Political Announcements.

FOR JUDGE OF THE COURTS OF CENTRE COUNTY.

I am a candidate for President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters at the primaries, Tuesday, September 15th.

Should I be nominated and elected, I will bring to the office an experience in the trial of causes and in the general practice of law in our local and appellate courts, of more than thirty-three years; and an administration conducted with fidelity, economy and to the best of my ability.

Your support and influence in my behalf will be much appreciated.

NEWTON B. SPANGLER.

I hereby announce my candidacy for Judge of the Courts of Centre county, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters as expressed at the primary election to be held Tuesday, September 15th, 1925.

In the event of my nomination, and finally my election in November, all of my time, energy and efforts will be devoted to SERVICE and the best interests of those who may have business before the Courts of our county; and I now, without reservation, solemnly pledge a courteous, prompt, honest, economic and efficient administration.

Your vote, influence and friendly support is most earnestly and respectfully solicited.

W. HARRISON WALKER.

As a candidate I respectfully announce: That if it be the pleasure of the Democratic women and men voters of our county to nominate me for the office of Judge of our Courts at the September 15, 1925, primaries, I shall appreciate it highly.

And if it be the will of our voters to elect me to said office at the general election, I shall consider it as a call of duty to serve all of our citizens in a practical, impartial, just and economic manner without fear or favor, and shall maintain our laws by example, as well as by precept, governed by no uncertain principles which our sincerely patriotic citizen demand from all public officials.

I sincerely trust that I may have YOUR hearty co-operation.

J. KENNEDY JOHNSTON.

FOR JURY COMMISSIONER.

We are authorized to announce that James C. Condo, of Gregg township, is a candidate for nomination for Jury Commissioner on the Democratic ticket, subject to the primaries of the party to be held Tuesday, September 15th.

Mr. Condo will appreciate your support and assures faithful and honorable service should he be nominated and elected to that office.

Centre County Junior Farmers' Association Tour.

All members of the Junior Farmers' association of Centre county, as well as members of the various potato clubs, will be taken on their annual farm and general inspection tour today (Friday). They will meet in front of the First National bank, at State College, at 8 o'clock a. m., sharp, proceeding from there to the potato and hog farm of A. C. Kepler, in the Glades, where the first stop will be made. Mr. Kepler will be on hand to tell the juniors why he has been the champion potato grower in Centre county the past three years, and also show them his prize porkers.

From the Kepler farm the tour will continue to Watters' vegetable farm and roadside market about three miles beyond Tyrone, on the road to Altoona. After an inspection there the motorists will return a mile and a half to a special picnic grounds where they will have a basket lunch. After filling up they will go to Huntingdon and inspect the large fruit orchards of J. L. Funk, then return to Water Street for an inspection of the poultry farms of C. D. Harnish. The tourists will return to the College from Water Street. The entire trip will cover about 94 miles.

County farm agent Ralph C. Blaney and vocational director John B. Payne will be in charge of the tour and they are anxious to have every junior farmer and his dad go along. It is the first tour of any consequence, and will cover four important phases of farm life. Specialists from State College will accompany the tour.

Every young farmer should carry a well packed lunch kit, as it is sure to be a strenuous day, and traveling on an empty stomach is not a pleasant business.

James Caldwell Buys the W. S. Katz Property.

A deal was closed on Monday whereby James Caldwell, proprietor of the Bon Mot, in the McClain block, became the purchaser of the William S. Katz property, on High street, between the Scenic and the new Richelieu theatre, now in the course of construction.

It is Mr. Caldwell's intention to remodel the building by lowering the first floor even with the pavement and converting it into a spacious room for his ice cream and confectionery trade, with a small dance hall in the rear. The second and third floors will be utilized as an apartment for himself and family. A building will be erected on the rear of the lot to house the plumbing establishment of Caldwell & Son.

Mr. Caldwell is to have possession just as soon as Mr. Katz can get out.

