. Walker's venture proves successful he has hopes of purchasing the land and building a home for himself and family in close proximity to the filling station.

Former Bellefonte Girl on African Lion Hunting Trip.

The metropolitan papers last week announced the departure of Miss Muriel Grant, of New York city, for the heart of Africa's jungles. She is going in quest of excitement and adventure. In her party and acting as her secretary is Miss Anne Garman, daughter of the late C. M. Garman, of this place. Miss Garman spent her childhood in Bellefonte, but has been living in New York for some time.