FOREMAN.—James Foreman, one of the best known and highly respected colored residents of Bellefonte, passed away very unexpectedly at his home on St. Paul street, at 4:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon. For some time past he had been troubled with heart attacks but on Monday morning was around as usual. In the afternoon he suffered an attack and members of the family took him to his room and put him to bed. He apparently fell asleep and was resting easily until 4:30 o'clock when he gasped several times and becoming alarmed his daughter summoned a physician but when he reached the house he was beyond all help.

Mr. Foreman was born in Virginia and had lived until the 8th of next October would have been sixty-four years old. The greater part of his boyhood life, however, was spent in Chambersburg. Forty-three years ago he came to Bellefonte and this had been his home ever since. He was a member of St. Paul's A. M. E. church and always a regular attendant.

He was twice married, his first wife having been Miss Wilhelmina Gaines, of Albemarle county, Va. She passed away thirty years ago and later he married Miss Ellen Jordan, who died five years ago. Surviving him, however, are four children, namely: Mrs. Georgianna Perry, of Washington, D. C.; Arthur R., at home; Mrs. Bertha Stewart, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Julia Randolph, of New York city.

Brief funeral services were held at his late home at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, after which the remains were taken to the church where a more extended service was held. Burial was made in the Union cemetery.

PARKER.—Miss Anna L. Parker passed away at her home on the corner of Howard and Spring streets, Bellefonte, last Thursday evening, following almost a year's illness with pernicious anemia.

She was a daughter of John W. and Eleanor Neff Parker and was born in Somerset county on November 25th, 1848, making her age 76 years, 8 months and 5 days. Her entire life was spent in the county of her birth until coming to Bellefonte with her two sisters in the fall of 1921. She was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church and a woman possessed of all the finer attributes of christian womanhood. Her survivors include one brother and two sisters, Neff Parker, of Des Moines, Iowa; Misses Emily and Elizabeth, of Bellefonte.

Funeral services were held at her late home at six o'clock on Sunday evening by her pastor, Rev. William C. Thompson, of the Presbyterian church. On Monday the remains were taken to Somerset, accompanied by the surviving sisters, Mrs. G. Ross Parker, her daughter, Mrs. Henry Keller, of New Brunswick, N. J., and her son, Ferguson Parker, of Harrisburg. Services were held in the Presbyterian church at that place at four o'clock on Monday afternoon, burial being made in the Somerset cemetery.

WATSON.—Pittsburgh papers, on Tuesday, contained a notice of the death in that city, on Monday, of Sarah McClintic Watson, wife of Thomas Watson, in her seventy-fourth year. Funeral services were held on Wednesday evening and private burial made yesterday morning. The Watsons have relatives in Centre, Clinton and Mifflin counties.

HOCKENBERRY.—Edgar Harry Hockenberry, infant son of Albert and Goldie Emel Hockenberry, died last Friday at the family residence in the brick row as the result of convulsions. He was born on November 6th, 1924, hence was aged 8 months and 25 days. Burial was made in the Union cemetery on Sunday.

Dr. Thomas Awarded Last Diplomas at State.

The final official occasion for the appearance of Dr. John M. Thomas as president of The Pennsylvania State College took place yesterday at the annual mid-summer commencement exercises when he awarded degrees to over fifty students. He will leave Penn State about September 1 to become president of Rutgers University, in New Jersey. During the remainder of August he will prepare his annual report to the Legislature and State officials and complete other duties incident to his departure.

Dr. James N. Rule, deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction for Pennsylvania, delivered the commencement address. The Penn State summer session has co-operated closely with the State department in the studies it has offered in the past, and it was most appropriate that Dr. Rule, who has charge of all secondary education in the State, was speaker at the second annual mid-summer graduation exercises. M. Emile Daeschner, the French Ambassador, who was expected to give an address at the commencement, was forced to cancel his engagement due to pressing official duties at Washington.

The Hazel-Schaeffer reunion will be held this year on Thursday, August 20th, at Grange park, Centre Hall. It will be a basket picnic and members of the families are urged to go and take their friends. A good time is assured everybody.

If you want to take an automobile ride on Sunday afternoon why not drive over to Huntingdon county and join the Sunday school conference at Camp Kenesatake.

Progress of Road Building in Centre County.

Everybody is naturally interested in the extensive road building program in Centre county. The public, generally, looks on it as something leading to a linking up of all the more important highways of the county. Those who live along the roads under construction have another view of it, as well as that of those not so directly affected. They are wondering when the work will be completed and their natural outlets once more opened for use.

Of the three major operations that of the Miller Construction Co., the part of the Bald Eagle route extending from Snow Shoe Intersection to Port Matilda, at present shows the greatest promise of being completed this fall. Of the sixteen miles in that contract nine and one-half have already been poured. From the vicinity of Plum Grove school house to Unionville the road is open for traffic and between Unionville and Port about seven miles have been poured.

We understand that the upper end, from Port to the Triangle has not progressed so rapidly, but it is far enough under way to give assurance that the entire road will be open early in October.

The road from Gum Stump to Snow Shoe is proving much heavier construction. All of the way is over the mountains and as the route has been changed so as to take out three dangerous curves and shorten the distance a mile it involves much more difficult work.

The horseshoe curve just above the "Dim Lantern" tea room has been entirely eliminated. The road is now graded on a heavy fill straight across the ravine that it formerly circled at the end of the first ridge. And out at the Beech Creek trestle the sharp curve is eliminated by a change of route that continues at an even grade clear to the Reese place on top of the mountain. The concrete is all poured from Snow Shoe to the Beech Creek trestle, but it doesn't seem possible that the road will be completed this fall. In fact it would be better were it not, for there is so much new construction that it would be better if it were allowed to settle over the winter before concrete is laid on it.

Over the mountain, from the watering trough above Pleasant Gap to Centre Hall, the contract of Joseph P. Reitz, of Sunbury, the work has not been progressing in such a way as to give promise of its completion before winter. It is graded from Centre Hall to the top of the mountain and concrete pouring is about to start, but from the top to the watering trough little more has been done than putting in the drains.

Cleveland Cat Stole Ride on Mailplane

Some ten days or two weeks ago a strange cat made its appearance at the new aviation field and proceeded to make itself at home among the mailplanes and the force of employees. As it did not seem disposed to leave the men saw that it was fed regularly and allowed it to stay. A few days ago when pilot Collins reached the Bellefonte field from Cleveland he espied the cat and at once recognized it as "Ike," the mascot cat at the Cleveland field.

He stated that the cat had suddenly disappeared from there and everybody was wondering what had become of it. As none of the pilots have any knowledge of how the cat got from one field to the other, and are certain that it was not a passenger in the mail compartment of the plane, the only conclusion is that it climbed onto the fuselage and clung there during the two hundred and fifty mile flight to Bellefonte. The cat was taken back to Cleveland as a free passenger.

Burgess Todd, of Philipsburg, Under Bail for Court Trial.

Burgess Harry W. Todd, of Philipsburg, is under five hundred dollars bail for his appearance at the September term of court in Bellefonte to determine his authority and right to remove private parking signs.

It appears that Joseph Cunkle, proprietor of the Cunkle hotel, secured a "no-parking" sign which he put out in front of his hotel every morning to keep traffic away and took it in the evening. One night it was forgotten and the next morning it was gone. Mr. Cunkle made inquiry and finally learned that the sign had been taken away by the police on order of Burgess Todd.

Action was brought against that official charging him with being responsible for the removal and confiscation of the sign, and Squire Edward Hancock held him in $500 bail for trial at court.

Bellefonte Wins Another and Lengthens Her Lead.

Bellefonte copped another game the past week and lengthened her lead in the race for the pennant in the Centre county baseball league. On Thursday the local team defeated Millheim by the score of 9 to 5, while State downed Hecla 6 to 2. On Saturday State defeated Millheim 5 to 4 and the Hecla-Bellefonte game was postponed on account of wet grounds.

Tomorrow Bellefonte and Hecla will play at Howard and State College at Millheim. The standing of the clubs to date is as follows:

	W.	L.	P. C.
Bellefonte	13	7	.650
Hecla Park	11	9	.550
Millheim	9	12	.429
State College	8	13	.381

Two Escaped Prisoners Had Short Shift of Liberty.

Francis Short and James Doersch, the two Philadelphia prisoners who escaped from Rockview penitentiary on Wednesday of last week by cutting their way through the barbed wire stockade, were not out long enough to enjoy their liberty. They were recaptured about noontime on Friday down below Milesburg, sentenced by Judge Dale an hour later and the same afternoon taken out to Pittsburgh where they will have ample time to ponder over whether it is worthwhile trying to evade the law's demands.

Being unacquainted with the country hereabouts the men failed to make much headway. Where they spent their first night was not learned but they evidently kept under cover on Thursday, and Thursday night they spent on the mountain above McCoy's works. They had had nothing to eat from the time of their escape except a few wild berries and on Friday morning they came down off the mountain at McCoy's works for the purpose of begging something, but seeing a number of men around hiked back to the woods. They left the mountain, circled Milesburg to the brick works and started down Bald Eagle valley. Railroad trackmen saw them and notified penitentiary authorities. Deputy warden W. J. McFarland, his assistant, Clarence C. Rhoads, sheriff E. R. Taylor and state policeman Daniels went down and rounded the men up. They offered no resistance and were soon landed in the Centre county jail. Each man was given a duplicate of his old sentence, five to ten years, and they were taken to Pittsburgh by sheriff Taylor, his son Richard and policeman Daniels, in the latter's automobile.

Another Baby Clinic in Milesburg.

The second well-baby clinic in Milesburg will be held next Monday afternoon, August 10, from 2 to 4 o'clock, in the Baptist Sunday school room with Miss Ethel Campbell, State Health Department nurse, in charge. Dr. J. L. Seibert, county medical director, will be there to look over the babies and answer any questions the mothers may care to ask.

It is an opportunity offered to mothers, free, to learn whether the baby and pre-school age child is physically fit or has defects that should be corrected. Just now when the opening of school is approaching every child should have a complete physical examination and existing defects corrected so as not to be physically handicapped in school.

The State Health Department is furnishing toxin antitoxin free for all children up to and including six years of age. It is harmless and causes no suffering, leaves no scar nor scab and will permanently protect against diphtheria. Ask your doctor about it and have him immunize your children now or take them to the clinic soon to be held.

Spontaneous Combustion Caused Barn Fire.

Alfalfa hay, not thoroughly cured, is blamed for a fire which early yesterday morning partially destroyed the old barn on the Armour property, on east Lamb street, used by William J. Musser as a hay barn, and also ruined a considerable quantity of hay.

Mr. Musser had in the neighborhood of twenty or twenty-five tons of alfalfa hay stored in the barn. He put it in a little green, but salted it pretty thoroughly, and believed it perfectly safe. Shortly after three o'clock yesterday morning the old barn was discovered to be on fire, and from the nature of it, it seems reasonable to conclude it was a case of spontaneous combustion. All the board sheathing was burned away but the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames before the heavier frame work was destroyed.

The pile of alfalfa continued to smoulder and yesterday forenoon the Logans went out and thoroughly saturated the pile, and it is just possible that considerable of the hay may yet be saved.

Fresh Air Kiddies Given Big Send-off Friday Evening.

Notwithstanding the rainy weather from a thousand to fifteen hundred people gathered at the Pennsylvania railroad depot, on Friday evening, to see the two hundred and more fresh air children depart for their homes in New York city after a sojourn of two weeks in Centre county. The children were first taken to the Y. M. C. A. by their various hosts and hostesses where the tags they wore on coming to Bellefonte were replaced. They then marched in squads to the depot and were put aboard the three waiting cars. They all went away happy and cheerful, many of them with much larger bundles of clothing than when they came to Bellefonte.

Quite a number of the children were reluctant to leave, as they would have liked to spend more time in Centre county, but this was impossible. Mrs. W. Harrison Walker, Mrs. Milton R. Johnson, Miss Daise Keichline and Miss Mary McGarvey accompanied the children to New York, and saw that they were all landed there in good shape.

Yardmaster Joseph Kelleher Has Been Confined to His Home Since Sunday with Illness, which is Rather Unfortunate at this Time, as a Little Son Arrived in Their Home Sunday Morning.

Francis Short and James Doersch, the two Philadelphia prisoners who escaped from Rockview penitentiary on Wednesday of last week by cutting their way through the barbed wire stockade, were not out long enough to enjoy their liberty. They were recaptured about noontime on Friday down below Milesburg, sentenced by Judge Dale an hour later and the same afternoon taken out to Pittsburgh where they will have ample time to ponder over whether it is worthwhile trying to evade the law's demands.

Centre Countians Going After Big Game in British Columbia.

Having won their laurels as champion hunters in this neck of the woods Newton E. Hess, of State College, and his brother, John W. Hess, of Altoona, have joined a party of Williamsport, Boston and St. Louis huntsmen for an extended trip through the Northwest, into British Columbia and on into Alaska.

The party left Williamsport on Wednesday, nine of them in all, and will go by train directly to Cody, Wyoming. There they enter the Yellowstone National Park for a sight-seeing trip and to size up the semi-domesticated game that has a refuge in the Park. Thence they will continue to Gardner, Montana, and on to Vancouver, B. C. At the latter point they will take a steamer for Wrangell, Alaska, and then 175 miles by motor boat up the Stikine river to Telegraph Creek.

After being outfitted at Telegraph Creek, the hunters will separate into parties of two men each, with two guides, a cook, a horse wrangler, and sixteen or seventeen horses for each party. Of the horses, six will be saddle horses and the rest pack horses.

Then the real hunting will begin, as the parties ride about 150 miles into the heart of the big-game country. Here they will spend forty or fifty days hunting moose, caribou, sheep, goats and black, brown and grizzly bear.

In 1923 when several of the members of the group returned from a similar hunt they brought back the world record caribou head, the beam of which was sixty-five and a half inches, and the spread fifty-five and a half inches, in addition to many other species of big game. This record caribou head was the trophy of D. W. Bell, of Williamsport.

The Hess men will be having their first experience as big game hunters, but they know the woods and are dead shots, so that the Centre county contingent in the party can be counted on to bring down its full share of the trophies of the hunt. And think of the thrilling stories Newton will have to tell around the Fleetwood camp fires next December, while John will be sitting in front of the blazing logs in the Modoc camp recounting them to his Centre county hunting companions.

A Plea for the Y. M. C. A.

The boy problem of every town is becoming a matter of more serious consideration from day to day and is continually interesting the best minds of the country to try to solve it. What is best for their physical development, intellectual training and building of the spiritual foundation for future manhood is a problem.

The schools of our town will soon open, bringing in the boys and girls for the necessary school work, and the churches and Sunday schools will soon be beginning their autumn program, but is the Y. M. C. A., which will combine these two with physical development, to turn out a one hundred per cent. boy or girl.

If Bellefonte is to maintain her place among towns of the same size it is necessary to begin with the rising generation of boys and girls and give them a complete, all around development. You men who are the guardians of the little men and women should rise to the occasion and maintain a down town home where they may go and feel at home.

The Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., under the direction of the general secretary, is at present working on a program for the coming season to give to men and boys what they want and what they need to fill the entire season, week after week, with worthwhile things.

Oh Boy! Oh Joy!

Bellefonters are to have an opportunity to see the inimitable Wesley Spangler in action. Before starting his usual summer tour he has decided to accede to the demand that people of this vicinity be given the chance to see this master prestidigitator and manipulator of the silver screen.

Accordingly Wesley will have his big tent set up on the fair grounds and on Tuesday, August 11th, at 8 o'clock he will open the show in person, giving his full repertoire of leg-erdeman, songs, dances and all the other specialties that have won for him the reputation of being one of the most unique tent shows touring "the sticks."

While many parties are already being made up to give the local showman a rousing send-off Mr. Spangler assures us that his seating capacity is large enough to insure accommodations for all, but should it be taxed he will perform all night rather than have any of his friends go away disappointed at not having been able to get in.

Remember the day and hour. Tuesday evening, August 11th. Adults 20 cents. Children 10 cents.

Poorman Family Reunion.

Members of the Poorman family will hold their nineteenth annual reunion at Hecla park on Saturday, August 22nd. Everybody in Centre county knows the beauties of the park, with its various harmless amusements and large pavilion, which make it an admirable place for all family gatherings. All amusements are free to children. No gambling devices or fairs permitted on the grounds. Free transportation will be furnished from Bellefonte to the park and return to all those going by train to Bellefonte.

Centre County School Districts Receive Appropriations.

School boards in Centre county can doff their hats to Auditor General Samuel S. Lewis. On Monday they all received checks for their general school appropriation, which is applied as partial payment of teachers' salaries. This appropriation is due and payable on August 1st, and the Auditor General saw to it that checks went forth that day to every borough and country district in the State. Centre county's total appropriation amounted to $83,386.36, divided among the school districts as follows:

Bellefonte borough	$8,248.50
Benner township	1,450.00

Barrels of Fish, but Not a Sucker for Any Man.

For some time past John McCoy has had a gang of men at work replacing the old log breast of the dam, at his plant near Milesburg, with a concrete structure and last week they reached the point where it became necessary to drain the dam in order to complete the work. The draining of a dam on a stream populated with fish can be done only in the presence of an officer of the law, and consequently on Friday morning chief of police Harry Dukeman, of Bellefonte, went down to add dignity to the proceeding.

During the rush of high water through the tail race it was impossible to tell how many trout went down stream but when the water got down pretty low there was a perfect avalanche of suckers. In fact it is estimated that several barrels of the latter species were drained from the dam down through the tail race and on into the waters of Bald Eagle creek. There were suckers of all sizes, from six to eighteen inches, and while most of the men present cast envious eyes on the big school of fish not a man was allowed to take a sucker.

Doerfler—Ward.—The marriage of Miss Ada Athalia Ward, of Pine Grove Mills, to Mr. Frederick Doerfler, of Pittsburgh, was solemnized at the parsonage of the Lutheran church at State College, on Tuesday evening The Rev. Harkins officiated.

Owing to the illness of the bride's father, Mr. William B. Ward, the wedding was devoid of any of the festivities that would have otherwise attended the nuptials of such a highly esteemed young woman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward are having a honeymoon while journeying to Pittsburgh, where the groom is employed and in which city they will make their home.

Behrer—Shank.—Joseph W. Behrer and Miss Verna Shank, both of Centre county, were married at the United Brethren parsonage in Huntingdon Wednesday afternoon of last week, by the pastor, Rev. George E. Smith. The young couple will make their home in Juniata where the bridegroom is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad company.

Adams—Neidigh.—Wednesday afternoon, August 5th, at the Reform parsonage, Bellefonte, by the Rev. Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt, Mr. John Q. Adams, of North Canton, Ohio, and Miss Elma Neidigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Neidigh, of State College, were married in the presence of the bride's mother. The ring service was used.

An unusually large number of applicants for automobile drivers' licenses were in evidence on Allegheny street on Wednesday, the regular day for all new applicants for a license to be given a trial by state highway patrolmen. Some twenty-five or thirty people were waiting their turn a noontime, and two men had been bus most of the morning riding around on trial trips with young drivers an signing license cards. The fact that the half-price on auto licenses went into effect August first may have had something to do with the large number.

If you are a movie fan the Scenic is the place to see the best motion pictures shown in this part of the State. Only one theatre in a town can get the high class pictures shown in this popular place of amusement and manager T. Clayton Brown has them under contract. If you are not a regular, get the movie habit and enjoy an hour or two of good entertainment every evening.

As an advertisement for the Undine picnic yesterday the fire companies and Milesburg band gave parade on Wednesday evening prior to the band concert.
